M'KINLEY AND ROOSEVELT.

The Republican National Convention at Philadelphia last week performed its work in such a manner as to leave absolutely no room or cause for grumbling on the part of any Republican between the two oceans. The almost unanimous de- it has been possible to reduce the war mand of the party was fulfilled in the choice by acciamation of the model President McKinley and the Rough Rider Statesman Roosevelt. The convention had a host of great men to select from in its tion of the war taxes. We favor the conchoice of a Vice Presidential candidate. and from that fine array it took the very tion of an Isthmian canal by the governbest and the strongest as a running mate for America's greatest living statesman, William McKinley. This advantage was early seen by the broader minded leaders of the party and to them largely fails the citizen wherever they are wrongfully vicredit of bringing about so happy a result. When our leaders will recognize and obey the demands of the party then they are fit to lead. A few of the smaller calibre politicians attempted to avert this the just responsibility of our victories in castes were bringing still more dreadful result, but they were literally trodden the Spanish war the President and the fuel. THE PLATFORM.

It Endorsed President McKinley, Sound Money, Expansion and a Protective Tariff.

The Republicans of the united States through their chosen representatives, met in national convention, looking back upon an unsurpassed record of achievement and looking forward into a great field of duty and opportunity, and appealing to the judgement of their countrymen, make these declarations :

The expectation in which the American people, turning from the Democratic party entrusted power four years ago to a Republican chief magistrate, and a Republican congress, has been met and satisfied. Under the Democratic party the country's industries were paralyzed. The country's capital was hidden away, and its labor distressed and unemployed. The Democrats had no other plan with which to improve the ruinous condition which they had themselves produced than to coin silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. The Republican party, denouncing this plan as sure to produce conditions even worse than those from which relief was sought, promised to restore prosperity by means of two legislative measures-a protective tariff and a law making the gold standard of value. The people by great majority issued to the Rhpublican party a commission to enact these laws, the Republican promise is redeemed, Prosperity more general and more abundant than we have ever known has followed these enactments.

THE WAR. And while the American people sustained by this Republican legislation any in the United States. One result is have been achieving these splendid that the yellow fever record of last year triumphs in their business and com- is the most favorable in the history of merce they have conducted and in victory concluded a war for liberty and human rights. No thought of national aggrandizement tarnished the high purpose with which American standards platform would be a plank denouncing were unfurled. It was a war unsought any attempt to protect the lives of Ameriand patiently resisted, but when it came the American government was ready. Its fleets were cleared for action. Its armies were in the field and the quick and signal triumph of its forces on land and sea bore equal tribute to the courage of American soldiers and sailors and to the skill and foresight of Republican of freedom" and to the American people a new and noble responsibility.

MCKINLEY ENDORSED We endorsed the administration of William McKinley. Its acts have been established in wisdom and in patriotism and at home and abroad it has distinctly elevated and extended the influence of the American nation. We ask the American people to endorse this Republican record and to renew their commission to the Republican party. * * The platform says the Democratic party has never earned the confidence of the people, that it is hopelessly inadequate and the country's prosperity when Demoeratic success at the polls is announced halts and cesses is mere auticipation of Democratic blunders and faitures. Here was a crematory where as in a thousand others We assert our steadfast adherence to in the famine area, incineration was conducted on a mighty scale. Tons of wood were piled up in readiness. Other low funeral pyres of a score more of people, who had come to death by famine or cholora, were started. In the center of each burning wood-pile were the bodies of the departed. To the mind, it was an awful holocaust, but the eye simply saw a number of bon-fires. It is the way the Hindoos throughout India dispose of their it is an especially good and sensible way. The sick siderate and approving judgment of the were huddled all together. The people had come there to die. The emaciated forms lying under the general gathering looked exactly like the pictures you have seen of famine sufferers. Some of these poor people crawled to our feet on hands and knees, and placing their heads in the dust, mo aned their supplications: "O my king, help us, and it will be well with thee; for we are very hungry." Others called us kings of all kings and protectors | BLACKSMITH & MACHINIST. of the poor adding that we were their fathers and mothers and would surely give them food. Even little children beggive them food. Even little children begged thus. In the hospital wards the scenes might have represented all the forms of suffering depicted by Dante in the Inferno. Here was a father and son scenes might have represented all the thoroughly interested in filling the high forms of suffering depicted by Dante in the Inferno. Here was a father and son dying side by side, with never a hand to lift a cup of water to their fevered lips. In 1856 the Republican party cast Here were children passing away, alone, even unseen, lying under a heap of rags. Mothers addressed us saying: "Give us food, and the Gods will give thee many children." Every now and then bearers would come with a stretcher of matting and carry off yet one more bodies to the burning place. Such is a poor-house in the famine district. The mortality in this district is not confined to human beings. Of 1,300,000 head of cattle living at the beginning of the famine, more than 1,000,000 have died from the lack of water and fodder. Hence the immediate future of the unhappy farmer who may survive the present ordeal is very dark and discouraging. For, without cattle how can they till the soil, and unless they sow how can they reap? In order to meet the emergency, it is now proposed to use a plow that can be pulled by a man, a light weight affair adapted to the strength of an ordinary farm-hand. And one of the noteworthy, beneficent acts of an American visitor was the purchase of 1,000 of these plows for distribution among the farmers of the vicivity. Such is the land of famine, the drear, dread, dismal place where rivers have disappeared, where wells are only holes in the ground, where only the cruel hodge of prickly pear is green, where you are led to believe that the whole world is the color of dust-here may be seen sights that either break the heart or harden it to
