

FARMER COPE IS HARD AT WORK

Governor Stone's New Appointee Arrests Violators of the Oleo Law.

M'KINLEY IS A STALWART.

The President Recognizes the Regular Republican Organization in the Appointment of Holland as United States District Attorney—Pennsylvania Shares in Prosperity.

(Special Correspondence.)

Philadelphia, July 17.—Farmer Cope, whom Governor Stone appointed at the head of the dairy and food department of Pennsylvania, has been making a great record in the short time he has filled this important post. He has made the political enemies of the Stone administration admit that he is strictly enforcing the law, and he has demonstrated his ability to take care of himself despite the unfair and malicious attacks which the Wanamaker subsidized newspapers are making upon the administration.

An object lesson showing what is being done in this department was given in this city last week when a big array of dealers were before Magistrate Stratton charged with violating the laws in relation to the sale of "oleo." The warrants for these arrests were sworn out by Farmer Cope's agents and he had his own attorney on hand to see that the prosecutions were pressed without fear or favor. Professor Genth, who made a careful examination of all samples submitted to him by Farmer Cope, was there to testify as to the result of his analysis. The magistrate held several of the accused in bail for court as the result of the testimony submitted, and in other cases the accused waived hearings, and the cases will be sent to court for early trial.

ADMISSIONS FROM OPPONENTS.

Some of the men who for political reasons were enlisted in the campaign of misrepresentation of the administration of the pure food laws by the officials of the Stone administration have admitted that under Farmer Cope's administration there is a determined and successful effort being made to faithfully administer the laws and to haul down and prosecute all violators of the law.

In a desperate effort to keep alive a feeling of hostility to the Republican state administration for purely political reasons the Wanamaker newspaper interests are continuing their wilful misrepresentations. But they have ceased to make an impression upon the popular mind. The people realize that there is an honest and capable official at the head of the department who is working night and day to carry out Governor Stone's instructions to discover and prosecute every man who is violating the pure food laws in the state and to do this without reference to political or other interests.

Farmer Cope has placed his Chester county farm and dairy interests in competent hands and is devoting all his time and energies to obeying the injunctions of the governor.

M'KINLEY IS A STALWART.

The appointment of President McKinley of James B. Holland as United States attorney for the eastern district of Pennsylvania last week was very gratifying to the stalwart Republican element of this state. Mr. Holland has for several years been recognized as a stalwart leader of Montgomery county and he has given personal attention to the management of the party organization there. For his party services in the past he was named as naval officer of this port early in the present administration. When the term of District Attorney Beck expired Mr. Holland was suggested for appointment as his successor. Tremendous pressure was at once brought upon the president to prevent Mr. Holland's appointment. The insurgent and gold Democratic influences were brought to bear for the reappointment of Mr. Beck, who had renounced the Democratic party. Mr. Holland was recommended by Col. Quay, Senator Penrose, Chairman Reeder, of the Republican state committee, and other active Republicans, as well as many members of the bar of the counties embraced in his district. There was something of a struggle over the place, but President McKinley put an end to the contention by stating that he would recognize the representatives of the regular Republican organization and Mr. Holland was appointed. He was sworn in on Saturday last and he will at once assume charge of the duties of the office.

In this connection it is fair to state that since President McKinley has been in the White House there has not been a single insubordinate Pennsylvania appointment which has not been made upon the recommendation of Messrs. Quay and Penrose or the Republican member of the house of representatives in the district to which the office was assigned. The president from the outset has evinced a determination to stand by the regular Republican organization, and he will no doubt continue his policy throughout his administration.

It is quite probable that State Senator Walter T. Merriek, of Tioga, will be named to succeed Mr. Holland as naval officer. Senator Merriek has been a consistent stalwart member of the legislature, and he is backed by the leaders of the Republican organization of the state.

PENNSYLVANIA SHARES IN PROSPERITY.

Philadelphia is feeling a gratifying effect of the present Republican administration of the affairs of the country. She is sharing in the big boom of the export trade, and in this respect has surpassed some of her less fortunate Buffalo and Niagara Falls Excursion, Thursday, July 26th. Fare $2.50.

W. N. Y. & P. Ry. will run one of its popular excursions to Buffalo and Niagara Falls Thursday, July 26th. Special train will leave Titonesta at 6:45 a. m. Fare for the round trip $2.50. Train will arrive at Buffalo 12:15 noon; Niagara Falls 1:15 p. m. Returning, special train will leave Niagara 8:00, Buffalo 8:45 p. m. Tickets also good for return passage on all regular trains Friday, July 27th. Do not miss this outing.

$1.00 buys a splendid pair of ladies' shoes during Hopkins' July sale. It also cities. There was a gain of $3,000,000 in the value of the grain exports over the figures of the preceding year. The increase in exports was largely represented by corn shipments. These exports amounted to 35,729,662 bushels, as against 26,261,408 for the preceding year. The increase in the exports of oats was even more marked. These figures jumped over 6,000,000 to 9,680,376 bushels.

Philadelphia has a splendid elevator system, and the activity of her members of the board of trade in pressing for business has enabled the Quaker City to get her full share of the McKinley prosperity in the grain trade.

Pennsylvania's iron and steel industries are thriving under Republican rule, as was clearly shown in the annual report of the Bethlehem Steel company, made public last week, which gave a net income of $2,122,000, an increase of $977,000 over the earnings of the Bethlehem Iron company during the year ending April 30, 1899. The company, out of gross earnings, spent $295,000 for improvements, and paid off $1,900,000 floating debt.

The operations of the year compared with the earnings of the Bethlehem Iron company for the year preceding are: Bethlehem Iron company, 1899, net income, $1,145,000; dividend 6 per cent; surplus, $95,000; Bethlehem Steel company, 1900, net income, $2,122,000; dividend 6 per cent; Bethlehem Iron company, 1900, surplus, $1,672,000; income over 1899, $997,000.

A dividend of $600,000 was declared by the Bethlehem Steel company, and the profit and loss accounts show a surplus of $3,463,000, compared with $3,329,086 in 1899. The Bethlehem Steel company was incorporated in April, 1899, with a capital stock of $15,000,000 in shares of a par value of $50 each. The company leased the Bethlehem Iron company at 6 per cent on the $7,500,000 capital stock of that corporation. The announcement is made that the company proposes to bid for the entire contract for 36,000 tons of armor plate required by the navy department for the new battleships and cruisers.

COOPER AND THE DEMOCRATS.

"The Democratic national convention has put 16 to 1 to the fore," says former State Chairman Thomas V. Cooper, and have reiterated their allegiance to the old and badly whipped Chicago platform. Like the Boxers of China, they refuse to move forward, and are wedded to their idols. There are high sounding platitudes about the trusts and imperialism, but these are manifestly insincere, since Bryan begged his friends in the United States senate to ratify the Spanish-American treaty selling to us the Philippines, and since Tammany, the controlling voice in the convention, is the head and front of the ice trust, which doubled the price to all consumers in defiance of the law. The one thing in which the party was in earnest was its desire to obey Bryan, and he ordered 16 to 1. So it will be to the end, and the end will be another defeat, with the great east solidly for McKinley and the great west more strongly for him than before. If the platform is seriously considered in Nebraska, not even state pride can save that state to Bryan in this prosperous year."

PENNSYLVANIA MINERS PROSPEROUS.

Coal miners in the bituminous fields west of the Allegheny mountains are enjoying the most prosperous conditions which they have ever known. With large quantities of coal being exported to foreign countries, thus being in successful competition with the home mined coal of those countries, the fact remains that American miners are earning higher wages under more favorable conditions than has ever before been the case in the United States. This applies to the miners of western Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and elsewhere.

This state of affairs, beneficial directly to 100,000 men in the bituminous field, embraced in the states named, is entirely the result of good times throughout the country brought about by Republican laws designed to make work plenty and wages good.

As far as the coal miner is concerned his condition today, compared to his condition ten years ago, is a complete and stunning answer to the calamity platform of Bryan.

What We Do.

In the vocabulary of 200 words or on the professor's "theorists" of thousands of many thousands, it appears that we let fall 11,800,000 words between January and December.

Every year we shake hands about 1,200 times, expending on the ceremony a force sufficient to raise a locomotive weighing 80 tons. The raising of our eyelids is complicated 64,000,000 times per year and represents the consumption of energy capable of lifting a weight of 51 pounds.

Turning to the division of our time, it is found that a normal man living 70 years has spent no less than 24 years, 9 months and 15 days asleep and 11 years and 8 months at work. His recreation has occupied exactly the same amount of time as his work.

He has passed 5 years and 10 months in moving about and the same space of time in the operation of feeding. His toilet has occupied 2 years and 11 months. Two years and 11 months also pass in doing nothing or in little things that are not easily classed.

The surprise is the estimate that a man passes exactly the same time in thinking as in speaking—one year five months and a half. Which gives one a new idea of the value that ought to be attached to every man's utterances.—Collier's Weekly.

The Self-Respecting Dog.

No self-respecting dog will bite a female except in the extreme need of self-defense, though I am sorry to say that the lady herself, as a rule, has no scruple whatever about punishing to the full extent of her power any individual of the opposite sex that happens to be inferior to her in size or strength, and indeed, like the woman in the crowded bus, she is inclined to demand her privileges as rights. A "virgin" female will make more trouble in a pack of bounds than any three of the sterner sex. For whenever dissatisfied she hasn't the slightest reserve about speaking out at once, and, as her cause is generally likely to be championed upon general principles by some chivalrous male, a free fight is frequently the result.—Contemporary

An Epidemic of Diarrhoea.

Mr. A. Sanders, writing from Cocoa-nut Grove, Fla., says there has been quite an epidemic of diarrhoea there. He had a severe attack and was cured by four doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He says he also recommends it to others and they say it has the medicine they ever used. For sale by all druggists.

"We have sold many different cough remedies, but none has given better satisfaction than Chamberlain's." Mr. Charles Holzhauser, Druggist, Newark, N. J. "It is perfectly safe and can be relied upon in all cases of coughs, colds or hoarseness." Sold by all druggists.

KEYSTONE STATE TO BE HEARD FROM

Republicans Are Already Preparing for a National Campaign.

M'KINLEY AND ROOSEVELT.

Their Speeches in Reply to the Notification Committees Were Well Received, While Bryan's Talks to the Democrats and Populists Fall Very Flat.

(Special Correspondence.)

Harrisburg, July 17.—With the formal notification of the candidates for president and vice president of the action of the national convention, the Republican campaign can be fairly said to be now under way. Throughout Pennsylvania there is a feeling of confidence in the outcome of the campaign and every Republican looks for a glorious victory at the polls in November.

But battles must be fought to be won. No political campaign, no matter how rosy the outlook may have been at the beginning, was ever successful without diligent and hard work and constant and due regard for the determination of the opposition to take advantage of every opportunity that would be presented in the course of the canvass.

Pennsylvania, of course, is safely Republican this year, but the matter of organizing for the contest and lining up the active party workers for their duties both before and on election day must be pushed with the same vigor and close attention to detail that has characterized the management of the Republican organization of the Keystone state for years.

ORGANIZATION IS NECESSARY.

Pennsylvania's great Republican majorities are only obtained through systematic, careful and untiring labor in drilling the army of committeemen upon whose shoulders the responsibility of the party organization in their respective localities rests and in educating the voters, and especially the young men who propose to cast their first ballot, as to the issues involved in the election.

President McKinley, in a very comprehensive and thorough address in reply to the committee on notification, presented the salient points of the Republican canvass in characteristic style.

M'KINLEY AND HIS RECORD.

The president has a happy faculty of stating a case with moderation, but with convincing force. His review of the last three and a half years was a model in this direction. It showed how the pledges of 1896 have been redeemed, how the gold standard was safeguarded, how the promised tariff revision was made, as the people expected when they returned the Republicans to power, how prosperity has been restored and the credit of the country established at the highest point in its history, where it is able to fund the debt at a lower interest rate than any other country. In internal affairs the administration has discharged its duties. It has maintained the honor of the country abroad, and in the difficult crisis which grew unforeseen out of the Spanish war has faithfully guarded American interests. As is always the case where events force new policies, differences of opinion arise, and opponents of any new step at once foresee the downfall of the republic. But if prosperity, redeemed pledges, bright prospects at home and abroad, have any weight with voters, there can be no question of Republican success and the re-election of President McKinley to carry out the policy he so ably expounds.

While the president was responding to the committee from the national convention at Canton, O., Governor Roosevelt was receiving formal information of the selection for the second place on the ticket at Oyster Bay, N. Y. His reply was brief, and in becoming taste he left his chief to make the significant utterance of the day. What he did say, however, was timely and true. It is a contest against cheap money and repudiation, free riot and anarchy, the parking of the supreme credit in the interest of wild Populist schemes of government, just as it was in 1896. It is also a contest against entrusting the foreign affairs of this nation to irresponsible fanatics who complain because we have performed our obligations of neutrality in South Africa, who would play at diplomacy as recklessly as with the currency, who would shirk our obligations toward other countries in our own possessions and disgrace us before the world. Governor Roosevelt has a right to appeal to all citizens "to stand shoulder to shoulder, striving to perpetuate the conditions under which we have reached at home a degree of prosperity never before attained in the nation's history, and under which abroad it has put our flag on a level on which it has never before in the history of the country been placed."

BRYAN STILL AT IT.

Meanwhile Bryan continues to talk away to the Democrats, free silverites and Populists who gather at Lincoln, Neb. His speeches have fallen very flat.

Bryan says the country is not prosperous except in spots. Here are some facts which he can explain, perhaps. The total gross earnings of railroads is one of the most charming summer resorts reached via the Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul Ry.

Marquette, on Lake Superior,

Its healthful location, beautiful scenery, good hotels and complete immunity from hay fever, make a summer outing at Marquette, Mich., very attractive from the standpoint of health, rest and comfort.

For a copy of "The Lake Superior Country" containing a description of Marquette and the copper country, address with four (4) cents in stamps to pay postage, Geo. A. Heafford, General Passenger Agent, Chicago, Ill.

You can get it at Hopkins' store. It were $238,000,000 larger in the past year than in 1895. Railroads make their money out of the industries of the mass of the people. Consequently the people had $238,000,000 more to spend in the third McKinley year than in the third year of Cleveland.

In the third year of the Cleveland administration bank deposits stood at $852,604,858. At the end of McKinley's third year they amounted to $1,270,776,065. The people had $418,161,207 more to their credit after three years of McKinley than they had at the end of the Cleveland administration. The increase of bank deposits during President Cleveland's term was only $70,000,000. The Wilson tariff was in force 35 months, and the total deficit was $108,000,000. In 32 months the Dingley tariff produced a surplus of $46,000,000. At the same our foreign export trade has mounted up by leaps and bounds, the increase of the past year alone being $300,000,000 above the total for the previous year.

SOME HOME FIGURES.

A Nebraska corn-fed steer is worth $12 to $16 more than in 1896, and hogs bring $4.50 a head more. Sheep are worth nearly double the 1896 price, and Wyoming wool has increased 50 per cent.

Meanwhile American credit at home and abroad stands higher than the credit of any other nation—a condition not so happily true in 1893-96. Of course the millenium is not here, and there is still poverty and hardship in the world. The Republican party does not make the sun shine nor cause the rains to fall. But times have grown better, the people are better employed and the products of toil bring better prices.

If these good things do not indicate prosperity that shades the troubled Cleveland times—well, Mr. Bryan please tell us in what shape we might hope the benefits of sound principles and policies of government to exhibit themselves?

OLD TIME SHOE BUCKLES.

An Eighteenth Century Craze Which Was Picturesque and Costly.

Once on a time your shoe was nothing without the buckle. Indeed it was a case of the "tail wagging the dog," for the buckle was the attraction and the shoe but the accompaniment. Be it observed that at first, however, it was not the size but the costliness of the buckle which was conspicuous. Thus among royalties, people of high rank and those who were the glass of fashion and the mold of form at court wore diamonds. Needless to say that then, as now, those who desired to imitate them wore paste buckles, happy perhaps in that self-complacency which imagines nobody else shrewd enough to estimate possibilities.

In 1720 a leader of fashion would wear a full flowing curled wig reaching in ringlets half way down back and arms, a laced coat cut straight, with buttons put on in every possible place—forehead, in the way, affording a remarkable similarity to the "pearlies" of the popular and up to date costermonger—and square toed, black shoes, with an enormous flap on the instep, high heels and on the flap a small but brilliant buckle. Next to the buckle of brilliants came that of gold. Rich landowners and equally rich merchants, men whose reputation for "warm"—or, in the then recent Alsatian fashionable slang, "rincinoelal," a quite obsolete synonym for moneyed—wore gold buckles larger than the diamond ones, but still small in proportion to the flaps.

Your thrifty shopkeepers wore buckles of silver and your applicant farmers those of shining steel, and the poorer classes had buckles of brass or iron, but of some material every one wore buckles on the shoes. Indeed so wide reaching was the depreciation in buckle makers' work when, at the epoch of the French revolution, people in general followed "Rohan the Jew's" example and took to shoe ribbons that the buckle makers actually, in their desperation, petitioned George III and parliament that shoe ribbons should be forbidden under penalties, clamoring for a renewal of the sumptuary laws of Plantagenet and Tudor, with an apparent inability to read the signs of the time. A spasmodic attempt was made by the prince and their entourage to benefit the buckle makers by wearing buckles as ostentatiously as possible, but ribbons, decidedly far more unpicturesque, though much more practical, carried the day.—Gentleman's Magazine.

She Knew Her Business.

As the South Side "L" train reached Twelfth street the other evening it was boarded by a curious feminine figure, clad in shabby attire. As is the custom with so many women, she backed up against the door, her bright eyes in the parchment-like skin scanning the passengers. At the next station a man left the train, and his seat was quietly taken by some one standing nearby. The old woman hesitated a moment, then bent over the woman nearest her and asked, "If you please, ma'am, will you tell me where yer goin to get off?"

The woman addressed looked surprised, but answered, "Why, at Forty-third street."

"And you, ma'am?" she asked the next woman, who had been an interested listener.

"I get off Fifty-first street. But why do you want to know?"

"Shure, I only want to stand in front of the wan who's goin to get off first, so I won't lose the seat?"

It is needless to say that she immediately got a place.—Chicago News.
