A subject of interest to all housewives is spices and flavoring extracts. Unless the best are used it is impossible to get satisfactory results in cooking and baking. A first class drug store is the place to buy these articles, as only spices and extracts of guaranteed strength and purity are kept.

John Swanson Sr. Killed by a Fall.

Last Thursday morning Alex. Swanson of this place received a telegram from Jamestown, N. Y., announcing the sad fact that his father, John Swanson, had died from the effects of a fall received the night before.

A party of eight of the family connection was rusticating and occupying a cottage at Celeron-on-Chautauqua, and it | Henry Grubbs, at Guitonville. was at this cottage that the sad fatality occurred. Mr. Swanson had attended a lodge meeting at Jamestown on Wednesday evening and had returned to the cotfor proposals from the merchants of the tage with his son Victor, ate a lunch and retired at about 10:30, the last member of the party retiring half air hour later, This was the last seen of Mr. Swanson alive. At four o'clock in the morning Mrs. Victor Swanson attempted to go down stairs and on the first landing of the stairs, about three feet from the top, she discovered some one lying and gave an alarm. It proved to be the lifeless body of Mr. Swanson. It seems that some time during the night the unfortunate man had attempted to go down the stairs and had fallen, striking upon his forehead, causing cencussion of the brain and the bursting of a blood vessel, and from the position of the body it is supposed that death was instantaneous,

Does Lightning Go Up or Down or Through Sleeping Cars to the Thousand Islands, August 18th. Both Ways ?

When the spire of the M. E. church was struck by lightning some time ago a last popular vacation excursion of the discussion arose as to whether the electric fluid passed up or down. While St. Lawrence river Saturday, Aug. 18th, some favored the former view there were chars who claimed that the current never sold at the low rate of $6.50 from Tionesothers who claimed that the current never passed up but always down. To settle the discussion the whole matter was re-ferred to the Scientific American, New made for through sleeping cars; rates York, which is authority on all things scientific. Following is the answer published in last week's issue of that journal which we reproduce as a matter of interest to our many readers:

"J. V. McA. writes: There was a heavy cloud and downpour of rain ac-companied by sharp lightning during which the Methodist Episcopal church was struck and somewhat damaged in its spire. The point of the spire is about 5 feet from the ground and covered with case of sheet iron. There is no metallic under the spire and running half way up is a gas pipe. Three men were work-ing in the church and were unharmed, although two of them were very close to hours of last Sunday with Tionesta the pipe, one of them not more than is inches away. They saw an explosion a a brass fitting which was exposed, but felt no shock. The shingles with which of Green township, Wednesday, July 25, 1900, a son.

—Mrs. S. M. Henry returned last eveloce and at the spingles extended under the sheet iron cap, it looked as if the lightning had gone up instead of down. There was terrific crash which, to some, seemed t be at a greater distance from the church -John Sheasley is up from Kittanning and to have been more severe than the one which struck the church. Could i ositively and the earth negatively, and the restoration of the equilibrium, after the discharge, have caused the "fluid" to run up the spire and so have caused thi many things se m to point that way. Does electricity ever do damage in rising from the ground? "A. We do not know that the electric

Holeman and Kory evidence exists as to the direction in which the current in a wire really flows,' Many people see the lightning go up from the earth to the cloud rather than down. Since the flash lasts but the mi nute fraction of a second, the eye cannot determine the direction of the motion, We must consider that the impression of downward motion is subjective, and is due to the fact that a downward flcw is more natural to us. In clear weather the atmosphere is usually plus to the earth. One observer found it minus but six times in fifteen years. But in stormy weather the sign changes very capriclously and frequently. In thunder storms days of the past week with his pasents the change is still more rapid, so that it is impossible to say whether the cloud at went up or down. It may have gone in either direction, or more probably it surged back and forth many times while the flash lasted. The description shows that the gas pipe was not in the path of the discharge. By induction it became charged with electricity, which mad the flashes seen by the workmen at the same moment that the flash from the cloud passed by. This is what the men -Mrs. Dan Jackson of Warren, who in the church saw on an intensified scale, on so near the gas pipe. From what has been shown it is clear that a discharge of lightning will do equal damage in which ever direction it goes. It is the discharge which does the damage and not any secondary restoration of equilibrium. The supposition of a secondary reaction is no

A Warm Essay.

In a little country school not far from Princeton, literary exercises are regularly indulged in every Friday afternoon during the term. A 12 year old boy read an origional essay on "The Newspaper." This latter day youthful Soloman treats his subject thusly:

"Newspapers are sheets of paper on which stuff to read is printed. The men Dark mixed, Navy Blue, Brown or Gray, Plaid Back, look over the paper to see if their name is in it, and the women use it to put on shelves and sich. I don't know how newspapers came into the world. I don't think God does. The Bible says nothing about editors and I never heard of one being in heaven. I guess the editor is the missing link them fellers talk about. The first editor I ever heard about was the fellow who wrote up the flood. He has been here every since.

Some editors belong to a church and act the hypocrite, go bald headed and rant around and yell 'Saved up to Date,' some try to raise whiskers. All of them raise hell in their neighborhood and all of them are liars, at least all I know and I only know one. Editors never die. At least I never saw a dead one. Sometimes the paper dies and then the people feel glad, but some one starts it up again. Editors never went to school because editors never got licked. Our paper is a mighty poor one, but we take it so ma can use it on her pantry shelves. Our editor don't amount to much, but pa says he had a poor chance when he was a boy He goes without under clothes in win-ter, wears no socks and has a wife to sup port him. Paw hasn't paid his subscription in five years and don't intend to."

Is It Right For an Editor to Recommend From Sylvan Valley News, Brevrad,

It may be a question whether the editor of a newspaper has the right to publicly yet as a preventive of suffering we feel it duty to say a good word for Chamber lain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Reme We have known and used this med icine in our family for twenty years and have always found it reliable. In many cases a dose of this remedy would save hours of suffering while a physician is awaited. We do not believe in depending implicitly on any medicine for a cure, but we do believe that if a bottle of Chamberiain's Diarrhoea were kept on hand and administered at the inception of an attack much suffering might be avoided and in very many cases the presence of a physician would not be required. At least this has been our experience during the past twenty years. For sale by all druggists.
