Mr. Rhodes is one of Uncle Sam's oldest civil war veterans, and the exposure endured in the trying times of '64 have told greatly upon his strength for the past two or three years. His many friends and comrades can scarcely hope to again meet him in their social gatherings where his geniality always made him a favorite.

CHILD DROWNED.

Nicholas Leroy, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Arnold, was drowned on Thursday last about noon.

The parents live across the road from Bowman's mill pond, at East Hickory, and the little fellow had slipped out of the house and gone to the edge of the pond where the water was scarcely six inches deep. When found he was lying, face downward, in this shallow water, having evidently fallen on his face and was unable to rise. The child had not been missed from the house more than eight or ten minutes, but was entirely lifeless when discovered by Charles Crider, who was riding by on his wheel. The funeral, conducted by Rev. Mr. Dow, of White Hill, was held on Friday. The child was aged 1 year, 8 months and 5 days.

DAYLIGHT ROBBERY AT CROWA.

During the absence of the family at church last Sabbath, the home of Michael McLaughlin, at Crowa, Clarion county, was entered and three hundred dollars in money and a check for $63 stolen. The family left home about 10 o'clock in the morning, and on returning, at 12:15 p.m., found that a general ransacking had taken place. Two trunks were broken open, and many other evidences of thieves were apparent from the disturbed condition of things. Mr. McLaughlin found that two 100-dollar bills and five 20-dollar bills had been taken, also a check payable to himself and drawn by the Bowman Lumber Co., for $83. A dress pattern, a man's new shirt and a satchel were also missing. There was no evidence that the thieves had forced their way into the house, and it is thought that they had found the hiding place of the key, and entered by the door, indicating that whoever committed the robbery was no stranger to the premises.

OIL NOTES.

The well on the Van Gieson homestead, east side of the Allegheny about a mile above President, is reported a fine one. At last accounts it had made a flow of two natural with the bit only a couple of screws in the sand. It has created considerable consternation among oil men.

Wolcott & Black, on the Robinson tract, Harmony township are down over 900 feet and the well is a failure, not so much as a third sand having been found.

Proper Bros. at their latest venture on Fork Run, have a dry hole. This well is in the direction of Baltimore from their other operations in this territory.

BARN OF ORION SIGGINS BURNED.

Lightning struck the large farm barn of Orion Siggins at West Hickory, during the storm last Sunday afternoon, setting fire to and burning the same to the ground. Mr. Siggins had stored about fifteen tons of hay and considerable grain of this season's harvest in the barn all of which was consumed, together with a double-seat and single-seat carriage, and a number of rading tools. All the live stock was gotten out safely. The loss is fairly covered by insurance, Mr. S. having $1,600 on the building and contents.

LANDERS' LATH MILL BURNED.

The lath mill of James Landers, located on a branch of Little Tionesta creek, known as Corb run, Tionesta township was destroyed by fire Saturday night last. The mill had been running during the day, and it is probable the fire caught from a spark about the arch. The loss to Mr. Landers will be between $500 and $300 on machinery, some of which is damaged beyond repairs. About 20,000 lath were also consumed. No insurance.

MYSTERIOUSLY SHOT DEAD.

John W. Burger, a well known farmer, near Mill Village, Erie county, was found dying in his buggy last Saturday night from the effect of a pistol shot in the head. He had been shot while driving along the road and his body fastened to the buggy seat with a strap. He died without gaining consciousness. There is no clue to the identity of his assailant.

A WAYSIDE GARDEN PARTY.

There was a sound of revelry by night, And loud haw, haws! 'round a fire bright, And savage, warlike dancing, Shrakes, 'rs of pain, And shrieks and wails, For further which were really not entrancing. While weary ones would fain have slept, Around their troubled pillows crept Those woe'd, unwhimsical noises. When they 'rose to see, What the trouble might be, Surprise! of all surprises! Instead of a rough, unweilded crowd, Were people of dignified bearing, proud, Who like gypsies were screaming, And eating ice cream. By the fire's gleam, In the night with "muskeeters" a teaming.

WILLIAM B. JAMES,

The Best Way

The best way to save money often is by spending it—when the opportunity comes for money saving are plentiful. The most striking evidence of this fact is being demonstrated in our men's suits at $7.50—'twould take the entire side out of this paper to tell you of all the good points and the better points, than you'll find in clothing sold elsewhere.

Some people invest and investigate later. Are you one of those people? Do you jump at conclusions? If you do—don't—you don't always light on a solid foundation. Make sure of one thing—anything that you buy at Lammers' is first class—best class and at the head of the class, all new, nothing old, old age is honorable and old highly valuable.

No place here for anything old, but old histories, these are always welcome. We've another lot of those Percalé Shirts—good colors and patterns—all sizes.
