

A subject of interest to all housewives is spices and flavoring extracts. Unless the best are used it is impossible to get satisfactory results in cooking and baking.

A trial will convince you.

F. Watson, written out on the ocean, states that all is well with their party, and they are having an enjoyable voyage. Mrs. Watson sends kind regards to all her friends. —Messrs. C. H. Lay and C. M. Loomis, two of Oil City's expert blue rock shooters, were up Friday afternoon as guests of the Tionesta gun club. The work at the traps was extra good at Friday's shoot and the Oil City gentlemen were leaders in the events. —George C. Anderson, who has for several months had charge of the prescription department of the Davis Pharmacy, took leave of his friends last Saturday, and will complete his course in medicine at the University of Pennsylvania during the next year. Mr. A. made many friends while a resident here and all of whom will wish him future success. —John Sliney, well known to many in this community, died at his home in Corry, Pa., on Monday last. He had been sick at the hospital for about six weeks, but was apparently on the way to recovery, when the summons came, heart trouble being the immediate cause of death. He was aged 63 years. Mr. Sliney was a whole-souled, liberal, and very genial man. His extreme liberality at one time brought him great misfortune, but during the latter years of his life he had retrieved his shattered fortunes and left his family, a wife and an adopted daughter, in comfortable circumstances. —George McCalmont Relieved of $740. The home of George W. McCalmont, who lives near President, on the East side of the river, was burglarized last Wednesday night, and $740 in cash taken. Mr. McCalmont had been absent during the day, and returning in the evening had gone to bed as usual. In the morning when he took a look at the place where he had left the cash, there was nothing there but a few pieces of silver and nickels, which he remembered having in his pants pocket on retiring. George was one of Uncle Sam's defenders during the civil war and was a pensioner, the amount taken representing the savings from this source for the past years. There is no clue to the perpetrators of the robbery. —To Cure a Cold in One Day. Take Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box. —Stops the Cough and Works off the Cold. Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets cure a cold in one day. No cure, no pay. Price 25 cents.

—The W. C. T. U. will hold a mother's meeting at the home of Mrs. A. B. Kelly Friday evening next at 7:30. All women are invited to attend this meeting, which will be presided over by Mrs. Dr. Rumberger. —A party of romads calling themselves Gypsies, who had been loitering about the mouth of Tubbs run for a week or more, pretending to tell fortunes, broke camp and left for greener fields and pastures new yesterday morning. —The coroner's jury in the case of John W. Burge, who was found dead in his buggy Sunday evening at his home near Union City, decided that the revolver shot which killed him had been inflicted by his own hand.—Meadville Gazette.

—Guy Burchfield, a son of Dr. and Mrs. S. N. Burchfield of Titusville, was accidentally drowned in Oil Creek lake while bathing last Saturday. He was aged about 20 years and was a promising young man. The body was recovered in 30 feet of water. —Robert, the 14-year-old son of Will S. Clark, of Hunter Run, Tionesta Twp., met with the painful injury of having his collar bone fractured while at play with his younger brothers Thursday afternoon last. Dr. Bowman attended him, and the boy is getting along all right. —Tidioute's little nine came down last Wednesday and played with the juniors of this place, but were entirely too light for our boys, who dressed them up with a score of 25-1. The Tionesta boys went up to-day to play the return game, and may not find such easy work of it this time. —The third annual reunion of the Osgood family, which takes place on Saturday, Sept. 1st next, promises to be one of the pleasantest yet held. Invitations have been issued to the family connections as far as their addresses can be obtained and the attendance will doubtless be quite large. —G. G. Gaston has purchased through J. T. Brennan of Warren, the Hickling property, which he has occupied for the past six years. It is a very pleasant home, and we are pleased to know it has passed into the possession of one who expects to make it his future home. The consideration we understand was $1,350. —W. J. Proper of Pleasantville and Grant Erb of West Hickory, petitioners in bankruptcy, received their discharges on Monday.—Mrs. F. P. Turner of Marienville, accompanied by Master Wilbur Jordan, is visiting her brother, Superintendent Jordan, of the Electric Light and power company.—Titusville Herald.

—A young son of our former townsman, Master Carpenter, H. W. Roberts of the W. N. Y. & P. R. Y., at Titusville, was severely bitten by a pet poodle dog, one day last week. The animal was afterward spirited away, but was closely followed by Mr. R., and finally tracked to Oil City, where Policeman Kane ended its existence. —An editor, who evidently knows what he is writing about, says: "If the country editor were to snap at all the inducements held out he would soon be a millionaire—in his mind. If he ran a paper in accord with the popular notion he would soon be in the almshouse. If he published half the items sent him he would be in jail one-half the time and in the hospital the other half."

—The Warren Mail, which was 52 years of age last week, comes out in quarto form—eight pages instead of four as heretofore—and is very materially improved in appearance. The Mail's years sit lightly upon its shoulders, and in fact seem to make it sprightlier and brighter as time rolls on. May its next half hundred years be even pleasanter and more prosperous than the past have been. —Last Friday, Ora McIntyre, a young man aged about 19 years, of Clarington this county, met with what at first was thought to be a slight accident, the striking and cutting of a small gash in his leg at the side of the knee cap with a bark spud while at work in the bark woods near his home. Blood-poison has since set in and his physician had little hope of saving the young man's life at last accounts. —It would seem impossible in view of the many successes scored by the Philadelphia Sunday Press to excel in the free distribution of art souvenirs, yet that will be the fact. The subject to be given free to every reader of next Sunday's Press is a beautiful bird panel, and will surpass anything ever given away. To make sure of getting this great souvenir you should order next Sunday's Press from your newsdealer at once. —New hats this week at Tionesta Cash Store.

—Sudden Death of Dale Partridge. Friends here were shocked yesterday morning on receiving a telegram announcing the death of Dale Partridge at the home of his mother, in Pittsburg, during the previous night. It was known that he had been suffering with an attack of typhoid pneumonia, but his condition was not supposed to be so serious. His aunt, Mrs. B. M. Devoes and his uncle, J. T. Dale, left on the noon train yesterday for Pittsburg. The young man was just becoming of age and would have reached his majority had he lived till the 31st day of August. He was the youngest of four sons born to the late A. H. and Mrs. Partridge, and was one of the bright young men of his class, exemplary in all his habits, and his future was a promising one. About four weeks ago he spent a part of his summer vacation in Tionesta at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Joseph G. Dale, and at that time his apparently perfect health was noted by all his many friends. The sorrow and regret expressed at his unexpected taking off is very general and sincere, for he was popular with all our people and especially so with the younger element of Tionesta, where he was born and reared to boyhood. —We are not informed as to the funeral arrangements, but understand the remains will be interred in Jamestown, N. Y., by the side of those of his father and oldest brother Charles.

—Death of an Old Citizen. William Huddleson, one of the older citizens of this community, died at his home, in Hickory township, on Sunday morning last. Mr. Huddleson had been ailing for some years but had not been bed fast at any time, except for a few days about four years ago when he received a severe shock from a fall. He was a man of powerful physique, able to endure almost any sort of hardship. On the morning of his death he had eaten a rather hearty breakfast and seemed to be in his usual health. After reading for a short time he complained of not feeling well and laid down to rest. He began to sink rapidly and in less than two hours breathed his last. The deceased was born June 2, 1828, making his age 72 years. Two sons, Theodore and Lewis survive him. His wife had preceded him in death several years. The funeral was held Monday afternoon, the interment being in East Hickory cemetery, Rev. J. R. Rich conducting the services. Mr. Huddleson was a quiet, unassuming, honorable citizen, a kind neighbor, and a man who bore the respect of all who knew him. He will be much missed from the community in which he had passed the greater portion of his life. —Oil Notes.

—The well near West Hickory station was finished last week and is a duster. It was drilled by a company of citizens of the town. —Park Black's well on the Dawson farm, Stewarts Run, was a failure, being flooded with water in the second sand. —A new well is being drilled on the Handy farm near the White church, Stewarts Run, by Oil City parties. —Reck, Cooper, & Co., have just gotten the drill started in their latest well, Tubbs Run lease.
