The fall season for trade is almost here. Every Tionesta business man who would have his share of the trade should look well to his advertising. The columns of the REPUBLICAN are open to all such.

Tionesta and Pleasantville are still "chewing" about base ball, the former seeming anxious to get at the self-styled champions. The Pleasantvillians are evidently satisfied to quit while their credit is good.

When in need of anything in the line of letter heads, bill heads, statemts, envelopes, or in fact any kind of commercial printing, call at the REPUBLICAN office, where all the latest designs in job printing are turned out.

Following is a list of letters remaining un-called for in the Tionesta, Pa., postoffice for the week ending Sept. 12, 1900: Miss Sara Reed, Miss Chloe Host, Mr. W. M. Lindsey, Esq.

D. S. Knox, P. M.
About twenty Indians, composing the famous Cornplanter band, from the Salamanca reservation, passed through this place last Friday on their way to Highland Park, over in Clarion county, where they play an engagement every two years.

Governor Stone appointed U. W. Rogers, of Brockport, Associate Judge of Elk county to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge Casman. Mr. Rogers is the Republican nominee for the office which was appointed by the governor.—St. Mary's Herald.

The Reno base ball team will be up Saturday and play a game with the Tionesta team. The game will be called at 2 o'clock p. m., and as the Reno's are ball players an interesting game may be expected. This will probably be the last of the season and there ought to be a good turnout.

A valuable horse stolen from James K. Green of Flemming Hill, near West Hickory, one night last week, was recovered a few days afterward near Garland, Warren county, where it was found running at large.

An electric light plant for the borough is strongly talked of. If it will figure out satisfactory the borough will erect the plant, and if the citizens will give it the proper encouragement we will soon have more light on the subject and the streets, where it is very much needed during these dark nights.

Grapes and peaches are now in their prime, and now is the best time to procure them for preserving, etc. Prices will soon be on the upward grade, and if you intend putting any of these fruits up for winter this is the time to procure them. Call early. Your orders will be promptly filled. Amisler.

Mrs. Flora Landers, of the firm of F. Walters & Co., is in Pittsburgh this week for the purpose of selecting the fall and winter millinery stock for the firm. She will make a careful study of the newest things in millinery art, and the ladies may expect to feast their eyes on the finest display ever shown in Tionesta.

The new Kinzua bridge is completed, so far as building the limestone structures is concerned. All that remains to be done now is to complete the riveting of the bridge and in ten days it will be ready for traffic. The new bridge is a wonderful structure, eclipsing the original one in beauty of architecture, size and strength.

The vastness of the grape crop along the lake shore, from Erie to Brocton, known as the grape belt, is indicated by the estimate of freight men that it will amount to 7,000 car loads, with a minimum weight of 24,000 pounds. This means that 21,000,000 baskets of grapes will be shipped from Brocton during the ensuing fall and winter.

The Hotel Agnew 'bus was overturned near the station last Wednesday evening, with several passengers aboard. Mrs. Wm. Royer, of Clarion, was one of the passengers and was considerably bruised, but recovered without serious trouble. Other passengers were somewhat shaken up, but fortunately escaped severe injury. The destruction of the rig was well nigh complete.

Jacob Hill, one of the old residents of Allegheny City, died at his home on Sunday last. He was once very prominent in lumbering transactions, and was known to all the prominent lumbermen of this section, of whom he bought large consignments. Mr. Hill had often visited his friend and relative here, Judge J. A. Propert, who left on Monday to attend the funeral. He was aged about 78 years.

Lyman Cook of Nebraska started for a point near Franklin Monday with a crew of eight or ten men and a team, where they will take up the work of clearing the channel of the Allegheny river, under authority of the U. S. government. They will work up the river and remove all obstructions from and improve the channel generally, and will be engaged until inclement weather or high water interferes with the work.

Last Thursday a citizen named Anthony living near Green's mill in Harmony township, between Fagundus and Nettown, heard a racket in his hen-roost. Having been bothered more or less in that particular, he took his shotgun and discharged a load of shot in the direction of the racket. The next morning there was evidence about the place sufficient to indicate that some one had been touched up to considerable extent, but who and how severely had not developed at last accounts.

Fire started in the slashing of Shields & Gross on Millstone when the wind storm came up early Wednesday morning, and as it could not be controlled the loss of bark and logs was heavy, estimated in value at about $2,000.00. One family living on the slashing escaped only with their night clothes on, everything else they had burning. A fire started about the same time on Spring creek burned several thousand dollars worth of logs and bark for Elk county parties.—Marienville Express.

At the residence of the groom's mother at Tylersburg, September 5th, 1900, Esq. F. E. King united in marriage Bert D. Eminger and Miss Mattie Gadley, both of Clarion, Forest county. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a number of near relatives and friends of the contracting parties after which congratulations and an elegant wedding dinner followed. Hand Blown off While Serenading.

While assisting in a serenade tendered a newly wedded couple near Lickingville last Friday evening, J. W. Lucart, a young man, had the third and little fingers of his left hand torn off by the bursting of a gun he was shooting. Fortunately no others were injured, and the serious turn of affairs had the effect of bringing the serenade to an abrupt ending.

Oil Notes.

A. J. Carnahan has purchased the Vockroth lease of Wolcott & Co., on Cropp Hill. He started a new well last Thursday and will continue the drill in that locality, and expects to very materially improve the production. We did not learn what the consideration was. Patterson finished his twenty-eighth well on the west side of the Allegheny. The well was shot Monday, but what the results were we have not been able to learn. He immediately located No. 29, about six hundred feet from this one. Reek, Cooper & Co. will drill in a new well on their Tabbs run lease to-day.

—Laura B. Starr, who for several years resided in China, and who had great facilities for understanding the feminine side of Chinese life, contributes to the October Delinquent an article that throws much light on the home life of Chinese women. This article is illustrated with several authentic photographs of Chinese women of various social positions. The October number of the Delinquent, in addition to Miss Starr's article and the eighty or more sketches of present-day styles, which are prominent features of the magazine, contains twenty other valuable contributions.

—When we hear a man, especially a father, slandering a girl of a town or neighborhood whom he thinks may have strayed from the path of virtue, we feel like asking him to recall a few acts of his young days and see if he is not reaping the crop of wild oats he then sowed. Because a girl is jolly and pleasant to her acquaintances is no reason why she should be estimated as one of the kind who prefer darkness rather than light. Even if a man did think so it is unwise and wicked to mention it. There is where many an innocent lass receives the ostracism of society—by people talking when they have no business. When a man has no good words for our girls he ought to keep the perambulating gabatorium he calls his mouth closed.—Ee.

—The postoffice department will shortly advertise for the carrying of mails on rural routes. The advertisement will be so worded as to require that every accepted bidder must agree to live on or contiguous to the route and personally superintendent the service. It has come to the notice of the department that speculative bidders will seek to secure a number of routes by inducing some local attorney or other person in each of the counties to allow the use of his name as a bidder for a consideration. The law, however, prohibits any sub-letting of contract without the consent of the postmaster general. The local bidders can aid the department by closely observing who his competitors are, and if he has reason to believe any bid is made in the interest of a combine he should at once advise the department.

—The following item of local interest is taken from the San Juan, Porto Rico, News, of the 4th inst. Mr. Leech is now on the island looking after his agricultural interests, but expects to return to the States later in the fall, and will move to Tennessee where he will engage in lumbering. "From several districts of the island some reports of agricultural activity. A number of Americans who have recently purchased land are going right ahead. Mr. Chas. S. Leech, for example, who has bought a property near Rio Piedras suitable for orange and pineapple cultivation, has now 30 peons and 5 Americans cleaning up and preparing the ground for planting. Within 30 days he expects to have 60 acres cleaned and plowed. Mr. Allen, of the Allen News company, has also bought land in that vicinity and has almost completed the erection of a family dwelling house. Mr. Allen intends to cultivate the minor products."

—The editor of the Panix Spirit pretends to know a heap about game, but we think the following admonition to game law violators is intended more as a scare than anything else: "Aside from the fact that every man, and more especially one who pretends to be a sportsman, ought to respect the law, neither squirrels nor pheasants are fit to eat this time of year. The squirrels are sore-eyed and sleepy and have warbles in their beaks like a brindle cow; and pheasants, which have been hatching or looking after their young, are lank, tough, and stringy." Now, Bo. Smith may know a whole lot about being a Congressman and all that, but when he says squirrels are not fit to eat, now, that pheasants are stringy, we beg to take issue with him. Squirrels are fat and plump right now, and a finer pot-pie cannot be baked than that which a half dozen nicely cleaned squirrels will produce, while pheasants—well, we never saw a stringy one yet. Nevertheless, the game law should be respected, and violators should be made to understand that they cannot go on in their wild career with impunity, nor ashotgun, either, but we maintain that it isn't fair to scare them off with harrowing stories of warble squirrels and stringy pheasants. Let us have late play all round."
