Oil market closed at $1.10. Go to Amster for ammunition. Oil and gas leases at this office. You can get it at Hopkins' store. How about that turkey, got him? Best prices at Tionesta Cash Store. Amster will have oysters to-morrow. Fels-Naptha soap at Tionesta Cash Store. Go to Killmer for window glass of any size. Shotguns for rent at 25 cents per day at Amster's. Silver Drip syrup 25c gallon at Tionesta Cash Store. Uculo Sam is getting a big boy now. There are over seventy six millions of him. About all the leaves have fallen, and the hills have put off the blend and taken on the bleak. Cashier Bowman of the Citizens' National Bank has had his fine mansion in the north ward handsomely re-painted. Since the evenings are growing longer and the weather colder the "at homes" and "domino parties" are becoming popular. Nothing any better than good buck wheat cakes these frosty mornings. Farmers, bring in your buckwheat and get your cash. Cambridge Springs and Erie have been connected by trolley line and cars are running on schedule time. It takes two hours to cover the distance and the new road is doing a good business. The Department President, Mrs. Alfareta Devine, will inspect Corps No. 137 on Monday evening, Nov. 12th. A full attendance is requested. SADIE J. AGNEW, President. Following is a list of letters remaining unclaimed for in the Tionesta, Pa., post-office for the week ending Nov. 7, 1900: Mrs. M. D. Metcalf, Chas. Adelson, D. H. Hopkins. D. S. KNOX, P. M. Chas. S. Leech has moved from Beaver, Pa., to his new lumbering operations, his address now being Tarraman, Tennessee. He lately bought the interest of his partner in the plant and will take personal charge of affairs. Robert H. Work, father of John H. Work of Barnett township, this county, died at his home near Rochester Mills, Indiana county, on the 23d ult., aged 70 years. He was one of the prominent and influential men of his section. The Reisenman Manufacturing company, of Franklin, has received the contract for furnishing 10,000 gallons of paint for the Sharon Steel Works. This is one of the largest paint orders ever given in this part of the country. Sunday afternoon last Oscar Sielts was out hunting near Tiona, when his gun was accidentally discharged, the entire load of shot entering his left side and passing through the heart. Death was instantaneous. The victim was a young man. Prof. C. Block, the optician, will be in Tionesta Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 7 and 8, at the Central Hotel. Eyes examined free. All work guaranteed. Hundreds of testimonials from neighboring people. Remember the date and place. Don't lose sight of the fact that Amster keeps an especially fine stock of groceries, in which line everything is of the freshest and best brand. It will pay you to call on him for all such goods because they are sold at a very narrow margin.

An exchange quotes a depraved man as saying that his first step on the downward road was cheating a publisher out of two year's subscription. That cannot be true. He must have been far down the great incline of depravity before he could do such a thing.

As a striking illustration of the fact that ignorance still flourishes in this land and age of schools and education may be mentioned the fact that a couple were recently married in this city, neither of whom could read or write. One was 50 and the other 40 years old.—Meadville Gazette.

The foreman of a Chicago pie factory, where pumpkin pies are having a big run, has imparted the state secret to a visitor that no pumpkin whatever is used in the construction of their leading pie, of which sweet potatoes and apples form the base. A little flavoring does the rest. Chicago is a great city.—Eos.

An Indiana county farmer lost a cow in a queer manner one night last week. The animal got out of the pasture and in rummaging through a summer kitchen found and swallowed an old umbrella and a cake of yeast. The yeast fermenting in the poor animal's stomach, raised the umbrella and she died in terrible agony.

The Postmaster General has declared war against the endless chain system of selling goods and has issued an order to the effect that all such schemes are lotteries, and all mail matter in relation thereto is unmailable under the lottery act. The order is based on an opinion from the Attorney General of the United States.

The Ladies' Aid Society will meet at the M. E. church this Wednesday evening, to present their free-will offering toward the small amount yet due on the heater which has been placed in the church recently. There will be light refreshments and music, and a good social time is expected. Everyone is cordially invited.

The dead body of a man was found by two boys Friday, floating in a large cesspool back of a laundry at Westfield, N. Y. The man was of ordinary build, apparently about thirty-three or thirty-four years old, of light complexion and light hair, with a mustache closely clipped and a finger missing from his left hand.

Ex-Commissioner W. A. Connelly of East Hickory was in town Monday on his way home from his work on the new railroad that is being put through from Nebraska to Sheffield. He says that the work is being pushed as rapidly as possible and that it is probable that the iron will all be down and the road ready for travel within a month from now.

At Titusville the prevalence of typhoid fever is approaching the epidemic stage. Fully 150 cases within that city have been reported, and 15 deaths have occurred. At Black Ash seven members of the family of Harvey Kipple are lying in a critical condition and four members of the family of E. L. Hummer, who lives in Rome township, are in a dangerous condition.

Another Halloween has passed into history with less disturbance in this place than for several years, the custom of fracturing the loose furniture seeming to have given away to more rational forms of amusement. There were numerous parties, and of course the small boy was abroad in the land, but there was little mischief of a vicious nature reported, all of which is pleasant to note.

Mrs. Susan McClatchey died at the home of her son John, in Mill Village, Erie county, Friday, Nov. 2, 1900. Deceased was a sister of the late John A. and J. G. Dale of Tionesta, and was aged 88 years. The family resided on what is still known to our older inhabitants as the "McClatchey place," about two miles below Tionesta on the west side, and the deceased is well remembered by our older class of citizens.

November weather forecasts—Cloudy and fog in most sections from 5th to 13th; heavy snow storms and blockades in New York and Pennsylvania from 14th to 17th; heavy gales and great losses to shipping on Great Lakes from 18th to 24th; cold wave 25th to 30th. The average temperature for the month will be decidedly below the average throughout the country. The precipitation will be above the normal, including much snow.

C. W. Benedict, Esq., returned yesterday morning from Pittsburgh, where the arguments in the Frank Major murder case were heard before the supreme court. Mr. Benedict feels assured that the result of the trial in the court of quarter sessions will be upheld by the higher tribunal. Homer J. Humes of Meadville is the counsel for the defendant. A decision is expected to be handed down in a few days.—Titusville Herald.

If you ask a man for an ad or a few locals he will tell you he don't believe in advertising—a paper is never read. But let him be caught hugging the bird girl or chasing a loose piece of calico up the streets after dark, or struggling with a jug of "temarin" water, if the printing office is in a garret of a twenty story building he will climb to the top and ask the editor not to publish it in the paper where everybody will read it.—Newspaper Talk.

On the newly acquired W. N. Y. & P. lines of the Pennsylvania Company, commencing on the first of November, an excess of ten cents will be charged on all fares paid on trains. Passengers paying such fares will be furnished with a memorandum, upon presentation of which at any ticket office of the Pennsylvania system east of Pittsburg, or on the New York and Long Branch Railroad, the excess of the cents will be refunded. The system has been in vogue on the Allegheny Valley for some time.

According to the Derwick's monthly oil report, there were 766 new wells in the Pennsylvania field during the month of October, and 5,696 barrels in new production. There are 1,170 rigs and drilling wells in New York there was an increase of 5 wells. In the Buckeye and Hoosier fields 495 new wells were completed. The new production was 8,549 barrels and there were 60 dry holes. There are 32 rigs and drilling wells, a decrease of 56 in new operations.

At a meeting held last week a re-organization of the Tionesta Mantel factory was consummated. The officers elected are J. C. Bowman, Pres dent; J. J. Hopkins, Vice President; A. B. Kelly, Secretary and Treasurer. Directors, G. W. Robinson, A. B. Kelly, J. C. Bowman, T. J. Cullen, Alexander, L. J. Hopkins, and T. D. Collins. The company was capitalized at $25,000, the stock having all been subscribed. The factory will soon again be under full operations with a larger force than ever employed.

The barn on the farm of Daniel Olney on Smokey Hill, Tionesta twp., was totally destroyed by fire last Thursday. The alarm was given here and Livermen Oran and Urey immediately hitched up a rig and took a number of men up to the scene, but owing to the distance and the steep hill they had to climb, they arrived too late to be of much assistance. Most of the farming implements were saved, but the hay and two pigs were burned. The loss is a heavy one as there was no insurance. The origin of the fire is unknown.

One hundred and twenty-five veterans of the Eighty-third regiment, Pennsylvania volunteers, attended the reunion held in Erie last week. The veterans told stories at the campfire, and listened to addresses. These officers were elected: President, E. L. Whittley, Erie; vice-president, Dudley S. Cutler, Meadville; treasurer, A. B. Edson, Meadville; secretary, D. B. Foot, Harrisburg. The regiment enjoys the distinction of having, with a single exception, lost more men in battle than any other regiment of the Civil war.

Hounds chased two deer into the river near the Landers & Wyman mill at the mouth of Indian Camp run last Sunday morning. The boys at the mill caught one of the dogs and will hold him till the owner calls for him. This is a practice that has been carried on almost every fall for several years past, and there should be a stop put to it. The few deer left along the river hills in this vicinity are struggling hard to retain a foothold, and can do so against the hunter, but they cannot withstand the cruel onslaught of the hounds.

More than $200,000 worth of lumber and boats have been held at Tionesta during the past few weeks awaiting a rise in the river sufficient to float them. The lumbermen had what they call an empty boat rise on Saturday, and since that time many of the crafts have passed here.—Derwick. The rise was insufficient to let out the great bulk of stuff lying here, and the boats which started were obliged to tie up and await a further rise. In the neighborhood of 40 barges were started and these, drawing little water, may be able to pull through.

The Pennsylvania Railroad company has given official notice of the inauguration of a pension system for the employees of its lines. The new system goes into effect on January 1, 1901. Employees aged seventy years or more will be given the option of retiring from service on half pay. Another provision also stipulates that if an employee has been crippled in the service of the road, he can retire at the age of sixty-five years. The system has been in vogue on the Pennsylvania Central for some time and as it has met with the approval of the employees it has been decided to extend it over the entire Pennsylvania lines.

What next? The Oil City Blizzard tells that James Anderson, a traveling man, was Thursday at Franklin the victim of female bandits in broad daylight within the city limits. He was on his way to the railroad station when two gypsy women approached him and begged twenty-five cents, which he gave them. He displayed considerable money, whereupon the members of the band attacked him, went through his pockets and took everything of value on his person. Early this week the band paid a visit to this city, causing our merchants much annoyance by the persistent manner of begging they indulged in and boisterous action where their demands for aid were refused. They were hushed out of town by the police.

Saturday while a fleet of boats on which "Billy" Morgan was pilot was landing near Pithole creek a bass weighing about three pounds flopped into one of the boats. There being a few inches of water in the boat the men allowed the fish to remain there until such time as they would want him on the table. The next morning, however, the bass was missing and the boys supposed some person had spirited it away. A large mink was also seen on the fleet at intervals during the trip. When the boats were landed at Oil City it was necessary to move one of two piles of lumber from one boat to another. While this was being done the men discovered their bass, which the mink had ingested a distance of several rods and over the gunwales into another boat, and had eaten about half of it. Another smaller bass was also lying near the larger one. And yet some people will argue that there should be no bounty on mink scalps.

Miss May Clark, employed in the freight telegraph office, Oil City, came home yesterday morning "to vote for McKinley and prosperity," as she said.

Mrs. P. Wyman, who has been a guest of her son, W. G. Wyman, for the past two weeks, left yesterday for Chattanooga, Tenn., where she will spend the winter.

Joe Morgan, Frank Walker, Jim Morrow and Jerry Black came down from Grunderville, the new lumbering camp located three miles below Warren, on the east side, to cast their ballots.

The many friends of Mrs. T. F. Ritchey will be pained to hear that for several days past she has been seriously ill, and at last accounts there was no improvement in her condition. All are hoping for better news.

H. C. Baughman, of Baughman Bros., was married last week to Miss Tillie Sigel, of Stroublenton. Henry is receiving the congratulations of his friends, and will bring his wife here as soon as he can secure a house.—Meadville Express.

The REPUBLICAN acknowledges a pleasant call from its old friend, Dr. F. E. Allison, last Saturday. The Doctor and Mrs. Allison are journeying with eastern friends for a short time, expecting soon to go to Illinois, and may spend the winter and finally locate in Oregon.

Rev. Joseph B. Keegan has been appointed rector of the St. Mary's parish, at Crown, Clarion county, Pa., entering upon his duties as such last Sabbath. Father Keegan is well known to many of our citizens, having held services in the Catholic church here at intervals during the past two or three years, and his appointment to this important charge is pleasing to his many friends in this section.

H. W. Rathburn of the Oil City Blizzard spent a day of last week with friends here in quest of pheasants, rabbits, woodcock and mushrooms, a nice mess of the latter he succeeded in bagging. Likewise a good string of game, which he doubtless flaunted in the teeth of his less able sportsmen friends at the hub, when Mr. R. and his faithful "Mary Ann" s'rike for the woods prey much everything in the line of game fowl and mammals yields up the ghost.

Stops the Cough and Works off the Cold. Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets cure a cold in one day. No cure, no pay. Price 25 cents.

Killed by Dynamite. Charles Greer, son of J. P. Greer of Lineville, Clarion county, was instantly killed by an explosion of dynamite near Loleta, the Amster & Campbell lumbering town, in Elk county, yesterday. A crew of men were clearing and grading for a new railroad at that place and were using dynamite for blasting stumps and rocks, and had placed a quantity of the explosive near a fire to warm it. Just how it happened no one seems to know, but the stuff exploded while the unfortunate young man was near it, and his body was blown to pieces. No one else was injured. The remains were conveyed to his home to-day from where the funeral will take place to-morrow. The young man was aged about 20 years.

The Great Kinzua Viaduct.

The current number of the Scientific American devotes its front page to a series of photographs showing the progress and mode of reconstructing the Kinzua viaduct. The following facts are gleaned from a descriptive article: "The bridge serves to carry the railroad across a deep and comparatively narrow valley. The floor of the bridge is 2,000 feet above the level of the sea, and has long since been one of the show features of the Erie road. The new structure takes the place of an iron bridge which was erected in 1882. The reconstruction of the viaduct is due, not to any defects or decay in the old structure, but to the great increase which has taken place of late years in the weight of the engines and rolling stock. The greater strength of the new viaduct results from the greater weight of the materials used, 3,500 tons as against 2,500, from the improved materials of construction (mild steel taking the place of iron) and from the more scientific distribution of the material. The only portion of the old structure that remains is the foundations. From a popular point of view the most interesting feature in connection with the reconstruction of the bridge is the method adopted in removing the old bridge and building up the new structure in its place. For this purpose two travelers, each consisting of a complete Howe truss timber bridge, 180 feet in length, were constructed and run out over the old bridge. The method of operating them is as follows: The traveler was run over the particular tower which was to be removed, and the spans, that is, those between three towers, and over the tower itself, were removed and then the material of the tower was cut loose, section by section, drawn up by a hoisting cable to the traveler, and run out on the permanent structure and removed to either shore. After the old tower had been taken away, the material for the new traveler was run out over the bridge to the traveler, lowered into place and riveted up. Two travelers worked from opposite ends of the bridge and finally met in the center. Traffic over the bridge was suspended on May 14th last. The work of reconstruction commenced May 20, and this important work has been successfully carried out in the interim, by a force of from 140 to 150 men."

WILLIAM B. JAMES,

It Is Truer today than it ever was, that this store leads the clothing trade of Oil City and vicinity. Competitors may claim impossible things by adopting circus methods of advertising, but clothing buyers are not easily misled. We certainly have the finest store in the city, that's self evident, and the ordinary observer the largest stock is shown by us. As to our prices, our argument in all cases is "your money back" if you're not satisfied. Do our competitors offer more?
$5.50 is the amount you can invest and own a man's suit that is made of all wool cloths, single and double breasted coats.
$8.50 is all the money you need to buy an all wool indigo blue, all two shades of gray friezes; sizes 34 to 44. Remember, we said all wool at this price.
$10.00 buys a strictly all wool blue kersey, also light and dark shades of all wool friezes, and one of the best garments we ever sold at this price.
$12.00 double faced, dark covert cloths, "warm back" friezes, all tailored in the best manner possible and the best values we ever offered at this price.
At $15, $18, $20, and $25 we've over oats that no country tailor can match at $10 more. Goods, trimmings, style and fit considered.
