AMERICAN SHIPPING.

Past Fiscal Year Most Prosperous Since Civil War.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.-The report of Commissioner of Navigation Cham berlain, made public yesterday, says the past fiscal year has been the most prosperous period known to American ship ping for some years. Returns from the current fiscal year promises an even more satisfactory record.

For the first time since the civil war the documented tonnage of the United States exceeds 5,000,000 gross tons. June 30, 1900, American document tonnage comprised 23,333 vessels; of 5,164, 839 gross tons, an increase of 300,009 tons over the previous fiscal year. Our maximum tonnage was 5,539,813 'ons in 1861. Our shipping, the report adds, in 1861, was larger than Great Britain's, and nearly equalled the British empire's. British shipping now amounts to 14,261.

American vesssels are almost wholly confined to the consting trade, which employed last year 4,338,145 tons, or more than the total tonnage of Germany and France. Our tonnage in the foreign trade was only $16,795 tens, and carried last year only 9 per cent of the exports

The section of the line where the necident occurred is under repair and the derailment is attributed to the great speed of the train. The engineer says that the ground gave way under the locomotive, which sank into the ballast. The restaurant car came into terrific cot-Usion with the tender and alone rolled down the embankment.

The bodies were terribly mangled. One of the butlers of the restaurant car, who was slightly injured, became suddenly insane and walked to and fro amid the wreckage singing at the top of his voice. The engineer and stoker, who were thrown into a field, had miracultus es-

SMALLPOX IN PEKIN.

Sanitary Conditions There Are In Frightful State.

PEKIN, Nov. 16, via Shanghai, Nov. 19 .- Sanitary conditions here are becoming serious. Since the foreign occupation many Chinese have died of smallpox and other infectious diseases. Fearing that their funerals would be interfered with they have kept most of the coffins containing their dead to their houses and court yards.

The question of removing garbage has become one of grave importance. As the natives are forbidden to deposit refuse in the streets, there is now an enermous accumulation in their dewillings and yards which threatens a serious ept

In view of the large number of troops in and near the capital, the cons of such an outbreak would be frightful. Smallpox, which is always prevalent, is much more malignant during the winter season, and the danger here is now alarmingly increased.

Jealous Woman Was Informer-Frank Brown, the Guilty Man, Has Skipped the Country-Bank Directors Have Issued False Statements For Over a Week, Though Aware of Shortage.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 19. - United States Bank Examiner Tucker yesterday took possession of the German National bank at Newport, Ky., and posted a notice that the bank would remain closed pending an examination. Examiner Tucker also announced unofficially that Frank Brown, the individual bookkeeper and assistant easher, was missing, and that a partial investigation showed that Brown was short about $201,000.

Brown, it is alleged, was living a fast life, with wine, women and gambling in his repertoire. His career was not cut short by any discovery at the bank until a jealous woman gave him away. Brown is a widower with one con, aged 10 years, who lives with Brown's father, Paris C. Brown, ex-mayor of Newport, and one of the leading business men of Cincia nati. Last summer Brown visited Yel lowstone Park and a certain Cincinnati woman wanted to accompany him, but this was denied her. When she ascer tained some time afterward that another woman was with Brown on his Western trip the Cincinnati woman gave the bank officials some information that brough about a crisis.

The officers of the German National bank are wealthy and responsible men and they will be able to make the losses good. Among the directors is Paris C Brown, who is the father of the missing bookkeeper, and is well known. The cushler of this bank is also paying teller and Brown relieved him as paying teller when the cashier went to his dinner. It is stated that Brown did most of his work during the lunch of the cashier.

BROWN GOT $191,500.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 20.-The experts who have been working with Receiver Tucker on the books of the German National bank at Newport place the short-age of Brown, the missing assistant eashier and individual bookkeeper, at $91,000. According to reports from those who were with Brown when he left last Tuesday night he had less than $500 with him. Brown's salary was only $1,500 per year. Cases are now cited where he spent more than that amount in one day. His bond was for $10,000, and it is good as for us it woos.

United States District Attorney Hill will arrive from Paduenh today, when, it is said, criminal proceedings will be be gun. The federal detectives have certain persons under surveillance and there are reports about arrests that will follow or the arrival of District Attorney Hill. During the run on the German National bank at Newport, Ky., last Saturday $200,000 was secured in Cincinnati to bridge over the trouble. This was returned yesterday, and Receiver Tucker had other moneys and papers also trans-

Brown's system required a wonderful his head figures that enabled him to call off correctly a lot of false entries in a way to throw the clerks who were doing the checking with him off the track. A depositor would put in $3,100. Brown would enter the proper amount of the deposit in one book and enter it as $100 in another. He would take the difference $3,000, himself. Then when it came t checking up he would handle one of the books. Another clerk would check and Brown would call off. Instead of calling off $100, which appeared as the amount of the deposit on the book which he was handling, he would call it as $3,-100, thus making it correspond with the

He also, it is alleged, worked in another way. A depositor would draw out $100. Brown would make the proper entry in one book and enter $3,100 in another. When the depositor had his account checked up the figures were taken from the book in which the correct ent ry had been made. When the bank officials looked to see what amount was die the depositor they were given their information from the books which showed that $3,100 had been withdrawn. Brown had memorized all the individual accounts and the experts find no private marks of any kind on the books. Th general ledger was kept correct and bal anced with the cash, while the individua ledger, it is alleged, was fixed to suit Brown's purposes, the former being the one that the bank officials examined. It is generally believed that Brown's first shortage started accidentally with an

BURIED UNDER TONS OF ORE Dock Caved In at Buffalo, Killing Iwo Boys and Causing a Loss of

shore of the Buffalo creek, caved in yes terday morning, carrying with it 100,000 tons of iron ore, under which were buried Thomas Ford and Max Sors, lada agod 15 and 16 years respectively. Both were killed. Several others were slightly injured. Sors was but partially buried and was dug out after a little effort, but he was so terribly mangled that he died a short while after being taken to the hospital. Ford was buried deep in the avalanche of ore and his body has not been recovered, though parties dug for it all day. His hat was found, which was presented to his sister for identification, at which she became hysterical and had to be removed. She at one time was an inmate of an insane asylum and it is expected that the shock of her brother's death will again unsettle her mind. The loss to the dock and ore will reach $100,000. This is partially covered by insurance. It is said that the dock was built on swampy marsh, reclaimed by the dumping of refuse and artificial foundotion and the constant weight of thous ands of tous of ore on the original seil finally worked as low as the swampy march and then sunk in, causing an av alanche of ore that totally swamped the dock and filled with ore that portion of the creek upon which the dock had faced. This is the second dock cavein to occur in this city within two months.

CAUSE OF STRONG FAILURE. Indorsed Notes For Stott Woolen Mills, Then the Two Deaths Brought a Crists.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15,-The cause of the Strong failure was made public yes terday by Butler, Notman, Joline & Myn derse, counsel for the firm in the action for the receivership, which resulted in the appointment of Edward A. Treat Counsel said that the Strong firm ha! indersed more than $500,000 in notes for the Stott Woolen mills, for which the firm was agent, and that the odd cit cumstances of the sudden deaths of former Mayor Strong and of F. H. Stott, heads of the two concerns, within three days of each other, had brought about a crisis by dissolving both firms at a moment when large sums were due Stott mills are located in Stottville N. Y.

One note indersed for the Stott com pany for $100,000 is due today. Other notes for nearly half a million are due soon. The Stott company in which the Strong company is largely interested. counsel said, had indersed notes of the Strong company in return, but for an insignificant amount, probably less than $100,000 in all.

Negro Lad Burned at the Stake Near Limon, Col.

LIMON, Col., Nov. 17.-Chained to railroad rail, set firmly in the ground n the exact spot where his fiendish time was committed, Preston Porter, Jr., or, as he was familiarly known; John Porter, yesterday evening paid a terrible penalty for his deed. It was 523 o'clock when the father of the mucdered girl touched the match to the fuel which had been piled around the stake and 20 minutes later a last convulsive shudder told that life was extinct. .. ant be guessed from the terrible contactions of his face and the cries he gave crots time to time. The executioners, who numbered , bout 300 citizens of Lincoin county, had not the least semblance of the ordinary mob. Their every net was deliberate and du ing all the preparation as well as throughout the sufferings of the negro, hardly an unnecessary word was spoken Grimly they stood in a circle about the fire until the body was entirely con sumed and then quietly they took their ference to the enormity of his crime, so emed to lack all understanding of its terrible consequences. For more than in hour, while preparations for his excution were in progress, he stood mute and sullen among the avengers. When everything was ready he walked to the stake with a firm step, pausing as be renched the circle of broken boards to sneel in prayer. He was allowed to take his time. He arose an! placed his back to the iron stake and half dozen men wound chains about his body and Ilmbs. Kerosene oil was applied to the wood and, after , a brief pause, Richard W. Frost, the father of little Louise Frost, whose cruelly mutilated body was found one week ago o that very spot, applied a match. 1 or a moment but a little flickering flam-grose, then the oil blazed up, sparks flew

Almost instantly the negro's trouse: caught fire. Even though the flesh must have scorched he did not utter a sound. The flames crept slowly upward on his clothing, and the sparks flow up in a cloud of pale smoke. Porter turned his head and a frightful expression changed his face. With a sudden convusive tugging he stretched his head as far from the rapidly increasing flames as possible and uttered a cry of pain; "Oh, my God, let me go, men. I've got something more to tell you. Please let me go. Oh, my God, my God." In terrible screeches these words, the first he had uttered aloud, came from the breaking down his sullen composure. Not an oath escaped him, but he egged and pleaded to be shot. Suddenly rope holding his hands burned through. Then arms, head and shoulders slipped through the chains. For an in stant the body stood erect, the arms were raised in supplication, while burning pieces of clothing dropped from them. The body then fell away from the fire, the head lower than the feet, still fas-tened to the rail. This was not expected and for a few minutes these stolid men were disconcerted. They feared the only remaining chain would give way. If this had occurred the partly burned human being would have dashed among them in his blazing garments. And not many would have cared to capture him again. But the chain held fast. The body was then in such a position that only the legs were in the fire. The cries of the wretch were redoubled and he again begged to
