other day in the Victorian era, now so rapidly drawing to a close, passed away without any great change in the condition of Queen Victoria. The slightest improvement, so frequently mentioned in the official bulletins, merely indicates a postponement of the inevitable.

The end may be a matter of days or only of hours; but the members of the royal family, who are now dragging out weary visit at Osborne House, know that the death of her majesty is merely a question of a short time.

The most noticeable feature of yesterday was the satisfactory portion the queen spent in consciousness, which she regnined early in the afternoon, and still retained at 10 p. m. At that hour she had not seen Emperor William, local rumors to the contrary notwithstanding.

Royalty at Osborne thus had a chance to recuperate from the terrible ordea

RELIGION IN SCHOOLS. Debate fietween Philippine Commission ers on That Clause of School Act. MANILA, Jan. 22 .- The aut establishing the department of public instruction was passed unanimously yesterday by the Philippine commission after a de-bate between Commissioner Moses and Judge Taft, president of the "commis-sion, over the section permitting religious The commissioners originally were unanimously in favor of the section, but Commissioner Moses became convinced it was not wise and offered an amend-ment prohibiting the teaching of religious doctrines in school buildings. He de clared the commission would disregard its instructions concerning the separation of church and state if the "questionable provision" should be enneted. The com-missioner characterized as groundless the fears that Catholic children would not attend the public schools unless religious instruction should be permitted. He sold the experience with the Philippine schools had already demonstrated this. Referring to arguments of the Central Catholica in favor of Catholic instruc-tion exclusively, Commissioner Moses insisted that a compromise was inadvisa-ble when one of the parties was predisposed against a compromise. Judge Taft offered a substitute permit ting teaching three weekly by priests and ministers to pupils whose parents desired such instruction, and prescribing the dismissal of tenchers who should at tempt to influence pupils religiously, and the suspension of the privilege of priests and sisters whose teachings should cre-nte disloyalty or disorder,

Concerning the alleged disobedience of the administration's instructions Judge Taft said the question would be whether such use of school buildings would involve a tax on the people. He cited the fact that the school buildings in use were used for political and religious purposes

There is an entire absence of local ex-citement. The town has settled down in atience and sadness to await the inevit-ble. Never has Emperor William arrived at any place in England with so little eclat. No salutes were fired, no cheers were given. The men of the guardship Australia silently inanned her sides. The crowd was equally undemonstrative, the people contenting themselves with baring their heads. It was a greeting given to the grandson of a dyng woman rather than to the ruler of a great ally.
