

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 6.

The Christmas trade this year was phenomenal, every merchant doing a larger business than he did the year previous, which up to that time was a record breaker. But Christmas buying is only an incident of business. It is your every-day trade of the rest of the year that counts. That is what we want to get and shall continue to offer you the very best service and prices possible in our line which is DRUGS, MEDICINES and Sundries, exclusively.

Sundries in this case means combs and brushes, toilet accessories, pocket books, fine stationery, perfumery, books, toys, etc., and the famous LOWNEY candies.

A bill will be introduced in the legislature to amend the present tax law so that all boroughs may levy taxes for general purposes to the amount of ten mills on the dollar instead of five. As the law is now, only those boroughs may levy a ten mill tax which have no bonded indebtedness.

It costs you just about the price of one toby each week to secure the Republican all the year 'round. Who wouldn't deny himself the satisfaction of pulling the neckline out of one miserable toby once a week for the pleasure of reading for a whole year the best paper on earth?

According to the oil report of the Oil City Derrick, February shows a heavy decline in all departments of field work, except that of rig building. An increase in this line is a pretty good indication for an active spring campaign. The market is now three cents above the quotation that was ruling when the Sand Eork pool was opened up. In the Bradford and Venango districts there is a general disposition to check drilling operations and it will require something better than the present market to bring about any great revival of activity. There is nothing sensational during the present month in the Pennsylvania oil field, however 500 new wells have been completed.

The masonic fraternity had an extra pleasant time of it last Monday evening, when degrees were conferred upon a number of new candidates at the Lodge room, terminating in an oyster supper at Hotel Weaver. The visitors from Marienville were brought down by Liverman N. F. Hoover in his carryall, and consisted of T. C. McMaster, H. I. Miller, E. E. Amisler, M. H. Shick, F. P. Turner, L. H. Mensch, M. A. Carringer, O. J. Diehl, C. E. Whitehill, J. Scott Bell, of Marienville, and Will P. Matson and Wm. Greer of Leola. Others from out of town were: Ed. Dewoody, J. B. Anlt, J. B. Myers, Nebraska; W. J. Matson, Brookville; Jno. B. Steele, Cleveland, O.

Editor Shick, of the Marienville Express, came near losing his printing plant by fire last Saturday night. Very shortly after midnight his sanctum was discovered to be enveloped in flames, and it was only by the prompt efforts that a conflagration, which would have taken a large portion of the business houses of the town, was averted. As it was the Expressing were able, by good management, to confine the fire to the one room. Mr. Shick's loss on stationary, printing material and personal effects will total in the neighborhood of $400, which is covered by insurance. One of the most serious of his losses was the destruction of the files of his paper which cannot be replaced. It is thought the fire originated from a swinging gas jet which had become detached from the wall and dropped down on his desk on which was piled a batch of exchanges and other papers. The Express will not reach its subscribers this week but Mr. Shick expects to be out on time as usual next week.

The last three days of February, according to an old resident of this vicinity promise the weather for the three spring months, March, April and May. Tuesday was cold and blustery; Wednesday stormy in the morning but bright and clear in the afternoon; Thursday was clear and bright and a very pleasant temperature prevailed.

Rev. Mr. Crosby's lecture at Howard's hall Monday evening was quite well attended, and must have netted the Epworth League, under whose auspices it was given, a snug sum. The lecture was something entirely new to this latitude, and many strange things were told by the talented speaker concerning the "Crystal World" which even Horatio in his philosophy had not "dreamt of."

Under the new order of things at the mantle factory there are busy times in that quarter these days, a full force being employed regularly. County Treasurer S. M. Henry has been installed as book-keeper and general superintendent and already has made himself quite popular with the employees. Mr. H. is a bustling, and his careful management will undoubtedly put the plant on a good paying basis from the start.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. Michael Wertz, C. W. Sigworth prosecutor, which was on trial as our paper went to press last week was decided in the acquittal of the defendant under instructions of the court. It was one of these horse trades which don't have much standing in court. The defendant by his counsel practically admitted having gone in the night, forced the lock or door to the prosecutor's barn and "changed" back. This is not hold to be stealing. The costs of the case were placed upon the court.

The Hotel Weaver, Tionesta, C. P. Weaver, proprietor, enjoys a large trade, and deservedly so. The proprietor and his wife understand the hotel business thoroughly, and the help employed give courteous attention to the wants of guests of the house. Mr. Weaver has lately had the house refitted and refurbished, and added all the modern improvements. Good table service, comfortable beds, rooms connected with office by electric call bell, bath rooms, and all comfortably heated. You will make no mistake in stopping at Hotel Weaver when in Tionesta.—Marienville Express.

Smith S. Neill, one of Oil City's best known citizens and for ten years chief of its police force, died suddenly at his home on Monday morning last. The deceased was born at Neillsburg, (Perry), this county, Dec. 27, 1845. In 1875 Mr. Neill was made chief of police of Oil City. During his services as such he was engaged in many thrilling encounters and repeatedly proved himself a man of undaunted courage and integrity. It was he who arrested Charles S. Charles, who was sent from this county to the penitentiary for being implicated in the robbing of the May, Park & Co. bank of this place twenty years ago.

The gas company's main line was parted out in the township last Friday by the felling of a tree, and a consequent snuffing out of the supply ensued hereabouts in a jiffy. In a few minutes the flow of gas was resumed. The only damage resulting from the momentary shut-off occurred at the M. E. church, where the fire in the heater had evidently not all been extinguished, and when the flow resumed an explosion occurred which left the heater in a rather embarrassing attitude, which had not been relieved on Sunday and the services were held in the Presbyterian church. Eight or ten dollars will make the damage good.

Upward of two hundred of the membership and regular attendants of the Presbyterian church, together with a number of other guests, attended the farewell reception to Rev. J. V. McAninch last Friday evening. The reverend gentleman was supported by the elders of the church, Mr. A. B. Kelly and Mr. G. W. Robinson. After all had been "received" a pleasant and profitable hour was spent in social conversation, chatting and moving about in the spacious and cheerful church edifice. Light refreshments were served during the evening, and Miss Carrie Pennell and Miss Lizzie Randall rendered a number of selections of sacred music, appropriate to the occasion, on the violin and organ. The leave-taking began at 10:30 o'clock and many and hearty farewells and good wishes and "God speed you on your long journey" that greeted the talented young pastor.

Rev. F. E. Glass, the highly-esteemed pastor of the Free Methodist church in Ridgway, is lying quite ill with a severe attack of grip. He was taken ill at Floor Friday evening last, having gone there to visit Mrs. Thatcher, who was quite ill. He had a severe chill that night, but seemed better Saturday morning and managed to get home, but he had to go at once to bed, where he has been since. His many friends sincerely hope he may speedily recover.

Rev. J. V. McAninch leaves to-day for New York from whence he will sail on the steamer Kaiser Wilhelm II next Saturday, 9th inst., for his tour of Palestine. His party will consist of twenty-three persons, and it is expected that about three months will be necessary to complete the itinerary of the Holy Land. Mr. McAninch expects to be absent about five months in all, and his many friends in this county who wish for him a pleasant and profitable sojourn abroad, and a safe return home, will be kept posted on his trip through the columns of the REPUBLICAN. During the major portion of his absence Rev. A. S. Stewart, of the United Presbyterian church, and for a number of years pastor of the church at Redelyffe this county, will fill the pulpit at this place, and will officiate for the first time next Sabbath.

In Memoriam. WHEREAS, God in His infinite wisdom has seen fit to remove by death, Feb. 16, 1901, one whom we so sadly miss, Mrs. Betsy A. Smedley, and by the loss of the L. O. T. M. of Hickory Hive, be it resolved, That it is but a just tribute of respect to the memory of the departed, to say, in regretting her removal from our midst, that she was always ready and willing to lend a helping hand to the needy ones in time of trouble, and that we mourn the loss of a sister who was in every way worthy of our highest respect and best esteem.

Resolved: That we sympathize with the son and friends of the deceased, and commend them for consolation to One "who doeth all things well." Resolved: That we humbly submit ourselves to His will, and promise that we will more faithfully perform the duties imposed on us. Resolved: That a copy of these heartfelt testimonials be placed on the minutes of the order by the R. K., and one be sent to the country papers for publication. HANNAH T. CHIDDER, MARGARET GORMAN, MINNIE METZGER, Committee.

CHARGED WITH KISER'S MURDER.

Henry Borchert and Sic Mong Lodged in Jail on a Charge of Killing William Kiser.

Henry Borchert of Marienville and Augustus (alias Sic) Mong, of Iron City, in Howe township, Forest county, were lodged in jail at Clarion, Pa., on Thursday last charged with the murder of William Kiser, near Elk City, Clarion county. The arrests were made by Detective Jack Cribbs and Sheriff Bird Thompson, the former making the information charging murder, but beyond the assurance that the evidence against the accused is very strong, will not divulge any information as to its nature.

It is understood that a "squealer" in the penitentiary gave up a story which led to these arrests. At the same time Charles Murphy Jr., of Byrontown, this county, was also lodged in jail by these officers, on a charge of having furnished the dynamite which was used to blow up a wall in the jail by which two prisoners—Thomas and Gordon—were enabled to make their escape. Charles Murphy Sr., father of the prisoner, was confined in the jail with Thomas and Gordon, but failed to make his escape, it was thought on account of not being able to crawl out through as small a hole as the others. He is now serving a term in the penitentiary.

The murder of William Kiser was one of the most atrocious in the history of Clarion county. The deceased was a man of about 60 years of age, and lived alone near Elk City. He was reputed to keep considerable money in the house and his murder was committed for the purpose of robbery. On Sunday morning, July 30, 1899, Emanuel Kiser, a young man, and a relative of the deceased, passing the house early in the morning noticed the door was open, and looked in and found the dead body of William Kiser on the floor with the brains beaten out and about the room were evidences of a struggle. Kiser was bound hand and foot, but one hand was free. Flesh had been gouged from various parts of his body with a knife, evidently for the purpose of torturing him to compel him to confess where his money was hidden. The one hand being free led to the theory that while the men were torturing him he had torn the mask from the face of one and that his murderer followed that he might not give evidence against them.

The men, at least two in number, and probably three, had taken a rail from the fence, used it as a battering ram and forced the door from its hinges and rushed to the bed of Kiser and overpowered him before he could defend himself. The murdered man expected to be visited by burglars and all kinds of weapons were close at hand, but he had no chance to use any of them. The bed was in a small room, in which was also a safe. The murderers had bound him while in the bed and carried him to the larger room, where they proceeded with their efforts to compel him to tell them where his money was secured.

After the murder the thieves were evidently panic stricken or alarmed by some unusual noise, as they left the place without securing any money, so far as known. In an inside pocket in the coat of the dead man, which was hanging near the side of his bed, was found a roll of bank notes amounting to $75, and in the mattress of the bed was found several hundred dollars. In a nail keg and other receptacles about his small house were found several hundred dollars in gold. It was rumored that he had a large amount of money concealed in a belt which he wore around his waist, under his clothing, which was stolen by the thieves, but it is not believed that this was correct.

Relatives of the murdered man offered a reward of $1,000 for the arrest and conviction of the murderers, and two persons who were able to prove an alibi, were arrested and released. Detective Cribbs and his partner have been at work on the case since the murder, and the evidence they will present at the hearing will be awaited with interest by the residents of this and adjoining counties where the facts in the case are so familiar.

Collars and Cuffs. Warranted Linen.

Until quite recently any old thing might be sold for linen without fear of punishment. But unscrupulous dealers carried the dishonest practice to such an extreme that the Legislature of New York passed a law making it a misdemeanor to stamp the word "linen" on cotton Collars and Cuffs. It is noticed that a good many brands that used to bear this stamp do not carry it now. But buyers of our "C. & C." brand may be absolutely sure of quality of every Collar and Cuff. Every one is "warranted linen" and bears the guarantee of superior excellence.

Collars—25 different shapes—15c. each—two for 25c—six for 75c—twelve for $1.50. Cuffs—Link and round styles in five different shapes—25c a pair—$2.75 per dozen pairs. "E. & W." Collars—25c each—$2.75 per dozen. "E. & W." Link Cuffs, P. Q. quality—25c pair—$2.75 doz pair.
