GEN. HARRISON'S DEATH

End Was Without Pain, Patient Being Unconscious.

Advanced Age of Patient Left Him Without Sufficient Vitality to Resist Lung Congestion—Burial Was Attended by Thousands of Persons From Every Station in Life.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 14.—General Benjamin Harrison died at 4:45 o'clock Wednesday afternoon without regaining consciousness. His death was quiet and painless, there being a gradual sinking until the end came, which was marked by a single gasp for breath as life departed from the body of the great statesman.

The interior of the tomb was decorated with ferns so profusely that no sign of earth or stone was visible. Dozens of exquisitely beautiful floral tributes were placed on the tomb and on the ground close by.

The arrangements for the services at the grave had been carefully perfected. There was not the slightest hitch in any of the details. After the services at the grave were over and the people had left, carts of earth were unloaded at the graveside and the tomb-filled and flowers placed over all. As the people slowly left the cemetery the distant boom of cannon firing the national salute came to their ears, and by the time the last gun was fired the night was down and the grave alone.

SKETCH OF HIS LIFE.

Brief Chronology of the Principal Events in the Life of the Lamented Ex-President.

Benjamin Harrison, a son of John Scott and Elizabeth Harrison, was born in North Bend, O., Aug. 20, 1833. He was a grandson of ex-President William Henry Harrison and a great-grandson of Benjamin Harrison, a signer of the Declaration of Independence.

In the same year he was admitted to the bar and began practice in Indianapolis in 1854, where he remained until 1859. During this period he served as reporter of the supreme court during 1859-62 and 1864-68. July 14, 1862, he entered the volunteer army and was made second lieutenant in Company A of the Seventeenth Indiana volunteers.

On July 22 he was promoted to the captaincy of that company and assumed the position of colonel Aug. 7, 1862. He retained command of this regiment until Aug. 29, 1863, when he assumed command of the Second brigade, Third division, Reserve corps, retaining command until Sept. 20, 1863. On Sept. 23, 1863, he was assigned to special recruiting service. He was brevetted brigadier general of volunteers Jan. 23, 1865.

During his military service he participated in the following battles: Buena Vista, Ky.; Resaca, Ga.; Cassville, Ga.; New Hope Church and Dallas, Ga.; Kenesaw Mountain, siege of Atlanta, Nashville, and was present at the surrender of General Johnston, April 26, 1865.

In 1870 he was an unsuccessful candidate on the Republican ticket for the governorship of Indiana and in the same year was appointed by ex-President Hayes to be a member of the Wisconsin river commission. He was chosen chairman of the Republican national convention held in Chicago in 1880. His name was presented as a candidate for the presidency, but he insisted that it be withdrawn. In 1881 he canvassed Indiana for Garfield. Upon the latter's election he refused an appointment in the cabinet. In 1881 he was elected a United States senator for a full term and was chairman of the committee on territories.

In 1888 he received the presidential nomination from the Republican convention at Chicago, being nominated on the eighth ballot by a vote of 544. At the election in November he received 5,440,216 of the popular votes against Grover Cleveland's 5,558,233 votes. At the session of the Electoral College he was elected president of the United States, receiving 233 electoral votes against Cleveland's 168 votes.

His term as president proved him to be a diplomat of the highest order and many momentous questions were disposed of to the satisfaction of all concerned. He arranged for the arbitration of the differences existing between the United States and England over the killing of seals in the Behring seas; he signed acts for the admission of North and South Dakota, Washington, Montana, Idaho and Wyoming, secured the extinguishment of Indian titles to vast tracts of land in the West, which eventually opened the territory of Oklahoma to settlement; quelled the Indian disturbances on the frontier in 1890-91, and defined in a message to congress the rights of aliens to protect by the United States government. This latter action was brought about by the demands of the Italian government for redress for the killing of several Italians in New Orleans.

In 1892 Mr. Harrison was again nominated by the Republicans to be candidate for the presidency, but was defeated by Grover Cleveland. On retiring from the presidency in 1893 he resumed the practice of his profession as a lawyer and was non-resident professor of constitutional law of the Leland Stanford, Jr., university.

In 1893 he married Caroline Lavina Scott of Oxford, O., and two children were born to them. Russell Benjamin Harrison was graduated from Lafayette college in 1877 and later entered the journalistic field. During the Spanish-American war he served with distinction as a major of volunteers. Mary Scott Harrison, the daughter, married Robert McKee, an Indianapolis merchant. Mr. Harrison married the second time on Feb. 21, 1896, the bride being Mrs. Mary Lord Dimmick. A daughter was born to them and christened Elizabeth. In May, 1898, Mr. Harrison was retained as counsel by the Venezuelan government before the court of arbitration on the British-Venezuelan boundary dispute. He received the honorary degree of LL. D. from Miami university in 1888 and from the college of New Jersey in 1899.

FIERCE RUSSIAN RIOTS

Students and Cossacks Clash in St. Petersburg Streets.

Demonstrators Entered a Church Smoked, Sang and Threw Things at the Holy Images, Using Sacred Banners as Weapons When the Congregation Sought to Eject Them.

LONDON, March 19.—Special dispatches from St. Petersburg describe fierce fighting between the demonstrators and the Cossacks. The latter charged the mob at a gallop and the people replied with volleys of stones. A Cossack officer, who was struck in the head by an iron bolt, was unhorsed. The Cossacks, on seeing their leader fall, dismounted and engaged in a hand-to-hand fight, using their whips freely on the people, many of whom were injured seriously, although nobody was killed.

The fight lasted for an hour and the rioters until the evening. From 700 to 800 students were driven by the police and Cossacks into the surrounding yards, where they were detained for examination by the minister of justice. "Faces were cut open by the whips of the Cossacks. Old women were crushed almost to death. A child was killed, and it is reported that there were other fatalities, though it is impossible to confirm the rumor. Further disorders are expected tomorrow."

DEMONSTRATION FAILED.

St. Petersburg Paltes Kept Students From Raising Disturbances.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 19.—The students organized Sunday what was intended to be an imposing demonstration in front of the Cathedral of Our Lady of Kazan, the occasion being the anniversary of the death of Votora, the girl who committed suicide some years ago in a dungeon of the political prison in the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul in order to escape infamous persecutions.

Immense crowds assembled on the Nevsky Prospekt, the principal street of the city, and the riotous thoroughfare. The military, in even greater numbers, occupied the district, closed the entrances of all houses and shops, patrolled the streets and time after time cleared the pavements, making many arrests, including teachers and pupils of the higher grade girls' school. Several of these young women resisted arrest.

The demonstration was held, but, owing to the presence of the troops, it was rather a mild affair, although for a time serious consequences seemed likely to follow the brutality of the Cossacks in driving back the people with whips.

BOY'S HORRIBLE DEATH.

Threw Lighted Bomb in Powder Keg and Was Hit in Face.

CUMBERLAND, Md., March 19.—Thomas Connors, the 8-year-old son of Thomas Connors, coal miner, at Thomas, W. Va., had seen his older brothers set off powder in the yard for fun. His father kept a big keg in the house and yesterday morning the boy went up stairs and lighted it. The explosion wrecked the house and instantly killed the boy, almost tearing him to pieces.

New President of Erie Road.

NEW YORK, March 19.—A report was current on Wall street yesterday that Frederick W. Underwood, second vice president and general manager of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, is to succeed Mr. E. B. Thomas in the presidency of the Erie railroad. Mr. Thomas presumably to be made chairman of the board of directors. The officers of the Erie railroad in this city would not confirm the report. Mr. Underwood came to the Baltimore and Ohio from the Minneapolis and Saint Ste. Marie, of which he was general manager. From 1878 to 1888 he was with the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul road.

Wife Died After Husband's Funeral.

HOOSICK FALLS, N. Y., March 19.—William Haynes, postmaster of Hoosick Falls, a prominent Republican leader, died Friday, March 16, after a week's illness of grip and attendant heart failure, aged 72 years. The widow, Mrs. Avila Haynes, aged 55, attended the funeral obsequies Tuesday, and within two hours after returning home from her husband's burial was stricken with cerebral hemorrhage, followed by pneumonia, and died at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Soldier's Death Sentence Commuted.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Private John H. Schmidt, Company A, Thirty-sixth volunteer infantry, was convicted by court martial at Langayn, P. I., of murder and sentenced to death by hanging. The president has commuted the sentence to dishonorable discharge and confinement at hard labor for life. The pensionary at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., has been designated as the place of confinement.

Had Both Eyes Shot Out.

NEWBURG, N. Y., March 19.—A letter from the Philippines says that George H. Enstall of Newburg, a member of Company M, Forty-fourth United States volunteers, had both eyes shot out in a battle in the island of Cebu and was captured by the insurgents.

GREATEST GIFT OF ALL.

Mr. Carnegie Offers 65 Libraries to New York City. NEW YORK, March 16.—Andrew Carnegie, who, since retiring as an active figure from the steel world, has been able to devote his time exclusively to his other passion, the founding of libraries, has made his departure for Europe this spring memorable by the largest offer of that kind ever advanced. If New York will provide the sites and maintenance he has promised to give $5,200,000 to establish 65 branch libraries in this city.

The offer was made in a letter to Dr. John S. Billings, director of the New York public library, last Tuesday. The correspondence in connection with the matter was made public last night.

Mr. Carnegie's letter follows: "Mr. Carnegie's letter follows: "New York, March 12. "Dr. John S. Billings, Director New York Public Library: "Our conference upon the needs of Greater New York for branch libraries to reach the masses of the people in every district has convinced me of the wisdom of your plans.

"Sixty-five branches strike me at first as a very large number, but, as other cities have found one necessary for every sixty or seventy thousand of population, the number is not excessive. "You estimate the average cost of these libraries at $80,000 each, being $5,200,000 for all. If New York will furnish sites for these branches for the special benefit of the masses of the people, as it has done for the Central library, and also agree in satisfactory form to provide for their maintenance as built, I should esteem it a rare privilege to be permitted to furnish the mass as needed for the buildings, say $5,200,000. Sixty-five libraries at one stroke probably breaks the record, but this is the day of big operations and New York is soon to be the biggest of cities. "ANDREW CARNEGIE."

LI A PHYSICAL WRECK.

Distinguished Chinese Diplomat in State of Utter Collapse. PEKIN, March 18.—The health of Li Hung Chang is again a matter of grave consideration to the ministers of the powers. Mr. Rockhill, the American special commissioner, who visited Li Saturday, says he is a physical wreck and apparently in a state of utter collapse, although mentally as brilliant as ever. Mr. Rockhill would not be surprised to hear of his death at any moment.

ELEVATORS AT MONTREAL.

New Syndicate Offers to Fulfill Contract Abandoned by Connors. MONTREAL, March 19.—A syndicate headed by Captain Valvin of Duluth yesterday made an offer to the harbor commissioners to build grain elevators in Montreal harbor, replacing the Connors syndicate, whose efforts have apparently come to naught.

The idea is to bring grain in the largest lake capacity boats to Port Couronne, thence transhipping it to steamers of full capacity of the St. Lawrence canals. The harbor commissioners are asked to guarantee bonds on cost of elevators in Montreal, taking the buildings as security. The answer, which is to be given Saturday, will probably be favorable.

Fatal Fire in Newspaper Office.

BOSTON, March 16.—Three lives were lost, nearly a dozen were more or less injured and many thousands of dollars' damage was the result of a fierce fire that started in the pressroom of The Daily Advertiser and Record in the 7-story granite front building in newspaper row, Washington street, last night. The dead are: "Aged Woman Cut Her Throat. "BUFFALO, March 19.—Mrs. Mary Joerns, 70 years old, living on the Ridge Road, in West Seneca, committed suicide yesterday by cutting her throat with a razor. She died almost instantly. She was temporarily insane.

Killed by Fall From Wagon.

BUFFALO, March 19.—Henry Brown, Jr., a teamster, fell from his wagon here yesterday and was killed. Brown struck the pavement with terrific force and sustained a badly fractured skull at the base. He was 20 years old.

Anti-Cruelty Law in Sweden.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, March 19.—The riksdag yesterday passed the law against cruelty.

BANK ROBBERS MURDER

Cashier Who Sought to Foul Them Killed in Attempt. HARRISBURG, Pa., March 15.—Charles W. Ryan, cashier of the Halifax National bank, was shot to death by Henry Rowe and Weston Keiper of Lykens, at noon yesterday in an attempt at a daring bank robbery.

The robbers were captured by a party of citizens soon after the crime and were brought to the Harrisburg jail, together with E. J. Straley of Lykens, who is suspected of being an accomplice. Rowe and Keiper drove to Halifax from Elizabethtown yesterday morning and hitching their team on the outskirts of the town, boldly entered the bank with revolvers presented.

Each had a revolver and they demanded the attaches of the bank to throw up their hands and turn over the money. One of them held in check Abraham Postenbaugh, the president of the bank, the teller, and the cashier, Suartz of Duncannon, who was in the bank on private business. The other covered Cashier Ryan and under the menace of the revolver the cashier collected the cash in the drawers, to the amount of $2,000, and placed it in a satchel the robbers had brought with them.

Rowe, with the cash-stuffed satchel in his hand, backed up toward the door and Keiper also moved toward the entrance to the bank. Just when it seemed that the robbers would succeed in getting away, Cashier Ryan leaped forward in an attempt to knock up the revolver of the man with the money.

In the scuffle several shots were fired and Ryan fell to the floor, shot through the groin by a bullet from the pistol of Rowe.

Mr. Postenbaugh grabbed Rowe and after a short scuffle threw him to the floor. Keiper ran out of the door. The noise of the shots attracted J. F. Lyter, who has a store near the bank building. He ran out with his shotgun and pursued Keiper for one block and shot him in the back of the head, when the robber surrendered.

The wounded cashier was taken to his home after the receipt of the despatches where he died early in the even ing.

Rowe and Keiper are unmarried and formerly worked in the coal mines at Lykens. Rowe is 19 years old and has been considered a dangerous man. Keiper is 20 years old and was always looked upon as honest and harmless.

They were brought to Harrisburg yesterday afternoon. At the jail Keiper said that he did not shoot with the intention of killing anybody.

FIREMAN ELECTROCUTED.

Electric Wire Struck Fatal Nozzle He Was Holding as He Fought Fire. PITTSBURGH, March 18.—During the progress of a fire yesterday at the corner of Duquesne Way and Fort street, William Miller, an engine driver, lost his life and three others were badly hurt. The property loss will be fully $250,000, well insured. The injured men are: George J. Snyder, hoseman; Harry Griffith, leaderman; H. E. Schaeckel, hoseman. All will recover.

The fire broke out in the boiler room of the Hiram G. French Company's hat factory just opposite the exposition main building. It was fully 20 minutes after the fire was discovered before the engines reached the scene. From the felt factory the flames jumped across the street and in a very short time the exposition building was burning fiercely. All the firemen could do was to prevent the flames spreading. After hard work this with its valuable and machinery hall with its valuable contents, was saved. The main building was a complete wreck. Two lumber yards adjoining the felt factory soon succumbed. Gallagher and Banker lost one million feet of lumber and Henry Heck 250,000 feet of valuable hardwood. Three small dwellings near the lumber yards were destroyed but as far as known all the inmates escaped.

The intense heat melted the network of wires running in every direction and one of them in falling struck a trolley wire and the other and causing the brass nozzle of the hose held by Miller and Snyder. Both men fell as though they had been shot. Schaeckel and Griffith, in going to the rescue were also caught and both were badly burned. When the prostrate men were reached Miller was dead and two of the others unconscious
