OUT IN KANSAS. All one needs to start a drug store is a barrel of whiskey and a pair of show bottles filled with colored water. This isn't a Kansas drug store. We don't keep whiskey and have no show bottles, but if you want anything that ought to be found in a first class pharmacy, this is the place to come.

All $1.00 patent medicines sell at 89 cents and other articles at relatively low prices.

All academic work in the Edinboro Normal is approached from the standpoint of the prospective teacher. Spring term opens April 8th. JOHN F. BLOKER, Prin.

The Tionesta correspondent who makes up his, her or its weekly letter to the Tionesta Herald from the REPUBLICAN'S local page displays mighty good taste, knowing just where to look for the news. Now meat is blamed for appendicitis. A short time ago it was cabbage that was held up to odium. On the whole, if one wishes to avoid the disease the best thing to do is not to eat at all and thus starve decently.—Ez. The Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo, which will be open in less than six weeks, may last, will in very many respects exceed the great world's fair in '93, in that it will show many great features of the world's progress since that wonderful event took place. We are glad to be able to call the attention of all ladies who wish to be well gown'd, to the fact that we have ready for their inspection the latest styles and fabrics in jackets, suits and skirts, in black and all popular shades, and best of all our prices are far below those asked in city trade. We will be pleased to show them to all who are interested. Tionesta Cash Store. It —The W. C. T. U. will give a Due Social at the home of Mrs. S. D. Irwin, Friday evening, March 22, to which all friends of the temperance cause are cordially invited. Useful articles will be offered for sale, and light refreshments will be served during the evening. —Early spring vegetables can be had as soon as they are in market at Amster's, who still continues to keep the best and freshest assortment of groceries, canned goods, tobacco, cigars and confectionaries to be had in the town. Either phone will catch him and bring quick results. —An editor says he has two subscribers who frequently get full, and every time they are in that condition they come in and pay a year in advance. One of them is already credited to 1911, and the fraternity throughout the State are crazy to find out what brand of whisky he drinks. —Sucker fishing is on, and the results are fairly good with those who have the constitution to endure the little spring zephyrs that playfully toy with your whiskers. A nice plump sucker, properly dressed and fried to a crisp brown, always gets the "O. K." endorsement at our table. —John A. Magee & Son, Clarion, Pa., have an ad in this issue to which they would direct the attention of threshermen, sawmill men, and users of boilers and engines especially. They handle the best of machinery and always figure the margin of profit down to the lowest possible point. Read the ad. —Messrs. Wheeler & Osgood wish to notify people along Tionesta creek and the Allegheny river that they had about 45,000 feet of lumber carried away from Foxburg by the flood last week, and that it is their intention to gather said lumber up themselves, and all are notified to leave it wherever it has landed. —There will be a meeting of the Tionesta Gun Club at the office of Snowden & Clark next Friday evening, 22d inst., for the purpose of freshening up for the summer's work at the traps and the transaction of any business that may come up. All members are requested to be present, and those who would like to join are invited to meet with the club. —An editor and his wife, disagree with each other very materially. She sets things to rights and he writes things to set. She reads what others write and he writes what others read. She keeps the devil out of the house as much as possible, and he retains him and could not go to press without him. She knows more than he writes and he writes more than she knows.—Ez. —The 82d anniversary of the organization of Odd Fellowship in America will be celebrated at Erie, by the Northwest Pennsylvania Association of the order, on April 26th. All Lodges, Encampments, Cantons, and Rebekah Lodges, in Clarion, Clearfield, Elk, Erie, Forest, Jefferson, McKean and Warren counties, are entitled to send delegates. All members of the order are cordially invited to attend. —When you are thinking of a new spring suit, just take another think, and after you have thought, go to F. E. Dick, the merchant tailor, and look at his new samples for spring and summer wear, and leave your order for a suit that is made right and that will keep its shape and always look right. Also take orders for clothing made out of town, and if the goods don't fit, I'll make 'em fit before you get 'em. There's a good reason for ordering from a tailor. —At a regular meeting of Irwin Council No. 77, Royal Templars of Temperance, Mar. 15, 1901, the following officers were installed for ensuing term by W. J. Magee assisted by Mrs. Kate B. Craig: S. C., Mrs. A. Herman; V. C., Mrs. Ada C. Whittekin; P. C., Miss Martha H. Morrow; Chap., Mrs. Anna G. Hill; R. Sec., Mrs. Mary Thompson; Fin. Sec., J. W. Morrow; Treas., Mrs. Anna E. Ford; Herald, Mrs. Lucy A. Jamieson; Guard, Mrs. Minerva Hill; Sent., Mrs. Martha J. Morrow. —W. G. Rogers, agent for the well known firm of J. W. Kerr & Son of Franklin and Oil City, wishes to announce to his patrons that the firm's spring stock of monuments, headstones, markers and corner posts, consisting of the highest grade of granite and marble, are all in and we have the largest display and latest designs ever shown in this section. All work is finished with raised letters and set upon a foundation of Portland cement and stone and we will make good at any time work set by us that gets damaged that is caused by poor material of improper setting and will sell work as cheap as good work can be done for in any city in the United States. For further particulars call on or address W. G. Rogers, Tionesta, Pa. —Hopkins' store is full of new goods.

—One of the locomotives of the Collins & Watson railroad went through the trestle forming the approach to the bridge which crosses the creek at Ross Run last Friday. Frost and rain had weakened the "under-pinning" and when the engine attempted to pass over the structure, sank down and rolled over. Engineer Al. Whitehill, Fireman Shoop, Conductor Enos Blausser, Squire Leann Watson and Supt. Geo. F. Watson were on the engine or train but all jumped in time to save themselves from any injury. —Among the heaviest losers by the recent break-up in Tionesta creek was Wheeler & Osgood, a number of whose lumber piles, located a short distance above the bridge at Lynch, were taken by the gorges, amounting to about 45,000 feet. T. D. Collins sustained considerable loss by the carrying away of two or three bridges and injury to several dams. The break-up was one of the severest that has been experienced by Tionesta creek lumbermen for several years, and it is fortunate there wasn't more damage done considering the great thickness of the ice. —The woman whose dislike of camphor and moth is about equally balanced need no longer ponder the question as to whether it is better to go forth in moth-eaten raiment or to leave a trail of camphorated atmosphere in her wake. This coming season will find a new moth preventive against the ravages of the moth on the market to which no objections can be made. It is a combination of chips from cedar of Lebanon and pure gum camphor, which, it is said, has a distinctly pleasant odor besides being thoroughly efficacious in keeping the moth from feeding on one's best frock. It is not expensive, and the coming season will see it quite generally in use.—Ez. —Mrs. Church, relict of the late Ira Church, died at the home of her son, S. E. Church, on Church hill, Hickory township, Sunday, March 17, 1901, at 10 o'clock a. m. She had suffered a long time with sickness incident to old age, and death, while always sad and unwelcome to those nearest and dearest to the departing one, and particularly so in this instance, was really a relief to the deceased. Mrs. Church was aged 71 years. She was the second wife of the late Mr. Church, and the mother of S. E. Church with whom she made her home after the decease of her husband. The following step-children survive her: Mrs. J. H. Wentworth of Tionesta twp., Mrs. Jacob Shaeffer, Mrs. Shollas Range, Mrs. Joshua Hall and James Church of Hickory twp., and Hilton and John Church of West Va. The funeral services were held at her late home yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, her remains being laid to rest beside those of her late husband in the cemetery on Church Hill. —William Coleman, third son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Coleman of this place, died at the hospital at Wheeling, W. Va., Monday morning, March 15, 1901. Having been taken sick a few days previous he was taken to the hospital by his brothers who are engaged in oil operations in the West Virginia fields, but the best skill could do nothing for him. The deceased was aged 41 years, having been born in 1859. He had lived with his parents near Stewart's Run till he reached young manhood, and had been engaged in farm work, teaming in the lumber regions and in later years worked in the oil fields. William was one of the steady, honest, and industrious citizens of our community, well liked by all who knew him, and respected for his honesty and integrity. Besides the aged parents, five brothers—David, Henry, Jacob, Samuel and Frank—survive, three of whom were by his bedside when he passed away. He was a single man. The remains are expected to arrive here this morning for burial. —Death of C. K. Bradbury. Cyrus K. Bradbury passed peacefully away at 4:50 o'clock Friday evening, March 15, 1901. The deceased was aged 53 years and 24 days, and was born near Houlton, Maine. He came to Tionesta, Pa., in 1871 where with the exception of about six months he has since resided. In 1875 he was united in marriage to Annie McDonald, who was born and raised at Bradlock, Pa., and of this union were born seven children. He was engaged in the lumber business after coming to Tionesta, and ran lumber on the Allegheny river until about fifteen years ago, when he was compelled to retire from active business on account of poor health. Since then he has been an almost constant sufferer. He is survived by his wife and three children: Albert W., Little M., and Catharine H. Bradbury; two brothers, Henry C. of Tipton, Maine, and John Q. A. of Kentucky; and three sisters, Mrs. D. G. Davidson, of Melrose, Mass., Mrs. A. M. Davidson, of Arlington Heights, Mass., and Mrs. Rachel Hersey of New Limerick, Maine. The funeral services were held at his late residence at 3 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, conducted by Rev. C. H. Miller. The interment took place in Riverside cemetery.

Urey has a number of men at work repairing the damage done by the recent fire at his livery barn. —Clark Morgan has engaged to go on the road as brakeman for the "Penny," and will begin his labors to-day. —J. H. Kelly and Geo. B. Robinson were in Oil City to see Rose Coghlan as "Bee-y Sharpe" last Thursday night. —F. E. Dick, the merchant tailor, who has been quite sick at his home at Tylersburg, is again able to be at work here. —James Aharah and W. B. McCormick of Marienville, were business visitors to the county seat the first of the week. —Miss Mary Lovejoy is suffering from an attack of pneumonia, but is getting along nicely under the care of Dr. Bovard. —P. C. Hill, who has been confined to his home all winter with inflammatory rheumatism, is again able to be about the streets. —Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Horner left yesterday morning for Allegheny Springs, to get that popular resort in readiness for the summer rush. —An infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hood of the township, died on the 13th inst., and was buried Thursday afternoon. The child was aged about four months. —Mrs. W. G. Gaston of Cochranville, and Mrs. A. C. Gilliland of Linesville, Pa., mother and aunt respectively of G. G. Gaston, were his guests a part of last week. —Commissioners' Clerk, M. T. Hindman, who was laid up at Clarion for a couple of weeks with a severe attack of kidney trouble, is again able to attend to his labors. —Tracy Wolfe, who has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wolfe of the township for the past two weeks, returned to his work at Bowling Green, Ohio, yesterday. —Mrs. Hattie L. Little and little daughter, Mossie, of Dunkirk, N. Y., spent the past week visiting with her father, Wm. Tobey, at Kelleysville. They returned yesterday, and will visit Franklin friends before going home. —Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Proper and son Curtis returned on the evening train Saturday from a pleasant two months' sojourn in Florida, visiting many of the favorite winter resorts of that land of perpetual summer. They were as far south as Tampa. —Chas. M. Whiteman expects soon to leave for Jamestown, N. Y., where he will embark in the grocery business. He will go next week, and Mrs. Whiteman will follow as soon as Charlie gets matters arranged for her comfort, which will be two or three weeks later. —Rev. F. E. Glass, the popular pastor of the Ridgway Free Methodist Church, seems to be recovering from his serious illness, but his convalescence will necessarily be very slow, and it may be several months before he can resume his church work.—Ridgway Advocate.

—Mrs. Crawford, wife of Judge R. Bruce Crawford, received a letter last week in which she has reason to feel much pride. It is a note from England's new Queen, Alexandra, acknowledging the receipt of a letter of condolence from Mrs. Crawford on the death of Queen Victoria, whom she greatly loved. —Wm. T. Kerr and W. A. Haines of Watson Farm, were business visitors to the county seat over last Thursday night. Mr. Kerr is an old time sailor and has traveled extensively and being an entertaining narrator of his varied experience he is always welcomed, when in town, by "the boys," to whom he is known by the sobriquet of "Pat Gridleskin." —A Good Thing. The Forest County Poultry and Pot Stock Association, was organized at Marienville, March 12th, 1901. The object of this association is the holding of an annual poultry show in the county, so that one may rank with other counties in the breeding of pure bred poultry, and to interest and instruct our people in the breeding of pure stock only. The following officers have been elected for the ensuing year: President, H. H. Harp; Vice Presidents, D. W. Rifsnyder, H. C. Howard, N. J. White, W. I. Scott, Byrontown, Jos. Williams, H. H. Arnold, Clarion, Dr. Wilhelm, Clarion; Secretary, F. A. Keller, Byrontown; Assist. Sec'y, B. F. Kendal, Marienville; Treasurer, L. H. Mensch, Marienville; Superintendent, H. C. Paup; Assist. Supte., Blaine Morrison, Jos. Williams; Executive Committee, C. F. Hunt, B. F. Kendal, H. O. Hamilton, Dr. Porter, J. E. Leech. This is a decidedly wise step, and we would advise some of the expert poultry raisers in this end of the county to get in to the game. There is no reason why, in a very short time, Forest county should not be among the first in the State in this line. —Zinc and Grinding make Devoe Lead and Zinc Paint wear twice as long as lead and oil mixed by hand.

The Land of Snow.

During the past Winter Rev. A. S. Stewart, who is now filling Rev. Mr. McAninch's pulpit in the Presbyterian church, was in Vermont, and in his leisure moments he wrote the following beautiful description of the wintry scene in that State to the Christian Instructor, from which we copy: "Stainless as Truth, or Purity's white flag, Behold the snow fall! Never came a dream On lighter pinions from the Courts of 'Scep.'" It is not a land where snow falls every day, nor in heavy masses many days; but where it is constant all the winter long. It is not a land of blizzards, though sometimes there are days together of driven snow, when edifying gusts pile it in mounds and ridges rapidly. It is true that the people speak of a "storm," but this means only a fall of snow. So some morning, after days of bright sunshine, you rise, and, looking eastward through the blue-gray air, see a light cloud resting on the summit of the Stannard hills. In a few minutes it drifts toward the valley, torn by the mountain and when you look again all the view is filled with snow falling slowly through the silent air, as salt from an unshaken sieve. There is a gray pall over all the landscape—the world shut out in the persistent twilight, which gives way to darkness when the sun goes down, and remains when he rises again. But on the third morning, it may be, his beams shine bright over the untrodden, stainless snow lying on mountain and in valley; even the leafless forests clothed in white robes, and the clumps of pointed fir stand like fairy fabrics, or Chinese pagodas in grotesque groups. Cold, is it? Sometimes the mercury falls far below the zero point, but the white fleece is warm as wool over all the land, the ground remains unfrozen and forest brooks go murmuring on their way, free of imprisoning ice, yet with hushed voices; for though the increasing warmth of the sun may soften the snow on house-roofs, so that great icicles depend from low eaves to the ground, the housewife mourns her empty cistern, where no rain falls for months. In earlier winter, there is little hindrance to travel or labor; but toward spring the increasing depth of snow make forest and field impassable except with snowshoes and the traveled road becomes a "highway" indeed, rising slowly from week to week, notwithstanding the passing rollers' ponderous weight or horses' beating feet. To miss the narrow road is likely to bring to driver and steed a snowy baptism. Toward spring, indeed there may come such snow storms as are known in lower latitudes and lesser altitudes, when the feathery flakes fall fast through the murky air, and in a few hours' time block all the ways of travel; but these are not characteristic of the land of snow. Between the snow and the sunshine there may be days of silent blue, when morning mists veil the mountain's crest, rising slowly by-and-by to show their long line, frost crowned, crystal snow, a dream of beauty; and, when the sun goes down, the blue cloud curtain lifts for a moment, and his last glorious beams converge through the gaps of the ever's course through the western ridge, and paint on Wheelock's walls pictures, as though angels' wings had winnowed down the light of rainbows there.
