—A very entertaining letter from Rev. J. V. McAninch will be found in this issue. His description of a sea voyage seems to one who has never tried it, to be very realistic, almost making one's "head swim" with thoughts of "life on the ocean wave." The party of which Mr. McAninch is a member must be somewhere in Egypt at this time. His letters will be anxiously looked for and eagerly perused by his many friends, and we hope they will come regularly and often.

—An exchange rises to remark that the sassafras man can shortly be expected and his visits are always welcome. The great and universal remedy in the springtime is sassafras. After a protracted diet of pork and buckwheat cakes, sassafras is supposed to restore the blood to its normal consistency, and make the pulse to temperately keep time with a wholesome and harmonious physical system. A course of treatment consisting of sassafras tea for breakfast is supposed to place the constitution of man in harmony with the singing birds, the balmy air and the perfume of apple blossoms.

—The Franklin Evening News has made great strides in the line of general improvement within the past week. It is newly headed, contains eight pages of 6 columns each, is printed on a Cox perfecting press of several thousand complete copies capacity per hour, the type is set with a Linotype machine, and all that sort of metropolitan magnificence. The News is right up to snuff now, and is not taking a back seat for any of 'em in point of general excellence. Bro. Borland, the enterprising editor and manager, is to be congratulated on his success, and we're sure all his editorial friends join with the REPUBLICAN in rejoicing over his prosperity.

—The Derrick's oil report for the month of March shows that fewer wells were completed than during any previous month since February, 1899, and the new production was smaller than at any other time during the past two years. The new wells of the month were inadequate to sustain the daily production, and unless April supplies something of the unexpected order the yield of Pennsylvania oil must drop considerably below its present mark of about 90,000 barrels. There were 481 wells completed in the various districts producing Pennsylvania oil during March, with 6,784 barrels production, and 135 were included in the duster list. Compared with February, there was a decrease of 25 completed wells, 800 barrels new production and 25 dry holes. The average output of the March wells was close to 17 barrels.

Sudden Death of M. T. Hindman.
Not for years has this community received such a shock by the death of a citizen as that caused by the sudden termination of the life of Commissioner Clerk Hindman yesterday, a short time before the noon hour. Although not in the enjoyment of perfect health for some time past, he still was able to transact all his business, which for the past few weeks had been greater than usual, owing to some important business changes in which he was about to engage, namely, the purchase of a part interest in the Lawrence & Smeath lumbering plant at this place, and its attendant cares in getting ready for the spring work. He had gone to his work in the morning at the Commissioner's office, and had attended to a number of other matters, returning to his home about a quarter after eleven. Mrs. Hindman, for the moment was in another portion of the house and did not know of his entrance. Stepping out on the porch at the rear of the house, she discovered her husband had fallen to the floor, and was to all appearances dead. Help was quickly summoned and the prostrate man was carried into the house and laid on the couch, and in a very few moments Drs. Boyard and Greaves were present. Restoratives were administered and for a time it looked as though he was reviving, but with all that could be done he breathed his last at about 11:35 o'clock. Milton Thompson Hindman was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hindman, and was born near Corsica, Jefferson county, 44 years ago last February. He spent most of his life in that vicinity, and having received a very liberal education, was engaged for a number of years in teaching. About ten years ago he came to Clarion, this county, and was for a time engaged in the mercantile business, afterwards for several terms being elected principal of the schools at that place, in the summer seasons conducting a very successful private school. It was during his residence there, in the summer of 1893 that he was united in marriage with Miss Millie Brennan, daughter of Esquire R. W. Brennan, who survives him.

A little more than a year ago he was elected Clerk to the County Commissioners of Forest county, a position, which he filled with signal ability and to the great satisfaction of all who had business transactions with that office. During his residence in Tionesta he had steadily grown in popularity with the people, and it can be truthfully said that none of our citizens stood higher in the estimation of all than he.

Besides the wife he is survived by his mother and two sisters, Mrs. Clara Moore of Brookville, Pa., and Miss Blanche Hindman, a teacher in the public schools of Salt Lake City, Utah. In this sudden and very sad bereavement the tender sympathy of all in this community goes out to the afflicted wife, who is prostrated with grief by the swift termination of a contented, happy and beautiful marital relation. The physicians' diagnosis of Mr. Hindman's trouble is uremic convulsions. He had suffered considerably of late from this cause.

The deceased was a member of the Masonic Lodge of Brookville and his brothers of the order will have charge of arrangements for the funeral, which will be held sometime to-morrow at Corsica, whither the remains will be conveyed, leaving to-day on the noon train for that place.

Samuelson, H. W. Jackson, H. M. Wheeler, Carrie Grunder, Ella Leontart, of Warren and Wm. Mace of Jamestown. John Tome was the pilot on the fleet.

KILLED BY THE CARS.
Charles Harrington, a Forest County Boy, Meets Death on a Railroad.
Charles Havel Harrington, a young man well known to many Forest county people, a son of the late George Harrington, was so badly injured by an accident on the Pennsylvania railroad, at Farr, near Latrobe, last Tuesday, 29th ult., that he died a few hours afterward in the hospital at Greensburg, Westmoreland county. How the accident occurred his relatives and friends have not yet been informed. He had some time previously been employed as a brakeman on the road, and it is supposed that in some manner he was thrown under the train. His widowed mother, who is a daughter of Judge W. H. Dolter of Ross Run, was notified by telegraph, and on Friday last the remains arrived here, and the same day were buried in the Zuendel cemetery, German Hill, beside those of his father, who died 13 years ago. Rev. Eager of the F. M. church conducted the services.

The deceased was born and reared to young manhood in Forest county, his last work here being on the new bridge which spans the creek some distance below Jug Handle run. From there he went to Emporium and next to Cumberland county. From there he went to Fayette county where he was employed in bridge building for the railroad company, being finally set to work as brakeman near the place where he met his tragic death. He had grown to be a man of genial disposition and industrious habits, having only a few days before his death written his mother about his employment, and stating that he was kept very busy but was making good wages, and seemed to be in the best of health and spirits.
Charles was aged 21 years, 6 months and 15 days, and besides the stricken mother, leaves one sister and three brothers to mourn the loss of a beloved son and brother.

Question Answered.
Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for Indigestion or Biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration, or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing the matter with you. Get Green's Prize Almanac at The Davis Pharmacy, Tionesta.
