M'KINLEY STANDS FOR ORGANIZATION

The President Once More Ignores Insurgent Protest.

GOVERNOR STONE IS HONORED.

Guest of the Fellowship Club at a Magnificent Dinner in the Quaker City and Republican Club Men Agree Upon Date For the Great Quay Demonstration.

(Special Correspondence.) Philadelphia, April 2.—President Mc-Kinley has given another evidence of his purpose to stand by Senators Quay and Penrose, the leaders of the regular Republican organization of this state.

Despite the opposition of the insurgent newspapers of Philadelphia and Pittsburg, the president has filled the position of United States judge for the middle district of Pennsylvania by the appointment of Judge Archbald, of Lackawanna, He has transferred Frederick C. Leonard from the position of United States marshal for the western district to that of marshal for the middle district. He has appointed Frank M. Fuller, of Fayette county, to succeed Mr. Leonard as marshal of the western district, and the appointment of former Senator S. J. M. McCarrell, of Dauphin county, to be United States attorney for the new district completed the distribution of these desirable berths, and every man who was named is a stalwart Republican and had the unqualified endorsement of Senators Quay and Penrose

ANOTHER INSURGENT FIZZLE. A newspaper crusade was inaugurated against the appointment of Judge

Archbald by those who were disappointed because the Lackawanna court, of which he was a member, gave a unanimous decision sustaining the constitutionality of the so-called Pittsburg "ripper" bill. Judge Archbald and his two colleagues, one of whom was a Democrat, ruled that the bill was constitutional, and this greatly displeased the insurgents. They at once opened their batteries upon the judge and had petitions forwarded to President McKinley with a view to blocking his appointment.

The president has, however, gotten used to these insurgent tactics, and he pays no more heed to them. It is significant that since President McKinley was first elected he has not made an important appointment in this state against the wishes of the leaders of the regular Republican organization. The president is a great believer in party organization and in sustaining the men who represent it by the voice of the people.

He believes that the members of congress are chosen by the people to speak for them and that if these representatives make mistakes in remendations for office they should bear the burden. While he always insists that men of character and ability shall be recommended to him, he does not recognize the right of a disgruntled faction of the Republican party to dictate to him as to what should be done for the majority of his party.

GOVERNOR STONE HONORED.

Governor Stone was the recipient of a magnificent testimonal dinner in this city last week from the Fellowship club, one of the leading dining organizations in the country. The dinner was purely a social function, but it brought together some of the most representative and lending citizens of to hear sung the praises of the executive of the commonwealth. Governor Stone made a felicitous speech, in which he said that as governor of the state he sought to labor in the interests of all the people, that he had endeavored to enforce economy in the manage-ment of the various departments of the state government, and that he would continue to follow that policy as long as he shall remain in the position he now holds. Governor Stone was vigor-ously applauded, and after his speech was congratulated by a number of rep-resentative business men of the Quaker City who were among the members and guests of the club.

Governor Stone is very popular in this city. He is recognized as a pubofficer who has the courage to do what he thinks to be right even though before his action he may be satisfied that for the time being he shall be criticized for what he is about to do.

The governor is known to have sent for certain members of the legislature now sitting at Harrisburg and bluntly told them they might as well dis-continue their efforts in passing bills for expenditures which he believes uld be either useless or extravagant. He has served notice that he will veto such measures, and in a number of cases he has succeeded in blocking the plans of those who would loot the state treasury if they got a chance, Governor Stone has always been popular with the farmers of the state, and he has added to his list of supporters among that element by his steadfast support of the policy of developing the forests of Pennsylvania and his advo-cacy of legislation to protect the dairy Interests of the commonwealth against unfiar and unjust competition from

Before leaving for home on his recent visit to this city Governor Stone remarked that he had never been entertnined more generously than by the members of the Fellowship club and those who were invited to their board.

THE GREAT QUAY DINNER. All of the plans have been agreed upon for the great reception and dinner which will be given in honor of United States Senator M. S. Quay in this city. under the auspices of the State League of Republican Clubs.

This demonstration will be strictly tional, as it had been determined apon long before the senatorial was ended that the League should in some manner honor the successful candidate for the senatorship.

he has been decided that the most fitting way to do this will be to have a dinner for about 400 covers, to which leading Republicans in the state will be invited to subscribe, and after that there will be a more public function in the form of a reception in the Academy of Music, to which possibly ten thou-sand persons will be invited. Col. Quay has telegraphed the committee, agreeing to be a guest of the State League, "no preventing of Providence, on May 14 next, and that date has been agreed upon. The officers of the League and expect that this will be one of the most interesting political gather-ings in the history of the Republican party in the state

FLINN MACHINE DESPERATE.

News comes from Allegheny county of very desperate measures being resorted to by the followers of the Flinn machine to block the tide of public indignation against a continuance of their autocratic regime. At a meet-ing of the Republican county committee held a few days ago the Flinn men employed every device of the cunning politician to carry out a scheme to thwart the plans of those who are de-termined to break up the Flinn ring. The employment of policemen to keep those who opposed the machine out of the meeting hall and the introduction of gag rule in the conduct of the meet-ing disgusted the Republicans of Allegheny county. The disgraceful scenes enacted at this meeting will but accentuate the feeling among the people against the Flinn machine rule and will hasten its complete overthrow.

Fearful that the supreme court will sustain the constitutionality of the "ripper" bill, the Flinnites have been preparing for the future and have sought to make it impossible for their political opponents to get control of associates in the state in the late Insur-

BALLOT PROBLEM NEATLY SOLVED.

Republicans Agree to Accept Guffey Bill, With Two Amendments.

WILL INSIST ON PARTY CIRCLE.

Wide Latitude Is Given to the Independent Voter and the Australian System of Grouping Candidates Is Very Closely Followed, (Special Correspondence.) Harrisburg, April 2,-What must be conceded to be a very clever move on the part of the leaders of the Republican organization of the state was made last week, when, after a conference at the governor's mansion, it was agreed to accept the Democratic ballot reform bill, with a few slight changes, and to push it through the legislature without further delay.

During the last campaign Col. Quay on several occasions declared that the Republican party leaders were ready to meet every reasonable demand for changes in the present system of voting, and that they would be ready to confer with leaders of the Democracy or others who have been agitating the question of ballot reform, and be prepared to support any measure waich would seem to satisfy the people,

QUAY WAS LIBERAL.

The bill drafted by the Democratic eaders who met in this city recently, and which is known as the "Guffey" bill, being named after the Democratic leader of the state Democracy, was sent to Col. Quay and he quickly gave it his approval as far as its general provisions were concerned, and it was then taken up by other Republican leaders, who got together here last week. But two sections of the bill were amended and these changes simply covered the matter of providing a circle through which a member of one of the regular parties can by placing one mark within that circle vote the entire ticket of his party. The other amendment referred to the matter of permitting voters to ask for assistance in the marking of their ballots when they are unable to do that themselves.

SENATOR PENROSE'S VIEWS. Senator Benjamin K. Focht, who is chairman of the senate committee on elections, reported out from his committee the Guffey bill with the two amendments referred to and the bill was then sent to be printed. United States Senator Penrose, in commenting upon this issue, said: "At a conference at the governor's mansion it was decided to submit the Guffey ballotlawaftermaking necessary typographical and grammatical corrections, adding thereto the party circle. as a measure of ballot reform which will be supported by the stalwart members of the legislature. This bill as remodeled will become a law. We fully appreciate the fact that Col. Guffey and his insurgent associates will not accept it because of the party circle. This, however, will not interfere with its speedy enactment. I, in common with the other Republicans interested in the fulfillment of the party's ballot reform pledges, believe that it is essential that the new law shall contain the party circle and the provision that a voter should be given the right when necessary to have an assistant to help him mark his ballot in accordance with his desires. It would not be fair to inconvenience ninetenths of the voters and by this I refer to the voters of all parties -wno vote their straight party ticket for the purpose of accommodating the other tenth that desires to vote a mixed ticket and refuses to recognize the obligation of party primaries." THE AUSTRALIAN GROUPING. "The amended Guffey bill is about as near perfect as it can be made" said Senator Focht, "and now that every element will find incorporated in the bill the features contended for I look for it to pass with little or no opposition. Every opportunity for fusion is given, only in a somewhat different We have really given this element more than their often local and ephemeral existence descrives, for all parties, however created or constitu ted, get a party circle. The ballot will be one-third the size of the present one, and the Australian grouping sys-tem is one of the features. The privi-lege to assist voters is retained. This cannot be denied the many disabled electors throughout the commonwealth simply because in some remote instances there are a few abuses. The circle will never go, because it stands for partisanship. We give the non-partisan voter his opportunity in the groups below, but the circle remains to accommodate that vast majority of voters who believe in parties, party platform and in principles, and not

OPPOSED TO POLITICAL PIRATES. "I fully agree with Senator P. Gray Meek, the Democratic leader, that this is a government by parties, and every

duced was a strong, if not a radical partisan. This feature will meet the approval of sincere men everywhere. There are those who will make an out-cry, but these are principally numbered among those men who are known as that ever present disturbing element which shifts its base between the regular parties-political pirates and political fortune seekers, any man and any party good enough for them if they can be used for their advancement. The Guffey bill, which I report committee, fully redeems the pleage made in a speech at West Chester last fall by Senator Quay, when he said the Republican party would accept any fair ballot bill Mr. Guffey might propose. And the party has accepted,"

OUTLINE OF PROPOSED BALLOT. Under the provisions of the amended bill the names of all candidates are grouped together in one column under designations of different offices, with the party designation to the right, and whenever any person shall receive nominations for more than one party the party organization in the county, the names of such parties shall all be All the professions of Flinn and his given. Following the names of the party nominees shall be the names of all candidates nominated by independassociates in the state in the late insur-gent movement in favor of reform are recalled by the citizens and taxpayers of Pittsburg, and they now see what a hollow sham the whole insurgent the top of the ballot across the width the top of the ballot across the width thereof as many circles as there are political parties or groups of the in-dependent nominations and the names of the several political parties. There shall be left at the head of each group of candidates as many blank spaces as there are persons to be elected to such office, in which the voters may write in the name of cardidates for whom they desire to vote, provided such names are not printed on the ballot,

GIVES ALL A CHANCE, There shall be printed underneath the circles: "This bailot should be marked in one of two ways. To vote a straight ticket make a cross in one of the circles above and not chawhere; to vote a split ticket, that is fur can-didates on different tickets, do not mark in any circle, but mark a cross mark in the square at the right of the name of the candidate to be voted for. Every mark within a circle shall be equivalent to a mark after the name of each nominee of the party to which the circle belongs. This bill will permit organizations like the Municipal League in Philadelphia to have a circle the same as Republican, Democratic or Prohibition or other parties with a state organization

WILL STAND ON CIRCLE. Some of the Democrats and insur-ents will fight this bill because they will be opposed to any masters facili-tating straight party voting. The stalwart Republicans and many of the Democrats, however, will not permit themselves to be buildozed and they will insist upon the circle. Another amendment to the Guffey bill provides that "if any voter declares to the judy of election that by reason of any di ability he desires assistance in the preparation of his ballot he shall be permitted by the judge of election to select any elector of his voting precinct to aid him in such preparation of his

The Guffey bill as originally pre-sented provided for such contingen-cles, but restricted the power of any elector to assist in making the ballots of more than three voters.

AS TO CAPITAL PUNISHMENT. Representative A. J. Palm desires a commission appointed to inquire into capital punishment to ascertain its effect on the repression of crime. When Warden Wright, of the Western penitentiary, was here this week he suggested that something be done on the subject. Mr. Palm has offered a reno-lution which provides "That a commission of five be appointed, two from the senate and three from the house, to inquire into the subject of capital punishment with a view to ascariaining its effect toward the repression of crime. This commission shall investigate the subject in the different states of the Union as well as in the foreign countries and report to the seegislature in 1903. The members of the commission shall serve without compensation for their services, and shall not be allowed expenses to exceed ent Eyes. One of the essential things for one that would influence others is the ability to see things as they look to those whom he addresses. A lack of this ability has been responsible for the failure of many persons who would otherwise have been successful as teachers, missionaries, law-yers before juries and even orators and statesmen.

Striking illustrations of the different aspects things wear in the eyes of differ-ent people are constantly coming to light. A party of American travelers, journeying leisurely up the Nile, expressed a de-sire to celebrate Washington's birthday in some appropriate manner. Their chef accordingly prepared a great frosted cake, upon which he executed in confectionery a representation of George Washington after having familiarized himself with the life and achievements of his subject.
As represented in sugar Washington

In China, that land of strange contrasts, many amusing instances of a similar kind may be found. "Pilgrim's Progress," as translated and illustrated by n tive artists, shows Christian with a long pigtail, the dungeon of Giant Despair as the familiar wooden eage of Chinese crim-inals, while the angels are arrayed in the latest productions of Peking dressmak

A Chinese publication describes Americans as "living for mouths without cat-ing a mouthful of rice" and never enjoying themselves "by sitting quietly on their ancestors' graves," but instead jumping around and kicking a ball as if
