REPUBLICAN TICKET.

County Treasurer: CALVIN M. ARNER, Tionesta.

The area of water which is 2,000,000 acres larger than it was last year.

The nation rejoices with the President over the recovery of Mrs. McKinley from her serious illness.

Some day it will dawn upon the Cubans that the highest freedom in the world is that enjoyed by a state in the American Union.

Industrial prostration and thousands of working people idle is the cry in Germany—in marked contrast to industrial conditions in the United States.

King Edward VII's salary has been placed at $2,284,000 a year, a large figure, but a monarch who makes no foolish speeches deserves to be well paid.

The estimated Colonel Bryan will now proceed to grow another life. The Government has more than $300,000,000 in gold locked in several strong vaults.

When Mark Hanna was shown Mr. Bryan's statement that Hanna has attacked the principles of the Republican party, Mark remarked sententiously: "And those of Bryanism, too."

Every soldier returning from the Philippines praises the island as a region of great undeveloped riches. On the average about a fourth of a returning regiment remains behind to embark in business.

A New York business delegation returned from Texas to say that the time may come when New York will not stand first in population. The Lone Star State grows upon its visitors as a vast region of great possibilities.

The Bible must be translated into every dialect before it can be of service to all the inhabitants of the Philippines. Yet there were people who wanted to turn over the whole group to the Tagal tribe as a mark of devotion to the consent of the governed.

Oklahoma has a new Governor, and he speaks of "the magnificent young territory of which all its citizens are proud." Gov. Jenkins might say without exaggeration that all Americans are proud of Oklahoma, and looking forward to its speedy statehood.

The promptness of the Grand Army posts in paying their dues indicates that the organization was never in a more prosperous condition than this year, when the roll of the assistant adjutant general shows that all but four or five small posts have met their obligations—a condition without precedent in the history of the organization.

Mr. Towns, the candidate for Vice President associated with Mr. Bryan on the Populist ticket one year ago has engaged extensively and successfully in syndicate speculation in the Beaumont oil field. It will be remembered that Mr. Towns held a seat in the U. S. Senate, by virtue of an appointment from the Governor of Minnesota to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Cushman K. Davis. During the few hours which he was a member of the Senate Mr. Towns took occasion to place himself on record as unalterable opposed to syndicates of capitalists and all their nefarious deeds. The Philadelphia Times facetiously comments on the conversion of the erstwhile populist: "The person who is at Beaumont cannot be Charles A. Towns, of Minnesota. He represents plutocracy in its most hideous manifestation—a syndicate of capitalists holding the heritage of the people in their monopolistic grasp. They seek to take the land from the poor Texas farmers, at sixty thousand dollars an acre, to sink wells, build railroads, reservoirs, refineries, to utilize the natural sources of wealth for the enrichment of the community perhaps, but especially to themselves. This is the wicked conspiracy of which Mr. Towns has so often and so eloquently denounced. It is inconceivable that he should be engaged in it himself. The person at Beaumont is clearly an impostor."

Much attention is being given in the country districts of the State to a new law intended for the preservation of roads. It provides that every person who makes affidavit that he has owned and used exclusively during the preceding year, in hauling loads of 2000 pounds or more, on the public roads of the State wagons with tires not less than four inches wide shall for each year after the passage of the act be credited by the supervisor of highways of the district in which such tax is levied with one-fourth of the road tax assessed and levied on the property of such person. Tenants who in any way become liable for road taxes may also secure the benefits of this act by making the required affidavit. Such credits shall not exceed in any person more than five days labor on the highways or its equivalent in cash. The same law also provides that any person who shall use on the public roads of the State, in hauling loads of 20,000 pounds or more, wagons with tires less than 4 inches in width shall be liable to a fine of $5 for each offense, which fines shall be recoverable in criminal proceedings instituted at the complaint of any person at the suit of the commonwealth before any justice of the peace. The careful conscientious application of this law would result in much benefit to the highways. But it will be of little account in some districts where road making is a farce, and the people know so many ways to get out of their road tax so cheaply that they will find the old method, less expensive than providing the broad tires.—Phila. Press.

Christian Endeavor in Syria.

BEYROUT, Syria April 13, 1901.

My Dear C. E. Friends: I have often thought of you and have wanted to send you a short letter of fraternal greeting. For two days we have been lying in this beautiful bay, with a perfect atmosphere, so I have been doing some correspondence while awaiting the sailing for Jaffa.

I wanted to tell you about a Christian Endeavor meeting I attended in Cairo last Sabbath evening at 4:45. It was held in the U. P. mission, near the Eden Palace Hotel, where we stopped. The service was in English and was attended by a variety of nationalities: English soldiers, Scotch Highlanders, Arabs, Greeks, Armenians, Maltese, Americans, and I do not know how many others. There were about 36 men present and 15 ladies. They met in the mission parlor and the leader was the man, a Scotchman, in charge of the Soldiers' Home. The subject was "Missions: Our love for souls," and I am quite sure I never heard a better talk anywhere. The speaker spoke of Christ as the great missionary and urged a like spirit of love and sacrifice in us all. It was a missionary talk on a missionary field and we felt its force all the more deeply.

I am sure if you could see the people in the east, their awful condition, and the earnestness of those who know the truth, you would every one be interested in this work. I had no conception of the miserable, degraded condition of these people; naturally religious, they have followed the lead of blind teachers and are now in a darkness that is deplorable. This being rather a special only a part of those present took part. Those who did spoke mostly in very broken English, which showed that they had been brought to Christ through the mission.

At the close of the meeting, we, who were strangers, were very cordially greeted by Rev. Hunt and others of the mission, as also other members of the society. It made us feel we were not altogether strangers, even though in a foreign land, when surrounded by members of the Christian Endeavor.

Two other meetings were held just before this, one in Arabic and one in Armenian, which I did not know of till too late to attend. The people appreciate Endeavor as much, perhaps more, than we do at home, and I am sure it is accomplishing much, developing them in the Christian life and work. They seem to appreciate so much the fact of our interest in their welfare.

I hope you are getting along nicely and that the coming summer will be marked as the most successful in your Endeavor christian life. May the Lord bless you and keep and "watch between us while we are absent one from another."

Sincerely your friend and pastor,

J. V. McANINCH.

The Sixth Annual S. S. Convention.

The sixth annual convention of the Forest County Sabbath School Association was held in the Methodist Episcopal church at West Hickory, May 16 and 17.

Over forty delegates and visitors were registered, some having traveled a distance of thirty-two miles to attend. The convention is pronounced the best in the history of the county association. Perfect harmony prevailed and a great interest in all departments of S. S. work was manifested from the opening of the first session Thursday afternoon. The loss of the excellent leader of this association, Dr. Towler, was sadly felt, but it seemed to inspire the members to greater activity and deeper consecration to the work so near and dear to him. Mrs. S. L. Vale, the presiding officer, in a few well chosen words, paid a tender tribute to the memory of Dr. Towler. She asked the members of the convention to rise, and in silent prayer to give thanks for the example of so beneficent a life. Expressions of regret were heard from not a few, that the district president, Rev. J. V. McAninch, and the State Superintendent of Primary Work, Mrs. J. Woodbridge Barnes were unable to be present. Rev. H. K. Steele in his "Words of Welcome" extended a cordial greeting to the members of the convention to rise, and in silent prayer to give thanks for the example of so beneficent a life. Expressions of regret were heard from not a few, that the district president, Rev. J. V. McAninch, and the State Superintendent of Primary Work, Mrs. J. Woodbridge Barnes were unable to be present.
