WILKES BARRE, Ang. 9. A double wrech occurred on the Central Baihendof New Jersey at Oxbow Wednesday morn-ing. Eight steel conf cars were wrecked and four went into the Lehigh river, while the engine and crane car of a wrecking train that went to the coa train's assistance also plunged over the bank into the water.

The first wreck occurred about 10 o'clock. A long coal train, eastboard, was going down the monstain when a broken rail threw the eighth car from the end off the track. The other seven followed it and the last four were swong over the bank into the river, which is about 15 feet deep. The trainmen escaped by jumping. An hour later the division wrecking train from Mauch Chunk pulled int sight and as it approached the wreck ch rails spread and the engine and the crane car, with the heavy crane as wrecking apparatus, went over the hard and planged into the water. Engineer Owen Bevins and Fireman John McKin by were unable to jump, so suddenly did the accident occur, and they were se-verely scaled by exciping steam before they managed to creatly out of the cab and escape.
