

The best time in the year to paper is when everybody else has finished. Then there is no difficulty in securing the services of a competent paper hanger because of the light demand for such work and another and more potent reason is that after the regular season is over you can buy paper hangings at 1/3 to 1/2 off the regular prices. We are now selling wall paper at actual cost. Not remnants either, but full lines and a large variety of designs:

Table with 4 columns: Paper description, Price per roll, and other details. Includes 'Papers that were 15c per roll, now 10' and '20' '13'.

and all others at proportionate reductions. At these prices we do not expect the stock to last a great while.

A new swindler is said to be going about from house to house asking to see the life insurance policies held by the people where he calls. He represents himself as an inspector for this or that company and offers to take the old policy, pay the holder a certain sum by check from the office and issue a new policy. There is always a small fee to be collected which the fellow always gets in advance. It seems scarcely possible anyone would be simple enough to be caught that way, but it is said he has taken in a number of victims.

Caroline Fisher, widow of the late Peter Landers, died at the home of her son, David Landers, near Bradford, Pa., last Friday from the infirmities of age, having passed her 86th year. She was born at Cassadaga, N. Y., being the first white child born in that community. With her husband she moved to Neilltown, this county, where they resided nearly 60 years and reared a family of several children. The late A. J. Landers of Tionesta was a son of the deceased. Three sons—Byron of Cassadaga, O. F., of Pineville, David of Bradford, and one daughter, Mrs. A. Carson of Caronsville survive her. Funeral services were held on Monday of this week, the interment taking place in the cemetery at Neilltown, by the side of her husband. The relatives and friends from Tionesta attended the funeral.

Two Severely Injured.

Mend McCan of Nebraska, but who has been working in the barg yard of the Warren Lumber Co. at Grunderville, had the misfortune to cut his hand very badly Tuesday last week. He was using an ax in making pins when by a miscellip the sharp blade came down diagonally across his left hand nearly severing a part of it. A deep gash was cut extending from back of the thumb to the knuckle of the third finger. Dr. Davies of Warren attended the injury, but before he could reach him Mend was well-nigh exhausted from loss of blood. He was taken to the Warren hospital, and the doctor reports that he is doing well and will have a fairly good hand when healed.

In the evening of the same day John L. Anderson, who has been furnishing the company's employes with fresh meat for some time past was severely injured on the track of the P. & E. railroad by an express train. He was returning from Irvineton, where his mother lives, and on his way to the Riddle farm on the east side of the river. It was getting dark and when he reached the Grandeur railroad crossing on the way to the river his foot slipped into a wide crevice between the rail and plank and he was unable to free himself. He heard a train approaching and hurriedly endeavored to unlunge the shoe. He had partly succeeded when the eastern bound passenger train was upon him and he threw himself to one side of the track and fainted. After the accident he revived and called for help, but none responded. He then bound a strap about the severed ankle to staunch the flow of blood, and started to hobble along. He proceeded several hundred feet dragging the mangled foot that hung by shreds, before help came to his relief. Dr. Davies, who had not yet left his first patient attended the injured man, who was conveyed to the hospital and had his leg amputated between the knee and 'r' ankle. At last accounts he was doing quite well under the circumstances.

Letter to H. M. Foreman.

Tionesta, Pa. Dear Sir: If you buy paint by the gallon look out for the short-measure. One of the paints for sale in your section has about 210 cubic inches a gallon. Takes 23 to make a real gallon. There are great businesses founded on ten per cent short.

It is queer that a man or concern'll expose his or its nakedness so; but he does, and it does.

Look out. B. it that isn't all to look out for. Some give full measure: and cheat in the quality.

What do you paint for, the looks? or to keep your house from rotting? Both, of course.

A big hotel man painted Devos eight years ago; was going to paint it again; -eight years is a good long time for a hotel, you know - struck a bargain; saved five cents a gallon; missed Devos.

Poor fellow! There isn't an oz. of lead in his paint - we don't know how good or bad it is; but their isn't any lead in it.

Yours truly, F. W. Devos & Co. P. S. - James D. Davis sells our paint in your section.

Kiser Murder Trial.

The trial of Charles S. Murphy for the murder of Wm. Kiser is still going on in Clarion county and may last a greater portion of this week. The Commonwealth attorneys have rested their side of the case for the present and the defense has been offering testimony since Saturday. Monday Charles Murphy, the accused was on the stand in his own behalf during which great interest was manifested by the spectators and court people. He denied almost every statement regarding himself that had been made by the witnesses for the Commonwealth except that he had driven to Iron City about June 20 with Henry Burket and the latter had talked with Mong. Did not know what the conversation was about but one of them spoke of a plan to rob Kiser. One of them (Mong and Burket) said he knew where to get burglar tools. "Mr. Burket said to me 'What's the matter with you going along?' I was astonished and looked at them. There was not another word said. We then started a sack to Hyrntown and there was no word said on the way. After the murder I saw Burket and asked him if he had anything to do with the Kiser murder and he ripped out an oath and said he hadn't. It has been a perplexing question with me to solve the problem as to which Mong it was. Didn't meet William Mong until he got out of the penitentiary in 1898. It was the only trip I ever made with Burket. My mind is not very clear concerning my trip with Burket to Iron City. Had been drinking the night before and perhaps had two or three drinks that day." The witness denied specially ever having talked with Barnard or Shope about the murder. He also denied all the statements made by Thomas in the witness stand connecting him with the Kiser case. Considerable time was spent in going over the letters purporting to have been written by the prisoner-witness. Parts of these letters he acknowledged writing but claimed parts of sentences had been erased in the original and other words written in to replace them. Continuing, he said: "I am 61 years of age. During my life I have been engaged at work inside and outside. Had a little store at Goutonville a good many years ago. Went to Byrntown. Kept a livery stable there a while. Did not keep a livery in 1899. Cross examination: "I saw some exhibits at the penitentiary. Some of these may be them or part of them. Did not examine them very much. Mr. Cribbs handed me one tierce and I saw it was Thomas' immediately and handed it back. Thought it was too good open and shut who wrote it and I would keep that to myself that it would be a good thing for the court and jury, at that time I denied I had written any of them. Didn't know whether or not the district attorney was present. Cribbs talked to me more than once in the penitentiary. "Heard Burket and Mong talking about robbing Kiser. One of them said he knew of a set of burglar tools over at Hickory and that he would get them and they would rob Kiser some Saturday night. One of them, I can't remember which one, said we ought to have some one else go along. Burket said to me 'What's the matter with you going along?' I didn't say anything, just looked at him, one of them said they would go on Sunday night, that Kiser would be at church, that it wouldn't take long to do the job. I told only one I told Thomas first about it, and Henderson next. Told Thomas somewhere about Byrntown. Think I told Henderson first, he was boarding at my house, working on the pipe line. After I came back from the show business in 1899 I swapped one of the horses. Traded with Hugh Hanna after I came back from the show. I want to say right here that I never had any conversation with Shope in regard to this matter. Talked with him about our sentence in the chapel of the penitentiary. He said he had 15 years. It would not take three minutes to do all the talking I did in the church. I was acquainted with Frank Sarvey. He was not related to the Mongis. I do not know if he was a brother of Cyrus Sarvey. I do not know Samuel Sarvey."

Josh Westhafer, of Leigonette, Ind., is a poor man, but he says he would not be without Chamberlain's Pain Balm if it cost five dollars a bottle, for it saved him from being a cripple. No external application is equal to Chamberlain's for stiff and swollen joints, contracted muscles, stiff neck, sprains and rheumatic and muscular pains. It also cured numerous cases of partial paralysis. It is for sale by Killmer Bros., Tionesta, and W. G. Wilkins, West Hickory.

SOMETHING TO REMEMBER.

When a cough or cold is long neglected consumption almost invariably follows. Remember Mexican Syrup only costs 25 cents a bottle, and yet has proven in many thousand cases an absolute safe cure for coughs, colds and consumption. Taken in time it cures quickly. Children like it because it tastes so good. Insist on your druggist keeping it for sale. Read the seemingly miraculous cures it has effected, printed on the wrapper around the bottle.

A Pillable Sight. What is more pitiable than to see a puny, delicate little child absolutely dying from neglect. There are many little ones, whose cheeks would grow rosy, whose flesh would be plump, and pretty if only the worms that are gnawing at their vitals were removed, which is easily effected with Mothers' Worm Syrup, so nice to taste that children ask for it. Also a cure for tape, worm in grown people. Try a 25 cent bottle.

The Secret of Good Health. The secret of beauty and good health is cleanliness. Uncleanliness breeds disease. Internal cleanliness is even of greater importance than external. Keep your liver and your bowels thoroughly clean by taking a Mexican Root Pill occasionally. Their use does the nerves, kidneys, etc., good also. Only 25 cents a box.

Gooch's Quick Relief. When your joints and bowels act and your flesh feels tender and sore, a 25 cent bottle of Gooch's Quick Relief will give you quick relief. Best cure for colic.

Healthy Blood Makes Healthy Flesh. To have good flesh and good feeling, to look well and feel well take some Gooch's Sarsaparilla. Nothing else so good for pale and sickly women.

Five-Grain Cures Piles. Money refunded if it ever fails. Anti-Agic cures Chills and Fever.
