Fright-West Into Convelsions. BUFFALO, Sept. 28.—Sheriff Cald-well returned yesterday afternoon from Anhara, whither he took Leon F. Czolgoez Thursday night. He left Aubure at 6.58 o'clock in the morning, and arrived in Buffalo a few minutes after one o'clock in the afternoon, appearing in his office at the city hall about 1,45. His account of the excitement outside the prison when the assassin of President McKinley arrived there was as follows:

We arrived in Auburn at 3.15 o'clock yesterday morning, and there was a crowd of about 200 people outside the prison when we reached there. Deputy E. M. Bates went on ahead of us in the afternoon, to keep me, informed of the situation. I recived telegrams from him at two or three places along the route. "Washington, D. C.
"I publish the following as my last will and testament, hereby revoking all former wills: "To my beloved wife, Ida S. Mc-Kinley, I bequeath all of my real estate wherever situated, and the income of any personal property of which I may be possessed at death, during her natural life. I make the following charge upon all of my property, both real and personal. To pay my mother during her life one thous-and dollars a year, and at her death said sum to be paid to my stater, Helen Mc-Kinley. If the income from property be insufficient to keep my wife in great comfort and pay the annuity above provided, then I direct that such of my property be sold so as to make a sum adequate for both purposes. Whatever properly re-mains at the death of my wife, I give to my brother and sisters, share and share my brother and assess, share and said and alke. My chief concern is that my wife from my estate shall have all that she requires for her comfort and pleasure, and that my mother shall be provided with that my mother shall be provided what whatever money she requires to make her old age comfortable and happy. "Witness my hand and seal, this 22d day of October, 1897, to my last will and testament, made at the city of Wash-ington, District of Columbia."

"WILLIAM M'KINLEY.

"The foregoing will was witnessed by us this 22d day of October, 1807, at the request of the testator and his name signed hereto in our presence, and our signatures hereto in his presence.

"G. B. CORTELYOU. "CHARLES LOEFFLER." It is given out on authority that the McKinley estate will total $225,000 to $250,000, including life insurance of $67,000. Aside from this insurance the estate consists of real estate here and contiguous to Canton, and of deposits in Washington banks. Monday morning has been fixed by the probate court for a hearing prior to probating the will. Then it is expected Secretary Cortelyon and Judge Day will be finally appointed administrators of the estate, with will annexed and will give bond.

WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW.

of Business. NEW YORK, Sept. 28.-Bradstreet's

In distributive trade the features are the continued good tone of advices from the jobbing trade west, northwest and southwest and on the Pacific coast, and the better retail trade reported at the east, due to the advance in the season A quieting down in the demand for dry goods, usual at this season, is noted at untry markets, but these reports are generally accompanied by advices of an enlarged distribution of clothing and foot-wear. The iron trade appears to be exceptionally active and full of orders ex-tending well into next year, while shoe manufacturing, woolen goods, flour milling, lumbering, jewelry, furniture and a number of other lines are all active. The situation in copper is not as yet clearly defined. Domestic consumption is large, but American prices are fully three cents higher than in London. Pig iron is active and in large sale, and Southern iron has again advanced in all markets. While the excessive premiums on the plates and other strike-affected products have disappeared, the demand is so large that billets are $1 higher, bars $2 up and a number of other products have advanced in proportion.

The shoe trade is of good volume and owing to the advance in leather, some manufacturers of foot-wear will only ac-cept orders "at value." The print cloth situation at Fall River is a peculiar one. A month ago talk was heard of possible strikes, due to reductions of wages Since then the price has advanced 5-8 cent per yard, and this week two mills have announced wages advanced. The available supply of cloth is rumored to he practically cornered, but against this it is noted that business is only moderate and that pri a are not as strong, owing partly to the weakness in raw cotton, Eastern and southern mills are reported free buyers of actual cotton, but wool is
