

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 16.

The best time in the year to paper is when everybody else has finished. Then there is no difficulty in securing the services of a competent paper hanger because of the light demand for such work and another and more potent reason is that after the regular season is over you can buy paper hangings at 1/3 to 1/2 off the regular prices. We are now selling wall paper at actual cost. Not remnants either, but full lines and a large variety of designs:

Papers that were 15c per roll, now 10
" " " 20 " " " 13
" " " 23 " " " 17
" " " 35 " " " 23

and all others at proportionate reductions. At these prices we do not expect the stock to last a great while.

His address will remain for the present the same, 75 Tenth St. Buffalo, N. Y. -Fire late Saturday night burned a block and a half of the business section of Reynoldsville, Jefferson county, gutted 14 business places, including the Hotel McConnell, one of the town's largest hotels, and four dwelling houses. The loss is estimated at $20,000 on which there is insurance of $17,000.

-Mrs. John Thomson, of East Hickory died at her home in that place at an early hour yesterday morning of asthmatic trouble, from which she had been suffering a number of years. Deceased was aged about thirty years and besides the stricken husband leaves two small children and a host of friends to mourn her death. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Albaugh, of Albaugh hill. -By reference to notice in this issue it will be observed that Farmer A. W. Stroup of the township is selling out, and expects to move to a more congenial climate soon. We regret to learn that 'Lon's health has failed so of late that this move is made necessary. He may move to North Carolina but has not decided as yet. His farm is for sale also, and as he has everything in excellent condition about him, it would be a good opening for some one, as he will sell on easy terms. -Stories of big porkers are coming in early this season. Here's one from the Derrick: A hog drover from Ulica, this county, purchased a hog from John Sheasley, of Sage run, Friday, which weighed 940 pounds and is expected to weigh fully 700 pounds dressed. The animal measured nine feet ten inches in length. Mr. Sheasley also sold two smaller hogs, receiving $73 for the lot. Will Sannwell sold a drove of five and received $100 for the lot. Mr. Sheasley's monster pig was a White Chester, three years old. -An organization of farmers, effected recently in Westmoreland county, has received a mammoth bloodhound from North Carolina. The animal is warranted to track a man to cover, and is or the most savage nature. The object is to hunt down persons who have been butchering the farmers' cattle, sheep and hogs in the fields and carrying away the meat. The practice has been going on for several weeks. Now the whole countryside is waiting impatiently for the time when the savage hound shall be let loose. -Efficient teachers and directors are but little more of a necessity than good parents. This is a point too often lost sight of, and is one of the drawbacks of the system. By good parents, we mean parents who will take an intelligent interest in assisting and upholding the hands of the teachers, who are the finest examples of the true Christian missionary on earth, and at the same time the most sadly neglected. How many of the parents of pupils attending the public schools ever visit the schools, or even give the teacher a word of encouragement? -C. F. Ledabur, who is working the Proper farm at the top of German Hill, came near losing one of his valuable team horses last Friday. His son Howard had driven into the yard back of the Forest House to deliver a load of potatoes, when one of the horses stepped upon some boards that had been thrown over an abandoned well some ten or twelve feet deep. The boards being rotten the horse broke through, but the hole was too narrow to admit his body going in and his head caught on the side, and after considerable hustling he was extricated without much bodily injury. -Grand Millinery Opening. Thursday and Friday, Oct. 17-18 is the date of our annual Winter Opening of hats and bonnets; also ladies' skirts, waists and furnishings in general. We have a fine line of all new goods, and must say the styles were never more beautiful or the prices more reasonable. We will endeavor to make it an object for customers from out of town. Come and see the pretty things. F. WALTERS & Co. -Public Sale. The undersigned will sell at auction on his premises on German Hill, Tionesta township, on Saturday, October 25, 1901, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m., the following: One team of horses, weight about 2700 pounds, set of double harness, set of light double harness, heavy wagon with two sets of wheels, high and trunk wheels, pair heavy bobs, wagon box and rack, top buggy good as new, horse rake, mowing machine, pair tackle-blocks and lines, lot of wrapper chains, fanning mill, plow, harrow, cultivator, saddle, and lot of tools too numerous to mention. Also 4 cows, 2 yearling calves and a lot of nice chickens. My farm is also for sale at a fair price and on easy terms. Terms-Made known on day of sale. A. W. STRROUP. -Letter to Landers & Wyman. Tionesta, Pa. Dear Sirs: Suppose you are going to paint a house, and ask all the painters there: are within reach to bid on it—you furnish materials, they to say what to use, and charge for time and the know-how. How many will use the same paint? They, generally, will compound their own paint. There will be no two alike. And this is the end of the notions that painters know how to make paint. They know how to put paint on; and that is their business. They ought to know what to buy. How many of them know what to buy? A blacksmith buys nails, because better shoes and nails than he can make are made for less than he can make them for—by machinery. Wagonmakers buy wheels, because better wheels than they can make are made for less than they can make them for—by machinery. Why should a painter make his own paint, when he can buy better for less? We take the risk of how it turns out, besides. Devote lead and zinc to the paint: lasts twice as long as the average painter's paint—lead and oil. Yours truly, P. W. DEVCO & CO. P. S.—James D. Davis sells our paint in your section. -News from Erie. 'The name 'Wano' should be changed to wonder, as it has done wonders for me. Dr. C. H. Harvey, Erie, Pa.' TERRIFIC GLYCERINE EXPLOSION. Clarence Ward and Frank Gross Blown to Atoms. Many of our people were startled about half past ten o'clock last Thursday morning by an explosion which seemed only a short distance from town. Buildings were jarred and windows shaken as if by some heavy weight falling on the floor. The cause proved to be the explosion of 800 or 1000 quarts of nitro glycerine in the factory of the Harper Company near the Rynd farm on Oil Creek, perhaps 15 miles from Tionesta. Clarence Ward and Frank Gross were the only men in or near the building when it went up, and as is usual in such disasters there is no one left to tell the story of how it happened or what caused the explosion. They had gone to the factory early in the morning, Ward having charge of the plant, a position he had held for about 6 years, the other victim being his helper. Everything within a radius of several rods was demolished, an oblong hole nearly twenty feet deep being torn in the ground, and the trees for several rods around being stripped of their leaves. A horse driven by the men was found some distance away dead, but without a scratch visible on his body. All the machinery in the buildings—there being two of them each 30x60 feet—was warped and twisted into almost unrecognizable shapes, a part of the main shafting weighing nearly a hundred pounds being found a good quarter of a mile from the factory. Clarence Ward was a twin brother of Claud Ward, killed in a similar explosion near Franklin six years ago, and whose place at the dangerous business he had filled ever since. Both boys were former residents of this place and the deceased was well and favorably known to many of our citizens. He was aged 35 years and leaves a wife and two small children. The other victim was single and lived not far from the scene of the awful explosion.
