NINETEEN KNOWN DEAD

And Many More May Be In Ruins of Philadelphia Fire.

Crowds Saw Men and Women Hoisted to Death on Fire Escape, While Others Jumped or Fell and Were Crushed on Pavement—Cause of Conflagration Is Unknown.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 29.—Nineteen known dead and property loss amounting to upwards of $500,000 is the awful result of a fire which occurred yesterday in the business portion of the city.

The buildings destroyed were the eight-story structure at 1219 and 1221 Market street, occupied by Hunt, Wilkinson & Co., upholsterers and furniture dealers, and three three-story buildings occupied by small merchants.

Police and firemen are delving into the ruins in search of bodies supposed to have been buried beneath the debris, as it is feared that others besides the known dead may have lost their lives in the flames.

The buildings destroyed were the eight-story structure at 1219 and 1221 Market street, occupied by Hunt, Wilkinson & Co., upholsterers and furniture dealers, and three three-story buildings occupied by small merchants.

Never in its history has Philadelphia experienced a fire which spread with such rapidity. At 10:20 o'clock in the morning the blaze broke forth and one hour later the horrible sacrifice of life had been made and the immense loss of property had been accomplished.

Such a disastrous fire, attended with so great a loss of life in such a brief period, was never before known in this city. Men and women died in a lightning-agonizing death in the presence of thousands of spectators who were unable to lift a hand to their assistance.

The rest of Hunt, Wilkinson & Co.'s building faces on Commerce street, a small thoroughfare. On the fire escapes at this end of the building two men and one woman were slowly roasted to death, while the horror-stricken throng on the street below turned sick at the sight.

Mr. Wilkinson, who says there never was sufficient quantity of either explosive about the building to be responsible for the terrible disaster, rumor has it also that an elevator constructor at work in the basement permitted the flame of his lantern to communicate with some of the gaseous liquids stored in the basement and that this was the cause of the conflagration.

Such a disastrous fire, attended with so great a loss of life in such a brief period, was never before known in this city. Men and women died in a lightning-agonizing death in the presence of thousands of spectators who were unable to lift a hand to their assistance.

Mr. Wilkinson said the smoke came up the stairway and the elevator shaft in such great quantities that he and Mr. Hunt had such difficulty in reaching the street.

Most of those killed were at work on the sixth floor, where women were engaged in sewing. They were at work in the rear of the building close to the fire, and many of them were overcome by the great quantity of smoke that rushed up through the building. It was reported that goods were stored against the windows which prevented the women from getting out on the fire escapes, but this was positively denied by a member of the firm.

GOOD TOBACCO SOIL.

Agricultural Experts Will Search For Conditions Favorable to Its Cultivation.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Secretary Wilson has directed a committee of the agricultural department to hunt all over the United States and its new possessions for conditions favorable to the cultivation of the filler tobacco, such as is now raised in Cuba, so that if possible the filler tobacco used in this country recently may be raised within the boundaries of the United States.

"The United States," he said, "is now paying $8,000,000 for wrapper tobacco. We have succeeded in finding in this country the conditions under which all the wrapper tobacco we need can be raised here and experts of the department of agriculture for the first time are seeking soil adaptable to the cultivation of the filler tobacco. We have parts of Pennsylvania, Ohio and Texas selected for the investigations of our experts and land for similar purposes will be selected in all our new island possessions with a view to ascertaining how and under what conditions the filler product can be built up here."

TOOK OVER A MILLION.

But Lowell Ascenders Returned All but $115,000 Which Has Been Made Good.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—The controller of the currency has received from Examiner Egan a full report of the recent robbery of the Merchants' National bank of Lowell, Mass., by the late Teller Smith and Bookkeeper Swift but declined to make the report public on the ground that reports of national banks and their officers are confidential communications to the controller's office.

The controller said, however, that the report showed that the teller and bookkeeper entered the bank during the night and abstracted $95,100 in cash; $808,239 of securities and $400,000 of collaterals. All of these securities and $22,000 of the cash were recovered through the counsel for Smith and Swift and the only loss the bank appears to have sustained was about $115,000 which has been made good out of its surplus and undivided profits.

The examiner stated that no promise of immunity from punishment in any condition to the return of the cash and securities were made by the directors and the facts have all been placed before the United States district attorney.

GOLD AND SILVER.

Statement of Production During 1900. United States Leads in Both.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Director Roberts of the mint has prepared a statement showing the production of the precious metals for the calendar year of 1900. It shows the production of gold in the world that year was 32,357,287 ounces, of the value of $257,514,700, a loss in value of $49,070,200 from 1899.

The loss was mainly in the Transvaal field of South Africa and due to the war. The principal gains were $8,118,000 in the United States and $3,000,000 in Canada. The United States again leads the list. In the United States the principal gains were by Alaska, Arizona, Colorado and Utah.

The silver output of the world amounted to 178,791,796 fine ounces, the largest ever known. It exceeded the production of 1899 by 15,752,543 ounces. The United States again leads all other producers with a slight excess over Mexico. There was an important advance in the price of silver during the year, the price ranging from 53.1 cents per ounce in January to 63.5 cents last month of the year. The chief factor in this was the purchases for the account of the government of India.

WENT OVER THE FALLS

Mrs. Taylor Made the Trip In a Barrel and Lived.

Plunge Was Made Over Horseshoe Cataract—Daring Woman Had Head Gashed and Is Suffering From Shock. First Human Being to Survive the Leap. Ordeal Lasted Half an Hour.

NAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Oct. 28.—Mrs. Anna Edson Taylor, the Bay City, Mich., woman successfully went over the Horseshoe Falls in a barrel yesterday, thus accomplishing the greatest and most daring feat of any ever attempted in this locality. She is the first and only human being who has made this fearful leap over the falls and lived to describe it.

Mrs. Taylor, who says she is 42 years old, arrived here with her manager, Frank M. Russell, 10 days ago and brought her barrel along. It was built under Mrs. Taylor's direction, heavily padded with cushions and a harness arrangement with arm straps inside to hold the occupant from contact with the ends or sides.

Mrs. Taylor got into the barrel at the head of Grass Island and was towed over the Canadian channel. She was cast loose at 4:25 p. m., and the current immediately caught the barrel, carrying it down, slowly at first, then more rapidly, until it was caught in the rush before the first cascade of the rapids.

There is a stretch of almost a mile of wild, treacherous rapids between Grass Island and the brink of the Horseshoe Falls and it took the barrel nearly 20 minutes to make the trip to the verge of the falls.

The barrel plunged over at 4:23 p. m. It went over just a little west of the center of the Horseshoe and reappeared in the river below within a minute. After being dashed about for 17 minutes it was picked up in an eddy by a party of men who removed the manhole and found Mrs. Taylor alive, but greatly distressed.

Blood was flowing from a gash in her head and she was suffering from shock. A larger hole was sawed in the top of the barrel and she crawled out, dripping and watching a bunch of rags, which served as her clothes, as soon as she saw the farmers he started to run and was captured with difficulty. When brought to the commissionaire's office he said his name was Luther Tully and that he was from Philadelphia, where his parents reside. When asked what he had been doing he replied: "Doing the Moslem act." "What is that?" asked a bystander. "Doing Christian things," he replied.

LETTER TO MISS STONE.

Consul Dickinson Requests Her to Urge Brigands to Reduce Ransom.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Mr. Dickinson, United States consul-general at Constantinople, has written to Miss Stone at Belzra, requesting her to induce the brigands to consent to reduce the ransom," says the Vienna correspondent of the Daily Telegraph. "The Bulgarian opposition journal, 'The Mir,' declared that the troops fraternized with the brigands and allowed the latter to escape through the cordon."

Expected News Hasn't Arrived.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 28.—Those who have been in hourly expectation of favorable news regarding Miss Stone and her companions have again been disappointed. Nothing definite has yet been reached in the dealings with the missionary's abductors.

A point which is much discussed among those here who are interested in the case is what shall be done if the brigands insist on being paid the $25,000 (Turkish) which they at first demanded. Scarcely half that sum is available thus far and it is believed that should an agreement on reduced terms be impossible, the offer of a less sum would be withdrawn, even at the cost of the life of Miss Stone.

FIVE BLOWN TO DEATH.

Explosion of Gas in Mine Near Willsboro, N. Y.

WILLSBORO, N. Y., Oct. 28.—A terrible explosion occurred in the Buttswood mine of the Parrish Coal company, situated one mile south of this city, late yesterday afternoon, which caused the death of five men and the injury of nine others.

The killed were: William, aged 54, first assistant foreman. Conner Williams, aged 37, second assistant foreman. Thomas Guest, aged 37, company hand. Thomas Price, aged 33, track layer. W. K. Phillips, aged 33, inspector.

Daniel Davis, aged 33, inspector, was badly burned and cannot live, and Peter Plouff was burned seriously. Several others were injured by concussion. Directly after the explosion a number of rescuers at the risk of their lives entered the mine, now filled with dangerous gas, and brought out the bodies of the dead and injured.

So far as can be learned the explosion was caused by the carelessness of one of the Hungarian laborers, who was injured. He opened his safety lamp while at work in his chamber. This caused a small fire, which was extinguished, which, however, did not injure the men or cause any damage.

The explosion was heard, however, by the foreman and his assistants, who rushed into the chamber, only to encounter another and larger body of gas. The second explosion was much more powerful than the first, and it is believed that the injured were taken to the hospital. With the exception of Inspector Davis it is thought all will recover.

When first seen by the posse he was sitting on the ground eating some roots and watching a bunch of rags, which served as his clothes. As soon as he saw the farmers he started to run and was captured with difficulty. When brought to the commissionaire's office he said his name was Luther Tully and that he was from Philadelphia, where his parents reside. When asked what he had been doing he replied: "Doing the Moslem act." "What is that?" asked a bystander. "Doing Christian things," he replied.

The son-in-law was sentenced to death but on the scaffold his sentence was mitigated by the shah's friend to flogging until he had revealed all the names of the conspirators.

"The shah's favorite, Gavanne, who was also concerned, was pardoned on the scaffold, but died subsequently in prison. "The whole revolutionary party, together with the higher priests were in the plot, and all will be beheaded or imprisoned for life. There is a veritable panic among the people of Teheran."

NEGRO BURNED BY MOB.

Thought He Had Killed a Victim, but He Recovered and Was Not Awakened.

COLUMBIA, Miss., Oct. 25.—The negro, Bill Morris, who assaulted Mrs. John Ball at Balltown, La., was burned at the stake yesterday. After being captured he made an effort to implicate others, but they proved their innocence. Morris was taken to the scene of his crime and chained to a pine sapling. His hands and feet were bound to his body. Pine knots and pine straw were piled about the body and saturated with coal oil and the match applied.

The negro made an outcry when the flames first reached him and only when he was partly consumed did the spectators notice any movement on the part of the wretch. He made no resistance when being bound to the stake and said that he deserved his fate.

Morris beat his victim on the head with a pine knot and thought he had killed her. Going back to the scene of the crime all the change in the color of his face, he, however, recovered from his injuries and crawled to his father's house. He at once gave the alarm and the neighborhood commenced a search for the negro. He was found at his home about four miles from the scene of the tragedy and in trying to escape was shot by one of the posse and wounded to the hip.
