

THE FOREST REPUBLICAN.

J. E. WENK, Editor & Proprietor.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1901.

1901 OCTOBER 1901

Calendar table for October 1901 with columns for Su., Mo., Tu., We., Th., Fr., Sa. and rows for days 6-31.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

STATE. Justice of the Supreme Court, WM. P. POTTER, of Allegheny. State Treasurer, FRANK G. HARRIS, of Clearfield. COUNTY. County Treasurer, CALVIN M. ARNER, Tionesta.

Vote for Harris, Potter and Arner. One cross is enough.

Vote the straight, square, solid, un-mixed Republican ticket and be happy.

There should be no stay-at-homes among the Republicans next Tuesday. Let every member of the party see that he is out early. Get out the vote!

The Republican who goes to the polls next Tuesday, and places an X in the circle heading his party ticket is giving the right kind of an answer to those who are endeavoring to tear down what his efforts have helped him bring up.

HARRIS, Potter and Arner are as good men in every particular as any on the opposition ticket. No one will deny this. Then where would be the excuse to "compliment" the other side. Vote your ticket with one cross, Republicans.

ELECTIONS for State officers will be held on November 5th in Ohio, Maryland, Massachusetts, Nebraska, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Virginia. All these, excepting the last named, were carried for President McKinley in 1900.

Now that grasshoppers are compressed into bricks and sold for poultry food the long-legged insect may develop a delicate constitution and grow scarce. It will seem strange when fears are expressed of the failure of the grasshopper crop.

SENATOR FINN will make a speech at McKeesport to-night in favor of the Republican State ticket. Nothing better illustrates the possibilities of the whirligig of time than this action on the part of the former leader of the Insurgents.—Franklin News.

AND Dave Martin has joined the "reformers!" Now should the Philadelphia Times dip a sponge in a bucket of great tears of joy and wipe from the brow of the saintly David the dollar mark which it so persistently used in defamation of the man but a few short years ago.

SENATOR MARK HANNAH sent $100 as his subscription toward the ransom of Miss Stone. Mr. Bryan will now rise up and do a little more howling about Mr. Hanna, a man whose one great fault, as viewed through the eyes of the calamity contingent, is that he has been successful and has made a fortune.

The difference, as shown by the Pittsburgh Commercial-Gazette: "The Republican party makes its own nominations and the voters elect the nominees. The Democrat party makes nominations and then a few bosses, Democrats and mixed, turn down the nominees before the voters get a chance at them."

THE Panxantawney Spirit strikes the nail on the head when it says: There have been very few occasions in the life of the average Republican who felt impelled to bolt his party that he did not feel more strongly impelled to kick himself afterwards. The man who stands by his colors all the time has fewest regrets.

CALVIN M. ARNER is worthy of your support for County Treasurer. In giving him your support you not only assist in electing a capable, trustworthy official, but you are giving a boost to one who has but one leg to boost himself, but with all that is making an heroic effort to stand on that one leg. Don't help to knock the props from under him.

THE British are not the only persons in the South African war who are buying supplies on the outside. The Boers, it is said, are negotiating for arms in France and South America, and are getting horses from Russia. These reports may all be true, and they may not. It seems, however, that the Boers have had a pretty good supply of arms and horses all along. The South African war has been especially hard on horses. The stores afloat just before the war began that the Boers were preparing for this struggle for many years must have been true.

In the people are not specially anxious to encumber themselves with a big expense account they had better smash the machine amendment which will come before them at next Tuesday's election. It is noted that some of our "reform" papers in the cities are strenuously advocating the adoption of this amendment on the score of bringing about honest elections. But they don't point out the particular manner in which machine voting is going to be any more honest than by the present ballot system. It would seem these ultra elegant journals would go almost to the length of taking the ballot away from the common people and do all the voting themselves so that "honest" elections might be insured. We maintain that the average voter is still honest and may be trusted to handle the ballot, notwithstanding he may not always vote to suit the fancies of the new city editors. The voting machine amendment is a grab, and doubtless some of its big city supporters are "standing in" on the steal. It should be buried under an avalanche of ballots on Tuesday next.

Made it in Forty Seconds.

Leon F. Collogg, the murderer of President McKinley died in the electric chair in Auburn, N. Y., prison at 7:35 yesterday morning. The wretch bore up better than was generally expected he would. He made a statement while seated in the chair but implicated no one. It was of about the same tenor as his former expressions, saying he wanted to do something to benefit the poor people. He was subject to three currents of electricity and pronounced dead in forty seconds. No more of Collogg.

A Sensible View of the Situation.

This is the time when the appeal is made to good Republicans to cut loose from the party organization, and help some persons to sharpen and use a few scalping knives. They argue that it being "an off-year" and altogether a State matter, it can have no effect whatever on National politics or policies, and even though the party should be defeated in the State this year things could be righted again at the next National contest. The man that would argue thus would advise you to attend church on Sunday and the other six days be independent and "cut loose" and do just as you please, destroying the good effect of your Sunday attendance and weakening the church organization for future work and effort. A defeat of a majority reduced below a normal majority this year, would have a bad effect, not only on party organization, but would somewhat dim the honor of the memory of our late beloved President McKinley, who rejoiced with his party in making the old Keystone State, under the splendid party organization, the banner Republican State of the Union, and would fall to give to his worthy successor the encouragement he should have in carrying forward the work as laid out by the lamented McKinley, which he has so faithfully promised to do. The Republicans, who bowed their heads in deep and sincere sorrow on the death of our late beloved President, who loved the man for his steadfastness to Republican principles, as well as for the many personal virtues he possessed, are willing, we think, to stand firm with the organization that made it possible on two occasions to lead the Union in majorities for him who in life was so generally loved and in death so universally mourned. Do not, at the first opportunity, commit any act that would tend to diminish the honor to the memory of the dead or lack of faith in the success of him who is now our Chief Executive.—Franklin News.

See that the full Republican vote is polled next Tuesday. No member of the party should think of absenting himself from the polls, and while there he should vote nothing but the straight ticket. Complimentary votes for opposition candidates often weaken if they don't defeat the party and you never get any thanks for cutting your own ticket. Vote straight and you'll feel the better for it.

THEY say that Dave Martin has joined the Philadelphia "reformers," and all the yellow pests think they've made a great hit in winning Dave over to the "good cause." Dave can give all the boys pointers on real up-to-date reform, because he's been there a man's time and knows just how the old thing works. There's no flims on Dave when "reform" things. He's all right as a "reformer." Just as good as the best of them.

In 1892 everybody was employed. In 1894 Coxey's "army" was marching to Washington to demand relief from Congress. Such an experience as we had in the years from 1892 to 1897 ought to be quite sufficient for one generation. If that did not teach wisdom it would be hard to imagine a depth of misery which would teach it. If we had had sense enough to let well enough alone in 1892 we should have escaped the terrible misfortunes of 1894. Let the people see to it that there is no more folly of that kind. Let well enough alone. Vote the Republican ticket.

SPEAKING of the election for State officials the Philadelphia Inquirer says: "Keep it before the people—the fact that the battle this year is only the forerunner of that which is to come next, when a Congress is to be elected, and also a forerunner of that which is to come two years after that, when a President also must be chosen. That is the whole question upon which the voters are this year called to pass, and knowing them as we do, we have not the slightest hesitation in saying that they will pass upon it as they should. It is their own interests which are at stake."

APPARENTLY the reduction of the revenues in the present fiscal year will not be more than $25,000,000, although Congress supposed, in its cut of the war taxes made last winter, that the reduction would be fully $40,000,000. There will be a considerable surplus this year. This gives a chance for another cut in taxes, and Congress will give its attention to this matter in the coming session. Of course the good times are largely responsible for the swelling revenues, and for the embarrassment which they cause. In this aspect of the case Republican prosperity has its advantages. Still, as Gen. Fredrick D. Grant once remarked, surpluses are easier to manage than deficits.

WRITING on mulishness in men, in the Pittsburgh Dispatch, W. T. Anderson says: "Where all the other officers of the Brooklyn joined in singing the commander's praises the only discordant note came from Lieutenant Commander Hodgson, who was 'miffed' at something. As a matter of fact this sort of people cannot help being perverse. In politics they go off and start a church of their own. In business they are forever kicking the man who is down and abusing the man who is on top. Students of degeneracy say it is the liver. Others put it on the weather. It is neither. Perverts are born that way."

ATTORNEY GENERAL ELLIS says that the Republican State ticket will have 100,000 majority this year, "and possibly more." That is about the size of Republican majorities in Pennsylvania on off years.

A Typical South African Story.

O. B. Larson, of Bay Villa, Sundays River, Cape Colony, conducts a store typical of South Africa, at which can be purchased anything from the proverbial "needle to an anchor." This store is situated in a valley nine miles from the nearest railway station and about seven or five miles from the nearest town. Mr. Larson says: "I am favored with the custom of farmers within a radius of thirty miles, and many of whom I have supplied Chamberlain's Remedy. All testify to their value in a household where a doctor's advice is almost out of the question. Within one mile of my store the population is a sharp descent. Of these, within the past twelve months, not less than fourteen have been absolutely cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This must surely be a record." For sale by Killmer Bros., Tionesta, and W. G. Wilkins West Hickory.

ROBINSON.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul RY.

Many people unacquainted with the geography of the West imagine that because the names "Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul" are used in the corporate title of the railway owning the short line between Chicago and Omaha, they must go via the cities of Milwaukee and St. Paul to reach their destination—and if it be Omaha or west thereof. This is a mistaken idea. On a map the line running directly east and west would look like this:

Omaha—Chicago. There is nothing more simple than that, and it is less than 500 miles between Chicago and Omaha. Two through trains daily in each direction with the best Sleeping Car and Dining Car Service, and a regular travelers know and appreciate the merits of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway's Short Line between the East and West.
