Reported That French Have Seized Turkish Customs.

Seeing That France Is in Earnest Sultan Has Turned to Great Britain and Now Asks That England Send Fleet to Protect Asiatic Turkey.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—The Paris correspondent of The Daily Mail says he understands that dispatches have been received at the French capital announcing that Admiral Caillaud's division of the French Mediterranean squadron has arrived at Smyrna and seized the customs.

PARIS, Nov. 5.—"The Porte has asked Great Britain," says the Constantinople correspondent of The Echo de Paris, "to fulfill the terms of the convention of 1878 whereby in exchange for the Island of Cyprus Great Britain guarantees the integrity of the sultan's Asiatic possessions."

According to the Athens correspondent of The Journal a French dispatch boat arrived yesterday at Smyrna, capital of the island of Syria, to get a number of dispatches that were waiting at the telegraph office.

HEAVIEST FOG IN YEARS.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—A fog such as Great Britain had not experienced for years enveloped London and half of the United Kingdom yesterday, blocking shipping, deranging railways and throwing business in London, Birmingham and other provincial cities into confusion.

So dense was it that a walk into the streets was an adventure. The fog descended upon the streets of the metropolis and the suburbs so thickly that between 4 and 5 o'clock in the afternoon the principal avenues of traffic resembled the steamroar of a Turkish bath.

Hundreds of thousands of London's suburban population vainly endeavored to grope their way to the railway stations. The fog who succeeded found the trains all stalled. Around Trafalgar square and the houses of parliament scenes unparalleled for years were witnessed. Hundreds of omnibuses, cabs, carts and wagons formed an inextricable and immovable mass.

Lanterns were at a premium. Newsboys transformed their papers into temporary torches. Highwaymen pursued their vocation. Casualties were frequent and even hurried Londoners freely expressed a dread of the continuation of such fogs, which yesterday reached a climax.

If the fog had not lifted somewhat toward night, London would have been so congested that the housing resources, commons as they are, would have been taxed beyond their limits by the forced accommodation of the fog-bound suburbanites.

DUMONT GETS THE PRIZE.

PARIS, Nov. 5.—The committee of the Aero club, by a vote of 12 to 9, yesterday proclaimed M. Santos-Dumont, the Brazilian aeronaut, the winner of the prize of 100,000 francs offered by M. Deutsch for a dirigible balloon.

The vote was preceded by a warm discussion. Count D'out, who presided, while eulogizing the courage of M. Santos-Dumont, contended that he had not won the prize owing to the time limit. Prince Roland Bonaparte, on behalf of the special committee who watched the contest, declared that M. Santos-Dumont had materially and ably aided the prize because the new regulation as to the time limit was never officially endorsed by the Aero club.

PIILING IT ON.

Sir Michael Hicks-Beach hints at imposition of Greater Taxes and Loans. LONDON, Nov. 5.—What is regarded as an important announcement preparing the people of Great Britain for new taxes and fresh loans was made last night by the chancellor of the exchequer Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, in a speech at Bristol.

After alluding to the "enormous increase in the ordinary expenditures" of the government, he reviewed the war taxes and said that the ever increasing demand of the national exchequer gave reasons for careful thought and even anxiety for the future.

"The cost of the war in South Africa is enormous," said Sir Michael. "It still drags on. It may be, when next year comes, that I may have to ask the people of this country to bear even greater burdens and to make even greater sacrifices."

USELESS TO FIGHT NATURE.

Willis L. Moore On the Matter of Preventing Storms by Use of Explosives.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Professor Willis L. Moore, acting secretary of agriculture, has issued an official statement concerning the matter of the attempted prevention of hailstorms by the use of explosives from specially designed canons. Brief reference is made to the renewed interest in the subject lately in France and Italy and to the apparatus now in use in conducting the experiments.

"After examining all that has been published during the past two years on the subject of hail prevention I have to repeat the opinion heretofore expressed that we have here to do with a popular delusion and that efforts should be made to prevent its spread in this country. The great processes going on in the atmosphere are conducted on too large a scale for any man or any nation to attempt to control them. The energy expended by nature in the production of a hailstorm is a tornado or a rainstorm probably exceeds the combined energy of all the steam engines and explosives in the world. It is useless for man to attempt to combat nature on this scale."

Strong efforts were made to secure the release of the prisoner, but he appeared guilty and the court would not suspend sentence.

HEAVY BRITISH LOSS.

Disastrous Encounter With Boers In Eastern Transvaal.

Many Other Officers Fell—Total Loss 67 Dead and 160 Wounded—Boers Made Rear Attack—Fighting Was at Close Quarters and Very Determined. Colonel Benson Among the Killed.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Lord Kitchener has reported to the war office a disaster to the British near Bethel, Eastern Transvaal, in which two guns were lost, several officers killed or wounded and 54 men killed and 100 wounded. The following is the text of Lord Kitchener's dispatch, dated Pretoria, Nov. 1:

"Colonel Barter, who marched from the constabulary line yesterday reached Benson's column early this morning (Friday) unopposed. He reports that Colonel Benson died of his wounds.

"The other casualties are the following: Killed—Colonel Guinness, Major F. D. Murray, Captains M. W. Lindsay and F. H. Thorold, Lieutenants E. V. L. Brooke and R. E. Shepard and Second Lieutenant A. J. Corlett. Died of his wounds—Captain Eyre-Loyd.

Lord Kitchener then gives the names of 13 other officers who were wounded, most of them severely, and announces that 54 non-commissioned officers and men were killed and 100 wounded, adding that four of the latter have since died of their wounds.

"The dispatch then says: 'I assume that the two guns have been recovered and the enemy has withdrawn but I have no further details. 'I deeply regret the loss of Colonel Benson and the officers and men who fell with him. In Benson the service loses a most gallant and capable officer, who invariably led his column with marked success and judgment.

"The fighting was at very close quarters and maintained with great determination on both sides. The enemy suffered heavily but I have not yet received a reliable estimate. 'The Boers retired east.' Colonel Benson had been for some time operating in the vicinity of Bethel, which is northeast of Standerton. He surprised a Boer laager Oct. 22, near Triebshofstein, taking 37 prisoners. Three days later, according to Lord Kitchener's report, the commandos under Grootboom and Erasmus 'heavily' attacked Benson's rear guard and flanked at Yrekafontein, but were easily driven away.

Whether this was the attack which resulted so disastrously or whether the Boers, who had been repulsed, took advantage of the mist to renew the attack is still unexplained. Lord Kitchener does not give the date of the Bethel engagement.

WE'VE GOT TOO MUCH MONEY.

Coin Is Piling Up In Treasury and Gage Wants to Buy Back Bonds. WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Reserving the right to discontinue without previous notice, the treasury department yesterday announced that for the present it will accept offerings of United States bonds tendered at the treasury department in Washington or at the sub-treasuries, New York, at prices to yield the government interest as follows on the 3 per cent bonds, loan of 1902-1918, 5 per cent bonds, loan of 1904, and 4 per cent bonds funded, loan of 1907, to yield 4.25% and on the 4 per cent bonds, loan of 1905, to yield 4.00%.

In speaking of this action in resuming the purchase of the bonds Secretary Gage said: "The terms I offer are practically the same as those under which the purchases were made under the last call. I took the market quotations and made the price about the same as the last offers and bids, which, of course, is a share above the price at which the actual transactions were made. This I believe to be entirely fair to both the government and to the bondholders. My reason for making the offer at this time is that I find from today's treasury bond statistics that the treasury has in hand $9,391,552 more than we paid out and for this single day the excess of receipts over expenditures was $1,081,444. The circulation of the country could not stand this drain very long without being affected seriously, and as I do not wish to increase the deposits in the national bank, I have decided to buy back the bonds. I can give no approximate idea of how long this offer will remain open or how many bonds I shall purchase. Bondholders who wish to sell would do well not to count on any great length of time."

Receipts and Expenditures.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—The monthly statement of the government receipts and expenditures shows that for the month of October, 1901, the total receipts were $49,831,952 and the expenditures $49,945,833, which leaves a surplus for the month of $9,186,117. The receipts were nearly $2,000,000 less than for October, 1900, and the expenditures nearly $7,300,000 less. The receipts from the several sources of revenue are given as follows:

Customs, $23,415,570, an increase over October, 1900, of nearly $5,000,000; internal revenue, $23,511,649, decrease, $1,109,000; miscellaneous, $2,904,732; decrease, $477,000.

The expenditures on account of the war department were $9,543,470; decrease, $5,700,000; on account of the navy, $6,124,273; increase, $1,500,000. For the four months of the present fiscal year the total receipts were $197,980,841, a decrease of $5,400,000 from those of the corresponding period last year. The expenditures aggregated $194,019,971, a decrease of $27,000,000 as compared with the corresponding period of 1900.

SCRANTON, Nov. 1.—A now masked man broke into the home of Mrs. Ann Welles, a 90-year-old widow of Scott, early Wednesday morning, and after binding and gagging her and her invalid son, who was her only companion, ransacked the house.

They could find only $1,500, and in their chagrin they brutally maltreated the old woman and her boy to make them disclose where they kept their supposed wealth. There was no money in the house other than what the thieves got, and when they became convinced of this they left.

The old woman succeeded in releasing her hands after an hour's tugging at the ropes which bound them, and dragging herself to a neighbor's house gave the alarm. The whole country was aroused, but no trace of the brutes could be found.
