

FIRE INSURANCE AND REAL ESTATE AGENCY

C. M. ARNER & SON, TIONESTA, PA.

All Leading Companies Represented. Wild Lands, Farms, Houses & Lots for Sale or Rent.

LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

New Advertisements.

Joe Levi, Ad. Hopkins, Ad. Lammers, Ad. Robinson, Ad. McCuen Co., Ad. Heath & Feil, Ad. Killmer Bros., Ad. Devos & Co., Readers. Nickel Plate, Reader. Snowdon & Clark, Ad.

Oil market closed at $1.55. Oil and gas leases at this office. The first day of the second lap on the 20th century run.

Brundage's celebrated bread kept fresh at the White Star Grocery.

Ferry Stewart bought in a dry hole on the Wood lot, Stewart Run, last week.

The State Normal at Clarion is doing much to give our young people a practical and intellectual uplift.

About ten couples of our young people attended a New Year's eve dancing party at Tidion's last evening.

Stop at the White Star Grocery when you are on your way to dinner or supper through the cold and get a quart of fresh oysters.

Monday there was excellent sleighing throughout this section. In town here it was "so good," but out on the hills they say it was fine.

Don't think that because Christmas is over that the White Star Grocery is not well stocked with choicest fruits and vegetables, groceries, oyster, etc.

Peter Walley, one of the old residents of Clarion, Clarion county, and well known to many of our readers, died on Sunday last. He was about 75 years of age.

Jury Commissioners Young and Reynolds will meet next Monday to re-fill the wheel for the ensuing year, and draw the jury for February term of court.

The joint installation of officers of Stow Post 24, and W. R. C. No. 157, will take place at their hall this Wednesday evening.

The line of groceries handled at the White Star Grocery is unexcelled for purity in quality. The prices there are as low, if not lower than at other stores. Why not buy there?

George Holman, Will Hunter, Z. T. Shriver and Charley Ench, for the past six weeks at Fannettown, where they finished a nice well for the Tionesta parties interested there, are home for a few days, expecting to return the latter part of the week.

Following is the list of letters remaining uncalled for in the Tionesta, Pa., Post Office, for the week ending Jan. 1, 1902: Miss Nellie Smith, John Rogers, Mrs. Jones Bros., D. S. Knox, P. M.

Peter Young of Green Gap, lost his driving horse by death one day last week. The disease was a peculiar one, a post-mortem examination revealing an endless quantity of worms of all sizes and lengths in the stomach and bowels.

Mr. and Mrs. Axel Arnsen of the West Side were called upon to mourn the death of their infant son, which occurred on Thursday last, aged about one month.

Rev. J. V. McAninch conducted the funeral services on Friday afternoon last.

If you wish to be a practical book-keeper, a speaker, a debater, a first class musician, or a teacher, attend the Edinboro State Normal School. Winter term begins Dec. 30. For particulars write the principal.

We are in receipt of the premium list of the Warren County Poultry and Pet Stock Association, announcing the third annual exhibition to be held at the armory in Warren on Jan. 13, 17, 1902.

The first verdict for first degree murder within the history of Armstrong county was rendered last week by a jury having before it the case of Frank Duda, convicted of the murder of his cousin, Joe Pelelem, in Kittanning several months ago.

The new curfew bell recently purchased by the borough council has been put in place and the present method of ringing is a decided improvement over the hideous saw hammering process. The curfew law has undoubtedly proven a success in Tionesta.

Prof. Emory R. Johnson, one of the members of the Isthmian Canal Commission, contributes to the Review of Reviews for January a compact and well-digested account of the commission's work, summarizing the more important features of the report recently laid before Congress.

J. M. McCullough of Nebraska, who was so severely burned a fortnight ago, while looking after the gas plant up on Fox creek, is recovering nicely from his injuries. To save himself he was obliged to plunge into the creek, and notwithstanding that his face and hands were very badly burned.

Moland Brothers, who purchased the Braunschweig block, will occupy the store room in which the James Dry Goods store is now located after April 1. Mr. James has secured the large store rooms formerly occupied by Smart & Silberberg, on Center street, and will move in early next spring.

FOR SALE.

At once, on account of death in the family, at invoice, a stock of general merchandise in the E. S. Setley store building. Call or address lock box 235, West Hickory, Pa. If V. Wood, Mgr.

YOU AND YOUR FRIENDS.

—Ex-Judge Nash of Hovey, was a pleasant caller Monday.

—Dr. F. J. Howard was a business visitor to Oil City on Monday.

—Sheriff J. W. Jamison went to Sandy Lake on business yesterday.

—"Nim" Craig is visiting his brother, Will, at South Wallis, N. Y.

—Mrs. E. D. Wasson returned Monday from a visit with friends in Meadville.

—Howard Kelly is home from Kiskiminetus college for the holiday vacation.

—J. F. Jones of Nebraska, was a recent pleasant caller at the Republican's office.

—V. G. Armstrong, was up from Franklin to spend Sunday with his family.

—Miss Florence Hazyry is home from Allegheny College for the holiday vacation.

—Mary N. Haight of Clarion, this county, has been granted a pension of $8 per month.

—W. J. Bloomfield and mother, of Troutville, were visitors to the county seat on Monday.

—Fred Rudolph and J. Ed. Osgood of Newtown Mills, were in during the week and renewed for 1902.

—Mrs. G. H. Killmer returned Monday from a visit with her mother, Mrs. G. W. Dunkle, in Oil City.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hart, who have been visiting relatives here went to their home in Oil City last evening.

—Mrs. Deo and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Walter Deo, of South Oil City are guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Haslet.

—Miss Bertha McKee and little sister Martha spent Xmas with their aunt, Mrs. C. J. Stewart, of Endeavor, Pa.

—Miss Artie Robinson returned Monday from Reynoldsville, where she had been to attend the funeral of her aunt.

—Miss Mamie O'Hara, is up from Pittsburgh on a visit to her brother, Henry O'Hara, for a few days vacation.

—Mrs. Chas. Falwell and children of Pleasantville, who have been visiting her sister, Mrs. K. C. Heath, returned Monday.

—J. C. Geist was down from Brookston Monday, and the Republican acknowledges a pleasant call from him during his stay.

—Martin Knorr, employed at L. Fulton's harness shop, was in Jamestown, N. Y., to eat Christmas turkey with his family.

—W. S. McCuen, the efficient agent of the Pennsylvania and Lake Shore railroads at Oil City was a business visitor to Tionesta Monday.

—Miss Christine Agnew, teacher of the school at Cooper Tract, was home to spend Christmas with her mother, Mrs. Jennie E. Agnew.

—Miss Susie and Master Roy Huling returned Saturday from a two week's visit with relatives in Claysville, Washington county, Pa.

—Mrs. C. F. Weaver and children returned last Thursday from a week's visit with her sister, Mrs. Gust Horn, at Youngstown, Ohio.

—W. W. Grove and J. P. Grove and Henry Yarnel left for Glasgow, Kentucky, yesterday noon, where they have a number of wells to drill.

—Charlie Wheeler who has been living with his uncle, Mr. W. J. McKee, spent Xmas with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Wheeler, of Stoneham, Pa.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. G. McKnight and daughter, Kittle, of Oil City, spent Christmas as the guests of Mrs. M's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Campbell.

—Messrs. Shick, Turner, and Prof. Carringer of Marienville came down last Friday and enjoyed the banquet given for their Masonic brethren on that evening.

—Messrs. A. K. Shippe and O. J. Die I of Marienville, were business visitors here last Thursday, and found time to give the Republican's office a pleasant call during their stay.

—S. W. Mong and family arrived from Bowling Green, Ohio, where they have resided for the past year or two, and will spend a couple of months with their Forest county friends.

—Miss Blanche Tallman, the music teacher who broke her leg by a fall at Nebraska last Halloween, is able to be about again with the aid of crutches, and is here teaching her pupils.

—Mrs. Samuel Farmer, who has been confined to her bed for the past three weeks on account of internal injuries received by a fall on the side walk near the court house, is slowly improving.

—John H. Shunk one of Whig Hill's industrious farmers gave us a pleasant call Friday afternoon, being in town with a load of grain which he had put through the proper process at the Lanson mill.

—Mrs. Josephine Evans and son, Edward, of West Bridgewater, Pa., who were visiting her daughter, Miss Maggie Evans, at the home of J. P. Grove, during the past week, returned to their home Monday.

—Mrs. Robert Cannon and Miss Ula Urey, of Sandy Lake, and Miss Nora Reed, of New Lebanon, Pa., who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Urey during the past week, have returned to their homes.

—W. H. Morgan, foreman of the quarry at Tionesta, returned Tuesday from a visit to his family at Hughsville, Pa. He is accompanied by his son W. J., who will start in the factory to learn the trade of carver.

—Edwin Baker, who has been visiting his mother Mrs. Verna Baker, for the past two weeks, returned Monday to Killgore, Mercer county, to spend the winter with his grandparents. Mrs. Baker accompanied him as far as Oil City.

—Miss Sarah Morrow departed Monday for Rochester, N. Y., where she will spend the winter with her aunt, and enter the Rochester-Mechanical Institute as a student. Sadie's many young friends here will wish her a pleasant and profitable sojourn.

—Among the out-of-town relatives who attended the funeral of the late Harold Sharpe here last Thursday: Mr. Benjamin W. May and Mr. J. B. Legnard of Chicago, Mrs. Helen, Miss Mary Bates and Mrs. Charles Black of Tionesta, Mr. William Legnard of Franklin, and Mr. Edward Kelly of Pittsburgh.

Stops the Cough and works off the Cold. Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets cure a cold in one day. No cure, no pay. Price 25 cents. 11-27-ly

RECENT DEATHS.

MRS. E. A. YETTER.

Jennie, eldest daughter of John E. and Susan M. Leech, was born near Tylersburg, Pa., March 28, 1880, and died at Marienville, Pa., December 17, 1901.

In our last issue we briefly mentioned the sudden death of Mrs. Yetter, the news of which just reached us as we were going to press. And, since no better example of noble womanhood has ever been given to the world than she whose brief record of 22 years has recently been closed, we deem it justly fitting that a more extended account of her life be given.

When Mrs. Yetter was but a two-year-old child, her father, who was a son of the Rev. John Leech of Clarion county, died. But the orphaned daughter was fortunate in possessing a brave mother of great force of character who afforded her children every opportunity within her power of becoming good and useful members of society, and the gentle, unobtrusive refinement of her daughter Jennie was cultivated in school and seminary life as well as by associations which attended these advantages.

At the close of her school life at Carrer Seminary, Miss Leech became a teacher, in which sphere of labor and usefulness she continued till 1884, when she became the wife of Eugene A. Yetter, an enterprising young man of marked ability. To this companionship she proved a true help-mate, a wise counselor, and a most devoted wife whose many excellencies of womanly grace were appreciated by him. To them were given six children as "an heritage of the Lord": Ellen, Earle, Effie, Margarette, Madeline and Lenore, the lady, but one and a half years old. In her home life Mrs. Yetter found her keenest enjoyment and here the real beauty of her character was shown out with greatest brilliancy.

The angelic qualities of a true mother's love revealed itself in her untiring devotion to the care and training of her children, and her home was a resort of love, joy, peace and contentment. The sweetness of her contentment was like a sweet sunlight in the home, and her graciousness to everyone who chanced to meet her there endeared her to all. Surely it may well be said of her: "Her children arise up, and all her blessed, her husband also, and he praiseth her." Early in life she became a follower of Christ and for many years she was a faithful, consistent member of the Methodist Episcopal church of Marienville. Although a woman of modest, even timid manners, and of gentle disposition, yet she was deeply interested in all the events of church and state and was ever ready and willing to do whatever she could for the uplifting of humanity. She was a charter member of the W. C. T. U. of Marienville and an efficient worker in the Ladies' Aid Society in connection with the M. E. church, in whose interest she was doing some work when taken suddenly ill on the 12th day of December, with pleuro pneumonia. Her suffering was most severe but of short duration. On the Tuesday evening following, her work being ended, she quietly passed away like the mist, as it clears in the sunlight. While to her life was God's gift and she prized and improved it as such, and for her there was much attraction in her home, yet she was ready to relinquish life at His call to take something better that was in store for her. The pathway seemed to grow too steep the body was tired, but her faith firm and strong in Him who "giveth his beloved sleep." Her death was one of victory and triumph, she committing the keeping of her loved ones to the tender care of her Shepherd. Although she has left a priceless heritage in her words and deeds of love, yet the world need her and her going so soon is a special loss to everyone, especially to her family and to her aged mother, now Mrs. Whitehill of Marienville, for whom she was ever thoughtful. Her death is the first in a family of brothers and sisters who loved each other dearly, and the loss is keenly felt by her only sister, Mrs. J. E. Wenk, of this place, and by her brothers Charles S. Leech, of Harriman, Tenn., Scott E. Leech, of Mannington, W. Va., Edgar Leech and Prof. C. E. Whitehill, of Marienville.

Funeral services were conducted Thursday afternoon following her death, by her pastor Rev. W. E. Frampton who eulogized the beautiful Christian life of Mrs. Yetter. As a token of respect and esteem for Mrs. Yetter, all places of business in Marienville were closed during the funeral services, and the institute adjourned in time for all those who wished, to attend the services. The floral offerings from relatives, friends and teachers and children of the public schools were beautiful and abundant, and as the body lay in state literally embowered with roses, carnations, smilax, the scores which came and went caught a faint glimpse of the beauties that await all those who rejoice at His coming.

HAROLD MAY SHARPE.

Harold May Sharpe, only son of Mrs. Susan H. Sharpe, was born at Mansfield, Ohio, August 11, 1873, and died suddenly at Chicago, Ill., December 23, 1901. As the message of the sudden death of our friend Harold was wired from Chicago on Christmas eve, it spread a gloom over Tionesta deeper than the mist and shadows of the coming night. Almost without a warning, it seemed, a young life so full of promise was suddenly snatched from kindred and friends, and was conveyed beyond that mystic veil that hides time from eternity, and hearts were saddened as the news reached them. When but an infant Harold was brought to Tionesta and was reared in the beautiful home of his grand-father, the late H. Huntington May. It was here his childhood and youth were passed, and Tionesta is pleased to count him as one of her sons. His kind heart and generous spirit made him a general favorite among his companions in his youth, and these, with his talent and pleasing manners, won him many friends in his manhood. He was generous to a fault, often giving his last dollar to some needy person, when on his way home from his place of business, even when it necessitated his walking a long distance.

At an early age he was sent to the Hill School, Pottstown, Pa., where he was educated. When but 17, he went to Chicago and entered the employ of the May, Purington & Bonner Brick Co., in whose employ he continued until he enlisted in the First Regiment, Illinois Volunteer Infantry in the Span sh-American War.

As a soldier he was brave and courageous, enduring hardships and privations without a murmur. His regiment was

RECENT DEATHS.

MRS. E. A. YETTER.

Jennie, eldest daughter of John E. and Susan M. Leech, was born near Tylersburg, Pa., March 28, 1880, and died at Marienville, Pa., December 17, 1901.

In our last issue we briefly mentioned the sudden death of Mrs. Yetter, the news of which just reached us as we were going to press. And, since no better example of noble womanhood has ever been given to the world than she whose brief record of 22 years has recently been closed, we deem it justly fitting that a more extended account of her life be given.

When Mrs. Yetter was but a two-year-old child, her father, who was a son of the Rev. John Leech of Clarion county, died. But the orphaned daughter was fortunate in possessing a brave mother of great force of character who afforded her children every opportunity within her power of becoming good and useful members of society, and the gentle, unobtrusive refinement of her daughter Jennie was cultivated in school and seminary life as well as by associations which attended these advantages.

At the close of her school life at Carrer Seminary, Miss Leech became a teacher, in which sphere of labor and usefulness she continued till 1884, when she became the wife of Eugene A. Yetter, an enterprising young man of marked ability. To this companionship she proved a true help-mate, a wise counselor, and a most devoted wife whose many excellencies of womanly grace were appreciated by him. To them were given six children as "an heritage of the Lord": Ellen, Earle, Effie, Margarette, Madeline and Lenore, the lady, but one and a half years old. In her home life Mrs. Yetter found her keenest enjoyment and here the real beauty of her character was shown out with greatest brilliancy.

The angelic qualities of a true mother's love revealed itself in her untiring devotion to the care and training of her children, and her home was a resort of love, joy, peace and contentment. The sweetness of her contentment was like a sweet sunlight in the home, and her graciousness to everyone who chanced to meet her there endeared her to all. Surely it may well be said of her: "Her children arise up, and all her blessed, her husband also, and he praiseth her." Early in life she became a follower of Christ and for many years she was a faithful, consistent member of the Methodist Episcopal church of Marienville. Although a woman of modest, even timid manners, and of gentle disposition, yet she was deeply interested in all the events of church and state and was ever ready and willing to do whatever she could for the uplifting of humanity. She was a charter member of the W. C. T. U. of Marienville and an efficient worker in the Ladies' Aid Society in connection with the M. E. church, in whose interest she was doing some work when taken suddenly ill on the 12th day of December, with pleuro pneumonia. Her suffering was most severe but of short duration. On the Tuesday evening following, her work being ended, she quietly passed away like the mist, as it clears in the sunlight. While to her life was God's gift and she prized and improved it as such, and for her there was much attraction in her home, yet she was ready to relinquish life at His call to take something better that was in store for her. The pathway seemed to grow too steep the body was tired, but her faith firm and strong in Him who "giveth his beloved sleep." Her death was one of victory and triumph, she committing the keeping of her loved ones to the tender care of her Shepherd. Although she has left a priceless heritage in her words and deeds of love, yet the world need her and her going so soon is a special loss to everyone, especially to her family and to her aged mother, now Mrs. Whitehill of Marienville, for whom she was ever thoughtful. Her death is the first in a family of brothers and sisters who loved each other dearly, and the loss is keenly felt by her only sister, Mrs. J. E. Wenk, of this place, and by her brothers Charles S. Leech, of Harriman, Tenn., Scott E. Leech, of Mannington, W. Va., Edgar Leech and Prof. C. E. Whitehill, of Marienville.

Funeral services were conducted Thursday afternoon following her death, by her pastor Rev. W. E. Frampton who eulogized the beautiful Christian life of Mrs. Yetter. As a token of respect and esteem for Mrs. Yetter, all places of business in Marienville were closed during the funeral services, and the institute adjourned in time for all those who wished, to attend the services. The floral offerings from relatives, friends and teachers and children of the public schools were beautiful and abundant, and as the body lay in state literally embowered with roses, carnations, smilax, the scores which came and went caught a faint glimpse of the beauties that await all those who rejoice at His coming.

HAROLD MAY SHARPE.

Harold May Sharpe, only son of Mrs. Susan H. Sharpe, was born at Mansfield, Ohio, August 11, 1873, and died suddenly at Chicago, Ill., December 23, 1901. As the message of the sudden death of our friend Harold was wired from Chicago on Christmas eve, it spread a gloom over Tionesta deeper than the mist and shadows of the coming night. Almost without a warning, it seemed, a young life so full of promise was suddenly snatched from kindred and friends, and was conveyed beyond that mystic veil that hides time from eternity, and hearts were saddened as the news reached them. When but an infant Harold was brought to Tionesta and was reared in the beautiful home of his grand-father, the late H. Huntington May. It was here his childhood and youth were passed, and Tionesta is pleased to count him as one of her sons. His kind heart and generous spirit made him a general favorite among his companions in his youth, and these, with his talent and pleasing manners, won him many friends in his manhood. He was generous to a fault, often giving his last dollar to some needy person, when on his way home from his place of business, even when it necessitated his walking a long distance.

At an early age he was sent to the Hill School, Pottstown, Pa., where he was educated. When but 17, he went to Chicago and entered the employ of the May, Purington & Bonner Brick Co., in whose employ he continued until he enlisted in the First Regiment, Illinois Volunteer Infantry in the Span sh-American War.

As a soldier he was brave and courageous, enduring hardships and privations without a murmur. His regiment was

RECENT DEATHS.

MRS. E. A. YETTER.

Jennie, eldest daughter of John E. and Susan M. Leech, was born near Tylersburg, Pa., March 28, 1880, and died at Marienville, Pa., December 17, 1901.

In our last issue we briefly mentioned the sudden death of Mrs. Yetter, the news of which just reached us as we were going to press. And, since no better example of noble womanhood has ever been given to the world than she whose brief record of 22 years has recently been closed, we deem it justly fitting that a more extended account of her life be given.

When Mrs. Yetter was but a two-year-old child, her father, who was a son of the Rev. John Leech of Clarion county, died. But the orphaned daughter was fortunate in possessing a brave mother of great force of character who afforded her children every opportunity within her power of becoming good and useful members of society, and the gentle, unobtrusive refinement of her daughter Jennie was cultivated in school and seminary life as well as by associations which attended these advantages.

At the close of her school life at Carrer Seminary, Miss Leech became a teacher, in which sphere of labor and usefulness she continued till 1884, when she became the wife of Eugene A. Yetter, an enterprising young man of marked ability. To this companionship she proved a true help-mate, a wise counselor, and a most devoted wife whose many excellencies of womanly grace were appreciated by him. To them were given six children as "an heritage of the Lord": Ellen, Earle, Effie, Margarette, Madeline and Lenore, the lady, but one and a half years old. In her home life Mrs. Yetter found her keenest enjoyment and here the real beauty of her character was shown out with greatest brilliancy.

The angelic qualities of a true mother's love revealed itself in her untiring devotion to the care and training of her children, and her home was a resort of love, joy, peace and contentment. The sweetness of her contentment was like a sweet sunlight in the home, and her graciousness to everyone who chanced to meet her there endeared her to all. Surely it may well be said of her: "Her children arise up, and all her blessed, her husband also, and he praiseth her." Early in life she became a follower of Christ and for many years she was a faithful, consistent member of the Methodist Episcopal church of Marienville. Although a woman of modest, even timid manners, and of gentle disposition, yet she was deeply interested in all the events of church and state and was ever ready and willing to do whatever she could for the uplifting of humanity. She was a charter member of the W. C. T. U. of Marienville and an efficient worker in the Ladies' Aid Society in connection with the M. E. church, in whose interest she was doing some work when taken suddenly ill on the 12th day of December, with pleuro pneumonia. Her suffering was most severe but of short duration. On the Tuesday evening following, her work being ended, she quietly passed away like the mist, as it clears in the sunlight. While to her life was God's gift and she prized and improved it as such, and for her there was much attraction in her home, yet she was ready to relinquish life at His call to take something better that was in store for her. The pathway seemed to grow too steep the body was tired, but her faith firm and strong in Him who "giveth his beloved sleep." Her death was one of victory and triumph, she committing the keeping of her loved ones to the tender care of her Shepherd. Although she has left a priceless heritage in her words and deeds of love, yet the world need her and her going so soon is a special loss to everyone, especially to her family and to her aged mother, now Mrs. Whitehill of Marienville, for whom she was ever thoughtful. Her death is the first in a family of brothers and sisters who loved each other dearly, and the loss is keenly felt by her only sister, Mrs. J. E. Wenk, of this place, and by her brothers Charles S. Leech, of Harriman, Tenn., Scott E. Leech, of Mannington, W. Va., Edgar Leech and Prof. C. E. Whitehill, of Marienville.

Funeral services were conducted Thursday afternoon following her death, by her pastor Rev. W. E. Frampton who eulogized the beautiful Christian life of Mrs. Yetter. As a token of respect and esteem for Mrs. Yetter, all places of business in Marienville were closed during the funeral services, and the institute adjourned in time for all those who wished, to attend the services. The floral offerings from relatives, friends and teachers and children of the public schools were beautiful and abundant, and as the body lay in state literally embowered with roses, carnations, smilax, the scores which came and went caught a faint glimpse of the beauties that await all those who rejoice at His coming.

HAROLD MAY SHARPE.

Harold May Sharpe, only son of Mrs. Susan H. Sharpe, was born at Mansfield, Ohio, August 11, 1873, and died suddenly at Chicago, Ill., December 23, 1901. As the message of the sudden death of our friend Harold was wired from Chicago on Christmas eve, it spread a gloom over Tionesta deeper than the mist and shadows of the coming night. Almost without a warning, it seemed, a young life so full of promise was suddenly snatched from kindred and friends, and was conveyed beyond that mystic veil that hides time from eternity, and hearts were saddened as the news reached them. When but an infant Harold was brought to Tionesta and was reared in the beautiful home of his grand-father, the late H. Huntington May. It was here his childhood and youth were passed, and Tionesta is pleased to count him as one of her sons. His kind heart and generous spirit made him a general favorite among his companions in his youth, and these, with his talent and pleasing manners, won him many friends in his manhood. He was generous to a fault, often giving his last dollar to some needy person, when on his way home from his place of business, even when it necessitated his walking a long distance.

At an early age he was sent to the Hill School, Pottstown, Pa., where he was educated. When but 17, he went to Chicago and entered the employ of the May, Purington & Bonner Brick Co., in whose employ he continued until he enlisted in the First Regiment, Illinois Volunteer Infantry in the Span sh-American War.

As a soldier he was brave and courageous, enduring hardships and privations without a murmur. His regiment was

L. J. HOPKINS.

TAKING STOCK

This Week. Too busy to write an ad. But if you'll give us a call we'll quote you prices that will cause you to "Take Stock."

L. J. Hopkins.

THE GIFT--

WHAT TO BUY and WHERE TO BUY IT.

Two very important questions, and two questions this store asks permission to answer for you. Of course, we would say, "Come here." See why.

Handkerchiefs. Three Children's, all linen, in a fancy box $1.50. Ladies' Cambric, initial, six in a fancy box $1.00. Ladies' Linen, initial, six in a fancy box $1.00. Ladies' Cambric, initial, one dozen in a fancy box $1.50. Ladies' Cambric, initial, each, $1.50. Ladies' handkerchiefs, embroidered, one dozen in a fancy box $1.50. Men's Linen, initial, 25 each, six in a fancy box $1.50. Men's silk, initial, each $1.00.

Furs. Haven't mentioned furs for several days--stock has run so low. A hundred new ones by express to-day. So, now we feel we're able to suit you. Start this way. Imitation Stone Martin, cluster of tails $1.50. Martin Sear, cluster six tails, $5 and up to $49.00. Most any kind of fur.

Umbrellas. For gifts, 50c to $5.00 Children's size $1.25. Sterling Silver. A hundred different novelties, all stamped sterling, 25c to $1.50 and $1.00 each.

Christmas Cards and Art Calendars. 1c to $2.00 each. A better price for quantities.

A Suggestion Window. If you can't make up your mind, possibly our Center Street window will offer a suggestion.

Hand Chateaus. A gift--your own handwork--many people making them. Tops, Beads, Chains for lining and the twist. We have all of them. Pin Cushion Moulds 5c to 25c.

WILLIAM B. JAMES.

Write for Samples. Telephone home, either line, 257. 203 CENTRE & 204 SYCAMORE STS., OIL CITY, PA.

WINTER IS HERE IN EARNEST.

And Old Boreas is Blowing to Beat the Band.

Come to the New Store for MITTENS, MUFFLERS and RUBBER GOODS.

Come to the Drug Store

NEXT SATURDAY, Jan. 4,

and get a FREE SAMPLE of

Dr. Chase's NERVE PILLS.

See Ad. in Another Column.

Killmer Bros.

Price Reductions

On Men's Youths' and Children's Overcoats.

The biggest overcoat business in our history has left us with an unusually large number of broken lots, and a great number of the finer grades.

These coats, whether men's or boys' or children's, are all the past seven years and have never known it to fall," says James F. Killmer, proprietor, Annapolis, Md. Jamaica, West India Islands. The pants in the chest indicate an approaching attack of pneumonia, which in this instance was undoubtedly ward off by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It counteracts any tendency of a cold toward pneumonia. Sold by Killmer Bros., Tionesta, W. G. Wilkins West Hickory, Pa.

MARRIED.