-The County Telephone people have rented one of the pleasant rooms over the Forest County National bank, and will move their central office shortly. It will be a better arrangement all round, the "hello" girls and the public generally being much better accommodated.

-Someone blew so hard on the blow machine at the Weaver Hotel last week one day as to bust it, at the same time blowing about 500 pennies out of it. There was no honest man about when the thing was going on, so Charlie is at a loss to know who the big blow-head can be.

-The Punxsutawney Republican says that the solemnity of a revival meeting at that place was disturbed by a local printer, who printed a small card, which was used in the service, and which read "You must be saved; why not to-night," so as to read "You must be shaved; why not to-night."

-Remember that Wednesday, January 23rd, has been designated McKinley Day by Governor Stone. He advises that this day and the Sunday preceding be celebrated in schools and churches and that the people of Pennsylvania contribute to the fund for a monument at the grave of the late President, William McKinley.

-What's the matter with Forest county at the chicken shows? Last week County Treasurer Keller and James Haslet, of this place took to the Warren Poultry Show, and came near scooping the whole roost when the prizes were awarded. Mr. Haslet got first prize on a white Plymouth Rock hen, first on black Minorca rooster, first on Minorca cockle, first on Minorca hen and first and second on Minorca pullet. Mr. Keller easily walked off with first and second on partridge Wyandot males, first, second and fourth on Wyandot ballers, and first on old male bird Wyandots. Mr. Keller has entered some stock for the show which is to take place at Sharon next week, and will doubtless take about everything in sight, as he generally does wherever his stock is entered.

Severe Accident to Sleighing Party.

A sleighing party composed of Horace Walters and Claude Hepler and Misses Nellie Platner and Maude Connelly, met with an accident about half past ten o'clock Sunday evening by which Miss Platner sustained a very serious fracture of the left arm, and one of the horses of the team had a leg broken and had to be shot. The party was returning from a ride out toward Stewart's Run and had reached a place on the Hunter run road, about a quarter of a mile up from the mouth, when in some manner the sleigh struck the side of the bank throwing the occupants out. The young lady named Walters was very severely injured, but the others escaped with only slight bruises. She was taken to the home of F. F. Ritchey where Miss Connelly is staying, and Dr. Dunn was called and rendered the proper surgical aid. He found a compound fracture of the left arm and a dislocation of the same at the elbow joint. She was able to be taken to her home at East Hickory the next day. The horse which had to be shot was one of Liveryman Urey's handsome sorrel team, and one of his best driving horses.

Barn and Contents Burned.

Friday morning last, about 9 o'clock a large barn on what is known as the Hall farm, Fleming Hill, Harmony township, and owned by T. J. Bowman of East Hickory, was totally destroyed by fire, together with all its contents. The farm is rented by M. W. Tocker, who had stored in the barn all his farm machinery, about 50 tons of hay, a lot of straw, corn fodder, etc., and whose loss will be about $1,000, and is total, for he had no insurance. The building we understand had some insurance on it but not nearly enough to cover the loss. The origin of the fire is a mystery. A. J. Siggins, who was driving by when the fire was raging, tied his horse and ran to the building, but could do nothing to stay the flames. He noticed in the snow the track of one man leading into the barn, but could find no place where the track led away. This leads to the belief that someone may have been burned up in the barn, though the closest scrutiny of the ashes revealed no evidences of human remains. It is possible some tramp may have gone to the barn during the night and in some manner set fire to the combustible material and himself become a victim to his carelessness. But this is only conjecture.

Ed. Dunkle, of Oil City, May Have Smallpox.

The following from Tuesday's Derrick will be read with much concern by people in this place, where Ed. is so well known: Edward Dunkle, who lives on Bissell avenue, opposite the hospital, is confined to his home and under surveillance while the physicians are as yet non-committal as to the nature of his disease. Dr. Siggins was called in to see the patient Monday about noon and discovered what appeared as early symptoms which might be construed as the breaking out of smallpox. The patient was afflicted with a slight rash, but when other physicians were called in consultation they decided to wait for one or two days before declaring positively that Dunkle is or is not suffering with the infectious malady. The admission was made that the present symptoms are somewhat suspicious, but Health Officer Merritt states that no official notification has yet been given the health board, and the physicians will not express an opinion in advance of further developments which are expected to-day or to-morrow. In the meantime all precautions are being taken to avoid contagion if it should be finally diagnosed as a case of smallpox.

Important Lumbering Deal.

In relation to the lumber deal involving a transfer of a part of the Salmon Creek and other property the Oil City Derrick of yesterday has this to say: "Concerning the big Forest county lumber deal, which was briefly reported in the telegraph columns of the Derrick Monday, a special from Gollina says: One of the largest timber deals ever made in this section was recently concluded by G. F. Watson, of Gollina, and R. L. Buzard & Son, of Brockwayville, who purchased a one-half interest of all the timber owned by T. D. Collins, of Nebraska, Pa., which lies north and east of the Newtown mills, consisting of two saw mills, two shingle mills, to stores, locomotives, logging cars, railroads, teams, dwelling houses, all tools belonging to the establishment and about 10,000 acres of timber, estimated to be from 4,000,000 to 5,000,000 feet of timber. The new company organized is to be called the Salmon Creek Lumber company and will commence doing business the 1st of February, 1902. G. F. Watson, manager of the Gollina mills, will be the general manager of the new company and will have his headquarters at Kelleitville, where he can give the business his entire attention. After the mills are put in good running condition they expect to manufacture about 20,000,000 feet of lumber annually."

Lynch.

The social event of this place last week was the sleighing party composed of the school children. Everyone that was fortunate enough to be invited reports a most enjoyable time.

Messrs. Beardley and Nugent gave another of their successful dances last week. O. E. Rubert and Mrs. Harry Fulton furnished the music.

-Mrs. C. F. Fox spent a few days in Sheffield this week visiting with her cousin, Mr. Henry Sowle.

Pearl Clawges has returned to school, having spent his vacation at home.

Aharah is hauling his bark from Cooper Tract to the tannery at Sheffield, utilizing the fine sleighing. He is also getting a lot of square timber to the creek, to raft in the spring.

Bruce Cain and his men are employed at Roystone helping to rebuild the pump station that was demolished by the gas explosion of two weeks ago.

Miss Maude Corey visited her aunt, Mrs. H. Nugent, over Sunday.

Woodard is Crank.

Frank Woodard, jailed at Meadville as being one of the murderers of Chief of Police Daniel McGrath, is not by any means the model prisoner he is said to have been. For several weeks after his incarceration he acted quite decently, but faded and fretted because he was not allowed the freedom of the jail as were the other prisoners, locked up for minor offenses. Sheriff Scott finally took pity upon him, and while keeping a close surveillance upon the prisoner, allowed him to mix with the other men. Woodard, however, did not seem to appreciate the kindness he was receiving.

Several Titusvillians, at noon yesterday, visited the jail just as dinner was being served. Woodard was seated at the table and when he saw them enter, jumped from his seat and ran up stairs to one of the galleries and began pacing up and down like a wild beast, muttering to himself and showing his teeth like a hyena. The visitors located him and when he saw that they had done so he cursed at them and ran to another gallery, saying he was not a menagerie. The Sheriff, to punish him for his conduct, put him back in his cell and this set him wild. According to the statements of the visitors, he said to the sheriff: "Are you game? If you are, come inside the cell, set it on fire and we'll see who squeals first." It is said that Woodard has intimated that had he run across Patrofle West Marron when the latter was scouring West Virginia for him a few weeks ago the Titusville officer would have been sent home in a roughbox. He is exceedingly bitter against Mr. Marron.

It appears that the criminal is becoming desperate. He has told other prisoners that if he could only get hold of his "gun" for a couple of minutes he would make things very lively in the jail. It is probable that hereafter Mr. Scott will keep the man where he belongs, safely locked in a cell. There are men in the jail who would assist Woodard to escape or would furnish him with the means of committing suicide or weapons to murder the guards. Those imprisoned for petty crimes are not watched very closely and it would be an easy matter for one of their friends or those of the accused murderer to supply some one of them with articles to give to Woodard.

Sheriff Scott very likely has taken precaution to guard against this, but "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" and it will be as well for the officer, though he and his assistants are undoubtedly vigilant, to guard against this by keeping Woodard closely confined away from the reach of other prisoners.—Titusville Courier.

Our Fifth Semi-Annual Remnant & Clearance Sale Commences Friday, Jan. 24th, and closes, Saturday Evening, February 1st, 1902.

These sales we have but twice a year—in January and July—they are the house-cleanings that follow every six month's business. Because of the Honest, Thorough Manner in Which These Sales are Conducted, they have come to be an event looked forward to by every money saver in this vicinity. In the beginning we adopted the plan of marking ALL remnants and goods reduced, in RED INK. This has met with the hearty approval of every one. You're able, then, to tell at a glance, without being waited upon, whether or not an article is cheap, by comparing the Red Ink Prices with the original. We propose making a liberal use of Red Ink to the end that this, our Last Semi-Annual Sale in this building, shall be a record breaker. IN EVERY DEPARTMENT IN WHICH GOODS ARE SOLD BY THE YARD THERE ARE REMNANTS. Many Silk and Dress Goods Remnants in which there is enough for a Waist or Skirt and, very often, enough for an Entire Suit. 300 Dress Goods Remnants, 125 Silk Remnants, over 400 Lace and Embroidery Remnants 50 Foulard Silk Remnants—enough for suit, 500 Remnants Domestic, Remnants of Damask, Crash, Lawns, Linings, Ribbons, Flannels, Draperies, Etc.

"UNTOLD RICHES"

Await the man who will find a way to keep trousers from bagging at the knees—up to this time the nearest approach to such a boon is an extra pair. In our fall and winter suits were many extra pairs of trousers—and there were many pairs of odd ones—several hundred altogether—and more than we want right now—and some very tempting prices have been placed on them to help this decrease. You can find just what you want at $2.00 to $5.00.

This is house cleaning season with us and we've applied the broom with vigor in many places, and if you need a suit or overcoat for next year it will pay you to buy now, as clothing will not be less in price, so if you need anything, buy now.
