A large amount of square timber, principally from the upper end of the creek, was run to the mouth during the past week. It is mostly of the hemlock variety, but a good quality nevertheless, and will be on its way to the lower markets this week, where it bids fair to command a nice figure. 11

A nice deal in timber lands was consummated this week through the real estate agency of C. M. Arner & Son, the purchasers being the Forest Lumber Co., of Marienville, Pa., and composed of Dr. Stonecipher, A. D. Neill and Arcene Gillilan. The tract comprises about 700 acres and lies on both sides of Little Conon creek, beginning about a mile from the mouth of the stream and running up. The principal timber is hemlock and there is estimated to be about 8,000,000 feet. We understand the consideration is private. The new owners expect to operate the tract the coming season. 11

—Rev. J. Y. McAninch, who left last Thursday on his annual vacation, expects to be gone four or five weeks, and thought he might spend the greater portion of his time in the southland when he departed. Mr. McAninch has not been in his usual good health for some weeks past and takes his vacation at this time feeling that he needs the rest. Our entire community will hear of his improvement with greatest pleasure.

—Charles L. Worden, who has had a job of cutting the stock for the Salmon Creek Lumber Co. for several years past, has concluded to quit the woods, having purchased a farm on the east side of the river above Tidouche, and will move there the first of the month. Mr. Worden does well since he moved to Salmon Creek, but it was no boy's play, and he expects to take life a little easier for a time. Sorry to lose him from our county.

THE GIRL DIES, THE MAN LIVES

Tragic Death of Young Girl and Attempted Suicide of Her Lover.

The village of Lickingville, Clarion county, and community surrounding was thrown into a fever of excitement on Thursday last by the discovery of the tragic death of Miss Katie Harmon aged about 19 years, and the attempted suicide of her lover, Fred Frill, who is about 22 years of age, and both are residents of that vicinity.

On the morning stated the young man came to the Red Lion Hotel and complained to the proprietor, Mr. Wagner, that he was not feeling well and asked for a bed that he might lie down for a while. He was assigned a room and before retiring told the landlord that Katie Harmon, who lived with her mother a short distance from the hotel, was sick and should have a doctor. No particular notice was paid to this message until about 12:30 o'clock that afternoon when the attention of the people in the hotel was called to peculiar sounds in Frill's bed chamber. The door was broken in and they found him writhing in convulsions. By his side was an empty bottle, the label of which showed that it had contained oil of tansy. Drs. Hess and Beatty were summoned, and by prompt and efficient action, were able to restore the young man, who is again able to be about.

While the doctors were being summoned to attend Frill the people called to mind what he had said about Miss Harmon, and a party went to the Harmon home. They found all of the doors locked and the blinds drawn. The door was forced open and Katie Harmon was found dead in bed and near by were three bottles. One contained some white key, another some green liquid and the other was empty. After viewing the body Dr. Hess, of Fryburg, and Dr. Phillips, of Leeper's declared that she had been dead for at least 12 hours.

It appears the young people had been lovers, and from Frill's remark to Landlord Wagner about the girl's illness it is thought they were together at the Harmon home during the previous night. The parents of the girl had been separated for some months and the mother and daughter had made their home in Lickingville, but the mother was not at home on this occasion.

Squire Michael Willings, acting coroner, empaneled the following jury on Thursday evening and held an inquest: A. Kineb, F. Alexander, D. E. Berhart, H. P. Gilford, John Gilford and C. Sigworth.

A post mortem was held on the body of Katie Harmon on Friday, which proved that the unfortunate girl would have been a mother in about seven months.

A druggist from Fryburg testified before the coroner that afternoon and identified the bottle found on Frill as sold to him by the druggist and that it had contained oil of tansy.

No testimony was adduced to show that Frill had been in the unfortunate young woman's company all Wednesday night, and all that connects him with her death is the fact that he came to the hotel at 11 o'clock on Thursday morning and stated that she was sick, and the testimony of the doctors, when the body was found on Thursday afternoon was to the effect that she had been dead 12 hours.

The post mortem also showed that her death had been caused by oil of tansy and the intent is that it was taken by her with intent to relieve her from her unfortunate condition and subsequent disgrace.

The men who found the girl's dead body in bed at her mother's home testified that the bed clothing had been arranged about her body after her death.

The jury brought in a verdict but it is sealed and will not be opened until they can consult an attorney at Clarion. The young man is under arrest pending further developments in the case.

The unfortunate young girl was a daughter of Daniel Harmon who has lived in the vicinity of Lickingville for many years.

William Church Killed.

William Church second son of Madison Church, met a tragic death while attending his duties as a brakeman on the logging train of the Hickory Valley Railroad at Endeavor, on Wednesday afternoon last. While attempting to make a flyingswitch he was struck on the head by a bolster on one of the log cars and knocked a distance of several feet. He regained his feet, and after rubbing his head a little appeared to be not seriously injured, and was able to go to his boarding house unassisted. He laid down awhile and appeared to be feeling easy and friends had no thought but that he would be all right after a little rest which he seemed to be getting. He soon dropped into a sort of comatose condition, however, from which he could not be aroused, and about 8 o'clock in the evening, two hours after the accident he was dead, the rupturing of a blood vessel of the brain, being attributed as the cause.

The young man was aged 20 years, and had been working with his father, engineering of the train, and an older brother during the past season. The family home is near Mill Village, Erie county, where William stayed during the summer season with his mother and looked after the farm. He had intended leaving for there in a few days to begin the farm work. He was a steady, industrious young man, very much esteemed by his acquaintances.

The remains were taken to Mill Village for burial Thursday. The parents and friends have the heartfelt sympathy of all in this very sad affliction.

Dear Sir: If there is a spot in your paint where the water gets in, the wood underneath is rotting or rotten. The timbers go too.

Such a spot develops unseen in some corner—under the eaves perhaps—while the paint is still in good condition generally.

Look out for such spots, or paint at random for looks. If you paint for looks, you are likely to stop such spots before there are any spots.

Extravagance pays in paint. Economy don't. Extravagance is economy. Queer, what puppets words are!
