A TREATY of friendship between the United States and Spain will be signed shortly. May it lead to closer relations and never be disturbed.

WHEN Arkansas goes back on James K. Jones and Mississippi on William Jennings Bryan, what will be the next move on the Democratic board.

The Britons have so far recovered from their grief at the loss of Cecil Rhodes that they begin to manifest an interest in the provisions of his will.

SENATOR JONES has discovered that Arkansas will not endorse a man who while pretending to fight the trusts goes into their meetings as a director and shares in their profits.

A GERMAN author has tackled the subject of "American Traits," which he finds to be "a bumptious oratory, a flippancy superficiality, a constant exploitation and a lack of esthetic refinement." Prince Henry will hardly be inclined to agree with him.

CUBA has enjoyed so many advantages while temporarily controlled by the United States that the island will be sure before many years to ask for a full share of American opportunities under the flag that bestowed upon it, without price, liberty and prosperity.

PREVIOUS to appointing General "Joe" Wheeler to a command in the war with Spain, President McKinley consulted the late Senator Davis, of Minnesota, about the matter. "I think it would be a splendid appointment," said Mr. Davis. "I am a living witness of Joe Wheeler's grit and persistence. During the civil war he chased me like the devil through five States."

THE United States Treasury balance shows over two million dollars to the good during the month just past. And yet, the party of calamity and misery is not content. Nothing will satisfy the men who elected Cleveland to be President, but an empty treasury, a depleted redemption fund and the borrowing of money by the hundred millions in time of peace. That is, the Democrats are vipers, and insist that the train must be kept ditched and off the track all the time.

AN American teacher in the Philippines writes that many geographies distributed throughout the islands represent Spain as the largest country on the map and that it is almost impossible to change this false impression. "Many of the native teachers," he says, "returned our maps and books, saying they were all wrong, as the United States was made to appear larger than the Philippines or even than Spain." The rising generation of Filipinos will know better.

We don't like the news from Kansas that the G. A. R. in that State has fallen off 600 or more in its membership within the last year, and that while three new posts have been established, five posts have surrendered their charters and disbanded. We don't like Adjutant F. M. Riddle's explanation. "The old boys are losing interest," he says: "They are getting too old to attend post meetings." Yes, and many of them are getting too old to march through the streets as they used to, Memorial Day; the line of march will have to be shortened. Presently there will be no old soldiers in the streets. And we don't like to think of it, says the Hartford Courier.

Running Out Their Race.

By 1945 the last survivor of the Union forces that participated in the memorable war of the rebellion will have succumbed to the ravages of time. This, at any rate, is the official forecast, based on the latest statistical estimates.

The total number of men enrolled on the side of the Union during the war has been placed by authoritative compilations at 2,859,132. In the years since its outbreak, the number of survivors has been steadily cut down until the living veterans of to-day are probably reduced below the 1,000,000 mark. An interesting table prepared by Col. F. C. Ainsworth, chief of the Record and Pension office of the War Department, whose long and intimate familiarity with this branch of the service makes his judgment particularly reliable, the probable survivors of the Union army and navy in the rebellion is estimated for the series of years as follows:

1902	930,380	1910	628,231
1903	894,858	1915	429,727
1904	838,002	1920	251,727
1905	820,687	1925	116,073
1906	782,722	1930	37,033
1907	744,196	1935	6,296
1908	705,197	1940	340
1909	665,832	1945	0

Reluctant as we may be to contemplate such figures, they none the less reflect what we have to face. They show that the lapse of less than forty years has carried away more than two-thirds of the remarkable body of men who responded to the call to preserve the Union, and that another forty years will leave the Civil War veteran as scarce as relics of the eighteenth century are to-day.—Omaha Bee.

$100 REWARD, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that has been known to occur in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Catarrh is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surface of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the system, thus enabling it to do its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

A CHINESE SENDS FOR A TELESCOPE.
Order Comes From Governor of Shantung Province.

Allegheny, Pa., April 7.—Professor John A. Brashears of this city has just received an order from the governor of Shantung province, China, for a telescope of modern American make. So far as known this is the first instrument of the kind ever ordered by China from America or any other foreign country.

The instrument will be made in the Allegheny shops and will be mounted in an observatory in connection with the university of Teng Chow. The order was given through the efforts of Professor W. M. Hayes of the Teng Chow university, who a few years ago was a student at the Western University under Professor Francis C. Phillips, instructor of chemistry.

The glass will be of six inches aperture and will be mounted equatorially with complete accessories for solar, stellar and planetary observations.

Professor Brashears will also furnish the running gear for the observatory, which will be erected by native mechanics under the direction of Professor Hayes. The latter will be furnished with complete drawings by Professor Brashears.

The glass will be of six inches aperture and will be mounted equatorially with complete accessories for solar, stellar and planetary observations.

The instrument will be shipped within a week or two. The finer portion will be sent in care of John Fowler, United States consul at Chefoo, China.

DRAGGED TO SAFETY.

Government Loss as Result of Blaze in Timber.

Erie, Pa., April 7.—Eight members of the family of Stanislaus Wieczkowski, a Pole, were dragged unconscious from their beds at 3 o'clock Saturday morning nearly smothered by smoke from a fire caused by a lighted pipe which the head of the household dropped on his bed when he went to sleep. Passersby the house discovered the fire and rescued the family. The bed on which Wieczkowski was blazing fiercely.

The peninsula which forms the harbor of Erie was the scene Friday night of a fire which for a time threatened to sweep its entire length of four miles and destroy thousands of acres of timber land.

Nearly 200 acres of young trees and swamp land was burned over before the Erie fire department succeeded in stopping the fire. Myriads of snakes were driven out of the burned district and added startling features to the work of the firemen.

The damage is heavy because the young timber which was burned had only been set out a couple of years ago by the government to protect the peninsula.
