WALLER NOT GUILTY.

Court Stood 11 to 2 For His Acquittal. Aerial Navigation—Cecil Rhodes' Burial—McAuliffe's Assault—Left Money to Church—Wheat Exports. St. John's School Burned—Governor Will Visit Charleston.

Major Littleton W. T. Waller of the Marine corps, who is being tried by court martial at Manila, P. I., on the charge of executing Samar natives without trial, addressed the crowded court. The major said he was either right or wrong in his actions and added that he desired to cite five precedents which came under the head of his own case.

Continuing the major said that in 1882 he was with the British forces in Egypt, where Arabs captured pickets of Bengal cavalry, decapitated the prisoners and placed their heads on poles. Afterwards all the Arabs who were wounded in the campaign in China the Chinese mutilated the dead and tortured the wounded to death.

Captain Arthur T. Marx (Marine corps), representing Major Waller, in a forceful argument, maintained that Waller's actions were justified by martial law, quoting numerous authorities on the subject.

Major Waller has been acquitted. The court stood 11 to 2 for acquittal.

Amid a tremendous throng of soldiers, civilians and natives, the body of Cecil Rhodes was committed to its rock tomb in the Matopos hills. The coffin was shrouded in a union jack and the wreath sent by Queen Alexandra was laid upon it as it was lowered into the grave.

Thousands of white persons congregated around the wind-swept hill. The grave was encircled by six boulders. The interment was extremely impressive.

When the coffin was lowered into the tomb chiselled in the solid rock, all those present sang "Old Hundred" and "Now the Laborer's task is o'er."

McAuliffe's Assault. Continued efforts to solve mystery in death of J. McAuliffe, chief witness against Wardman Glennon, who was convicted and sent to Sing Sing for failure to suppress a disorderly house several months ago, resulted in a sensation at the West 47th street police station.

McAuliffe was found dead on a sidewalk near his home several weeks ago. It developed that he had spent the night in the West 47th street police station on a charge of drunkenness and had been discharged in court next morning.

Wheat Exports. The April report of the United States statistician of the department of agriculture will show the average condition of winter wheat on April 1 to have been 78.7 against 91.7 on April 1, 1901; 82.1 at the corresponding date in 1900 and 82.4, the mean of the April average of the last 10 years.

St. John's School Burned. St. John's military school at Manlius, 10 miles east of Syracuse, N. Y., a well-known military institution for boys, founded in 1869 by Right Rev. Fred D. Huntington, bishop of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Central New York, was destroyed by fire of unknown origin which broke out at 5:20 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Governor Will Visit Charleston. Governor Benjamin B. Odell says he will visit the Charleston exposition on April 23, which date has been set apart by the exposition authorities as New York state day.

DR. TALMAGE'S DEATH.

Celebrated Divine Died at His Home in Washington. Great Literary Worker—Reached 30,000,000 of People Weekly Through the Newspapers—Dictated 20,000 Words a Day—Church in Brooklyn Burned Down Three Times.

Washington, April 14.—The Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage, the noted Presbyterian divine, died at 9 o'clock Saturday night at his residence in this city.

It had been evident for some days that there was no hope of his recovery and the attending physicians so informed the family. The patient gradually grew weaker until life passed away so quietly that even the members of the family, all of whom were watching at the bedside, hardly knew that all was over.

Dr. Talmage was a voluminous writer on religious subjects. He was the author of a number of lectures, and his sermons have been published in thirty volumes. Among the better known of his works were "From Manager to Throne," "Sparks From My Anvil," "Crumbs Swept Up," "Sports That Kill," "Night Sides of City Life," "The Poetry of Life," and "Old Wells Dug Out."

Dr. Talmage was a native of Brazil, but holds that he is an American. Bradstreet's report of trade conditions says: Cereal prices moved within narrow limits early pending the publication of the government report, some strength being imparted by reports of better export demand and cold weather interfering with the growing crop.

Business failures for the week number 182, as against 176 last week, 225 in this week last year, 152 in 1900, 243 in 1899 and 215 in 1898.

Fifty Persons Thrown Into River. Fifty persons had narrow escapes from drowning when a gangplank leading to a float at the foot of West 43d street in New York city broke and a number of people were thrown into the North river.

A crew of life savers is stationed nearby and they quickly got to work. The women were first pulled out of the water and then the men were rescued. Ambulances were summoned and the unconscious persons revived by the surgeons while those hurt had their wounds dressed.

His first charge was at Belleville, N. J., where he spent three years. He then accepted a call to a church at Syracuse, N. Y., and remained there until 1862, when he accepted a pastorate in Philadelphia. This gave him his first chance of reaching the people of a great city.

This tabernacle was a grand and beautiful place of worship, with a vast seating capacity and perfect acoustic properties, but it was not destined to stand long. On Sunday, May 13, 1894, shortly after the close of the morning services, fire broke out and before it was under control had left the magnificent building a pile of smoking ruins.

Dr. Talmage for a time ceased active pastoral work and went abroad for a tour of the world. He preached to large audiences in Australia, New Zealand, India and Great Britain and on his return wrote the story of his travels in a book called "The Earth Gridded," which enjoyed a wide circulation. He now devoted himself almost exclusively to his editorial work on the Christian Herald, his sermons being syndicated for weekly publication.
