If you want the kind that wear well, look neat and are low priced come here. Health & Feet. It is getting so that almost every man who hasn't an office has a grievance, and, really, it costs less. The blessings of life are pretty fairly distributed. Some people have good tastes, while others have good appetites. The fitting kind. There's longer wear in a shirt that fits at every point. You will like them for that reason at T. C. S. Remember the commencement exercises of the class of '92 at the court house next Tuesday evening. You will be well entertained. M. H. Shick, formerly editor of the Marienville Express, will start a paper at Sheffield in the near future, says the Kane Republican. Killmer Bros. have a line of ladies' shirt waists from which the most fastidious ought to be able to make a choice. See them before purchasing. Trailing arbutus is now in bloom and it is at its best. Many parties took advantage of the fine weather Sunday and strolled out on the hills to gather the fragrant little flower. New announcements appearing this week: County Commissioner, W. A. Groves of Tionesta borough; County Auditors, W. H. Stiles, Hickory twp., and George W. Holeman, Tionesta borough. The White Star Grocery is the oldest established and most reliable firm in the fruit and green grocery business and has everything in its line in stock and as soon as it comes into the market. Call us up on either phone. Following is the list of letters remaining unclaimed for in the Tionesta, Pa., Post Office for the week ending April 23, 1902: Miss Ellen Stiltz, Mr. Abe Seeley, Mr. T. J. Odell, Mr. Jake Smith Hofer, Wm. Day. D. S. Knox, P. M. The Gun Club, which has recently been reorganized, and greatly augmented in membership, has ordered a new Maggarp and expects soon to have it in operation. The club now numbers upward of twenty-five, and the enthusiasm promises to be quite lively during the coming summer. In a cemetery at Columbus, Pa., is a head stone bearing the inscription: "God Only Knows." Whose remains lie beneath the stone is unknown to the present sexton of the cemetery, or to any of the residents of the village. The stone has been standing many years, and is an object of curiosity to all. Friends here have received invitations to attend the marriage of Mr. John Conger and Miss Mary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Grant, of St. Grove avenue, Oil City, on the 29th inst. Mr. Conger, whose mother, brothers and sister reside here, has many friends in this section who will be pleased to extend congratulations on the happy event. S. N. Iredell, for a number of years superintendent of the extract works at Marienville, to whose people he was well and most favorably known, died on Thursday last, and was buried at Titusville, his home city, on Sunday. Mr. Iredell was a very worthy gentleman, and people who knew him in this county will be pained to learn of his death. An exchange very aptly remarks: Its a good rule for young people to observe who are seeking a life occupation: avoid any occupation which allows leisure for loafing on the street corners, grocery stores, postoffice or livery stable for at least eight hours out of every twenty-four. Better have no business at all than one which does not occupy a reasonable amount of time. The Christian Endeavor society of the Presbyterian church, will hold a box festival in A. O. U. W. hall, Friday evening, April 25th at 8 o'clock. All the members of the church and congregation and friends are most cordially invited to be present. Ladies are requested to bring boxes filled with dainty lunches to be sold to the highest bidder. Gentlemen are kindly asked to come prepared to enter the contests. At Warren recently, while excavating a cellar, workmen unearthed the skeleton of a squaw which was in a splendid state of preservation, every bone being intact and whole. When brought to the air, of course, they crumbled, but the under jaw and teeth were preserved. Beside the body, and close enough so one hand was laid upon it, was a chest. In the chest was a collection of armlets, anklets, strings of beads, flint and arrow heads, and strings of all a necklace of thimbles. On top of the box rested a looking glass. The find is quite a valuable one. The skeleton and chest were reposed underneath an apple tree that had been judged to be 50 years old, and the condition of the bones leads it to be well informed to believe the find to be about 150 years old.

Repairs to the creek bridge at this place which have been making for the past two weeks, are of a very substantial order, and will be completed within the next 10 days, weather permitting. New iron joists are taking the place of the wooden affairs which were badly decayed, and a new floor of oak is being laid. The York Bridge Co. has the contract, and travel is interfered with only between 7 and 12 a. m. and 1 and 6 p. m. J. B. Watson, Esq., of Marienville, was spending a couple of days in town on the first of this week on business. Mr. Watson is one of the best informed men of this section, and is a most interesting and fascinating conversationalist. He is also a far-seeing politician. He says he never felt better than he does now; he has spent every day of the past winter out doors, and feels fresh, strong and vigorous.—Clarion Democrat.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Copeland, of Stewart Run, very pleasantly entertained a number of friends at their home last Wednesday evening. The party was comprised of a number of their Stewart Run friends and a few Tionesta and Hickory young people. After an evening's enjoyment the company was served with a dainty lunch which gave proof of Mrs. Copeland's culinary art. All returned to their homes declaring that they had spent a delightful evening. S. Y. Z.

All arrangements have been perfected for the Old Fellows' anniversary celebration at Hildway on the 26th. Besides the securing of all the attractions that have characterized such gatherings in the past history of the associations, many new features have been added and the members of the fraternity from this place are looking forward to an unusual good time. Excursion rates have been secured on the railroads and extraordinary preparations are being made by the Hildway people to properly care for the visitors. The special session of the Grand Lodge and the school of instruction by Grand Lodge officers which is booked for Friday evening preceding the "big day" will attract many Past Grand and other members of the Order on that day.

The commencement exercises of the graduating class of 1902, of the borough high school will take place next Tuesday evening, in the court house, and the public generally is invited to attend. The program is sufficiently varied to make the evening a pleasant as well as profitable one to all who lend their presence. Prof. Baker, a soloist of renown, will have charge of the musical feature, and judging from his reputation as an entertainer, he will please his audience. The admission price for adults has been placed at the small sum of 20 cents, and this only to assist in defraying expenses necessarily incurred. Pupils of the school will be admitted free, and it is hoped that parents will accompany their younger children. Don't miss it for if you do you will miss a great treat.

By far the cutest pair of pets that could be imagined was the two little black bears which Sheriff Jamison brought down from Brookston last week. They are about two months old, well developed, healthy, and are as playful as a pair of kittens. They were captured during the last fall of snow not far from Brookston by Fred Jorgenson, who has already bagged ten bears this season, being a very successful bear hunter. He found the old one and three cubs together, and in shooting the mother, the ball from his rifle struck a bone and split in two, one piece of the bullet striking and killing one of the cubs. The other two he well almost pleased with the attention they attract. Mr. Jamison has sold them to Titusville parties, where the playful little fellows will be kept for the amusement of the public.

Levi Reynolds was over from Barnett twp. last week to assist in the drawing of a jury for the May term of court. It was Mr. Reynolds' young son Ray, aged 19 years, who lost his life by the accidental discharge of a revolver, mention of which was made two weeks ago in these columns. The boy and his older brother were in the barn at the time, and were playing with the pet dog when the older boy, having the revolver, jokingly remarked that he guessed he would shoot the dog, at the same time pulling the revolver out of his pocket and attempting to cock it. The little fellow ran to remonstrate with him, when the young man's thumb slipped off the hammer and the revolver was discharged. The little fellow said "you have shot me," and began to sink, when he was caught by the other and carried to the house, life being extinct when he reached there. The distress of the parents and older brother can better be imagined than expressed, and the unfortunate occurrence has proven a terrible warning to the boys in that neighborhood in the handling of revolvers, and it is to be hoped there will never be another such a horror. In connection herewith Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds desire it said that they very greatly appreciate the kindness shown them by neighbors and friends in this bereavement.

Sudden Death of Mrs. Sawyer. Not for some time has Tionesta been so shocked as it was yesterday afternoon when the news was announced that Mrs. Sawyer, wife of our townsman, George W. Sawyer, died at 2 o'clock. As late as last Sabbath, she took dinner with her daughter, Mrs. Carson, and all day Monday she was about her work as usual, although she was suffering from a severe cold. Not till Tuesday morning was she willing to have medical aid summoned, and almost before her family were aware death had claimed her as his victim. This sorrow, which falls so heavily on her husband and daughters, Mrs. John T. Carson and Mrs. Charles Hunter, is shared by the entire community. Funeral services will be held at the Sawyer residence at 2:30 Thursday. A fuller account of this valued life will be given in next week's issue.

Letter to C. E. Cropp. Tionesta, Pa. Dear Sir: Mr. Knox, an undertaker for fifty years at Brewster, N. Y., pointed Devoe nine years ago. The point is said to be in about as good condition as when it was first put on. Lead and oil don't last nine years. Yours truly, F. W. Devoe & Co. P. S.—Jas. D. Davis sells our paint.

Wheelock, attorney-at-law of Chicago, nephew of Mrs. Geo. W. Sawyer of this place, and Alexander Bullock, of Worcester, Mass., also an attorney, spent Sunday with relatives in Tionesta. R. L. Haslet and family, who located in Burlington, N. C., last fall, have returned to Tionesta, Mr. H. having disposed of his interest in the laundry business in which he was engaged. They are cheerfully welcomed back to their old home. The semi-occasional visit of the two Italian musicians to this place on Thursday evening, produced the usual result, that of stirring up the torporous impulses of the young folk, who enjoyed themselves for a few hours in the merry whirl, the sweet strains of the violin and harp furnishing the inspiration. Rev. J. V. McAninch having been seized with a troublesome cold the latter part of the week, called on his friend Rev. Dr. Charnock, of Pleasantville, to conduct services for him at the Presbyterian church last Sabbath morning and evening. Dr. Charnock's discourses were able efforts and highly appreciated by his congregations. Lee Hill, who was for a number of years employed in the harness store of L. Fulton, has returned to his old situation after a stay of several months at Brownsville, Pa. Lee has many friends in town who are glad to know of his return. Martin Knorr, with Mr. Fulton for a couple of years past, has returned to his home in Jamestown, N. Y., having secured a good situation there. Miss Alice Agnew, '01, of the High School, charmingly entertained the members of the Senior and Junior classes with Prof. Spicer and Mrs. Spicer, at her home last Friday evening. The dinner table was handsomely decorated with cut flowers and lighted with candles, covers being laid for fifteen. The pleasant memory which this happy evening has afforded Miss Alice and her guests will serve as delightful souvenirs for time to come. William Lawrence returned from Philadelphia last Saturday, where he had accompanied Mrs. Lawrence, who had submitted to an operation for the removal of a tumor on the left arm, at the M. E. Hospital in that city. The operation was entirely successful and Mrs. L. is recovering nicely from the shock, but will remain a couple of weeks yet. Her daughter, Miss Emma, is with her and will remain till she is ready to leave the hospital. Harvey Lynch and brother, Sidney, were down from Endeavor last Thursday, and gave the REPUBLICAN a pleasant call while here. It is Harvey's intention to start for the Pacific coast states on the 29th inst., with a view of locating there. He will probably find Washington state about to his liking and make that his home. He goes more on account of Mrs. Lynch's health than because of a desire to change, for he has never felt in the least dissatisfied with his lot in Pennsylvania, and especially his pleasant home at surroundings at Endeavor. The REPUBLICAN along with the many other friends of Mr. Lynch and family, is sorry to note this change, but wishes them all happiness and prosperity in whatever locality they may choose for their future abode.

TERRIBLE RIVER DISASTER.

Two of Tidoute's prominent citizens lose their lives by the burning of a River Passenger Boat. By the horrible disaster of the burning of the river passenger steamer "City of Pittsburg" on Saturday night last, L. L. Hunter and L. B. Magill, of Tidoute, who were passengers, lost their lives. These gentlemen were going south, having finished some business transaction at Pittsburg a few days previous, and were on the ill-fated boat when it took fire some miles above Cairo, on the Ohio river. No particulars have as yet been obtainable regarding the exact manner of their death, but it is thought the two men were suffocated and burned in their state rooms, otherwise they would have been able to have made their escape with other passengers who were saved, although upward of sixty persons are known to have perished, either in the flames or drowned in jumping overboard. The fire started in the lower part of the stamer, in the freight material, or possibly in the engine room, and shut off the means of escape there while passengers jumped overboard from the upper decks. Within ten minutes of discovery of fire, at 4 a. m., survivors say the upper decks were swept by flames, and passengers were penned in on all sides, even the life preservers being cut off by the flames. The shock to the people of Tidoute which the news of this terrible disaster conveyed is incalculable, both men being among the most prominent society and business people, having been reared in the place and where they had taken up and carried on the work of their worthy parents. Mr. Hunter was the son of the late John Hunter, so well known for years as one of the leading men of this section of country. He leaves a wife and four children besides his aged mother surviving. Mr. Magill was one of Tidoute's most popular citizens, having by energy, perseverance and strict honesty risen to a leading place among the town's business men. He also leaves a wife and two children. Capt. H. H. Cummings, of Tidoute, a partner with Mr. Hunter in the lumber and oil business, has gone south to assist in the rescue of the bodies of his two unfortunate townsmen, and if it is possible to find and identify them, and bring the remains back to their late homes.

Besides her aged parents she leaves a husband, one brother, three sisters, and a large circle of friends to mourn her loss. Funeral services were held at the Zionel, German Hill, on Monday, Rev. T.
