Republican Ticket.

County. Congress—JOSEPH C. SIBLEY. (Subject to action of District Conference) Assembly—C. W. AMSLER. Prothonotary—J. C. GEIST. Sheriff—GEORGE W. NOBIL. County Commissioners—CONRAD BURBENN, A. K. SHIPLE. Auditors—GEO. W. HOLEMAN, W. H. STILES. Jury Commissioner—ERNEST SIBBLE.

The Republican Primaries.

The return Judges elected at the Republican primaries last Saturday met at the court house yesterday afternoon and were called to order by Chairman W. G. Morrow, and Leon Watson of Kelleitville, and Gus B. Evans of Eldorado were elected as secretaries. The roll of election precincts was called which showed that every precinct in the county was represented. The returns were then asked for and handed in. When Marienville district was reached S. D. Irwin, as attorney for Mr. Whitekin, filed an objection to the returns in the form of an affidavit from a Marienville man setting forth some reasons why the vote from that district should not be counted. The clerks of election from there, Messrs. W. C. Brown and Clinton Fitzgerald, were asked to make a statement of facts, which they did in such a straightforward manner as to convince the convention that the election was conducted in a most lawful and orderly way, for, on a motion made to receive and count the returns as presented, the affirmative vote was practically unanimous, but two out of the 22 judges present voting in the negative on a rising vote. In fact, the evidence adduced showed conclusively that in the election in Marienville was carried on in the cleanest, nicest, most orderly manner, and in strictest accord with the party rules. The count was then proceeded with and the result showed that the following gentlemen were duly nominated for the various offices and so declared by the convention:

Congress, Joseph C. Sibley. Assembly, C. W. Amster. Prothonotary, J. C. Geist. Sheriff, George W. Nobil. County Commissioner, Conrad Burbenn and A. K. Shippe. County Auditors, George W. Holeman and W. H. Stiles. Jury Commissioner, Ernest Sibble. Delegate to the State Convention, Geo. W. Osgood.

On motion the courtesy of selecting his own conferees was extended to Mr. Sibley, who was unopposed for Congress. On motion Dr. J. C. Dunn, L. Agnew and A. R. Meckling were elected Senatorial Conferees.

The following resolutions were then presented by a member of the convention and adopted: Resolved, That the Republicans of Forest County most cordially support the candidacy of the Hon. John P. Eakin for Governor. He is well and favorably known to the Republicans of this county. He is our neighbor and friend. His services to the Republican party and his fitness for the office make him the logical candidate of the Republican party at this time.

We therefore instruct our delegate this day elected to support him at the State Convention and make every possible effort to insure his success. Resolved, That the Republican party of Forest County, regularly assembled in Convention, hereby cordially indorses the candidacy of Major Isaac B. Brown of Erie county, for nomination to the office of Secretary of Internal Affairs, and respectfully urges the delegates to the next Republican State Convention to place his name on the ticket for that office, believing that it will be an element of strength to the ticket and receive general public approval throughout the Commonwealth.

Resolved, That the delegate from this county be instructed not only to support the candidacy of Major Brown by all honorable means, but also to impress upon party leaders that the counties in northwestern Pennsylvania have usually been disregarded in the distribution of public offices, and that justice now imperatively demands that recognition be given this section in the nomination of Major Brown.

The election of a chairman for the ensuing year being next in order, Dr. W. G. Morrow was nominated and unanimously re-elected. The convention then adjourned. Of the personnel of the ticket we shall take pleasure in speaking in future issues, deeming it sufficient at this time to remark that it will be a winner in the fall, and will receive the cordial and earnest support of every loyal Republican in the county.

THE extent to which the country in the past few weeks has learned that there are many sorts of food which are more wholesome than meat is encouraging. The beef trust has done a good turn here, though against its will. The good news also comes that the people are letting up more and more in the use of meat. As a consequence the trust is weakening, and prices are beginning to drop.

If this nation is really to fill its place as a world power it must throw off its old traditions of exclusiveness.—Philadelphia Times.

This thrust of the Times under the fifth rib of free-trade exclusiveness is certainly encouraging. Free-trade exclusiveness would have us kick the whole Philippine Archipelago out of the front door yard, and either play dog in the manger by keeping other nations out at a cost of one hundred millions per year, or it would relinquish three-fourths of our commerce with the island by allowing some monarchial government to take possession and monopolize their trade.

LORD KEVIN, the British scientist, remarks that the time is coming when coal will be too scarce to be utilized as fuel in this country. It may be "coming," says the Philadelphia Bulletin, but it is yet a good long distance in the future. If the visiting Briton is inclined to be unduly pessimistic on this point he should take a look at the Pennsylvania coal fields.

In New England wants free hides and the West free shoes and free cotton goods, a little scheme of reciprocity might be accomplished just as under Cleveland New England asked for free wool and got it, but don't forget that at the same time such a large slice was cut from protection to wool fabrics that the woolen business of New England looked precisely like 30 cents.

CLEVELAND lived to see his enemies put to rout and such that he advocated vindicated.—William Allen White. Cleveland advocated taking the duty from wool because, as he said, the manufacturers were making so little profit. He advocated free-trade to relieve those with money from paying enough to ensure good wages for the masses. And then he—well, let us see, what did he ever advocate that the people have endorsed?

THE volcanic eruption on the Island of Martinique, in Danish West Indies, on Thursday last week, proves to be the most horrible catastrophe the world has witnessed in modern times. Latest reports say that only thirty people out of thirty thousand in the city of St. Pierre, on the coast of the island, were saved from the awful rain of molten lava. Reports from other portions of the island are very meagre, but it is feared that many lives were destroyed outside the city mentioned. But one American family is known to have been in the city at the time, that of the U. S. Consul stationed there.

Mr. ROBERTSON, Democrat of Louisiana, is rapidly earning the enmity of every free-trader, and especially the bitter hatred of Pitchfork Tillman, the sworn foe of business men and their employes. Congressman Robertson proposed to expend $2,500,000 for the improvement of the harbor of Havana to relieve Cuba by furnishing work for all who might need employment. This, he thinks, would be far better than lowering the duties and turning out of work tens of thousands of American laborers unless they submit to a serious cut-down. Such protectionist sentiments from Louisiana, if uttered in the presence of Shotgun Tillman, would have called forth the dramatic cry of "Renegade! Ter-a-dor!"

ONE of the great faults of mankind is that of making up verdicts without knowing the facts in the case. Men and women often work themselves up to a "swearing pitch of indignation on facts that are merely assumed, and are not true at all. That is why the man who keeps his mouth shut, and is not ready to criticize and condemn, gets along better, and at the same time acquires a reputation for wisdom. Half of the indignation of the world is wasted on imaginary conditions or false data. Most of the injustice of the world is founded on prejudice, and prejudice is very frequently the result of false assumptions. Never explode with indignation until you are sure you are loaded with truth.—Pansy Spirit.

BRET HARTE, whose death occurred on the 6th inst., was a literary artist who was most successful with a small canvas. Within certain limitations he was brilliant and fascinating. He was a true interpreter of the color and loneliness of California, and in at least one other background. His landscapes, provided they are read by a poet and genius. His characters were wayward but absorbing. In description he had unusual insight and felicity. The humor also was Californian in a subtle sense. A new story by Bret Harte was a disappointment if the scene was laid outside of the land of sunshine and gold where he was inescapably trained for life's work. He gave to literature something quite distinctive and admirable, and his place will not be filled.

THE case of Admiral Sampson, who succumbed to the inevitable on Tuesday last week, is, in one respect, peculiarly pathetic. His temporary absence from the fleet off Santiago at the time of the battle and the manner in which he worded his announcement of the victory incited a controversy which was bitter and most persistent in American naval and military history, and materially shortened his days. Had he been present at the fight, or had he been entirely disconnected with the fleet in that part of the world, he would probably have been in good health today. The dispute as to the person to whom the credit of the victory belonged, which was carried to absurd and vicious lengths by some of the partisans of both Sampson and Schley, wounded his sensitive spirit, made him a physical wreck, and carried him off years before his natural time. President Roosevelt's judgment that the battle of Santiago was a "captain's battle" is accepted as a just verdict by the average sane American, but this judgment did not temper the violence of the zealots on both sides, and did not stay the pending physical collapse in the fleet's titular commander.

TO RETURN 75,000 LETTERS.

Week of Reducing Walker-Barre Endless Chain Has Begun. Williamsport, Pa., May 11.—The first official report regarding the government's decision in the case of Walker and Robbins, the endless chain letter firm, arrived for Postmaster Hahn. He was notified that the scheme was fraudulent and that the letters would be returned to the senders and sent to the dead letter office. Work was begun Saturday afternoon on the pile. There are some 75,000 and the four clerks expect to finish the work within a week. These letters, it is estimated, contain about $100,000 in money orders. Those which have return addresses on the envelopes will be sent direct to the writers and the money order amounts will be returned at the office of issue. The others will be sent to the dead letter office, then opened and read dressed to the writers. All will have stamped across the face the word "Fraudulent."

Only about 15,000 of the letters have return addresses, and the dead letter office will have a great task in opening and reading the other 60,000. The letters continue to arrive at the rate of about 1,500 a day. The attorney for the firm said the other evening he did not believe the government would prosecute the two men. Protested checks are increasing at the banks and hundreds of letters of inquiry are arriving.

RIOT AT COLLEGE BALL GAME.

Several Persons Hurt in a General Melee at Grove City. Sharon, Pa., May 11.—A dozen students of Grove City college, Mercer county, and several other participants were injured in a riot that occurred Friday during a basketball game between the senior and junior classes of the college. There has been bitter rivalry between the classes and every effort was made by the college to prevent a clash. Police were stationed around the ball court. A fight started, however, between two members of the opposing classes. Instantly the name was stamped and the ball players, other members of the two classes and spectators began a general fight. Baseball bats were used, while stones were thrown and many dispirited persons were knocked down and trampled upon. The fight lasted 15 minutes. Several of the participants were so badly injured that a surgeon's services were required. Dr. L. C. Keller, president of the college, has summoned the principals to appear before the faculty and expulsion will be made.

Mrs. Soffel Gets Two Years.

Pittsburg, May 11.—Mrs. Soffel, the warden's wife, who made it possible for the Biddies to escape from the Allegheny county jail in this city, was taken into court Saturday morning and sentenced to a term of two years in the Western penitentiary. Shortly afterward, Walter Dorman, a member of the Biddie gang, who was convicted on the charge of murdering Greenman Rahney, was sentenced to be hanged. It is understood, however, that by confessing to the crime and giving evidence against the Biddies, Dorman's life will be saved.

Minister's End Sad.

Weather, O., May 12.—The end of Rev. E. M. Conklin, minister spending more than 50 years as a minister of the Methodist church, was sad, as he passed away an inmate of the poorhouse. Mr. Conklin was in his 78th year and because of ill-health was compelled to retire some years ago. His wife and children had preceded him to the grave. An old friend came to the clergyman's relief and furnished means to provide for his keeping in the institution, where he was given good care and his last days made as comfortable as possible.

Print Losses Close.

Greensburg, Pa., May 12.—A trial in the criminal court here that attracted great interest was that of Rev. Father Pullak of Mount Pleasant against Jacob Hartwick. The priest asked for $10,000 damages for alleged defamations of character. The charges were without in the extreme, and the damages asked upon the truth of his accusations. The case has been on trial the general day, late Saturday afternoon the defendant was found not guilty, but the costs were placed upon him.

PLAIN TALK.

Strait Talk and to the Point—The Virtues of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills Told in a Few Words by One Who Knows. Mr. George Schroek, Jr., of No. 91 Pine Street, Meadville, Pa., says: "When I got some of those Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills I was in a very nervous state due to work that kept me up all hours and denied me sleep. I had dizzy spells as well. The box of Nerve Pills cured all this. I am no longer dizzy—nerves are strong—my sleep natural and I feel good in every way. I think this proves the medicine is a great one."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50c a box at dealers, or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Company, Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of W. Chase, M. D., are on every package. For sale by Killmer Bros., druggists.

Whooping Cough.

A woman who has had experience with this disease, tells how to prevent any dangerous consequences from it. She says: "Our three children whooping cough last summer, our baby boy being only three months old, and owing to our giving them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, they lost none of their plumpness and came out in much better health than other children whose parents did not use this remedy. Our oldest girl would call it justly for cough syrup between whoops.—Jessie Pinkey Hall, Springville, Ala. This remedy is for sale by Killmer Bros., Tionesta, W. G. Wilkins, West Hickory, Pa. Sociable Rheumatism Cured After Fourteen Years of Suffering."

"I have been afflicted with sciatic rheumatism for fourteen years," says Josh Edger, of Germantown, Cal. "I was able to be around but constantly suffered. I tried everything I could hear of and at last was told to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I did and was immediately relieved and in a short time cured, and I am happy to say it has not since returned. Why not use this liniment and give your neighbors a chance? Killmer Bros., Tionesta, W. G. Wilkins, West Hickory, Pa."
