Republican Ticket.

County.
Congress—JOSEPH C. SIBLEY, (Subject to action of District Conference) Assembly—C. W. AMSLER, Prothonotary—J. C. GEIST, Sheriff—GEORGE W. NOBLE, County Commissioners—CONRAD BURKHEN, A. K. SHIPE, Auditors—GEO. W. HOLEMAN, W. H. STILES, Jury Commissioner—ERNEST SIBBLE.

FREE TRADE and free silver are both getting out of favor in business circles the world over.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, backed by the whole Republican party, is going to resist that best trust till it is well done.

THE crops of 1902 in the United States are in a highly promising condition. There is no bigger prosperity item.

G. CLEVELAND must smile when he sees the Democratic leaders dodging silver and flirting with tariff reform.

"The New York World is sure that the tariff made tariff is doomed." It used to declare that the tariff made the trusts.

PERHAPS the most trust that is hurrying off with its heels to New Jersey is not aware of the existence of something called Jersey justice.

THE Republic of Cuba is born, and is fortunate at least in its godfather and godmother, Uncle Sam and the American Goddess of Liberty.

PEACE negotiations in South Africa are reported to be in a "controversial stage." This condition has been quite noticeable for the last three years.

NOW comes the tug for public franchises in Cuba. The new government should beware of hoodlums and not permit a single one to escape when caught.

THE death of Henry Clay McCormick, Attorney General in Gov. Hastings' cabinet, occurred at his home in Williamsport Monday of this week. The cause was acute Bright's disease.

AS soon as the flag of Cuba went up the American soldiers marched to their ships and sailed away. But history will never forget what the soldiers of the United States did for the liberation of Cuba.

A LONDON paper states that J. Pierpont Morgan recommends a joint system of trusts as the best means to cement friendship between England and the United States. Mr. Morgan's preference for this general remedy has long been suspected.

At the Prohibition State convention held at New Castle last week the following ticket was nominated: Dr. Silas C. Swallow, for governor; Lee L. Grumbine, of Lebanon, for lieutenant governor, and Captain M. S. Marquis for secretary of internal affairs.

THE country will back up the army every time. Its gorge rises at the performances of the little company of epileptic mountebanks in Washington. It is well that Republican conventions should speak strongly on a subject in regard to which the country feels strongly.—New York Sun.

SOME of the Democratic papers are learning for the first time that Thomas Jefferson prepared for himself and left among his literary remains an expurgated copy of the New Testament. Yet there seems to be no Democratic rush to recognize this fact as the long-sought issue for 1904.

SHORTLY neither Judge Pennypacker nor Attorney General Elkin have enough votes to nominate Mr. Sibley would still be in a respective mood, observes the Oil City Blizzard. And the convention might go farther and do worse than nominate the Franklin man.—Titusville Herald.

Sure it might. The nomination of Mr. Sibley would make the whole northwest happy, and there would be no factional politics about it, either. Neither would there be any question as to the outcome of the election. Mr. Sibley would be thoroughly elected in every respect.

THE Republicans of Warren county at their primaries last Saturday nominated the following excellent ticket: Congress, J. C. Sibley; senate, H. H. Cummings; assembly, L. C. Baker; register and recorder, C. D. Craudell; county commissioners, Frank Hagberg and James W. Wiggins. The State delegates are Frank M. Knapp, Warren; C. S. Morris, Garland, and C. A. Clark, Russell. The delegates will go to the State convention unopposed, but it is understood that they will be subject to the wishes of Senator Quay.

Speaking of the nomination of the Rev. Dr. Swallow by the Prohibitionists for governor, the Titusville World says: The doctor will probably put up a "whirlwind" fight in this campaign. At least there will be plenty of wind in it. But he is not as popular as he was four years ago. Since that time he has proven himself to be a revengeful, relentless politician who is capable of praising an anarchist for shooting down a President of the United States. He will fill the state with "hot air" during his canvass and the weary people will patiently await the hour—"When the Swallows Homeward Fly." But his candidacy is not likely to cut much of a figure so far as the result of the campaign is concerned.

This number 15 in Alfonso's title may not be of evil omen, but it is certain that the world's best wishes are with the young king. If he gives his people as good government as his mother, the regent, has given them, so far as she has influenced the government's policy, his countrymen will have cause to be thankful. Maria Christina deserves well of Spain. The probability is that her counsel will be sought constantly by her son, for a time at least. He has ability, has personal popularity, and has the world's regard. The outlook for Spain is better at this moment than it has been at any time for many years.

THE Richmond News, a staunch Democratic paper, has this to say about the Philippine wrangle now going on in the Senate: The debate on the Philippines as it is now being conducted is doing harm every day, particularly to the South. But for the inevitable common sense of the people of both sides, it might easily develop extremely grave and serious results. It would be a mercy to the country, and particularly to the Democratic party, if the Senators from South Carolina, Mississippi, Utah and Kansas could be locked up in a room together and allowed to conclude their discussion in private with tongues, statistics, affidavits, pen knives, bowie knives or axes, according to preference.

It is stated upon good authority that the new owner of the Philadelphia Record is no other than Thomas B. Wanamaker, son of John Wanamaker and proprietor of the Philadelphia North American. It is further said that control of the editorial policy of the paper will be entrusted to ex-Judge James Gay Gordon. This fact may have an important bearing upon the Democratic political situation in the State. Gordon is now no friend of ex-Governor Pattison, although once numbered among his most ardent followers. His offices are in the North American building, and he is generally credited with the authorship of many of its leading editorials. Wanamaker's ownership of the Record is not yet publicly admitted, nor will it be until after the fall campaign, but there are the best reasons for believing that the property has passed into his hands.—Titusville Herald.

PEOPLE in general entertain peculiar ideas as to the motives which actuate newspaper men. For illustration, we were frequently asked the question: "Who was he hitting at in that little item in last night's Blizzard?" Now, the chances are a hundred to one the particular item, to which reference is made, was of general application, with no reference whatever to any particular individual; and yet, because the inquirer happens to be acquainted with some person to whom he thinks it applicable, he supposes it of course was aimed at that particular one. Because a newspaper states that "a woman's popularity is sometimes due to what she neglects to say," it does not necessarily follow that the editor has in mind some particular female of ultra-phonographic propensities; nor when he says that "some men are constantly finding work, and in mortal fear of losing it," does he refer to any particular one, any more than when he asserts that "some people are so dishonest they will not pay back borrowed trouble."

Because an editor says "tears are the spectacles through which a woman sees her wishes granted," it does not necessarily imply that his wife has been crying for a new shirt-waist, and when he runs in a little squib to the effect that "had rather have a halving bed in the house than a scolding woman, because it shuts up occasionally," it is not a safe sign he has been getting a curtain lecture. Though personal experience undoubtedly sometimes suggests ideas, and though blind items are occasionally regular dam-dam bullets in the targets for which intended, in a great majority of cases these quips and quarks are of general application, intended for no particular person, but for all whom the coat fits.—Oil City Blizzard.

THE Ghost of Bolly Yarden. A strange tale comes from the country just east of the city, says the Titusville Herald. For some weeks it appears that a spirit of the departed has been haunting the vicinity of the Davang tracks between East Titusville and Selkirk. The ghost has injured no one and its frequent appearance has come to be taken quite as a matter of course with the residents of that peaceful community.

The spirit has never been seen far from the railroad track. Upon the end of the she is often seen to sit with her face buried in her hands and quietly weep. Several persons, emboldened by her frequent appearance and harmless actions, have approached quite close and even tried to grasp the sleeve of her trailing white robe. On such occasions she gradually fades from view and the investigator of the mystery is left standing beside the rails with nothing in sight but the vast expanse of level country thereabout.

But the rank phenomenon is the regularity with which she accompanies the trains passing that place. Trainmen were at first alarmed and told no one of the strange white-robed spectre, thinking it must be due to an easily excited imagination, but finally the story of its identity has become known to the public and within the past few months many who were at first incredulous have been obliged to confess, not only to the ghost's existence, but also her frequent reappearance. Her actions all are strange, but never exactly what may be termed terrifying.

One mummy freak, the truth of which is vouchered for by many people, is the manner in which she follows trains, running before or following after them with the speed of the fastest express. Often when rounding the bend just below East Titusville, the engineer has been startled to see the woman in white standing or gently gliding just in front of the headlight. She invariably keeps to the center of the track, preceding the train to a point near the city limits. There she leaves the track and turning down the east side of Pine creek, beckons to the trainmen to follow. People who have watched this strange action and have followed her, state that after the train has come on into the yards, she goes back to the track and weeps quietly for the remainder of the night.

People residing in that locality have come to regard the frequent visits of the spectre as something not to be feared and accept her strange demonstrations as quite a matter of fact. Various explanations have been offered, one of which seems worthy of credence. Years ago a lady named Dolly Yarden died in that immediate vicinity. Dame rumor hath it that her heart was broken because of an unrealized dream to build a railroad down the east side of Oil Creek to connect the terminal at Titusville with that at Oil City. Many people seem inclined to believe that the spirit is that of the gentle lady, come back to earth to haunt the scenes of her blasted hope and urge, in her pathetic way, that the road shall be built. And who can say that this may not be true?

REVISING A PROVERB. Whom the Gods Love Die Not Young, but in Old Age. Whom the Gods love die young, while the shallow crowd its finger marks, half-conscious that their weak minds would sink into senility beneath the burden of years. Praises of praise are paid to youth in forgetfulness of the fact that only the aged can contrast the varying phases of exuberance during the different decades of a century of life. Verily it was a wise poet who sang: "Whom the gods love die young?" Nay; rather say, "With beated heads." "Whom the gods love die old." "Shall the men pale ere it hath come to its end? The sun go down while yet it is full day. The status stays unmoved in the clay. The parchment crumple ere it is unrolled. The song drop mute and breathless by the sea."

Nay, nay, nay. Broken lives are strewn not the perfected human product of God's great plan. The prophets of the remotest recorded time, the grandeur of whose thought has been the theme of preachers and writers for thousands of years, lived to ages which were infirmities to moderns. The man who grows old gracefully, with grace and good nature, really retains his youth.—Gay Foss.

Teachers Examinations for 1902. Titusville, Monday, June 2nd. Nettowen, Tuesday, June 3rd. Hickory, Wednesday, June 4th. Kellettsville, Thursday, June 5th. Naberssa, Friday, June 6th. Brookston, Tuesday, June 10th. Marienville, Wednesday, June 11th. Clarington, Thursday, June 12th. Nebraska special, Saturday, Aug. 23d. An examination will be held in Clarion during the spring or summer term for the benefit of teachers of Forest county who are attending the Normal School there.

All who do not hold valid certificates, and who desire to teach in Forest county during the school year beginning June 1st, 1902, must enter the class at one of these examinations. No one will be examined twice. Certificates will not be granted to applicants under 17 years of age, nor to persons of questionable habits. Examinations will begin at 8:30 a. m. All work must be done with pen and ink on legal cap or foolscap paper. Applicants from other counties will be permitted to enter the class only at the request of the Superintendent of their own county, or by request signed by members of school boards of Forest county. This does not apply to persons who have previously taught in this county, or those living near the county lines.

On entering the class the applicant must hand the examiner a stamped envelope addressed to himself (or herself), and a specimen of penmanship. As a specimen of penmanship, applicants may write some quotation from Whittier. Teachers will please bring with them the December number of the Educational Foundations. Strangers to the Superintendent must bring recommendations of good moral character, from some responsible person.

Executors Notice of Public Sale. By virtue of an Order of the Orphans' Court of Forest County, Pa., the undersigned, Executor of the Last Will and Testament of Bononi G. Scott, deceased, will expose at Public Sale, on SATURDAY, JUNE 21, 1902, at 1:00 o'clock, p. m., at Perry F. O. Forester, County, Pa., the following described property:

1. Nineteen (19) acres of land in Harmony Township, Forest County, Pa., in fee simple, bounded as follows: On the South by land of J. H. Mills, on the East and North by land of J. Mettlen, and on the West by land of Horace Wilkins. Sale by public outcry at the hour of the day specified and the place designated. Terms, cash when the property is sold to the purchaser. JAMES A. HUME, Executor, Pleasantville, Pa.

Administrator's Notice. Letters of administration having been granted to the undersigned upon the estate of Matthew Elliot, late of Harmony township, deceased, all persons indebted to said estate are requested to make payment, and those having claims against the same to present without delay to J. E. STRATTON, Administrator, Titusville, Pa., May 26, 1902.

Scientific Recommendation Cured After Fourteen Years of Suffering. "I have been afflicted with sciatic rheumatism for fourteen years," says Josh Edgar, of Germantown, Cal. "I was able to be around but constantly suffered. I tried everything I could hear of and at last was told to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I did and was immediately relieved and in a short time cured, and I am happy to say it has not since returned." Why not call this balm and get well? Sold by Killmer Bros., Titusville, W. G. Wilkins, West Hickory, Pa.

NERVOUS EXHAUSTION. An every day history, high strung nervous, excitable, constant headache, no rest at night, heart weak, appetite poor, loss of weight, strength all gone. Read the following: Mrs. Fred Wholston, of Gladerun, Warren, Pa., says: "I was induced to use A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills for excessive nervousness. I was so nervous I could not bear a noise or much talking. I was very forgetful—my mind seemed dull. I was listless and tired all the time. The result of the use of the pills that I used was remarkable. They toned up the nerves and system generally and I work well again, am strong, my mind is clear and noise and talk do not bother me. I am very much pleased with the pills and can recommend them highly to anyone who feels as I did."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50c a box at dealers, or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Company, Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package. For sale by Killmer Bros., druggists, Whomping Cough.

A woman who has had experience with this disease, tells how to prevent any dangerous consequences from it. She says: "Our three children took whooping cough last summer, our baby boy being only three months old, and owing to our giving them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, they lost none of their plumage and came out in much better health than other children whose parents did not use this remedy. Our oldest girl would call justly for much more credit for her cure. —Jessie Pinkney Hall, Springville, Ala. This remedy is for sale by Killmer Bros., Titusville, W. G. Wilkins, West Hickory, Pa.
