TIME TO MAKE HAY.

Haymaking time is when the sun shines. The selling time for anything is when people want it. Having a dry goods store is one thing, knowing where to fill it is another. This store's advertising tells you that your wants may be filled here. The truth of the statements you must test for yourself.

If not true then we lose a business friend, and our policy is to MAKE business friends, not lose them. The success of a store is measured by the loyalty of the buying public to which it caters.

Now for the Haymaking!

VAGARIES OF THE TIDES.

Curious Currents in the Ocean and Its Offshoots.

There are as many vagaries in the waters as in the winds. Why, for instance, should three great ocean currents send their warm waters around the wide Pacific, Atlantic and around the Cape of Good Hope? There have been many theories advanced to solve the problem of their origin, but all have proved fallacious. Other and equally mysterious currents exist in well high all parts of the world. The tides are so erratic in different parts of the world that one hesitates to accept the theory that the moon controls them in all cases.

It is on record that the sea has run for weeks out of the Java sea through the strait of Sunda and thence back again for a like period without any perceptible rise or fall during those times. Then there is the equatorial current that flows into the Caribbean sea, the ever flowing current to the eastward around Cape Horn, the cold stream flowing from the regions of the north past Newfoundland and Nova Scotia and along the American coast to the extreme end of Florida, the continual current running with a velocity of from four to five knots an hour through the strait of Gibraltar into the Mediterranean sea, the swift current running across the rocks and shoals off the end of Billiton Island, which apparently starts from nowhere and ends somewhere in the vicinity of the same place, and the current which, starting half way up the China sea, runs from two to three knots an hour to the northeast and finally ends abruptly off the north end of Luzon.

Then we have those tidal vagaries known the world over as tides. Residents on Serebo side are familiar with them, and those that run up the Hullah and Inwardly rivers from side to side in a zigzag shape till they reach their limit, often tearing ships from their anchorage, originate nobody knows where or why. The rush of waters in the bay of Fundy is nothing but a huge bore sweeping all before it up to the head of the bay till the waters have risen to the height of fifty or sixty feet. Off Southampton we have the double tides, while at Singapore it has been observed for days at a time that there has been but the one rise and fall in the twenty-four hours. The tides may be and very often appear as though they were "moonstruck," but they certainly are not controlled with hard and fast rates by that or any other body.—London Shipping World.

the fine fleur of the society of St. Petersburg are admitted, and the entire is eagerly sought. The stakes are high, the plunging often desperate, and men have been known to leave these salons in a financial condition which approaches ruin. The princesses, however, make a handsome income out of the bank, and no one thinks the worse of them.

How High Can a Balloon Rise?
The altitude that may be attained by a balloon depends, first, upon its size; secondly, upon the filling of gas, and, thirdly, upon the weight being carried. A balloon of ordinary size, 43,000 cubic feet, carrying the smallest weight—that is, one person—when filled with illuminating gas may reach 200,000 feet, but when filled with hydrogen 27,000 feet. In order to ascend higher we first of all need a bigger balloon. One may say it was a happy chance that the Royal Meteorological Institute of Berlin was provided with a balloon of the unusual dimensions of 300,000 cubic feet. The German emperor furnished £500 for making experiments with it, and the Meteorological Institute decided to make use of this opportunity for studying the highest regions of atmosphere.—Harper's Magazine.

A Bad Way to Feed Birds.
It is quite a common practice for persons owning pet birds to teach them to take bits of sugar or other food liked by the bird from the lips. It has been discovered that the trainers of young birds in Europe frequently contract in this way a peculiar parasitic growth on the throat and lungs that is frequently fatal, and a warning has been issued by French physicians which may well be heeded by any one feeding birds from mouth to beak.

VEGETABLES.
Water cress is a good all around brace up for the system. Dandelions purify the blood and generally are declared to tone up the system. Lettuce has a soothing, quieting effect upon the nerves and is an insomnia remedy. Tomatoes rouse torpid liver and do the work ordinarily of a doctor's prescription. Celery is an acknowledged nerve tonic and is more and more used in medical prescriptions. Onions are also a tonic for the nerves, but people will be forever prejudiced because of the odor. Spinach has medicinal properties and qualities equal to the most indigo of all blue pills ever made. Beets are fattening, even a moderately leann man will explain, because of the sugar they contain. Potatoes should be getting fat, as those who have a horror of getting fat, as that is one penalty of eating them. Parsnips, it is now contended by scientists, possess almost the same virtues that are claimed for asparagus. Asparagus is efficacious in kidney ailments to an extent that is not yet, perhaps, thoroughly appreciated. Ordinary lima beans, some one has said, are good to ally third, but the same can be said, with equal truth, of a pitcher of water. Cucumbers, aside from sunbath emitting properties known to readers of previous paragraphs, contain an acid that is helpful in some cases of dyspepsia.—

END OF GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

Los Angeles, Cal., Chosen as the Next Place of Meeting.

New York, May 27.—The Presbytery general assembly chose Los Angeles as the place of next meeting. The Rev. Dr. David G. Wylie of New York offered a resolution providing that a collection for the Tract society be taken in every Presbyterian church during the coming year. The resolution was adopted.

Another resolution adopted called on the Presbyteries to vote promptly on the creed revision.

By unanimous vote the assembly decided to send fraternal greetings to the new Presbyterian church of Mexico, organized last year, which adopted the constitution of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church of the United States of America. Five minutes was also spent in prayer for the new church.

Stated Clerk Dr. Roberts read a list containing the names of 128 Presbyterian ministers who had died since the last assembly. Dr. Roberts said that on account of the death of the stated clerk of the New York Presbytery that body had not sent any report, and that therefore the death of Rev. Dr. George D. Purves of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church and of the Rev. Dr. Birch of the New York Presbytery had not been recorded.

Dr. Stevenson asked the Presbyterians to do their best for New York, where only 8 per cent of the population are Evangelical Christians. The minutes were then read, the moderator pronounced the benediction, the doxology was sung and the general assembly was declared adjourned sine die.

The moderator in declaring the adjournment referred to the unanimity in the action taken by the general assembly, including the revision of faith. "I should not care for the revision of creed," he said, "if I did not think it would lead to an era of evangelical work greater than any other in the history of our church."

MORO TREACHERY.

Native Approached Sergeant Walling and Cut His Arm Off.

Manila, May 27.—While Second Lieutenant Robert C. Humber of the Tenth Infantry and Sergeant Walling of the same regiment were walking about six miles from Camp Vickers, in Mindanao, they perceived a single Moro carrying a flag of truce. When the native had approached close to the Americans he suddenly drew his creese and slashed Sergeant Walling, cutting his arm completely off. Lieutenant Humber attempted to shoot the Moro, but his revolver missed fire and the native escaped in the tall grass.

General Davis, the commander of the American forces in Mindanao, has reiterated his orders that no American soldiers are to leave camp unless in a party of at least 8 men who must be armed and prepared for an emergency.

Probably Fatal Stabbing.

Rochester, May 27.—George Gardner, a stage hand in a local theater, was perhaps fatally stabbed by Johnny White, aged about 23, in a saloon on South Water street last evening. Gardner, it is said, was intoxicated when he entered the place, and after abusing the bartender undertook to drag White from behind the bar. White grabbed a large carving knife and stabbed his opponent in the right breast just below the shoulder, severing an artery. At the hospital it is thought Gardner will not live.

Paid $100 For Caterpillars.

Kingston, N. Y., May 27.—Hewitt Bales, a wealthy and well-known resident of this section of the state, advertised last Friday to pay 10 cents for each fruit jar of caterpillars which are infesting hundreds of shade trees here. The jars were to be delivered at his barn. Up to last night he had paid out nearly $100 to 500 persons ranging from grandfathers to 5 year old children. He says he expected $3 or $4 would cover the cost. The caterpillars were destroyed as soon as paid for.

Boers' Request Declined.

The Hague, May 27.—It is said in Boer circles here that the peace proposals made to the conference at Vereeniging, Transvaal, included the condition that the Boers in the field be allowed to consult with the Boer delegates in Europe before a definite settlement is reached. It is declared also upon the same authority that the British government refused May 23 to accede to this request.

Sympathetic Strike.

Denver, May 27.—Five thousand union men employed in the building trades have struck, causing practically a total stoppage of building operations in this city. The strike was ordered by the building trades council for aiding the woodworkers in their efforts to secure an eight-hour day.

To Attend German Maneuvers.

Washington, May 27.—It is stated on authority that Generals Corbin, Young and Wood have been formally invited by Emperor William to attend the German military maneuvers next fall as his personal guests. The invitations will be accepted by the three generals.

Eight Killed by Tornado.

Charleston, S. C., May 27.—Specials from London state that the reports of the tornado which passed over that section of the state Sunday were not exaggerated. So far as known eight people were killed, three of them being negroes.

HEALTH VERSUS STRENGTH.

A Good Stomach Is Worth More Than Muscular Power.

The strong man was doing some of his most sensational "stunts." Evidently his performance was free from trickery. The muscles spoke for that, and there were ease and enjoyment in all his movements.

"What a splendid fellow!" exclaimed a college student in a front row to his older companion. "I'd give all I expect ever to know of the classics in exchange for that physique. Just think what it means—unlimited endurance and strength. With that and a fair share of brains, there isn't anything a man couldn't accomplish."

The older man smiled at the youngster's enthusiasm. "You're doing very well as it is," he said. "The battle will generally be to the strong and skillful, but it isn't just muscular strength that counts. To tell you the truth, you've inherited something that is worth more to you than all the mere muscle you could put on in a lifetime. I mean your stomach."

"Yes, of course; that's important, but—"

"It's everything, my boy. Now, suppose I should tell you that that big fellow up there is in greater danger of collapse than you are likely to be if you take fair care of yourself and exercise in moderation."

"How is that possible? He is the picture of health and strength."

"And what do you say to this fellow?" asked the physician, drawing a photograph from his pocket. It was the likeness of an athlete not much the physical inferior of the strong man.

"This chap," continued the medical expert, "came to me for treatment recently. He recoiled in. He was losing a pound a day. You see, he had suddenly collapsed."

"What was the trouble?"

"Stomach. I'm not telling you anything new, but it's astonishing how much an elemental truth is overlooked. A man is no stronger than his stomach."

"If your stomach isn't far better than that of most Americans, look out! This patient of mine had changed his food, and it came near costing him his life. So don't be too quick to envy the strong man, and go ahead with your classics, not forgetting twenty minutes or so a day of well directed exercise."—New York Herald.

ORCHARD AND GARDEN.

Onions may be readily transplanted if growing too thick. Weeds should not be allowed to grow or crusts to form around young fruit trees. Do not buy any kind of fruit trees or plants simply because they are cheap. With all transplanting it is important to see that the soil is well filled in around the roots. Prune spurs to one developed bud, for the nearer the old wood the higher flavored the fruit. A weak solution of poultry droppings is a wonderful stimulant of plant growth. It may be used weekly with good effect. Only well rotted manure should be applied around the grapevines. Fresh manure excites the growth, but does not mature it. Quince trees should be mulched as a protection against extreme heat and cold, as the roots are small and usually near the surface. In selecting trees to grow as a wind-break it is quite an item to have them of a close growing habit and of as nearly a perpetual foliage as possible. Plant a double row.

Turkish Delight.

The oriental sweet called "Turkish delight" that travelers in the east are sure to taste is not difficult to make. Have ready an ounce of gelatin, preferably the clear imported sheet variety, which has been soaked for two hours in a very little cold water. Bring to a boil in a porcelain pot a pound of granulated sugar and half a cupful of cold water, adding the gelatin, and boil till the mixture dropped in cold water can be held in the finger. After it has boiled steadily for fifteen minutes add the juice of one lemon and a tablespoonful of brandy. Pour to cool in a clean tin which has been wet in cold water, cutting the mixture as it stiffens into squares like caramels. Each piece is dusted with powdered sugar or rolled in waxed paper.—New York Post.

Ancient Bookkeeping Methods.

The collection of Assyrian and Babylonian records at the British museum has revealed more of the domestic life of people who lived 5,000 years ago than is known in the case of our own contemporary 1,000 years ago. Such was the opinion expressed by Mr. W. St. Chad Boswell when he explained these relics to an interested audience. The clay bricks and cylinders beneath the glass cases were covered with characters, testifying to a completely organized system of justice, marriage, divorce and commerce. The bookkeeping of 5,000 years ago was shown to be wonderfully accurate. A curious form of record is that preserved in the form of baked clay tablets, which were included in clay envelopes, also inscribed with the terms of the transaction, so that a double record provided against the possibilities of damage. The "open and closed evidence" spoken of by Jeremiah is supposed to refer to this system. The practice of recording on a brick the name of the king, of the building and of the city in which it was being erected has had the advantage in modern days that an old brick may become the means of disinterring a city hitherto unknown.—London Chronicle.

They Don't Care For Dress.

Though Wall street men dress well as a rule, the brokers who do most of their work on the floors of the several exchanges seem at times like mobs of "ole do" men. Antique coats, ruffled and rusty, are the rule—any old thing that will stand the strain of much elbowing and some pulling and hauling. Later in the day these men make themselves more presentable. It is only while they are busy with the gymnastics of buying and selling that they are a disreputable looking lot. One must go, though, to the New York real estate salesman to see the choicest specimens of ancient and sorry attire. There you may look on men who, if they wished, could array themselves in the finest of garments and come and go in automobiles, but they do not care for that sort of thing. They can read their titles clear to lots and houses; they are at the real estate auction room with money in their pockets ready to take title to more lands. Why need they care for dress?—New York Sun.

GOOD CLOTHES.

Most Public Men Appreciate the Effect They Produce.

Perhaps only a woman knows the pleasure afforded by the consciousness of being well dressed, but most public men are aware of the magnetic effect of a tailor-made suit.

Fernando Wood, who represented the lower wards of New York in congress, always addressed his rugged, untidy constituents arrayed in a swallowtailed coat, white tie and kid gloves. The "unwashed" appreciated the compliment and cheered the leader for "Fernando Wood."

Daniel Webster, knowing that the eloquence even of Demosthenes was aided by the folds of his toga, always wore his best clothes when he appeared on the public platform or addressed the senate. Once, on being asked why he wore such an elaborate dress when making a speech, he reproachfully turned upon the questioner and asked if he should not present his best thoughts, his best manner, his best garb when he addressed his fellow man!

But, in truth, Webster's garb was simply that of the English Whigs in the days of Charles Fox—blue swallowtailed coat with gilt buttons, buff vest, brown trousers and white cravat.

Charles Sumner once cited it as an answer to unfeeling critics who complained that he was too fastidious and dogmatic when addressing the senate on matters of mere routine.

"Mr. Sumner," says Mr. Brooks, "affected a picturesque style of dress, wearing colors brighter than those which predominated in the senatorial togas of the period. His favorite costume was a brown coat and light waistcoat, lavender colored or checked trousers and shoes with English gaiters. His appearance in his seat in the senate chamber was studiously dignified. He once told me that he never allowed himself, even in the privacy of his own chamber, to fall into a position which he would not take in his chair in the senate. 'Habit is everything,' he said."—Century Magazine.

Emotion Wasted.

"It was terrible even to see the villain die," said the emotional girl at the melodrama.

"Oh, well," consoled the old lady, "he would have died anyway. Did you notice how many cigarettes he smoked?"—Exchange.

DO YOU WANT TO BE CURED TO STAY CURED?

That is just what we claim and propose to prove to you right here. The great claim for Thompson's Barometer Backache, Kidney and Liver Cure is, that it not only cures but makes a PERMANENT cure. We offer $500 if the following statements are not genuine.

Cured Twenty Years Ago.

Twenty years ago last Christmas I was taken sick with dropsy. My legs and feet were badly swollen. I was confined to my bed, all my friends thought my time had come. My head pained me terribly, and finally my wife was urged by Mrs. Spring, the nurse for Dr. Thompson's Barometer and Mandrake Pills, "they would cure me," she said. As a last resort we tried Barometer, three, Kidney and Liver Cure and Dr. Thompson's Mandrake Pills. I wish to say that the pain and swelling began to leave me at once, and a few bottles made a complete cure. I have recommended it to others with good results. I am well and have been perfectly well, doing my own housework.

Mrs. ELY M. MARR, Baker, South Franklin street, Tionesta, Pa. March 26th, 1906.

No Return of Disease in Fifteen Years.

About fifteen years ago I was all run down with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart (often getting black in the face and thought to be dying). I lost flesh till from 150 pounds my weight was reduced to 90 pounds, and for six months I was confined to my bed. A relative of mine who had been troubled with female weakness and nervous prostration and had been cured by Thompson's Barometer, recommended it to me. I began to take the Barometer at once and was not only cured of nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart but began to gain in flesh until in a short time I weighed 100 pounds, and from that time I feel now I HAVE BEEN PERFECTLY WELL, doing my own housework.
