An editor once said that he had seen but one ghost and that was the ghost of a subscriber who had forgotten to pay for his paper. "Was horrible to look upon."

It is expected that the "McKinley" postal cards will be in the hands of all postoffices throughout the country about July. They show a profile view of the late President's face.

Mr. Francis W. Halsey, the editor of the New York Times Saturday Review of Books, contributes to the Review of Reviews for June a suggestive article entitled "Some Books to Read this summer."

Fresh vegetables are at their best now and the White Star Grocery leads New potatoes, lettuce, radishes, onions, tomatoes,—in fact, everything in the vegetable and fruit line, as soon as it comes into the market.

If the earth be equally divided among its inhabitants, each person would get about 21.3 acres, says an exchange. It might be added that if each person had to work those 21.3 acres, what a crop of weeds there would be.

Frank Mong, a native of Clarion county, well known as a drifter, committed suicide in the city jail at St. Marys, W. Va., on May 21st, by hanging himself. He had been drinking heavily and was in a demented condition.

The case in Clarion county vs. Fred Frill, charged with administering oil of tansy to Catherine Harmon to procure abortion, causing her death, was called on Tuesday and was continued, defendant furnishing bail in the sum of $1,500.

The editor of the Dundee Observer has discovered that "whenever the cars run over a farmer's cow, it is always a thoroughbred that comes to pay for. All the stock becomes thoroughbred after being run over by the train. There is nothing that improves stock so much as being crossed with a locomotive."

An exchange says a lawyer in a court room may eat a man a liar, a second-rate villain or thief, and no one will make a complaint when court adjourns. If a newspaper prints sound reflections on a man's character, there is a libel suit or a dead editor. This is owing to the fact that the people believe what the editor says.

A Meadville man says that every fall he takes some good, sound, green tomatoes, wraps them in tissue paper and puts them away in a dry place. During the winter they may be ripened by placing them in the sun, and the family have fresh tomatoes out of season as well as in.

The real estate agency of C. M. Arner & Son have for sale a new two-story frame dwelling house on North Elm street and a three-story brick dwelling on Helen street, besides a number of other desirable properties in town. Any one desiring to purchase a residence will do well to consult Mess. Arner & Son immediately.

Persons who grow roses and are at a loss to know how to kill the little bugs that destroy the beautiful flowers, are hereby informed that a Paris green solution, consisting of one teaspoonful to four gallons of water, carefully sprayed upon the rose bushes, will induce the pestiferous insects to turn up their toes in short order.

Some men are born bosses, and others are born to be bossed. This can't be helped and is evidently in accord with the divine order of things. Many men are lacking in what we call executive ability. They cannot plan or lay out work, devise ways and means or work to the best advantage and if left to themselves will do all their work in the haphazard and most awkward way. They have little or no confidence in their own judgment and had always rather be led than to lead. Other men have quick perceptions, readily forecast coming probabilities and see where five minutes' work today will save two hours' work tomorrow. This faculty of alertness, perception and what we call intuition is distinctly an American trait and may be cultivated and developed. Moreover, it should be, for the possession of it marks the successful man in any line of business.

A game of ball has been arranged for to-morrow afternoon between a team from the Mantle Works and one composed of the business men. 'Twill be an interesting game. Go and see it.

A Meadville man predicts that the clause in the fishing law which permits, under a bond, the use of seines, will result in the practical closing out of every sensible stream in the State. As a law intended for the protection of game fish, the seining clause is pronounced by anglers to be about as sensible as using oil to put out a fire.

An exchange says: "The question of whether a man ought to be married on $50 a month is again being discussed. It all depends on the girl. There are girls it would be perfectly safe to marry on $50 a month, and there are others that it would be positively dangerous—to peace of mind—to marry on $500 a month." It also depends a great deal on the man.

The borough school board met on Monday of this week and effected an organization for the year by electing the following officers: President, J. E. Wenk; Secretary, L. Fulton; Treasurer, J. C. Scowden. The time for electing teachers for the ensuing term was set for Saturday, June 23. The new and re-elected members of the board are Rev. J. V. McAnish, L. Fulton and J. C. Scowden.

The boy who wants to do things must not only be around when such things are happening, but must make things happen, says the Saturday Evening Post. And the only force that will make things happen is thought. The product of thought is ideas, and the most valuable of a good idea is a fortune. Honest work plus good ideas is worth an interest in the business.

Scowden & Clark have a car load of buggies of all grades, a very fine selection, and something to suit any purchaser. Also a good line of team wagons of their own superior make. They are ready for all owners in these lines and hope to have a call from any who may contemplate purchasing. And if you want a plow or anything in the farm implement line, they can fit you out satisfactorily and save you money.

With some young men too rapid development is just as deplorable as no development at all. Such victims of abnormal intellectual growth are frequently imbued with the real belief that the community in which they exist wouldn't amount to much were it not for their presence in it. Usually time and an acquirement of little good sense will dissipate them of such extravagant ideas. Sometimes more heroic treatment becomes necessary.

According to statistics compiled by the Department of Agriculture, Lancaster county, Pa., is the banner farming community of the United States. The figures follow: Value of farm buildings, $23,147,820; farm products, $12,613,415; amount of gross income, $9,210,815. Other Pennsylvania counties which make a good showing in value of farm buildings are: Montgomery, $10,080,400; Chester, $10,294,720; Bucks, $14,890,970; Berks, $4,633,240.

Some friends of the humanity sent a notice to the Abilene (Kan.) Reflector saying that an "eight-pound boy" had been born to Mrs. Blank. All the editor could make out of it was that the "eight-pound boy" had been born to Mrs. Blank, and this printed it. And the Blanks, who have been married but one year, have been raising Cain about it ever since.—(New York Tribune.)

The following is a paragraph from the Grand Secretary's report at the I. O. O. F. convention held in Erie last week: "During the past thirty-four years the judges of Pennsylvania have distributed for the relief of distress and for the prevention of distress and actual want the sum of $13,145,972.52. To this may properly be added the contributions of the Encampment Branch of the Order for the same period, $2,916,235.85, and it swells the grand total to $17,102,208.37."

When a man commences a communication to a newspaper with "My attention has been called," it is safe enough to assume that the matter is considered by him of sufficient importance to warrant giving it consideration without having attention called to it. The expression is used merely to convey the impression that it was necessary to direct his attention to what is said about him in the newspapers, and that unless this was done he would never know what they were saying. It is a species of self-attention—on adding to his own importance and detracting from that of the newspapers.—Ex.

The game of ball between Tionesta and Titusville on Dorosa Ion Day was a decidedly one-sided affair, the hometown winning by a score of 27 to 6. The visitors were only a "picked up" nine from Titusville and Piquanville and had never played together before, consequently they were out classed by our boys, but they took their overwhelming defeat good naturally. Our boys played a very decent game and for the amount of practice they have had worked very well together—the battery, Bankhead and Blum, playing nicely. Our club this year are all home players and with a little hard work will be able to put up a good game.

The Jamestown Journal says: "Pennsylvania can come to Chautauque and fish to their heart's content without taking out a license. The Fowler fish and game protective measure is simply reciprocal; it prohibits residents of any State which requires a license fee from non-residents to take out a similar license when they fish or hunt in New York. While Pennsylvania requires a license for non-residents who desire to hunt in that state, such license is not required for those who wish to fish there. Consequently Pennsylvania can fish in this State without special license, and welcome to them."

A Tionesta Woman Asks: "Have you a floor paint that will last two weeks?" Yes we have Devos'; it has beautiful gloss and will wear two years properly applied. J. D. Davis 2-26-02.

Letter to J. T. Dale, Tionesta, Pa.

Dear Sir: The house of H. B. Parker, undertaker, in Morris, N. Y., was painted nine years ago with Devos, and is in perfect condition to-day. Mr. Parker's present address is Sherburne, N. Y.

Lead and oil would have to be at least painted twice before now, as it only wears half as long as Devos lead and zinc.

Yours truly, F. W. Dryok & Co. P. S.—Jas. D. Davis sells our paint.

Distressing Accident to a Tionesta Young Man.

A most distressing accident befell one of Tionesta's young men, at Oil City last Saturday afternoon, of which the Derrick gives an account as follows: "Isaac B. Gerow, aged 22 years, was crippled for life, and probably fatally hurt, at Rockwood about 5:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The young man, whose home is in Tionesta, came here two months ago to work on the P. E. R. and secured a job as brakeman on the work train. Saturday afternoon a train of flat gondola cars were being shunted into the siding and he was about the middle of the train. He intended to jump off and get down on the flat car on his hands and knees and sprang off the side, but the back of his jumper caught in the stake at the side of the car and he was thrown beneath the wheels, which passed over both legs. So one saw the accident and he was dragged several yards, his back being out and his arms hurt. When the other trainmen found him he was still beneath the train. Both legs were terribly crushed between the knees and ankles. He was brought to this city in the yard engine and taken to the Oil City hospital, where he was attended by Drs. Ritchey and Coulter, company surgeon, and Dr. J. B. Siggins. One leg was amputated, but the condition of the young man at the conclusion of this operation was such that it was considered dangerous to attempt the second operation. At last accounts the young man was doing fairly well and it is thought he will recover and that the one foot may be saved. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Gerow are with him.

Memorial Day in Tionesta.

Memorial Day approaches each year with ever increasing interest to every loyal and liberty-loving American. As the years advance and the "Honor Roll" of the boys in blue increases, the spirit of our nation bids all pause and listen to their deeds of patriotic valor and heroism, and the citizens of Tionesta consider it a privilege to add their part to a nation's tribute. This year a most excellent memorial sermon was delivered by Rev. J. V. Stackton, D. D., in the Methodist Episcopal church on May 25, and was listened to with pleasure by all, especially by the members of the Grand Army of the Republic. Friday, the 30th, dawned bright and beautiful, and both the busy world was scarce astir, the national colors floated from almost every home and Old Glory spanned our street in many places. At 12 o'clock the members of the Woman's Relief Corps served lunch at their headquarters to all the soldiers, their families and those who took part in the exercises of the day. At two o'clock a large procession of the young people of our town and community formed at the Presbyterian church and was escorted by the Post and band to the river bridge where beautiful services were conducted in memory of those who perished in the U. S. Navy. From there the procession advanced to the beautiful Riverside Cemetery (that never looked more beautiful) where impressive services were held, and loyal tribute was paid to soldiers of three wars, the last hero laid in the silent city, being Harold May Sharpe of the Spanish-American War. Later the people assembled at the Court House and listened to a splendid address given by Prof. C. E. Lord, of Franklin.

Ohio River Victims.

Beautiful and impressive memorial services were held in the Presbyterian church here to-day in memory of the late L. L. Hunter and L. B. Magill, two prominent citizens of this place who were drowned in the sinking of the packet City of Pittsburg at Cairo, in the Ohio river, and whose bodies have not yet been recovered. The union service took place at 11 o'clock, and the church of which Mr. Hunter was a member was crowded with friends. The offering of flowers was a superb one, and the services one of the most impressive the county has ever known. A addresses were made by Rev. Marks, pastor of the Presbyterian church; by Rev. Kernick, pastor of the M. E. church, of which Mr. Magill was a member; A. W. Course, cashier of the Tionesta bank, and W. W. Hays, associated with the deceased citizens in business. These addresses were touching and appropriate; they were eulogistic of the high character of the dead, of their value to the community, and the loss it had sustained in their sudden taking away, and full of comfort and hope for the sorrowing relatives and friends. Solemn devotional services were conducted, assisted by the choir.—Tionesta correspondence to Oil City Derrick.

Suggestions for Correspondents.

The following sensible suggestions for newspaper correspondents by Bro. Borland of the Franklin News:

Avoid sensationalism.

Always use "etc." in preference to "etc."

Do not use the word "Sabbath" for "Sunday."

Correct punctuation is essential to all writing.

Commence every sentence with a capital letter.

Don't make any veiled references about persons.

Above everything else, write proper names plainly.

Do not use the character "A" except in firm names.

The time any item of interest occurs is always essential.

Do not abbreviate the names of persons, days or articles.

Items that cannot be confirmed should not be handled.

The editor is not inspired and cannot always guess your correct meaning.

Always give titles of persons, such as Captain, Lieutenant, Doctor, Professor, etc.

Never write anything about any person you would not like to see in print about yourself.

Give initials and full name when possible. The abbreviation "Mr." should be dropped.

"State," when referring to Pennsylvania or any other State in the Union, should begin with a capital "S."

By observing the above your letter will be handled more easily and give better satisfaction to both yourself and the editor and publisher.

In referring any item always remember the five W's—What, Who, When, Why and Where. If this is observed, the item will be complete.
