The other nominations were made by acclamation.

The nominee, Judge Samuel W. Pennypacker, of Philadelphia, had concof these things to contend with, at the same time paper dissatisfied with Ding'ey law loving greetings to the bride and bridehe had, like his principal competitor, a times, "is a dead sea apple to the Cuban," clean official record, and an unsullied pri- Bot when the Cuban wants a full share of vate character, standing very high in the American pippins all he has to do is to estimation of those who know him best ask for annexation. He is extraordinaras a man of strictest honor and probity.

The other members of the ticket are men of irreproachable character. Hon. men of irreproachable character. Hoo, Wm, M. Brown of Lawrence county, the nominee for Lieut. Governor, is one of the most popular men in his section, and is peculiarly fitted by training and expe-rience for the position for which his party has nominated him. Major Isaac B, Brown's nomination for Secretary of Internal Affairs came to him unanimously, he having had no formal competitor from the start of his canvass

The Sentiment of the State.

The Republican press of the State which was more than ordinarly divided on the gubernatorial nomination before the convention, is uniting heartily in the support of Judge Pennypacker. Here and there is silence on the part of some one unusually disappednted, but it is only for a day.

In general the newspapers that were the more earnest supporters of Mr. Elkin before the nomination are warnest in their commendation of Judge Pennypacker, recognizing in him a candidate who can be supported by all factions of the party, one who, with his position on the bench, has been free from all the controversies that have stirred up the party in the State in the past few years, but who is a consistant and thorough-going Republican. There is no ground upon which June 20, 1877, and after a period of twenty-personal or factional opposition to Judge live years, "we are (exceedingly) happy splendid way they acted." Pennypacker can stand.

THE nominations made at Harrisburg last week seem to have thrown the Democratic editors of the State into a terrible rage,-Titusville World,

JUST as the reorganizers were squaring off to make the surrender of the Philippines paramount, Oregon, hit the scutties a stunning blow by giving a Republican congressional majority larger than that of two years ago. That long sought issue is still invisible, and November only five months away.

DEMOCRATIC prophets are not quite so exuberant over the outlook in the congressional canvass as they were before the election in Oregon a week ago. The increased majority which the two Republican candidates for Congress got in the election in that State shows that the chances for a Republican victory in November are extremely favorable. The issues which will be up in the canvass throughout the country were at the front in the campaign for Congress in Oregon, and there the Republicans made a gain over even the high total of 1900. All the indications point to a big triumph for the Republicans in this year's voting. The Democratic leaders are beginning to concode defeat for their side already.
