CRISIS SAFELY PASSED.

King Edward is Making Good Progress to Recovery.

Trade Conditions—Amnesty For Filipinos—Bryan on Harmony—Mary Murphy Murdered—Charged With Husband's Death—Pay of President's Physicians.

A dispatch from London says that in view of the king's continued improvement no further bulletin will be issued at night.

Buckingham palace wore a gay appearance yesterday for a week past, and the constant coming and going of royalty and streams of carriages bore testimony to the feeling of increased confidence that the king would recover. In the afternoon a party of princesses drove to Sheen House, Richmond, and the Prince and Princess of Wales paid a long visit to Buckingham palace. Last evening the queen and the royal ladies dined with in sight of the public through the windows in the front of the palace, thousands of people being gathered in the space in front of the building.

The king was again successfully transferred from his bed to a movable couch.

Several postponed functions are being arranged. Lord and Lady Lansdowne announced that their reception will be held July 1. The king has commanded that the Prince and Princess of Wales shall represent their majesties at the India office reception to be held July 4.

The general feeling of relief as a result of the favorable reports of the condition of the king vented itself last night by touching off of the 3,000 bonfires throughout the United Kingdom, which were originally prepared to celebrate coronation night.

The signal to light the fires was given at five minutes past 9 o'clock; a rocket was sent up from the top of a gigantic wheel in Earl's court and burst in a cloud of stars 1,000 feet overhead.

In response to this signal bonfires rose from every elevation of any consequence from the Lizard to the Orkneys. The celebrations were unfortunately somewhat dampened by a downfall of rain.

London was not officially illuminated. It was hoped that the Mansion House, the Bank of England and Marlborough House would join in the celebration, all their illuminating stands being intact, but none of the official decorations were lit up. The display in London in this line was confined to the theaters, the hotels and the business houses on the Strand, Fleet street and other thoroughfares.

There was quite a celebration at Spithhead yesterday when the nearest approach to a review of the great fleet there was seen in the trip of several transports loaded with volunteers and colonial troops and a number of distinguished persons, who inspected the emperor's "first line of defense."

The arrangements for King Edward's dinner to the poor of London, to be held July 5 are being rapidly completed.

Report of Trade Conditions.

Bradstreet's says of the state of trade: Unseasonably cool weather is a drawback to immediate retail distribution and arrests the progress of the corn crop east and west. Confidence in the outlook, however, is evidenced by the continued heavy buying for fall delivery noted in the great grain growing sections of the west. This is also reflected by the continued large increases in railway earnings over the best results of previous years, except where, as in the case of the coal roads, distribution is paralyzed by the wholesale shutdown of production and consumption.

The prices movement has been irregular in keeping with varying weather conditions as far as agricultural products are concerned.

In cereals the features have been the strength of corn, on reports of cold weather, and the advance in oats due to short supplies and large cash demand. Wheat has fluctuated within narrow limits, but the large decreases in supplies have constituted a balance to the quite favorable reports as to the winter and spring planted crops.

Business failures for the week number 153, as against 177 last week; 196 in this week last year; 185 in 1919; 158 in 1918 and 153 in 1917.

Amnesty For Filipinos.

At a meeting of the cabinet (the terms of an amnesty proclamation to the Filipinos, which it is contemplated to issue on the Fourth of July, were agreed upon. The war department for some time past has had under consideration the draft of a proclamation. In its modified state it was agreed to by the cabinet and Secretary Root will cable it to Acting Governor Wright for his inspection. If it meets the latter's approval nothing will remain but for the president, if the Philippine civil government bill is a law on that day, as is now expected it will be, to issue on Independence day a formal proclamation setting forth terms of amnesty for all political offenders in the islands, including Aguinaldo and those held at Guam.

The cabinet meeting was held in the president's temporary quarters on Lafayette square and was the first time in 88 years that a regular session of the cabinet had been held outside of the White House.

House Passed Philippine Bill.

At the end of a nine-hour session and of a debate lasting night and day for a week the house of representatives passed the Philippine civil government bill practically as it came from the committee. It was a party vote—141 to 97—with the exception of Mr. McCall of Massachusetts who voted with the Democrats.

George E. Roberts, who comes into ownership of the Des Moines, Ia., Register, has announced that arrangements have been consummated to consolidate the Des Moines Leader with it and that the consolidated paper will appear Tuesday morning as the Register and Leader.

Uncle Sam Won.

The American yacht Uncle Sam, owned by Francis R. Riggs of New York, won the first of the international special class races at Kiel, the stars and stripes crossing the line eight minutes ahead of all other flags.

Bryan's Views on Harmony.

The absence of W. J. Bryan from the Democratic harmony dinner at New York is pretty well explained by a statement given out by Mr. Bryan commenting on the dinner. At the outset Mr. Bryan says there is no such thing as Democratic harmony, where former President Cleveland is concerned. He says:

"The banquet given on the evening of June 19 by the Tilden club of New York city was advertised as a harmony meeting but it turned out to be what might have been expected of such a gathering, an ovation to the chief guest, former Democrat, Grover Cleveland. There can be no such thing as harmony between men like him and those who believe in Democratic principles, and he is frank enough to say so. He spent no time looking for 'middle ground,' upon which to gather together discordant elements."

"The fight is on between a Democracy that means Democracy and a Clevelandism which means plutocracy. Every speech made by Mr. Cleveland shows more clearly the odiousness of the policies for which he stands. We have more to fear from those who, like Mr. Hill, endorse Mr. Cleveland's views but conceal their real purpose in ambiguous language."

Autopsy on Murdered Child.

An autopsy held Sunday morning on the body of Mary Murphy, the 6-year-old child who disappeared from her home in Buffalo on June 17, and whose body was found Friday night in a pond in Forest Lawn cemetery, showed beyond doubt that the child had been criminally assaulted and then strangled to death. Medical Examiner Daner and his assistant, Dr. Howland, conducted the autopsy in the presence of Assistant District Attorney Haller. Dr. Daner stated that appearances showed conclusively a criminal assault and that the child had afterwards been strangled. There were no traces of water in the lungs. The police have no clue to the perpetrator of the atrocious deed.

Charged With Husband's Death.

On Friday night, June 20, following a call of his wife at his office, the body of Dr. Jacob F. Meyer was found with two bullet holes in it. One of the bullets had penetrated his heart. Mrs. Meyer had left the office quietly and gone to a police station nearby, where she told the sergeant that her husband had been accidentally shot during a friendly scuffle between them and asked for an ambulance to be sent to the office. Detectives found evidence which was brought out before Police Justice Murphy which resulted in the finding of a charge of murder in the first degree against Mrs. Meyer, who has been kept under close police surveillance. The accused woman is in a state of collapse.

Dying Man Saw Race.

Captain Sam Bryant, one of the best known turf men in the country, died of dropsy at his home in Louisville Sunday.

When the American derby was run at Washington park, Chicago, one week ago, Captain Bryant, against the advice of his physicians, insisted on going to see the race. He was confined to his bed at the time and had to be carried from his home on a couch to the track. From the train he was borne to the race track and his couch was placed in position so that he might view the race, which he said would be the last he would ever see. After the race was over he was brought back to this city and since then he had gradually grown weaker until the end came.

Harvard and Yale Races.

Rowing within 10 seconds of record time, the Yale varsity crew Thursday lowered the colors of the fastest eight that Harvard has yet produced. Yale won by four boat lengths. Yale's time was 20:20; Harvard, 20:33.

In the four-oared race the colors of Harvard were borne to the front. The Cambridge four won by two and a half lengths.

In the freshman race Yale's crew led over the last mile until within a few feet of the finish, where the Harvard crew by a magnificent spurt jumped their shell up even with the blue. The judges were compelled to decide that the race was a draw.

Pay of President's Physicians.

A senate measure was agreed to authorizing the secretary of the treasury to pay the unpaid expenses incurred on account of the last illness and death of President McKinley, including compensation of physicians, $45,000, provided that only such expenses shall be paid as are just and reasonable, no government employe to be paid any sum for personal or professional services. The bill was passed.

CORONATION SPORTS.

Amateur Contests Won by Englishmen But Americans Were Gaiety.

London, July 1.—A large company assembled at the National Sporting club last night to witness the boxing contests, held in connection with the coronation sporting tournament, between Harvard and Yale students and English amateurs. All the professional fighters who took part in the contests held last week were present and in some cases they acted as attendants for the American students. All the amateur bouts resulted in victories for the Englishmen but the Americans gave remarkable displays of gameness.

The first contest was between heavyweights. Dodge of Harvard was considerably smaller than his opponent, F. Parkes of the Polytechnic Boxing club, who is the amateur heavyweight champion. In the course of the second round both men landed a number of heavy blows. Dodge was the first to weaken, but he fought a resolute third round and at times looked decidedly dangerous. Parkes, however, got the verdict on points and Dodge was vociferously applauded for his gallant stand.

In the middleweight contest Wenck of Yale met R. C. Warnes of the Lynn Boxing club, who is the amateur middleweight champion. The American had all the advantage of the rapid exchanges at the opening, but eventually Warnes acted on the defensive and by the aid of a number of facial hits he got a lead which enabled him to win comfortably. The contest was remarkable for the good feeling shown by both boxers.

In the lightweight bout, Cates of Columbia was fully 20 pounds lighter than his opponent, A. Warner of the Highgate Harriers, who is the amateur lightweight champion, and much respect was expressed at this difference in weight. In spite of the disproportion, however, Cates put up a plucky fight. Just before the end of the opening round the American went egregiously from a succession of heavy blows on the head and "Tommy Wood," his second, wanted to give in for him. Cates insisted upon another attempt but with no better result, and the referee stopped the fight before the second round was concluded. The courage of the American students was greatly admired. All the amateur contests were limited to three rounds each.

UNIVERSITY CONVOCATION.

First Formal Session Held in Senate Chamber.

Albany, July 1.—The first formal session of the University Convocation was opened in the senate chamber last night. In the absence of the Vice Chancellor, Bishop William C. Doane, Regent St. Clair McKelway of Brooklyn presided. Prominent educators from every section of the state were present. After prayer by Rev. Walton W. Battershall, D.D., Mr. McKelway introduced Governor Benjamin B. Odell Jr., who was with the program to deliver the address of welcome. Mr. McKelway said:

"My friends—The regents are glad to have you as guests. We meet under the shadow of sorrow. But sorrow neither supercedes nor suspends duty. Our dear dead chancellor would have us do here what he has here done in the past—address ourselves to the work which the state expects us to do in its higher educational fields. That will be our work during the sessions. The welcome of the state to the convocation will be extended by the governor of New York, to whom in advance I am sure the convocation itself will give a hearty greeting."

Governor Odell spoke of the advance made in this state in the work of education, so that it has become an example for many other commonwealths.

President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia university, New York city, was the next speaker. His subject was: "Fundamental principles of education in the United States."

At the close of the session an informal reception was held in the state library at which the visiting educators were presented to Governor Odell and Dr. Butler.

BEVERIDGE ASSAULTED

Just After the Executive Session Had Adjourned.

Pulled Away by Senators Hansbrough and Spooner—Trouble Grew Out of a Heated Controversy in the Senate In the Afternoon—Beveridge Made No Effort to Resist.

Washington, July 1.—Senator Bailey of Texas assaulted Senator Beveridge of Indiana last night just after the senate had adjourned from executive session. The Texas senator was dragged away and separated from his opponent by some of those about the senate. He was very angry and threatened severe harm to the Indiana senator.

The episode was the result of a heated controversy which the two senators had during the afternoon when Senator Beveridge had said that Senator Bailey had made "an unwarranted attack" on Solicitor Penfield of the state department.

In executive session Senator Beveridge like other senators who smoke lighted a cigar and took a seat on the Republican side. He was still there when the senate adjourned. Senator Bailey crossed the aisle and walked through the seats until he was facing Senator Beveridge.

"Beveridge," he said, "I don't want to have any trouble with you, but I want you to withdraw those words which charge me with making an unwarranted attack upon Penfield."

"I did not intend to insult you," replied Senator Beveridge, "and there is nothing in my language that you could consider offensive."

"I don't allow any one to say that I libel a man and that is what you do in making the charge. Now, if you won't withdraw the words when I ask you I'm going to make you withdraw them."

Senator Bailey had been getting more and more angry and excited as he talked. He had been sitting down part of the time or leaning against the desk immediately in front of Senator Beveridge. The latter, in reply to Senator Bailey's last remarks, still remaining in his chair, said: "I repeat that I did not intend to insult you and that I have nothing to retract."

As these words were uttered Senator Bailey threw himself upon Senator Beveridge, who is a man hardly up to the average in physique, and seized him by the throat with both hands. The rush was so sudden and fierce that the chair in which Mr. Beveridge was sitting was pushed back against a desk and was toppled over.

Before the assault could go any further senators who had been sitting near had moved up between the desks. Senator Hansbrough seized Senator Beveridge by one arm and Senator Spooner seized the other. The Texas senator is a powerful man and it was with great difficulty that the two senators were able to drag him away from Senator Beveridge and when they succeeded a part of the Indiana senator's neckwear was ripped and torn away in the vigorous grasp of senator Bailey.

Senator Bacon and Barney Layton, assistant doorman, came quickly forward and assisted in pulling the Texas senator further away. Senator Bailey meanwhile struggling to get free and lunging toward Senator Beveridge. As he was removed a little distance he was heard to utter something that sounded like a threat about killing.

Without further effort, however, he walked away when Senator Bacon urged him to be quiet and led him toward the Democratic side. Senator Bacon engaged Senator Bailey in conversation for some time, advising him to cool down.

Senator Spooner also went across the aisle and discussed the matter with the Texas senator, urging him to apologize and if possible fix it up at once, but Senator Bailey refused all such proffers, declaring that Senator Beveridge had insulted him in the senate and that he had taken the only course left, as the Indiana senator had refused to withdraw his remarks.

Senator Beveridge remained in the chamber for some little time and continued to smoke his cigar.

He remarked to those who spoke to him on the subject that it did not amount to anything. He made no effort to resist or resent the attack made on him. In fact the whole thing was over in a very brief interval before much resistance could have been offered.

Will Protect Present Holders.

Washington, July 1.—Acting Secretary of State HJI was in consultation with the president for some time regarding the rival asphalt claims in Venezuela. As a result it may be stated that the president has decided to protect the present occupants of the asphalt property, the National Asphalt company, from dispossession until the decision of the supreme court of Venezuela has been rendered and reviewed by the United States.

Hired Indian to Shoot a Man.

Binghamton, N. Y., July 1.—Dr. Thomas J. Tiffany of Port Crane was found guilty of assault in the second degree, in inducing William Carter, a half breed Indian, to shoot William Garman, a farmer, with whose wife Tiffany was alleged to have been intimate. The Indian swore that he made an unsuccessful attempt at murder at the doctor's instigation. The jury was out 41 hours.

EFFORT TO SAVE CONDEMNED.

Will Seek Aid of Illinois Congressmen In an Appeal to Westminister.

Toronto, Ont., July 1.—A last effort is being made to save the life of Fred Lee Rice, awaiting execution for the murder of County Constable William Boyd. It is a course without precedent and is to be instituted in a foreign country.

Rice's family live in Champaign county, Illinois, and were prosperous before Fred began his criminal career from forgery to murder. The state's representatives in congress and in the United States senate say they know the Rice family well.

T. C. Robinette, counsel for the condemned man, after seeing the failure of step after step in the battle for his client's life, has placed himself in communication with Senator Mason of Illinois and Joseph G. Cannon of Illinois, chairman of the appropriation committee of the house. It is hoped that these men can be induced to interest themselves in the Rice case and can command sufficient influence to at least cause a stay in carrying out the sentence set for Friday, July 18.

Robinette will probably go to Washington this week to arrange the details of an appeal which is to be made to the authorities at Westminster through Joseph E. Choate, the United States ambassador in London.

Mrs. Rice did not arrive in the city, but is expected. She will probably go to Ottawa with a mother's plea to the minister of justice.

Monument to Wagner.

Berlin, July 1.—A committee has been organized at Leipzig to build a national monument to Richard Wagner and Frau Cosima Wagner, the composer's widow, has assumed partial control of the movement.
