Getting in Shape For Fall Campaign.

It is sometimes good business policy to take losses rather than carry goods over into another year; at least we think so. We believe there is money made in assuming these losses, even though we wince at the time, for it leaves our stock bright and fresh and frees us from the handicap so many

We make mistakes occasionally, just as often, perhaps, as anyone else does, but when we find we have erred in judgment we try and remedy it as soon as we can. A mistake means a loss; oftimes a big one. Hence these Mushrooms Easily Grown.

Any one may raise mushrooms in his cellar or even in his attic with very satisfactory results.

He should have a bed which may consist of a shallow box, and this should be filled with a dark, rich loam to the depth of, say, eight inches. It should be in a dark place, and a damp place also is beneficial, but if he uses an attic the room may be kept dark by heavy curtains and the earth damp by frequent watering. An average temperature of from 60 to 70 degrees should be maintained. Almost all seedsmen sell the spawn bricks, and when the bed is prepared the spawn should be broken into fine surface particles and just covered with the earth.

Notwithstanding the popular belief, mushrooms do not come up in a night. but they do in four or five nights, and when once up their growth is very rapid.-Exchange.

Living Indelible Ink.

If the shell of the Purpura lapillus be broken there is seen on the back of the animal, just under the skin, a siender. whitish vein which contains a yellow liquor. When this liquor is applied to linen with a small brush and exposed to the sun it becomes successively green, blue and purple, and finally setties into a brilliant unchangeable crim son. Housewives of New England have growing abandantly on the seaside rocks in their neighborhoods little living bottles of indelible lnk, not to be excelled in beauty or durability by any manufactured product, since neither acid nor alcohol will affect this frice of the whelk.

A Normandy Injunction.

A strange old world privilege, dating back to the time when the Norsemen came to Normandy, was exercised last year in the island of Guernsey. It is called the "Clameur de Haro." By the ancient law of the island a person who thinks his land rights are being infringed upon has only to draw up a statement of the case, which he swears to before two witnesses. This he then presents to the bailiff of the island and, dropping upon one knee, cries out in French: "Oh, Rollo, my prince, succor me! I am wronged!"

This proceeding nets as an injune tion, and the person complained of as trespasser has to stay his trespass until the matter has been adjudicated upon by the courts. This right of issuing one's own injunction by calling unto Rollo was given to the people of Guernsey by Rollo or Hrolf, the Norwegian pirate who made himself the first Duke of Normandy in 911, and there is probably no example of a legal procedure of like antiquity which is today earried out in the same way as that in which it was first instituted.

In this connection it should be remarked that any man of Greece can cook any Greek Greelan women seldem go to market and often do not know how to cook as well as their husbands.

The Gummed Flower.

You may buy upon the street flowers which to the eye are of a bloom as fine and a growth as fresh as any which could be procured at the most costly establishment. You buy them for a song and bring them home, when, lo! to your astonishment and dismay they fall to pieces at a breath like a cardboard house. They have been subjected to one of the "tricks of the trade." It is known as the "gumming process." A single drop of gum is in serted with a sharp pointed instrument into the center of each calyx, and by this means the conformity of the bloom is preserved until the flowers are sold. The composition of the gum is such as to dry up and set immediately, becoming invisible even to the closest scru-

Colorado Guide Says President's Lessons Saved His Life.

Rifle, Col., Aug. 19 .- W. E. Tribble, one of the oldest guides on the west-ern slope, arrived here from camp swathed in bandages and splints and bruised and broken in body and spirit. He credits President Roosevelt's lessons in the use of a hunting knife two years ago with saving his life. Tribble had gone out into the moun tains hunting and fishing and was caught away from camp without his rifle by a hungry grizzly, which disputed his path. Usually bears are too timid to give fight, but this animal took the aggressive from the start and Tribble had to fall back on his hunting knife, the only weapon he possessed. He said of the encounter:

"I always thought I would be in a hurry when I met a bear, and he looked huge and businesslike. 1 creased him and then he came for me landed on my left arm and then scratched my face. I was not long in getting my knife out then, and had got over being scared, and I stabbed him good and straight, right where Teddy showed us the place, and Teddy was right, because the thing rolled over, and I knew he was mine. I was just getting ready then to feel ms arm hurt and my head was bleeding badly, when the mate hove in sight and took her medicine straight."

Assistance From Wales. London, Aug. 19 .- William Abraham member of parliament for the Rhondda valley division of Glamorganshire and president of the South Wales Miners' federation, in an address de livered before the Rhoneda valley miners, urged the acceptance of the proposal of a financial contribution to assist the striking miners in the United States who, he said, were fighting for the cherished principle of arbitration. The meeting passed a resolution in favor of contributions being made by the federation.

Curtous Old Custom In one of the suburbs of Paris wealthy merchant died the other day, and on the evening of the funeral his neighbors witnessed a curious core

An hour before the body was to be taken to the cemetery the relatives of the dead man, five or six in number, went out into the garden adjoining the house and walked selemnly and silently around it. Each carried a lantern and kept his eyes fixed on the ground, as though he were looking for some thing. Finally they all haited in front of a large pile of stones and, laying aside their lanterns, proceeded to throw down the pile. After every stone had been removed they examined minutely the spot on which the pile had rested and then slowly and with bowed heads returned to the house. This is an old Norman custom, and it is observed in this instance because the dend man was a native of Gison. There is a tradition in Normandy that before burying a body all the ground around his dwelling should be searched in or der to make sure that the soul has not hidden itself somewhere. At one time every family in Normandy faithfully observed this tradition, but now only a few pay heed to it.

The Year 1881.

The year 1881 was a chronological oddity of the eddest kind, besides being a mathematical curiosity seldom equaled. From right to left and left to right it reeds the same. Eighteen divided by 2 gives 0 as a quotient; 81 divided by 9 gives 9; if divided by 9, the quotient contains a 9; if multiplied by 9, the product contains two 9s; I and are 9; 8 and 1 are 9. If the 18 be placed under the SI and added, the sum is 00 If the figures be added thus-1, 8, 8, 1 If the figures be added thus—1, 8, 8, 1 Clearance it will give 18 as the result. Rending to the middle from right to left or from left to right it is 18, and 18 is two-ninths of 81. By adding, dividing and multiplying ten 9s are produced, being one 9 for each year to the beginning of the last decade of the nine

No wonder the fortune tellers, the as trologers and the mathematicians wenve so many strange fancies around that curious e additation of figures. It easy have been what induced Mother Shipton to end her prophette jingle with "And at last the world to an end shall come in eighteen hundred and

There is an old allegorical picture of a girl scared at a grass hopper, but in the set of heedlessly treading on a snake. This is paralleled by the man who spends a large sum of money building a cyclone cellar, but neglecting to provide his family with a bottle of Chamberla in's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoes Remedy as a safeguard against bowel complaints, whose victims outnumber those of the cyclone a hundred to one.
