 —Oil and gas leases at this office.
 —Walton! leads than all. T. C. S.
 —Hopkins sells the Douglas shoes 41
 —All groceries fresh at Tionesta Cash Store. 11
 —The White Star Grocery for fruits and vegetables. 11
 —Full set Mrs. Pott's irons 50c at Tionesta Cash Store. 11
 —Just a few shirt waists left. You get them at your price. Hopkins. 11
 —What! Don't know anything about Lawrence? Ask Dr. Dunn, druggist. 11
 —Killmer Bros. fall stock of men's and boys' hats and caps is just in. Styles and prices are both right. 11 —To-morrow Thursday, is the last day for registering if you expect to vote this fall. See the register at once.
 —New fall hats are in. Anything you want. Any style, any color. Price ranging from 50c to $4.50. Hopkins. 11
 —Carl Squires, residing up near the county home, had his left hand severely hurt by running up the line of a pitchfork into it Monday.
 —A young son of Henry Matha, living on Tubbs Run Hill dispatched a rattle snake one day last week which sported 15 rattles, a very rare sight.
 —The suspension bridge at Oil City has been purchased by the County Commissioners for $12,000 and is now free. This leaves only one toll bridge in Oil City.
 —Edinboro Normal had a greater percentage of increase in attendance this year than any Sta. E. Normal in the State. Fall session opens September 2. John F. Bigler, Prin. 11
 —Work on the new railroad bridge over the creek at the mouth of Ross Run was begun this week. The bridge was taken away in an ice gorge last winter. Wheeler & Dusenbury are erecting the new one.
 —The reunion of the Veterans' Association of Forest county at Monarch Park, Oil City, next Wednesday, 10th inst., should not be forgotten by the old soldiers of this section. A good time may be looked for.
 —All those who pass through the door of success will find it labeled "Push." Push towards success. Get a business training. Take a course of training at Warren Business University, Warren, Penna. Send to-day for catalogue. 41
 —The bay window of the depot at this station is being enlarged by an addition to its front, which will be occupied by the agent and his office crew. The "inwards" will then be torn out thus enlarging the capacity of the waiting room considerably.
 —The law of 1902, requiring the supervisors and road commissioners to keep the loose stones out of the public road, does not apply to boroughs, but it ought to. It seems also not to apply to some townships, either, if we are to judge by appearances.
 —One of the best wells that has been struck in this county for some time was drilled in by John Rock, on the Rock, Cooper & Co. lease last Thursday. It started off at a 50-barrel rate, and shows up for a good stay. This lease is located about two miles from the borough limits.
 —You are quite wrong in thinking that the market is overstocked. There was never such a demand for young men and women who have been trained for positions as stenographer and bookkeepers. Get into line. Take a course of training in Warren Business University, Warren, Penna. 41
 —James W. Mong of the township, lost a dog about ten days ago which he prizes highly and would be willing to pay a liberal reward for information leading to his return. The dog is of the shepherd breed, medium size, black and white, with brown spots over the eyes, and answers to the name of "Uno."
 —Of the handsome new kindergarten building in course of erection at Edinboro, through the generous philanthropy of Mrs. N. P. Wheeler, the Tidoute News says: "The building is very ornate, being in the colonial style with great handsome columns on the front. It combines the beautiful and useful."
 —In the brilliant article on "Oliver Wendell Holmes, Jurist," which appears in the Review of Reviews for September, Mr. George Perry Morris suggests the capacities and characteristics of the gifted Massachusetts judge whom President Roosevelt has just called to the bench of the United States Supreme court.
 —Wednesday afternoon, Ray, the sixteen year old son of J. P. Ayresworth, owner of the hemlock mill at Edinboro, slipped from a pile of logs, falling under the saw carriage just as it was started back. Quick action stopped the carriage short otherwise the young man would have been killed. As it was pieces of bone were cut from one leg at the knee and a large flesh wound made. Dr. C. C. Kemble was down and dressed the laceration. The leg will likely be stiff at the knee.—Tidoute News.

—The "Venango Vindicator," is a new candidate for public favor issued weekly at Franklin, and is calculated to vindicate the cause of the prohibition party. The first number shows up well and bears evidence of a good deal of vim back of the venture. Wet or dry we can wish the Vindicator none other than good luck.
 —George I. Davis the artistic painter and paper hanger, has just completed a good piece of work on the Free Methodist church at this place, the paint and paper on the inside adding much to the beauty of the edifice. The borough school building has also been greatly beautified by the skillful touch of Mr. Davis.
 —The Green Twp. schools opened Monday with the exception of the one in the Blume district, which is not quite completed. The teachers are as follows: Nebraska No. 1, Emma Klinefelter; No. 2, James Kerr; Fynn, Earl R. Small; Hinder, Nellie Harrison; Guitonville, Edith Gayley; Bowmanville, No. 1, Carrie Balestine, No. 2, Florence Bowman; Kiser, Grace Robinson.
 —On the fourth page of this issue will be found a notice to the effect that the Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings at Harrisburg, will receive bids for the erection of the bridge over Tionesta creek a short distance above Nebraska. This bridge was taken down by the ice break-up last winter, and will be rebuilt by the State. It is expected to have the structure ready for travel before winter sets in.
 —Talk about your bass fishing. One morning last week Judge Hill and Mr. Watson of the shooting gallery strolled down to the mouth of the creek and in just one hour caught 37 rock bass, all of them weighing between 7 and 8 pounds. We give this for the edification of our friend W. O. Smith of the Punky Spirit, who was somewhat concerned a few days ago at the noticeable absence of anything on the fish line from us, and it is no fish story, either.
 —Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Gorman entertained 30 young people at their home in Edinboro on Tuesday evening of last week, in honor of their niece's birthday. Miss Mae Hadley formerly of Brownsville, Ohio. The company was entertained by music and parlor games. Ice cream and cake was served at half after. All report a fine time and wished Miss Mae many happy returns of the day. She received a number of handsome presents.
 —Services will be held at the German Hill Lutheran church next Sunday forenoon, Sept. 7th in the English language only. Preparatory services for the Lord's Supper will begin promptly at 10:30; services proper at 11 o'clock, after which the holy communion will be distributed as customary. Both the German and the English languages will be employed in the distribution of the elements. There will be neither S. S. nor evening services next Sunday.
 —The coming annual reunion of the survivors of the Eighty-third regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers, to be held at Cambridge Springs the last week in October promises to be one of the best attended of the reunions held in recent years. Between one hundred and two hundred survivors are scattered throughout the country, and from this number a goodly portion will participate. The Eighty-third Regiment was the first to enlist in this section and went to the front in September, 1861.
 —Eight head of three-year-old cattle were driven into this city on Tuesday, that successfully carried an idea that Venango county cannot raise as good beef as the West. The animals were driven by R. O. Carson of Perry, Pa., and were uniform in size their weight being within a few pounds of 1,200 each.—Derrick, the foregoer is all right, except that it hardly proves that Venango county can raise as good cattle as Forest, for Mr. Carson is one of Forest county's prosperous farmers, and the eight head are of our county's production.
 —George L. Ball, employed on Clough's shingle mill, located in Howe township, was taken to the Kane Summit hospital on Thursday last suffering from an ailment on the forehead. Mr. Ball was working on the shingle jointer when it flew up and a piece of steel struck him in the forehead, cutting a deep gash. The wound was dressed upon his arrival at the hospital and he has rested quite comfortably since. It was a narrow escape from instant death and from the nature of the wound, it is considered wonderful that he withstood the ordeal as well as he did.
 —Peter Stubler, who has been in the wholesale liquor business in Oil City for more than a quarter of a century, has disposed of his stock and business, together with the building in which it was carried on, facing Seneca and Elm streets. The purchaser is Jacob Lincoln, a well known traveling man representing a Pittsburg wholesale liquor house. The price paid is understood to be between $55,000 and $60,000. Mr. S. is well known to many of our citizens. We understand he will devote his time principally to his oil interests in Ohio, which are growing rapidly.
 —Three games of base ball were played on the home grounds during the past week. The first, last Thursday, was with the strong Clarendon team and was one of the best of the season here, resulting 7 to 6 in favor of the home team. Tionesta took two games from Oil City Monday, the first one by a score of 10 to 3, Truby and Franklin being in the box for the visitors in this game, and McMillan and Lawrence for the home team. The second game resulted 13 to 8, with First and Franklin as the Oil City battery, and Bankhead and Lawrence for Tionesta.
 —During the last session, of Congress, through the efforts of Mr. Sibley, our able member, an appropriation of $10,000 was secured for the improvement of the Allegheny river between Pittsburg and Warren. This fund is now available, and the Government has instructed its agent, Lyman Cook of Nebraska, to proceed with the work, starting at Warren. Mr. Cook left for there yesterday morning and with a crew fully equipped with boat, teams, seraps, and the like, will begin the work of clearing the channel of all obstructions, so that navigation may be carried on during the lower stages of water. They expect to be busy as long as the river remains low enough to work advantageously.

POLICEMAN MCKIBBON OF SIVERLY
 Shot by a Tramp Burglar who Proves to be Joseph Hawthorn Sent to the Pen From Here Four Years Ago.
 Police Officer O. R. McKibbon was shot twice and probably fatally wounded in Siverly borough about midnight Tuesday by a desperate character whom he was about to place under arrest as a suspicious character.
 Shortly before midnight residents of the borough whose homes are in the vicinity of Imperial avenue and Third street were aroused by the sound of three pistol shots following closely after each other from a self-acting pistol, followed by cries for help. A minute or two later the Citizens Traction company car arrived from Oil City and the motorman, Homer Sutton, saw Police Officer McKibbon lying in the middle of Third street, near the corner of Imperial, with a man lying under him. He shouted to the conductor, Omar Hunter, unshipped his heavy handle from the controller and ran to the assistance of the officer, followed closely by Hunter. The arrival of the car seemed to give the people of Siverly more courage and in a short time a dozen or more men were on the scene.
 Blood was gushing from a terrible looking wound in the jaw or neck of the officer and from a bullet hole in his right breast. He had succeeded in wresting the weapon from his prisoner and was holding him and shouting for assistance.
 It was about 11:30 o'clock at night that Officer McKibbon called into the Tuck pharmacy and accompanied the proprietor home. They were walking west when they passed the desperado, who spoke to them. On leaving Mr. Tuck at the latter's gate Mr. McKibbon stated that he would go back and ask the stranger his business. McKibbon overtook the man and asked him where he was going. The stranger replied that he was going to the imperial yards to take a freight car out of the place. McKibbon at that time he would go with the man to the yards. Just then the fellow staggered away as though drunk and immediately opened fire upon the policeman. There were three shots fired two of which took effect. McKibbon had left his handcuffs and revolver at home and had only his mace for protection.
 After being shot he struck the man who had shot him, on the forehead, knocking him down and fell on top of him, at the same time calling for help and taking the man from him. These facts were given by the officer immediately after the prisoner had been captured and before the officer had so far collapsed from shock, loss of blood, and pain, to lose his clearness of mind. The prisoner was placed on the car and taken to Oil City where he was locked up for the night. During the ride to the city a bundle containing drills, fuse and other like articles used by tramp safebreakers. It soon developed next day that the desperado was none other than Joseph Hawthorn, alias Manning, who was tried and sent to the penitentiary from Forest county for a term of five years for stealing hides from the Hickory tannery and a bicycle from Jas. H. Kelly of this place. At the hearing his identity was made clearer by an exhibition of two photographs taken while the fellow was in jail here, and presented to the Oil City authorities by Mr. Kelly, who had preserved them. Hawthorn could not have been out of the pen more than a week or two, for he was sent up in September, 1898, for five years, and his release was gained thus early through good behavior, no doubt. Barber Charles Russell of this place was convicted as an accomplice of Hawthorn in the hide stealing affair and sent down for three years.
 Policeman McKibbon, the officer through whose bravery and nerve the desperado was captured, bids fair to recover from his fearful wounds, his great pluck being responsible largely for the favorable turn in his condition, for his physicians had little hope of his recovery.
 It is believed Hawthorn has accomplices, and strenuous efforts are being made by the police authorities to locate some of them, with good prospects that all or part of them will be brought to bay unless they leave the country.
 Boiler on Proper Lease Let Loose.
 A twenty-five horse power boiler on the Proper lease, Bowman tract, out beyond Cropp Hill, exploded last Thursday, but luckily no one was hurt. Charlie Killmer and Albert Behrens had just taken their tour after the noon hour, and both were in the derrick at the time. The safety valve was not working any too well and some extra weights had been used to hold it down, and it is not known how much steam was on, but Charlie thinks there may have been 200 or 300 pounds. At any rate there was enough, and when the thing let go it acted as though there might have been a thousand pounds. One side of the boiler was thrown a distance of over 200 feet cutting off a small tree in its wake about fifteen feet up the trunk. The boiler was a good one, worth about $400, but couldn't stand such a pressure. In about two minutes more Albert, the tool dresser, would have been "right next" the machine, and of course it is unnecessary to calculate where he would have been now or immediately after. It was a lucky blow-off and will doubtless make the boys more careful in future.

A WOMAN HUNG
 about the neck of her husband and begged him to get the BEST and save money by buying Banquet Flour.
 It cannot be excelled in Quality and Price.
 One Sack of Banquet means Banquet always.
L. J. Hopkins.

Not a bit too early to buy your COTTON BLANKETS.
 These cool nights are very suggestive, this store's line of Cotton Blankets is bought with great care—each design, quality and size as carefully considered as if we were buying silks or satins, consequently the large assortment we offer for your consideration is exceptionally good—better than the average of a store in a town of this size would show. It's to your advantage to come early. You get the pick and choice of all of them. We doubt if even the cheapest ones (the fifty centers) can be duplicated anywhere for the same money.
 The line begins with
 A white 10-4 blanket with blue border and red border, 50c.
 Grey and brown of same, 50c.
 Black and white striped 10-4 blanket, stripes of various widths, a beautiful blanket, 80c.
 Two others, just as nice, 10-4, pink with blue border, and vice versa, 80c.
 Grey and brown 11-4 blankets, red and blue borders, 80c.
 A little better blanket, grey, 11-4 with blue and brown and red and brown border, 95c.
 Next two are popular priced ones, and should be prime favorites—both 11-4 —grey with blue and red stripe border and mottled grey with blue and tan border $1.00.
 Next, a step higher and the quality improves with the price: white, 11-4 pink and blue border, and a tan 11-4, with red and blue border, $1.10.
 Tan—11-4—an exception for the money, with brown and blue borders; and grey 11-4, with blue and pink borders, $1.19.
 Grey—11-4—a good number, with variegated colored border, $1.25
 Still better ones, in which the quality distances the price: grey and tan, both 11-4, with mixed colored borders, $1.59.
 This is the last one—a sure cure for insomnia—and large enough for anyone, 12-4, grey with red and blue borders, $1.65. Domet, Reizei and Otter Kobes, beautifully figured, exceptional quality, soft as down, they are single and just the right size and shape to make bath or lounging robes out of—come in self-colored Persian designs, black and white, red and blue, brown and tan, black and blue, red and green, and dark and light red, $1.19.
