COLER FOR GOVERNOR.

Charles N. Bulger For Lieutenant Governor.

Operators Balked Settlement—Death of Emile Zola—Another Conference. Corner of Wheat—Pension Report. New Comet Visible—Big Profits of Steel Combine.

Saratoga, Oct. 2.—The following is the Democratic state ticket named last Wednesday: For Governor—Bird S. Coler of Kings. For Lieutenant Governor—Charles N. Bulger of Oswego. For Secretary of State—Frank H. Stett of Chautauque. For Comptroller—Charles M. Preston of Ulster. For Attorney General—John Cuneen of Erie. For State Engineer and Surveyor—Richard J. Sherman of Oneida. For State Treasurer—George R. Finch of Warren. For Associate Judge of the Court of Appeals—John Clinton Gray of New York. The Democratic state convention was called to order at noon Tuesday by State Chairman Frank Campbell, who announced the selection of John B. Stanchfield of Elmira as temporary chairman. At the close of the chairman's speech the temporary roll of delegates was read and a commotion was caused when the delegation from the Ninth district of New York headed by Frank J. Goodwin was seated. W. S. Devery's claim for recognition for his delegation as the regularly elected one was referred to the committee on contested seats, who reported later in favor of unseating both sets of delegates, which was sustained by the convention. The platform summarized opposes trusts, which injuriously affect consumer and employe and drive out small manufacturers, and especially condemns the beef and coal trusts for unreasonably depriving the people of the necessities of life. Amendment of the tariff law, by the placing the necessities of life on the free list, is demanded. The Dingley tariff law is condemned as a whole. President Roosevelt is criticized for dilatory conduct, and is accused of not wanting to offend the trusts. The platform asserts that the proposition to amend the United States constitution to enable the federal government to proceed against the trusts is a mere subterfuge for delay; condemns the neglect of the national and state administration in enforcing the Sherman law and the Donnelly state law; favors trade expansion, but opposes this country aping England in trying to establish a colonial system; condemns the action of the government in its treatment of the Philippines; demands justice for Cuba in trade by a reduction of the tariff to a strictly revenue basis; demands public ownership of anthracite coal mines by the right of eminent domain, and the payment of full damages to owners; arraigns the state administration for extravagances in administering state affairs and asserts that the money spent is scandalously misapplied; also that the low tax rate is fictitious; asserts that localities have been robbed of money due them from taxes; asserts that the state has usurped the rights of local election officers; declares that a state constitutional bill will be passed if a Republican ticket is elected; approves a 1,000-ton barge canal, and immediate improvements; denounces the Republicans for not improving the roads in a proper manner, and calls for systematic improvements; denounces the present state excise laws and demands the return of all monies collected to the county where collected; calls for continuation of the purchase of forest lands for preservation of the water supply; denounces the centralization of the control of the care of insane and poor at Albany; sympathizes with the Jews of Roumania; favors election of United States senators by direct vote; favors exemption from taxation of savings bank accounts; condemns the national administration for "trading judicial positions for state aid."

ENTIRE DIVISION OUT.

Governor Stone Uses Whole Military Force of State.

Governor States That Mob Law Reigns in Seven Counties; That the Civil Authorities Are Unable to Maintain Order and Have Called on the Governor For Help. Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 7.—Governor Stone late last night ordered out the entire division of the National Guard of Pennsylvania to duty in the anthracite coal regions. The soldiers will be in the field today. The order calling out the guard is as follows: "Headquarters National Guard, Adjutant General's Office, Harrisburg, Oct. 8. "In certain portions of the counties of Luzerne, Schuylkill, Carbon, Lackawanna, Susquehanna, Northumberland and Columbia, tumults and riots frequently occur, and mob law reigns; men who desire to work have been beaten and driven away and their families threatened; railroad trains have been delayed, stoned and the tracks torn up; the civil authorities are unable to maintain order and have called on the governor and commander-in-chief of the National Guard for troops. "The situation grows more serious each day. The troops now on duty are insufficient to prevent all disorder. The presence of the entire division National Guard of Pennsylvania is necessary in these counties to maintain the public peace. "The major general commanding will place the entire division on duty, distributing them in such localities as will render them most effective for preserving the public peace. "As tumults, riots, mobs and disorder usually occur when men attempt to work in and about coal mines, he will see that all men who desire to work and their families have ample military protection. He will protect all trains and other property from unlawful interference and will arrest all persons engaging in acts of violence and intimidation and hold them under guard until their release will not endanger the public peace, and will see that threats, intimidations and all acts of violence cease at once. "The public peace and good order will be preserved upon all occasions and throughout the several counties and no interference whatever will be permitted with officers and men in the discharge of their duties under this order. "The dignity and authority of the state must be maintained and her power to suppress all lawlessness upheld in her borders be asserted. "By order of William A. Stone, governor and commander-in-chief. "Thomas J. Stewart, "Adjutant General."

SUNDAY LAW SET ASIDE.

Virginia Railways Will Run Coal Trains on That Day.

Roanoke, Va., Oct. 6.—The following official statement was given out at the general offices of the Norfolk and Western railway: "Instructions have been issued to run coal trains on Sunday through the state of Virginia and elsewhere in order to expedite the shipments of coal for the relief of communities and industries suffering and imperiled for the want of fuel, and these coal trains will continue to run on Sunday during the existing coal famine. "General Manager L. E. Johnston of the Norfolk and Western was seen in reference to the above and stated this move was necessary on account of the unusual demand for coal. "The laws of the state prohibit the running of freight trains on Sunday, but under the circumstances it is thought the action of the railroad will not be construed as a violation of the law. "The daily output of coal in the Fias Top and Pocahontas fields along the line of the Norfolk and Western is at present 600 cars or about 24,000 tons per day. The full output of these mines is 900 cars daily, but the tracks are so badly congested now that it is not possible to move more than 600 cars. "With the Sunday movement the Norfolk and Western expects to be able to send to market 900 cars or 36,000 tons of coal daily. "Sees No Good in It. Baltimore, Oct. 6.—Governor Smith, who because of his absence from the city, has just received the telegram from Mayor Maybury and president of the Council Smith of Detroit, Mich., requesting the appointment of delegates to a convention to consider the coal situation, has sent the following message in reply: "After careful consideration I have concluded that no practical advantage will result by appointing delegates to a convention on Oct. 9 as suggested because in my judgment such a convention can exercise no authority or constraining influence upon operators or miners to end the present anthracite coal strike."

ST. LOUIS BOODLERS.

Case of Millionaire Brewer Charged With Bribery.

St. Louis, Oct. 7.—The case of Henry Nicolaus, charged with bribery, came up in Judge Ryan's court. The millionaire brewer was not present but was represented by his counsel. The date for the trial, it was announced, would not be definitely set for a few days, but it would come soon after the Butler trial, to commence at Columbia next Monday. Judge Ryan announced that the motion for a new trial made by an attorney for R. M. Snyder, the banker and promoter who was convicted Saturday of bribery relative to the Central Traction deal, will be taken up next Friday. The case of Charles Kratz, the councilman charged with bribery in the Suburban case, was called and Circuit Attorney Folk said that Kratz was a fugitive from justice, but he understood that he was desirous of returning to St. Louis. The case was continued to the next term of court by Judge Ryan, but the continuance can be set aside if Kratz appears in the meantime. The October grand jury met in Judge Douglas' court room and organized. It was instructed to continue the investigation began early this year into municipal assembly "boodler methods."

Death of Editor Hastings.

Albany, Oct. 7.—John Hastings, brother of State Historian Hugh Hastings, and a well-known newspaper editor, died at his home here last night. Mr. Hastings was born in this city 51 years ago and has occupied editorial positions on various New York and Albany papers. He was last connected with the staff of the Albany Evening Journal. Another Company Wanted. Glens Falls, Oct. 7.—Sheriff Gill has called on Governor Odell for another company of National Guards. The village trustees have posted a proclamation forbidding all parades, mass meetings or congregating on the streets until the trouble is settled between the trolley company and the strikers. Increase of Japan's Navy. Yokohama, Oct. 7.—It is currently reported that the Japanese government within the next six years will build six battleships, six first-class cruisers and various lesser craft at a cost of $10,000,000 annually for the six years. The battleships are to be built in England and the cruisers in England, France and Germany. Big Profits of Steel Combine. The individual members of the original United States Steel underwriting syndicate will receive another 7 per cent dividend of $10,000,000, notices to that effect being sent out by J. P. Morgan & Co. This makes a fourth dividend of $10,000,000, a total profit of $40,000,000 on an actual outlay of $25,000,000, a return of 160 per cent. There the matter closed. Both the

BOLD BURGLARS FOILED.

One of Five Desperados Killed and Two Wounded.

Williamsport, Pa., Oct. 3.—Five masked men and desperate burglars made a bold attempt to rob the safe of the Montoursville Passenger Railway company early yesterday morning. In a terrific battle with revolvers which followed one of the desperados was killed and two others wounded by Engineer Alem Bly, who was shot twice by the robbers. Shortly before 2 o'clock, while Engineer Bly was at work in the power house of the Montoursville Passenger Railway company, he was startled by a terrific crash, caused by the front door being battered in with a heavy plank. Bly rushed to a desk in which was his revolver, and as he turned to face the intruders he was met with a fusillade of bullets from the revolvers in the hands of five men, who had the lower part of their faces covered with handkerchiefs. One of the shots struck Bly in the hip and another made a flesh wound in the thigh. The wounds did not disable him, however, and he levelled his revolver and fired at one of the burglars, who was several feet in advance of the others. The bullet pierced the heart of the desperado and he fell dead. The engineer kept firing at the gang, who kept up a continuous fire. Two of them were wounded. After his revolver had been emptied Bly retreated and ran to a nearby factory and aroused the watchman, who sounded an alarm by blowing the factory whistle. While Bly was absent the robbers dragged the body of their dead companion outside the building, where they left it and fled. Up to a late hour no trace of them had been found. The dead man has not been identified. He was 5 feet 9 1/2 inches tall, weighed probably 175 pounds and was about 35 years old.

In a terrific battle with revolvers which followed one of the desperados was killed and two others wounded by Engineer Alem Bly, who was shot twice by the robbers. Shortly before 2 o'clock, while Engineer Bly was at work in the power house of the Montoursville Passenger Railway company, he was startled by a terrific crash, caused by the front door being battered in with a heavy plank. Bly rushed to a desk in which was his revolver, and as he turned to face the intruders he was met with a fusillade of bullets from the revolvers in the hands of five men, who had the lower part of their faces covered with handkerchiefs. One of the shots struck Bly in the hip and another made a flesh wound in the thigh. The wounds did not disable him, however, and he levelled his revolver and fired at one of the burglars, who was several feet in advance of the others. The bullet pierced the heart of the desperado and he fell dead. The engineer kept firing at the gang, who kept up a continuous fire. Two of them were wounded. After his revolver had been emptied Bly retreated and ran to a nearby factory and aroused the watchman, who sounded an alarm by blowing the factory whistle. While Bly was absent the robbers dragged the body of their dead companion outside the building, where they left it and fled. Up to a late hour no trace of them had been found. The dead man has not been identified. He was 5 feet 9 1/2 inches tall, weighed probably 175 pounds and was about 35 years old.

STRIKE IN TENNESSEE.

Trouble Over Payment of Relief Assessments.

New York, Oct. 7.—At the quarterly meeting of the directors of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Railroad company held here, the directors endorsed the action of the officers of the company in their refusal to accede to the demands of the striking miners in the Alabama mines. President D. H. Bacon of the company said: "The strike now in progress at the mines of the company is not founded on any differences as to wages or terms or conditions of employment, but is entirely due to differences within the miners' union, and should be of short duration. "The trouble arose in this way. Some of the miners were willing to pay a dollar apiece a week for the support of the striking anthracite miners and some were not. The men who were willing to pay the money were in a majority, and they made a demand upon the officers of the company that the men who would not pay up to the union should either have the money taken out of their wages or be discharged. The company declines to do this and the strike is on. "The strike affects us to the extent of about a quarter of our output. "About 3,000 men are out, but we have a large force of convicts at work. These men will not strike. We hire them of the state, which examines each man, rates him as physically able to do so much work, and charges us accordingly. "These convicts are well treated, getting paid at the regular mining scale of whatever coal they mine above the amount the state rates for each." "The quarterly dividend of two per cent upon the preferred stock was voted. Boer Generals in Brussels.
