-Oil market closed at $1.30. -Fine china dishes at T. C. S. -Oil and gas leases at this office. -Walton! leads them all. T. C. S. -Hopkins sells the Douglas shoes. -Ladies' heavy wrappers at Tionesta Cash Store. -Ladies' walking skirts, suits and jackets at T. C. S. -Overcoats and clothing. You can get a fit at Hopkins' store. -Guns for hire and good ammunition for sale at the White Star Grocery. -Last Sunday was the windup of the Sunday train on the Pennsy for this season.

-Mark it down—Oct 29, 1902, first snow of the season, about two inches on the level. -The Pennsy has placed very neat new iron danger signs at the railroad crossings here. -Hallow 'E'en next Friday night. Remember the new ordinance "ferniest racket," boys. -It is the Stroetman shoe that gives such universal satisfaction. For ladies, misses and children. Hopkins. -Patrick Joyce and sons have finished the abutments for the new bridge across Hickory creek at East Hickory, and have returned home.

-Charles Russell, a former resident of Tionesta, who was arrested on a charge of counterfeiting in Tidoute some months ago, was discharged by the U. S. court in Pittsburg last week for insufficient evidence to sustain the charges. -The ladies of the Presbyterian church will meet on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the church, to pack their Home Missionary barrel for the Western missions. All who will donate clothing are asked to have same sent in promptly. -At half-past-two on Thursday afternoon the ladies who are interested in packing a box of fruit for the Oil City hospital, will please bring their donations to Robinson's store for packing. Remember the hour and kindly be prompt.

-The latest device for girlhood is a fancy for stuffing pillows with old love letters. There is one thing about the contents of these pillows that can be depended upon with a marked degree of certainty, remarks the Union City Times—they are sure to be soft. -While the baggage was being loaded on the afternoon train here last Friday, a satchel burst open and a quantity of pencils and paper and five decks of playing cards tumbled out. Some of the rubbernecks standing around were unkind enough to intimate that the grip belonged to one of the school teachers just leaving. "Ain't that a shame, a messy shame."

-We have said so much lately about ladies' and children's jackets that we feel most ashamed to say more. Still we feel it our duty to impress it on your mind that we will keep on talking until every jacket is gone. At the present rate of selling they're not going to last forever, so come early. Every jacket guaranteed as represented or your money back.

HEATH & FELT. -The Clarington W. C. T. U. held an open air social at the home of Mrs. Butterfield, Saturday, Oct. 4. A fine dinner was served under the apple trees, after which the party returned to the house where a very interesting meeting was held. Among the out of town guests were Mrs. Winnie Goble, of Selig, formerly a member of this union, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Rusak, of Allegheny.

-James West, "the old reliable" brought in the Kellottville mail yesterday, his first trip since he gave up his contract on that route. It seemed sort of old fashioned like to see Jim loading up his barouche for the creek. He tells us that Charlie Deshner, killed an old bear and one of her cubs the other day. Charlie is one of Forest county's most skillful nimrods and makes way with a bear or two every season.

-A movement is being agitated in the state to tax such. A law would give the animals a legal standing, which they now lack, and it might reduce their numbers. The latter result would be desirable on the part of those people who believe that the night should be "stilly," and who have grown impatient because cats get their backs up and quarrel without good reason. But there would be difficulty, in determining who the tax on the stray "tabby" that infects old barns and abandoned outbuildings, and brings forth a new litter with regularity and dispatch?

-Elmer Fitzgerald, whose farm is located between Newmansville and Golina died at his home on the 23rd inst. after an illness extending over several years, of lung trouble. The deceased, who was a half brother of our townsman, Solomon Fitzgerald, was well known to many of our citizens, having been a frequent visitor to our town. He was aged 40 years and leaves a wife and five children besides many friends to mourn his death. Mr. Fitzgerald was a member of the M. E. church. The funeral was held on Wednesday last the interment being in the Lutheran cemetery near Newmansville.

-J. G. Bromley and wife, nee Trossie E. Hyldinger, who were recently married, left yesterday for their new home in Tionesta, and many good wishes go with them for lots of joy and happiness in the future.—Oil City Derrick. The BERNICAN also joins James' many friends hereabouts in extending best wishes for a joyous and prosperous future.

-There's no getting behind it—you can buy all the ready-to-wear clothing on the market, you can have your measure taken by some one who knows nothing about the business, and sent to some so-called Tailoring company, but when you get a suit of clothes that fits, stands up, and holds its shape as a suit of clothes should, you must have the workmanship of a merchant tailor, as well as the goods. Examine F. E. Dick's new samples. If -McClure's, with its record for railroad stories, is naturally the magazine to expect good three-act stories in. Such an one is Harvey J. O'Higgins' "A Change of Profession," in the November number. Evidently Mr. O'Higgins knows engine houses as Frank H. Spearman knows round-houses, and if he can continue to invent such fearfully and wonderfully realistic escapes as the one in this story, he has the material for a good volume of adventure.

-Miss Frances McCallum, daughter of John McCallum, of the South Side, and a George Blair of Clarion, Warren county, were married at Jamestown, N. Y., on Wednesday. The ceremony was a modest one and there were no attendants. The groom is engaged in the grocery business in Clarion, where he and his bride will make their future home.—Oil City Derrick. The bride has many friends in Forest county, who will extend congratulations and best wishes for the future happiness of herself and husband.

-Next Sabbath morning Rev. Dr. Stockton will deliver his farewell sermon to the people of Tionesta at the Presbyterian church. Dr. Stockton came here six months ago to fill the pulpit of the late Rev. Mr. McAninch for that period. How well he has fulfilled that important and delicate task the congregation which has worshipped there can well testify. Dr. Stockton will bear with him in his departure the very highest opinion of all our people, who have learned to love him for his earnest piety, great learning, and gentle, kindly bearing.

-Mrs. Sutley, wife of M. Preston Sutley, of West Hickory, died on Thursday last at her home, after an illness of long duration. Deceased was aged about 43 years, and besides the husband is survived by several children. Mrs. Sutley's maiden name was Manross, and she was highly respected in the community where her life was spent. The husband, children and sorrowing friends have the sincere sympathy of all in this great loss. Funeral services were held on Saturday, the interment being in the cemetery at East Hickory, Rev. Mr. Potter officiating.

-Don't expect immediate or overwhelming results from a single ad. It is better to plan a whole campaign with a view to having each ad. consecutive in order to get the returns most desired. An advertisement that pulls at once after it has been prepared and printed is, of course, a desirable thing to have, but best advertising is that which doesn't exhaust itself with a single day or week, but which causes people to buy when they need the goods and to remember the store when they want more goods no matter how far they may be from it.—Advertising World.

-Elien Robertson Bowman, relict of the late David Bowman, died at her home, near Newmansville, Pa., where she had resided for more than 60 years, on Saturday, Oct. 25, 1902, having attained the ripe age of 82 years. Mrs. Bowman was born in Scotland in Aug. 1820, and came with her parents to this country when but a mere child. Early in life she united with the M. E. church, and for more than forty years lived a devout Christian life. Her husband, David Bowman, preceded her to the grave many years. She was the mother of 13 children, seven of whom, Thomas J. of East Hickory, James C. of Tionesta, Frank S. of Clarion, W. W. of Bowmanville, Edward at home, Charles R. of Tylersburg, and Mrs. C. M. Ault of Bowmanville, survive. The funeral took place Monday, and the interment was in Washington church cemetery, being very largely attended by relatives and friends of the beloved lady.

Death of His Injuries. Sheriff Jamieson was summoned to Fools Creek, Howe township, early yesterday morning by a message conveying the intelligence that Reed Hetrick, who was hit with a stone in a quarrel, had died at the Kane hospital, and that his remains would be brought back that morning. The sheriff took with him Coroner J. W. Morrow who will hold an inquest. The stone was thrown by Harry Dietrick, whose home is near Leeper, Pa.

Death of Mrs. Henry Shoemaker. A telegram received here yesterday announced the death of Mrs. Henry Shoemaker, and that her body would be brought here for burial, expecting to arrive here to-day. No particulars accompanied the announcement, but it is known that she had been receiving treatment in a hospital. The family moved from here to Parsons, W. Va., about two years ago where they have since resided. Mrs. Shoemaker was aged about 48 years, and besides her husband leaves a large family of children to mourn her death.

Obituary. Howard Theodore Blum, son of David and Jennie Blum, was born on the 25th day of June, 1902, at Warren, Pa., home of the parents. While at Tionesta on a visit the parents had their child consecrated to the Lord in holy baptism on Sept. 22d, the parents of the father acting as sponsors. During his short life little Howard was at different times subjected to lung trouble, being quite well otherwise. Having taken cold he was seized with convulsions which caused his death, the Lord relieving him from his pain and calling him home at 10 o'clock a. m., Tuesday, Oct. 21. His age was three months and 25 days. His parents, grandparents and many relatives and friends mourn his early departure. May God comfort them in their bereavement. Funeral services were held at the home of the grandparents in Tionesta, on Thursday, conducted by the undersigned.

-W. H. Morgan, for the past two years foreman of the carving department of the Mantle works, has resigned and leaves for his home in Hughesville, Pa. After a short visit there he will accept a position in Williamsport. Mr. Morgan is one of the best men ever employed here and the Mantle Co. are sorry to lose him, and he also has many friends here who are sorry to see him go.

The Teachers' Institute.

Nineteen-hundred-two finds little Forest with an educational force of ninety-nine teachers, ninety-two of whom assembled in our picturesque little city last week to attend the annual teachers' institute of Forest county. The weather was delightful and added not a little to the enjoyment of the happy guests and visitors who seemed to enjoy all the beauties Nature has bequeathed to her children of the Allegheny valley. The citizens of Tionesta were likewise pleased to welcome to their midst a representative class of people, upon whose faithfulness largely depends the destiny of our Republic, and also the distinguished gentlemen who came to help the teachers of Forest county to higher and broader ideals and conceptions of a noble calling. The teachers of the county appreciated the opportunity of coming into living touch with master minds, the first of whom to greet them was Preston Willis Search, Honorary Fellow in Clark University, Worcester, Mass.

As Dr. Search stood before his audience of teachers they beheld a tall gentleman, with clear blue eyes, gray hair, and a dignified, majestic presence. He complimented his audience by seeming to believe that he was in the presence of friends, who fully appreciated him, and who were in full sympathy with him. In a most masterly and fascinating manner he brought the teachers face to face with the living problem of childhood and youth, and the master spirits who have striven with united minds and with sublime self-denial in their devotion to the higher improvement of our race. The cultivated mantled of Dr. Search has been liberalized by extensive and observant travel both at home and abroad, and during the week he frequently drew the curtain aside and gave us glimpses into historic points of interest in Europe. On Thursday evening he presented "Music in the Fatherland" to an appreciative audience, with such clear and vivid description and interpretation, as to make his lecture a great educational uplift.

On Monday evening, Prof. D. C. Murphy, Ph. D., delivered an able lecture on "Womanhood in History." His contrasts and glimpses into the social conditions of womanhood were delightfully presented and his remarks closed amid the cheers of the audience. On Tuesday Dr. Murphy had but to give his first address to demonstrate the fact that a friend of the "teacher's world" had come to help. He grew popular rapidly, and it was with profound regret to the teachers that he was obliged to leave, Wednesday evening, for his work in the Slippery Rock State Normal school, where he has been Superintendent of the training department for the past 12 years.

Another, who was not a stranger to the teachers of Forest county, was Prof. W. A. Beer, of Callensburg, Pa., who spent the entire week among us, bringing to the teachers new inspiration for better work and a greater love for good literature. And "last, but not least" of all who came, was Prof. J. H. Kurtz, of Chicago, who was director of music during the institute. The people of Tionesta, as well as the members of the institute, have considered themselves fortunate in having a gentleman so proficient in his art, to come among them.

For the coming two weeks Prof. Kurtz will instruct the pupils of the Tionesta schools, a work that will undoubtedly be appreciated by the patrons of the schools. On Wednesday evening the annual reunion of the Clarion State Normal students was held in W. R. C. headquarters. At the close of the delightful evening, the Annual met, and after transacting some matters of business, enthusiastically adopted resolutions highly commendatory of the Clarion Normal and its efficient management.

The committee on reading recommended the following books to the teachers: For non-professional reading; "The Chinese Empire," costing $1.25. The name of publishers may be learned by inquiring of W. A. Beer, Callensburg, Pa. For professional reading; "White's Art of Teaching," published by the American Book Co., N. Y.; "Turning Points in Teaching," published by A. Flanagan & Co., Chicago, and costing 25c or 50c; and "Rhetoric Home," published by C. W. Barden, Syracuse, N. Y. It was announced that the books for professional reading could be secured through D. W. Morrison, of Tionesta, for $1.50.

We the undersigned teachers of Forest county, desire to thank our worthy and capable Supt. for his earnest efforts to elevate the educational standard of our schools and for the excellent instructors that he has secured for us. We express our gratitude to the efficient corps of instructors who have kindly and earnestly presented to us the fundamental and ideal principles of education, and our appreciations to the citizens of Tionesta, who have manifested an interest in our institute.

We recommend the full attendance of teachers to our annual convention for the encouragement and benefit to be derived from their presence. WHEREAS, It has pleased God in His all-wise Providence, to remove from our number Miss Sarah Baldwin, therefore, be it

Resolved, That we extend our sympathy to the friends, and that we feel the need of living in closer communion with the Greater Teacher.

Child Struck by Lightning. On Saturday, just after the hail storm which visited this section, word was received that a child of Samuel Shafer, who lives on the Sam Jones farm in Rockdale township, had been struck by lightning. It seems that it was not storming at the Shafer residence and Mr. and Mrs. Shafer went across the road and were picking up chestnuts while the two and one-half year old child was also under the tree. Suddenly a terrific roar was heard and Mrs. Shafer was knocked down by a powerful concussion.

Upon getting up and looking around it was discovered that the little child had been thrown over the bank. It was carried to the house and a message sent for a physician. Dr. Young responded and found the child with its eyebrows, eyelashes, and some of its hair burnt off and a streak across its body and down its leg to the foot where the lightning took a hole through its shoe. The child is now none the worse for its rough usages except the burns and will come out all right. The tree was split from top to bottom and a log, by which the child was lying when it was discovered, was also split by the lightning.—Cambridge Springs News.

Death of a Former Tionesta Man. Adelbert H. Steele, a former well known resident of Tionesta, died at his home in New York City on the 22d inst. He was born at Meadville 28 years ago and came to the oil country in the early 60's. For a time he lived at Tionesta and later at Oil City, where he was employed in the Western Union offices. From there he came to Tionesta, where he engaged in the banking business, being cashier of the Tionesta Savings bank. During his residence here he took an active part in all affairs tending to the progress and upbuilding of the town, and was a very popular citizen. He removed to Titusville where he became interested in the petroleum railroad intended to connect Erie and Titusville via Cambridge Springs.

In 1886 he removed from Titusville to New York city, where he was manager of the railroad transportation department of the Tidewater Pipe company, a position he held until a few years ago. He was an ardent Republican and a political orator of more than local note, and during President McKinley's first campaign toured New York and neighboring States speaking in his favor. During Mayor Strong's term of office in New York he was appointed street commissioner, but resigned the position before the expiration of the term of his office.

His first wife, a most estimable lady, and who was greatly esteemed by the people of Tionesta, died many years ago. His second wife was a Miss Brecht, of Titusville, by whom he is survived, together with two sons and one daughter—Dr. Harry Steele, who is a veterinary surgeon in the employ of the government; Harold, aged nine years, and Miss Vinnie, both at home. The funeral was held in Erie on Saturday, where the interment took place.

Letter to G. W. Sawyer. Tionesta, Pa.

Dear Sir: It is your business to know what materials to put into a house as well as to plan it. Of course, you know the effect of zinc and lead in paint—toughens it. Do you also know the greater effect of zinc ground in? For a painter can't grind, he can only mix. Devoe lead and zinc is thoroughly ground in oil. The result is an intimate mixture. Your painter can only mix; he can't grind; there's no need of grinding by hand. He should buy lead and zinc ground together in oil. Devoe lead and zinc is that; the proportions are right besides. It outlasts lead and oil two to one, and costs no more—even less; for hand-work can't compete with machine-work. Yours truly, F. W. Devoe & Co. P. S.—Jas. D. Davis sells our paint.

Fall Clothes.

How many things there are in this world that look almost alike at first sight, yet have few features in common when they are examined! Clothes for example.

Clothes are clothes, but what other clothes have the smartness of the kind that has made our store so popular with well-dressed men? What others appeal so successfully to young men who are on the alert for bright, snappy effects?

The merchant tailors' clothes? Yes—the best merchant tailors' clothes—but look at the cost! Our business has grown because we've always sold thoroughly reliable clothing at fair prices, and "your money back" if not satisfactory.

But our kind of clothes are not sold in all kinds of stores. Nor are our kind of suits and overcoats marked $3.98, 4.98, or 5.98, reduced from $10, $12, or $15. Our Suits are $7.50, 10.00, 12.00, 15.00 to $25.00. Our Overcoats, $7.50, 10.00, 11.00, 15.00 to $25.00.

Authorities in Men's Wear for Fall say this is to be a season of Fancy Vests. We have them, single breasted, neat dark pattern, 4.00.
