Twice Sent to Auburn Prison, Once For Life.

Large Flour Exports-Farmer Robbed General Corbin's Report - Boston's Mysterious Murders-Arbitrators Increase Wages - Double Tragedy at Buffalo-Alaska's Gold.

Twice sentenced to Auburn state prison, once being for life for murder in the second degree, John V. Bender of Utica was last week at Auburn made a free man and will again have the freedom of the outside life that has been denied to him for so long.

Bender was proprietor of a house in Deerfield, a short distance from Utica. In Utica, in 1887, Bender shot and killed Thomas Gray. He was found guilty of murder in the second degree and on April 30 of the same year he was received in Auburn prison to serve a life sentence.

On May 11, 1893, Governor Flower commuted his sentence to 10 years subject to the usual commutation of three years and six months on a sentence of that length for good behavior.

On Oct. 30, 1893, after serving six years and six months, Bender was reeased from the prison. He went back to Utica, became involved in a row there and shot a man.

He was convicted of assault in the second degree after a prior conviction and the judge sentenced him to five years and eight months in Auburn prison, which he entered the second time within a year after his discharge

The commutation granted by the governor, like all of the kind, had a clause in it that provided that in case he be convicted again within the time 'now remaining unserved of the term commuted he should be deemed an escaped convict."

The wording of the commutation was comewhat ambiguous and this has led to the litigation. Bender served the second sentence of five years and eight months, also the three years and six months short time lost on the commuted sentence and then asked for his discharge.

The prison officials refused to grant this, claiming that by his second sentence Bender forfeited his commutation and that the original sentence became operative.

The case was argued before Justice Rich on habeas corpus proceedings and he decided in favor of Bender and held that he was illegally imprisoned.

The cereals are lower on the week largely owing to the large movement. A most important and sustaining feature is the immense demand for flour, which has improved in sale the past week. Export business in this direction is very heavy from both coasts.

ensonal changes. Cotton goods remain quite active and strong despite the shading in raw cotproving, and the predicted advance of per cent on some lines has been secured without much difficulty.

Raw wool is very firm and supplies are closely held. Fine and medium grades are hardening. Iron and steel show little change The fuel situation is conceded to have an important bearing; coke is very scarce and fully a score of Eastern furnaces are banked. There is a waiting tendency in the import trade and new business is not large. Steel rail makers are still busy, and an immense tonnage will have to be carried over into next year. A new war has broken out in the sugar trade, the Pacific coast beet product contesting Eastern markets with that of cane. Raw sugar is firmly held on expected world's crops being shortor, but the refined is weaker, partly owing to the war talk. Shoe manufacturers the country over are busy. Complaint that there is no profit in the leather business still continues. Hides seem to be the keystone of the situation, and as they remain firm they give tone to the entire

Boston's Mysterious Murders. After giving out the confession of the young negro, G. L. O. Perry, with reference to selling the watches taken from the murdered women, Miss Clara A. Morton and Miss Agnes McPhee, the police admitted that Perry declares that Allan G. Here, in one of the jail corridors, Perry positively identified Mason as the man who had given him the two

The defense was preceeding on the theory that it was a legro who mur-dered Miss Morton and Miss McPhee and who also committed the other murderous assaults. Mr. Ware places no faith in the accusation of Perry that it was Mason who gave the boy the ities in certain sections are still held

He believes that Perry had to account for his possession of the watches and the most reasonable way was to say that they were given him by a man already under arrest and by a man whom he had seen on the streets of Cambridge and could easily identify. Killed Himself and Sweetheart. Christopher P. Willis of Bath, N. Y., a student in the state normal school at Geneseo, who loved and was jealous of Mary Catherine Ferguson, a 17-year-old girl of his own village, shot and killed Miss Ferguson and himself in front of the lodging house at Willis, who was only 21 years old, taught school near Bath until a few months ago. Money was left to him by relatives and he was no longer obliged to work. He drank little, but was an excessive smoker of eigarettes.

Clint has had working for him a trio of strangers who have been employed as apple pickers. They have been sleeping in the barn on the place, spending the night there as usual.

In the morning the trio of apple pickers were found imprisoned in the barn, the doors having been fastened from the outside with ropes making it impossible for the persons inside the place to escape.

Year's Casualties In the Army. The annual report of Major General Corbin, adjutant general, deals with every feature of the army and begins with a statement showing how the army is to be reduced by Dec. 1 to 60,020 men, of which 2,877 belong to the staff departments.

The report shows that during the fiscal year there were 35 officers killed in action or died of wounds and disease. 21 resigned and 68 retired. Of the enlisted men, 1,227 were killed or died of wounds and disease.

35.806 were discharged on the expiration of service, 5,698 were discharge! for disability or dismissed by order of court martial, 4,667 deserted, two were missing and 203 retired. Favors Restoration of Canteen.

Alaska's Output of Gold. Mr. Roberts, director of the mint, made public statement of the gold output of Alaska for the last 10 months. These figures, which are based on the receipts at San Francisco, Seattle and the Selby refinery, show a total of $18, $70,075 as follows: Klondike (Cana dian), $13,861,095; Nome, $5,008,980 This total is something over $4,000,000 in excess of the Alaska output for the entire calendar year 1901, the figures for that year being $14,675,675. In the output for the last 10 months is included $25,000 expected to arrive from the Klondike before Jan. 1 and $1,350,-000 expected from Nome, Twenty-five hundred trainmen of the Union Traction and Consolidated street rallway lines are to receive an increase in wages of more than 10 per cent, dating from Sept. 15, according to the findings of a board of arbitration which made its report last night, after having had the demands of the streetcar men under consideration for nearly two months. The increase will affect cable men, electric men, trippers and night men. The new scale is to be in force until May 31, 1904. The disposition of the cases of the discharged men is to be announced later.

Molineux Case Went to Jury This Afternoon.

Mr. Black Declared That Every Circumstance Pointed to Cornish Being the Murderer and Not Molineux - Mr. Osborne Relied Largely on Handwriting Experts.

When court adjourned last evening Justice Lambert announced that he would allow District Attorney from Miss Ferguson, in which she re Osborne two and a half more hours to finish summing up, which means that the court will deliver its charge and the case will go to the jury this afternoon. The courtroom was crowded to suffo-

More than half of Mr. Black's address, which occupied nearly four hours, was devoted to an analysis of Cornish's conduct and testimony and of the testimony of other witnesses in a manner to support his contention that Cornish's actions were not consistent with innocence of the crime of which Molineux stands accused.

Mr. Osborne based his argument for the prosecution largely on the testimony of handwriting experts, which he said conclusively showed Molineux to have been the writer of the poison package address and of the other disputed exhibits. He also devoted a considerable amount of time to a defense of Cornish.

WILL CONTEST ELECTION.

Republican Leaders Claim Mr. Cunnecn's Name Was Illegally Placed Under Prohibition Emblem.

Albany, Nov. 11 .- Colonel George W. Dunn, chairman of the Republican state committee, and Deputy Attorney General Henry E. Coman will confer today and decide on the methods to be pursued in contesting the election of John Cunneen of Buffalo as attorney general.

The Republican leaders conten that Mr. Connecn's name was illegally placed on the ballot as the candidate of both the Prohibition and Democratic parties and that Judge Bischof erred when he issued an order directing Sec retary of State McDonough to print Mr. Cunneen's name under the Prohibition emblem.

Friends of Mr. Coman said that it from Judge Bischof's decision, as if it was allowed to stand the election law could be used for ulterior purposes and is, by those best informed, attributed to the will of the people defeated. If the appellate courts should reverse the decision the effect, it is claimed, would be to permit boards of canvassers to throw out all votes cast for Mr. Cunneen under the Prohibition emblem. It is expected that Colonel Dunn and Mr. Coman will confer with Governor Odell and a definite plan of action will be decided on.
