Bed blankets and quilts at Heath & Feit's. Sweaters for boys and men at Tionesta Cash Store.

Why buy a shoddy jacket when you can get a Wooltex. Same price. Every thread wool. Hopkins sells them.

It pays to keep your eyes on the new advertisements in the REPUBLICAN every week. There are good bargains going in the stores.

The books of the Tabard Inn library have arrived and can now be had by members of the association at the Davis Pharmacy.

Artist George Davis has just finished brightening up the residences of F. F. Whittekin and Patrick Joyce in the north ward with new coats of paint.

The borough school board at the last meeting elected R. L. Haslet to the vacancy on the board occasioned by the death of Rev. J. V. McAninch.

Do not worry about where you are going to get your winter wrap, but come to our store and have the trouble over once and for all. Heath & Feit.

Walter Crouch, the bustling general merchant at East Hickory, has put in a new steel ceiling and made other improvements at his store building.

Our lumbermen are looking anxiously for a flood, which is much needed to float the large stock of boats and barges now on hand to the Pittsburgh market.

Gerow & Gerow have remodeled and repapered and painted a number of the rooms in the Central House. A. L. Thompson, of Grand Valley, did the work.

Wright's Comedy and Medicine Co., have been showing in Dale's hall during the past week and will continue the balance of this week. They give a clean show and are being well patronized.

Union services will be held in the M. E. church on Thanksgiving day at 11 o'clock a. m. Rev. Robert McFarvey, of the F. M. church will deliver the sermon. All are cordially invited to attend these services.

Supt. Cottle has been looking up the route, and considering the feasibility of extending the Forest Telephone line from Mayburg on up the creek to Lynch, and the probability is that such extension will be made in the near future.

The Forest Telephone is now connected with the Petroleum telephone through which all the large cities and towns in the country may be reached. The rates are quite reasonable and the service excellent, the Petroleum being extensively used in all sections.

Mannis Kerr, of Sigel, who was 101 years old last August, was in town over Sunday visiting among friends. Mr. Kerr is hale and hearty and can get around as good as a four year old. He retains all his senses and can interest old and young with reminiscences of ye olden times.—Marienville Express.

A telegram was received by the police on Saturday asking their aid in locating James Burkett, supposed to be working in this city. His daughter died suddenly in Titusville on Sunday morning and relatives are anxious to get the information to him. Anyone knowing his present whereabouts will confer a favor by notifying the police.—Derrick.

Robert Hetrick hurt his spine one day last week while crossing a fence at Fools Creek, where he was working. Sunday evening he was taken suddenly sick and worked in convulsions most of the night. Monday he was taken through this place on his way to his home in Elk county. He is a brother of Reed Hetrick who recently died from injuries received by being hit on the head by a stone at Fools Creek.—Sheffield Observer.

The Pennsylvania Railroad company has notified all its employees of the following order: "Taking effect Nov. 1, 1922, an advance of 10 per cent. will be made in the wages of all employees permanently in the services of the Pennsylvania railroad system." This order, we are pleased to note, affects the boys and girls at the Tionesta station along with the rest, and they are correspondingly jubilant over the fine Thanksgiving offering.

Quite a number of the young ladies held a masquerade party in Bovard's hall last Friday evening and judging from the sounds of laughter and revelry "a lovely time" must have been had. What's the matter boys? Seems that, with as well a bunch of girls as we've got in Tionesta, there must be an awful woody stack of gazabos wearing men's clothes around that will let them get up a "hen party" in order to have a good time.

Mr. C. W. Amsler, of Marienville, a gentleman who is well and favorably known in Brookville and throughout Jefferson county, was elected to represent Forest county in the State legislature at the election last week, his majority over his Democratic opponent being 98 votes. An exceptionally hard fight was made on assembly in our neighbor county, and while Mr. Amsler's majority is not large, his election is regarded as a great victory.—Brookville Republican.

Monday of last week the Hebrews all over the United States observed "Shekel Day." On that day the Jews are requested to register as voters for delegates to the Zionist congress, the fee for registering being 25 cents. The Zionists seek to restore the Jewish nation, with a centre in Palestine. It has been the dream of the Hebrew race for centuries to take and keep possession of its ancient land and this "Shekel Day" is one of the tangible indications that the desire is something more than a mere dream.

Harold G. Scott, who was 7 years of age on August 14 last, died at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Scott, Myers street, Oil City, Thursday afternoon, Nov. 13th from chronic Bright's disease. The lad had been sick only three days. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. S. Wright, D. D., pastor of the first Baptist church, at the family residence at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Interment in Grove Hill cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. Scott, former residents of Marienville, this county, have the tender sympathy of a host of friends in this sore affliction.

It offends some people to receive statements of subscription accounts from a newspaper, and yet a hen those same people have a bill against a newspaper man they must have it at once. Strange world with strange people in it. There isn't any ladsness with greater expense than the newspaper business, and yet good men will not pay for their paper for several years and get mad at the editor for trusting them, and sometimes refuse to pay the bill for that reason. Of course in sending out bills in any business sometimes mistakes are made, but those can be corrected usually without bloodshed.

What promises to be the climax in exciting sport events between two old-time rivals will be pulled off in a series of three football games between Oil City and Franklin. The first game will take place in Oil City next Saturday, 22d inst., another on Thanksgiving, 27th, at Franklin, and the third one at Oil City on the 29th. Both teams have "blood in their eye," and a whole lot of fun may be expected. C. L. Mandaville, Bucknell's famous tackle, will captain the Oil City team, and that means trouble for Franklin. The games will perhaps draw the largest crowds ever brought out to witness any former sporting event between the rival towns.

Police officer Charles Bromley returned to work on Sunday, after spending his week's vacation hunting between Pleasantville and Pithole. Before leaving that section he was asked to locate a teamster named Kelly supposed to be employed here. The man is a widower and has three children living on the Hillside farm, and they have not heard from nor had any money from him for the past three weeks. The oldest child is a daughter, 12 years of age, and the other two are boys, aged 12 and 9 years. The girl is prevented from seeking employment by the fact that she has to look after the boys. They are without food and the youngest boy has no shoes and scarcely clothing enough to cover him.—Derrick.

W. J. Burt, one of Marienville's well known and highly esteemed citizens died quite unexpectedly on Sunday morning last at 9 o'clock. Mr. Burt had been troubled some time with asthma, and last week had a rather severe attack, but was not considered to be in a dangerous condition, being able to sit up an hour or so before his death. He was stopping at the Forest hotel while Mrs. Burt was visiting a son in Cambria county, and the daughter, Miss May, was employed as saleslady in Heath & Feit's store in this place, and it was impossible to get word to any of them before death ensued. The funeral was held yesterday, the interment being in the cemetery at Marienville, and was attended by a large concourse of sympathizing friends of the family and the deceased, who was one of the town's most popular citizens. He was aged about 58 years.

James Haslet has moved into the home of his father, the late S. H. Haslet, and his brother, R. L. Haslet, has moved into the old homestead near the store, vacated by James. The two sons will continue the furniture and mercantile business at the old stand, expecting to enlarge the same to considerable extent.

Misses Bertha Lawrence, Josephine Smearbaugh, Colyn Clark, Georgia Watson, Fern Bowman and Olive Lanson tired of the routine of high school life last Friday and for a change made an informal call at the flum school on Tubbs run where M. A. Feit is the popular teacher. And now Dame Rumor has it that the girls played "hooky." How about it, girls?

Will Craig was up from Franklin on business between trains last Friday and gave the REPUBLICAN office a pleasant call. Will has an excellent position with the National Transit Company, and expects shortly to add to his income by working in the evenings as telegrapher for the Postal Telegraph and Cable Co., which position he can easily fill as the hours in his first job are few.

McMahon Escapes Warren Jail. Thomas McMahon with two other prisoners, escaped from the Warren jail during Monday night last, having sawed themselves out through the barred doors and windows. Assistance from the outside was undoubtedly furnished as the evidence shows. McMahon is one of the men who was being held for complicity in the recent robbery of Hugh Miles at Fagundus.

H. P. Spence Meets Shocking Death. From the Cameron County Press of the 13th inst., we glean the following account of the shocking death of H. P. Spence, a former well known and highly esteemed citizen of Barnett township, this county: "Our citizens were horrified, last Monday morning when informed that H. P. Spence had been instantly killed while working in his saw mill on the lands of Emporium Iron Company, on the mountain near the coke ovens. Mr. Spence had just moved his mill from More Hill to cut some timber for Mr. Brady, and had only that day commenced sawing when he met instant death. After cutting a log he attempted to brace himself to roll it over when he pushed his left leg into the circular saw. In an instant he was drawn into the saw, severing his head, both arms and left leg. His workmen were struck dumb when they saw their employer's head roll a distance of thirty feet from the mill, followed by an arm. Word was sent to Emporium and to the afflicted wife and son, who were at their farm on More Hill.

H. P. Spence came to this county about twenty years ago and purchased a farm on More Hill, then a barren waste. By hard work he carved out one of the best farms in the county. As a citizen and neighbor Mr. Spence had few equals. A kind and indulgent husband that he was will be sadly missed by his bereaved wife, children and brothers. He served in the war of the rebellion and was a member of Taggart Post, G. A. R., many members of that organization attending the funeral.

Rev. I. R. Hicks 1923 Almanac. To say that this splendid work of science and art is finer and better than ever, is stating it mildly. The demand for it is far beyond all previous years. To say that such results, reaching through thirty years, are not based upon sound sense and usefulness, is an insult to the intelligence of the millions. Prof. Hicks, through this great almanac, and his famous family and scientific journal, Word and Works, is doing work for the whole people not approached by any other man or publication. A fair test will prove this to any reasonable person. Added to the most luminous course in astronomy for 1923, forecasts of storms and weather are given, as never before, for every day in the year, all charmingly illustrated with nearly two hundred engravings. The price of single almanac, including postage and mailing, is thirty cents. Word and Works with the almanac is $1.00 a year. Write to Word and Works Publishing Co., 2291 Locust Street St. Louis, Mo., and prove to yourself their great value.

Stops the Cough and works off the Cold. Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets cure a cold in one day. No cure, no pay. Price 25 cents.

TRIED FOR MANSLAUGHTER.

That is the Charge Against Young Harry Detrie for Causing the Death of Norman Reed Hetrick. Prisoner Acquitted.

Court met Monday at two o'clock p. m. with President Juggle Lindsey and Associates Crawford and Dotterer on the bench. The returns of constables were received as usual and the grand jury, D. W. Clark, foreman, was charged. A number of motions were disposed of, among which was one asking a new trial in the case of M. Wert vs. C. W. Selgworth tried at last September sessions and resulting in a verdict for Wert. The court refused a new trial.

The following civil suits were continued: T. D. Collins vs. John Wilson; Heath & Killmer vs. F. M. church trustees of East Hickory; McArthur vs. Tionesta Gas Co.; Queen City Tannery vs. James Aharrab, settled.

The first case to be placed on trial was that of Common Pleas against Harry Detrie on the charge of manslaughter—killing Norman Reed Hetrick with a stone, causing death. The particulars of this unfortunate affair have already been given and are familiar to our readers. In a fracas at the lumbering camp at Trumans, in Howe township, in the evening of Oct. 14th the young man on trial threw a stone and hit Hetrick on the forehead above the left eye, from which cause he afterward died at the Kane hospital, whether he had been taken for treatment. It seems that the dead man was the aggressor, and the defense is working on the plea of self-defense in the trial. Detrie is a young appearing lad about 18 years of age, whose home is at Loeper, Pa. His antagonist was between 21 and 22 years of age and lived near Schauffer's Corners, Jefferson county. District Atty Irwin conducted the prosecution, and George Whitmer of Clarion and Mr. Breene of Oil City, defended the accused.

Less than an hour was consumed in obtaining a jury, which was made up as follows: John Alito, farmer, Tionesta twp; Chas. Bauer, merchant, Kingsley; Wm. Mealy, farmer, Tionesta; H. B. Hanhold, farmer, Green; J. M. Fox, laborer, Green; Frank Burrows, laborer, Kingsley; Albert Hulings, farmer, Barnett; D. B. Shields, banker, Jenks; Wm. Cunningham, farmer, Jenks; F. G. Engle, merchant, Jenks; Patrick Rynd, farmer, Green; J. S. Harriger, laborer, Jenks.

ACQUITTED. The case was closed and given to the jury about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. They were out only about 20 minutes, returning a verdict of "not guilty." It is very evident the jury viewed the case as clearly one of self-defense, as did those generally who heard the evidence. Case of Commonwealth vs. Seidon McCrea, assault and battery, John O'Hara prosecutor, jury returned verdict of not guilty, defendant to pay two-thirds and prosecutor one-third of the costs. Chas. S. Leech vs. David Mintz, on trial.

Installed a New Burglar-Proof Safe. The Forest County National Bank, Tionesta, Pa., has just installed one of the famous Hibbard-Rodman-Ely manganese steel and burglar-proof bank safes having a storage capacity of five (5) cu. feet.

It is a marvel of mechanical ingenuity and engineering skill. In material, design and construction it is far in advance of anything that has yet been produced. The material, manganese steel, is so hard that no burglar could possibly drill it. This cannot be said of any other materials used in safe or vault construction, for tests made upon them under burglarious condition show that they can be drilled with comparative ease. Reference is made to steel drills, but what is more remarkable, this manganese steel will resist the diamond drill, while other metals, hardened chrome steel and chilled iron, used in safe construction, can be penetrated with the diamond drill.

What is by far the most convincing evidence of the merits of this safe occurred at the First National Bank, Smithton, Pa., on the night of Nov. 10, 1921. Burglars entered this bank and blew open two vault doors and endeavored to open the Hibbard-Rodman-Ely manganese steel safe which was in the vault, but were completely frustrated.

The United States government used two of these manganese steel safes to protect its gold quartz and precious stones exhibit at the Pan-American exposition at Buffalo. The company manufacturing the safes had one on exhibition, and the Fidelity Trust Company, of Buffalo, used one at their Pan-American branch for the safe-keeping of their funds. At the Pan-American exposition the Hibbard-Rodman-Ely Safe Company received the highest award and gold medal for their burglar-proof manganese steel safes and vaults.

It will be well worth the while of all who are interested in keeping their funds secure from the expert cracksmen to examine this safe. Mr. Kelly, cashier, will be pleased to show you its workings and explain the mechanism.
