With the close of water navigation and the advent of the new corn crop the situation confronting railroad men will prove perplexing owing to car shortages.

Prices generally have shown a trengthening tendency. Wheat, oats, flour and all the leading ereals, except corn, are higher on good domestic and foreign demand, large export takings at reactions being notable features. The scarcity and high prices, where obtainable, of anthracite coal cause great complaint at the East, and independent coal operators are reported getting fancy prices for their product.

Woolen gools are firm and the mills are well employed. Heavy overcoat-ing opened at an advance of from 5 to 10 per cent and raw wool retains its old strength. "In memory of John W. Mackay, I christen the Pacific cable. May it always carry messages of happiness." With these words, Lucille Gage, the 11-year-old daughter of Governor Gage, of California, Sunday christened the transpacific cable, and breaking a botthe of champagne over the shore-end, inaugurated a new era in the commercial development of the Pacific coast. The landing and splicing of the thore end, which is to connect the mainland with Honolulu, was accomplished without hitch and was wit-

In his testimony before the strike ommission J. W. Rittenhouse, secre ary retail grocers' association, gave the prices of eggs, butter, meats and provisions for 1900, 1901 and 1902. The increase in prices ranged from 15 to 78 per cent, making the general aver age for groceries about 30 per cent higher than those of two years ago. J hn D. Hughes, the Scranton manager for Armour and Co., gave the wholesale prices for all meats, comparing them with the prices prevailing in 1900 and 1901. He showed that the prices of meats of all kinds have increased 23 1-5 per cent over the prices of 1900. Mitchell the Only Candidate. Secretary Wilson of the United Mine

GLENN COURT MARTIAL.

Generals Chaffee and Smith to Be

Summoned From the United States, Manila, Dec. 16 .- The court martia: hich is to try Major Elwin F. Glenn of the Fifth infantry, has decided to summon Generals Chaffee and Smith from the United States to testify as to orders given during the conduct of the campaign on the island of Samar and to the character of the campaign waged there.

The court martial was organized and Major Glenn was arraigned. The for mal charge against the major is that he unlawfully killed seven prisoners of war.

Major G'enn first entered a specia plea lenying the jurisdiction on the ground that it lacked power to try a prisoner charged with murder in times of peace. Judge Advocate Godier de nled that Major Glenn was charged with murder and the court overrule! the objection.

Major Glenn then pleaded not guilty The defense submitted a request ask ing the court to summon four wit nesses, including Generals Chaffee and Smith, from the United States. This request was granted.

The prosecution then asked for as adjournment owing to the non-arrival of certain witnesses from Samar. The court will decide today whether to send a steamer to Samar to bring the witnesses to Manila or to adjourn un til January.

te presented documentary evidence which he said showed the relationship between the railroads and the companies and numerous other matters pertaining to the anthracite coal industry.

Mr. Lloyd read a syllabus of the documentary evidence the miners' counsel had to present. He sail: "For the purpose of connecting the present facts with the past, we offer evidence of the causes, character and results of the combination, both of labor and capital, in the anthracite coal industry; the profits of the business both of mining and transports tion; the relations of the transportation companies to operators and miners, and the economic, political and social consequences that have resulted. This evidence we obtained from the reports of the various legislative investigations by the states of New York and Pennsylvania and by congress from 1871 to the present time."

Monopoly In Anthracite Industry. He read several reports of legislative and congressional investigations of the mining industry, and followed this up by reading from financial and trade journals reports of the roads and mine companies and public announcement of financial institutions to show that a monopoly exists in the anthracite industry. He submitted five points in evidence to prove it as follows:

1. The ownership by certain railroads of extensive mining properties in the anthracite fields,

2. That men who are directors in one mining company are members of boards of directors of other railroad and mining companies.

3. Joint resistance of the coal carry ing railroads to the individual operators building an independent railroad to carry their product at reasonable rates

4. The community of interests of the coal carrying railroads and their mining companies.

5. Constant acquisition of additional unmined coal by the coal carrying
