TILLMAN USES PISTOL.

Lieutenent Governor Kills the Editor of the Columbia State.

Steamer St. Louis Arrived - Weekly Trade Review-Spanish War Veterans-Death of Abram S. Hewitt. Louis Disbrow Acquitted - Judge Compelled to Resign.

N. G. Gonzales, editor of The State and widely known throughout the South, was shot at Columbia last Toursday by James H. Tillman, lieutenant governor of South Carolina. .dr. Gonzales diel Monday afternoon at the Columbia hospital.

The shooting took place on Main street, at the intersection of Gervais street, and in full view of the State capitol, the location being the most frequented street and corner in Columbia. The office of The State in on the same block as the scene of the shooting and it took only a few minutes for a throng to assemble in front of the building.

Policeman Boland immediately after the shooting arrested Lieutenant Governor Tillman and took him to police headquerters, where he was relieved of two pistols, the one with which he shot Editor Gonzales and a second large revolver.

No fight or words occurred between the men preceding the assault and the only attributed cause for the shooting is that during the recent primary election Editor Gonzales opposed Lieutenant Governor Tillman in the race for governor and vigorously assailed him editorially.

During the progress of that campaign Editor Gonzales in his newspaper called Tillman a debauchee and blackguard and referred to him as a "criminal candidate," and a proven "liar." It was this and other such editorial expressions, it is supposed, that led to the assault.

The campaign occurred last August and since the first primary, August 26, 1902. Editor Gonzales has had nothing to say about Mr. Tillman, except to comment on the result of the primary.

from Dawson says: A tremendously rich strike of gold has been made 15 miles north of a point on the Tanana river, 300 miles from its source, in American territory, and a stampede to the scene is in progress.

The holes that have proved the wealth of the country were sunk late last winter, and the first man to reach Dawson from the new country has just arrived.

He is a Japanese named J. Wada, well known in Dawson, where his veracity and honesty are recognized. So far the report has not been spread to any extent in Dawson, but the little that has been told has created an excitement that surely means a stampede.

The gist of Wada's report is that the district resembles the Klondike in its physical formation, but has a heavier growth of timber. Gold in widely different kinds had

Liner St. Louis Arrived. The steamship St. Louis arrived at her pier Saturday after an extremely slow trip, due to leaky bollers. Her time from Cherbourg to the lightship was 13 days, 5 hours and 20 minutes, or 6 days, 5 hours and 25 minutes behind the ship's best record. There was no accident of any kind and, although heavy weather was encountered, practically all the delay was caused by inability to get up good steam in the defective bollers. The passengers became very indignant when they learned of the poor progress the vessel was making and an indignation meeting was held at which the line was severely censured for permitting passengers to embark on a steamer in the condition the St. Louis showed. Resolutions were drawn up and given to the press on the ship's arrival at New York.

State's Assessed Valuation.

Last year the aggregate valuation was $5,754,429,511, making an increase this year of $87. 258 488. The increase in real estate

Six Months Stay In Dakota Not Sufficient.

NOT A LEGAL DOMICILE

Justice White of the Supreme Court Declared a Dakota Divorce From a Massachusetts Woman Invalid-Justice Holmes Had Given Same Decision in the State Court.

Washington, Jan. 20 .- The supreme court has again passed upon the valldity of divorces granted in South Dakota to non-residents. The case involved a question of property rights of a woman resident of Massachusetts whose husbani had secured a divorce In South Dakota after remaining there six months. The Massachusetts courts held that the decree had been fraudulently secured. The opinion affirmed that holding on the ground that the husband's residence did not constitute a legal domicile.

In passing on the case Justice White discussed at some length the question whether the federal constitution is involved in any way in the case. He held that this could not be for the reason that the general government never had any power ever marriages to delegate, control over marriage always having been vested in the states and never parted with by them. Hence there was no power that congress could exercise to regulate or prohibit divorces, and it must follow that unless the several states were permitted to control the subject of divorce among their own citizens the subject would be entirely uncontrolled, in which case the absolute destruction of society must be the result. As the complainant in the proceedings had been a citizen of Massachusetts the courts of that state had jurisdiction and not the courts of another state. It was evident, he went on, that the husband's six months residence in South Dakota had been taken up for the sole purpose of securing a divorce. The temporary change of residence did not amount to domicile or to a change of citizenship. For this reason he held that the South Dakota court was without jurisdiction in the divorce | Gardiner, proceeding and its decree wholly void.

Justice Holmes took no part in the decision for the reason that as chief justice of the state of Massachusetts he had delivered the decision declaring ho Dakota decree invalid.

SENATOR PLATT NOMINATED. Almost Unanimous Vote at Republican Caucus-Democrate Nominate Mr. Stanchfield.

Albany, Jan. 20 .- United States Senator Thomas C. Platt was nominated by the joint Republican caucus of senators and assemblymen to succeed himself for a third term.

The only incident of the caucus was the announcement by Assemblman Wil-Fam A. Denison of Jefferson, that "in accordance with instructions of my constituents" he would cast his vote for the Hon. Elihu Root of New York. The announcement was received without visible sensation beyond a hum of conversation.

Senators Brackett of Saratoga, E R. Brown of Jefferson and Lewis, and Elsberg of New York, together with Assemblyman George B. Clark of the 29th New York district, were absent. it is supposed by agreement.

The others absent were Messra Blanck of St. Lawrence, who missed his train; Morgan of Kings, who has just suffered an operation upon his jaw; Walnwright of Westchester, who is still disabled from his recent accident, and Mr. Outterson of Jefferson. who it was said had been called to Watmill, but when his name was called Senator Armstrong of Rochester was made chairman. Senator Allds and Assemblyman Conkling acting as secretaries. Immediately after roll-call, the caucus proceeded to vote and every man present, with the exception of Mr. Denison, replied with the name of Mr. Platt, without comment. The vote showed 108 for Platt, one for Elihu Root.

Immediately upon the announcement of the vote for United States senator, Chairman Armstrong called for nominations for a Republican candidate for regent of the university of the state of New York in the place of the late Chancellor Anson Judd Upson. Speaker S. Fred Nixon nominated Charles A. Gardiner of New York.

Senator Malby described Mr. Gardiner's services to his party, state and country and upon his motion one vote was cast by the secretary for Mr.

Philadelphia, Jan. 20 .- The examination of Colonel R. A. Phillips of Scranton, general superintendent of the mining department of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad company, took up the greater part of the session of the coal strike commission. Superintendent Phillips told of conditions in and about the collieries owned by the Lackawanna company.

Colonel Phillips went on to say that the plan of the miners' organization will have to be materially changed or the union will not last long in the anthracite fields. It will have to eliminate the boys, who have a voice in the organization. Each boy has half a vote, but he often casts a full vote.

Chairman Gray interrupted to re mark that an organization like the mine workers' union should be composed of mature minds.

The witness said there were more cases of insubordination among the men now than there were prior to the strike of 1900. The minimum wages of inside laborers, who require no skill, he continued, is $1.77 a day, and $1.38 for outside laborers.
