Wreck In Arizona-Monument to Jefferson - Message on Silver Exchange-Fifty-Four Insane Patients Burned-Eulogy on President Mc-Kinley-Democratic Mayor In Ithaca.

One of the most appalling railroad wrecks that has occurred in the vicinity of New York for many years, costing 23 lives and injuring over 50, took place Tuesday night at Craceland on the Central Railroad of New Jersey, near Westfield, N. J., when the Royal Blue Line express plowed at top speed into the rear of a local train.

Immediately after the crash three of the shattered cars of the local train took fire, rendering impossible the rescue of many of the wounded who were pinned fast in the wreck. Many bodies are believed to have been consumed. On board the flyer all the passengers, although badly shaken up, escaped uninjured save for trifling bruises.

Passengers on the flyer say the eugineer applied the brakes hard just a minute or so before the wreck.

The train ahead had sent a flagman back, but it seems he was recalled when the train got under way and, although he left torpedoes, the Royal Blue did not heed them or else was going too fast to stop in the short distance remaining. The man who went back to flag the train had just swung ento the rear end of his train and is among the dead.

The engine and three worst wrecked cars were piled into a heap containing at least 100 dead and injured. From the mass came fearful screams for aid. A minute later the wreck caught fire from the fire box of the locomotive. The screams of the injured in the heap were intensified as they found themselves hemmed in by the flames. The blame for the disaster is placed by the railroad officials on Engineer Davies, who, according to a policeman who took him from the shattered cab of his engine, admitted that he had seen the red and green danger lights displayed but, expecting to see them suddenly change to white, rushed on until it was too late to check speed before he plunged into the rear of the train ahead. Engineer Davies died at the Much-lenburg hospital Thursday. Twenty Killed In Arizona Wreck. fanadian mills have raised their prices. This strength in cotton goods is in reality the main reason for the advance shown this week in the raw cotton market.

The president last week sent to congress a message in relation to the currency and the coinage of the Mexican and Chinese governments, accompanied by papers from the representatives of those governments. He recommends legislation which will enable the government of the United States to assist in carrying out the proposed arrangement. The gist of the message is that the fluctuations in the price of silver threaten to seriously injure the trade of the gold standard countries with silver-using countries, and that if the stability of the metals were assured the imports of silver-using countries would increase very largely. The message also says that free coinage is not expected, but that defin lte relationship should be established between go'd and silver as a basis of exchange and that this basis could be brought about by the co-operation of the gold standard and silver-using countries.

Insane Patients Burned.

Fifty-four hopelessly insane women were suffocated or burned to death Tuesday morning in a fire that des stroyed the annex of the Colney Hatch insane asylum, six miles north of London. There were 600 women patients asleep in the buildings when the fire started, and within a few minutes they were all practically unmanageable. Five wooden buildings were de stroyed, and the fire progressed so rapidly that it was impossible to or ganize the work of rescue. The doctors and nurses showed great presence of mind in their efforts to drive the insane women out through the doors, but their efforts were soor made useless by the intense heat that compelled them to flee for their lives Two nurses perished with their

This bill provides for the Be Raised Pending Settlement of Question by The Hague Tribunal.

Washington, Feb. 3.-Herbert W. Bowen, Venezuela's representative in the negotlations at Washington for a settlement of the claims against that country, has sent through the British ambassador here what amounts practically to an ultimatum to the alled powers of Great Britain, Germany and Italy, regarding their insistence for preferential treatment in the settlement of their claims against Vene zuela.

It is in reply to the proposition sub mitted at a joint conference of the negotiators by the British ambassador that the allied powers be allowed two thirds of 30 per cent of the custom receipts of the ports of La Guayra and Porto Cabello, and that the United States and the other claimant nations, France, Belgium, Holland, Denmark, Spain, and Norway and Sweden, content themselves with the remaining one third of this percentage, that is 10 per cent of the receipts of these two ports. In the note received by the British for transportation ambassador from Mr. Bowen the latter refuses point blank the proposition for a 20 and 10 per cent division on the ground that to recognize the principle it embodies would be absolutely offen sive to modern civilization.

In view of the fact that the negotiators are agreed on all save the question of preferential treatment, the ambassador is informed that Venezuela has decided to submit that question to The Hague arbitration tribunal. Acceptance of this proposition, Vene zuela contends, cacries with it a rais ing of the blockade, the general understanding being that the blockade would end when the negotiators at Washington had reached an agreement.

It is understood that in refusing this ast proposition submitted by the Britnational memorial to the "author of the ish ambassador on behalf of the allies Mr. Bowen takes the ground that he cannot accept in principle the contention that blockades and bombardment people for funds to carry out the ob of forts, and the consequent killing of helpless men, women and children, entitles any power or alliance of powers school at Rensselaer Falls was totally destroyed by fire and seven of the pupils in jumping from a second story window to a wood pile 15 feet below were more or less injured, but none fatally.

Shortly after the school session opened flames were noticed issuing from the radiators in the floors. The teachers marched all but seven of the ruplls out in order.

The seven remained behind to get their wraps and finding themselves cut off by the flames, jumped from the second story windows. The pupils and teachers 'ost all their books and wraps.

The furnace had just been installed and had not yet been taken over by the school board. The loss is $4,000 and the insurance $3,000.

Compromise of Al'ies' Claims. Propositions involving a compromise of the allies' contention for preferential treatment in the settlement of their c'aims against Venezuela have been submitted to the governments of Great Britain, Germany and Italy by their representatives in Washington, and while no answers have been received as yet there is reason for the belief that the allies will see a way to accept the latest proposition.

The proposition now under consider ation is understood to be a modification of the allies' contention that they be recognized as Venezuela's preferred claimants in the payment of the indemnity. It provides that for a short period, perhaps six months or a year Great Britain, Germany and Italy shall receive exclusively 30 per cent of the customs receipts of the ports of Puerto Cabello and La Guavra, and at the end of the period that all the claimant na tion be placed upon the same footing. The 30 per cent of the receipts of these two ports will then be divided among all the claimant nations in ratio based on the amount of each na tion's claim.

The plan will enable the allies to withdraw their ships from Venezuelan waters without serious loss of prestige Mr. Bowen has been assured that the representatives of the allies here will give him a final answer at the earliest possible moment, and exchanges are in progress between the representa tives here of the allied governments concerned and their home offices in an effort to reach a settlement agreeable to all concerned. The Washington government and Mr. Bowen are convinced, because of Baron Von Sternberg's activity in the matter, that Germany wants the Vene zue an question settled with all possi ble dispatch.

Trade developments confirm the san guine expectations and predictions made at the outset of the month Wholesale jobbing trade in spring dry goods, millinery, boots and shoes and hats is improving steadily, January' jobbing business at leading cities East and West being the best ever recorded in that month. ## Epidemic of Typhoid Fever.

The epidemic of typhoid which re cently broke out in Ithaca has attained serious proportions. Nurses of the City hospital were obliged to give up their rooms to make room for patients, the hospital having been crowded for some time. The Rev. C. W. Physicians agree that the epidemic is due to impure drinking water and all citi zens are warned not to use city water before it is bolled.

FREE COAL HELPS J. J. HILL.

Supply For the Great Northern at a Daily Saving of $4,000.

Tacoma, Wash., Feb. 3 .- The re moval of the duty on coal is believed to be benefiting President Hill and the Great Northern Railway to a greater extent than any other corporation because there is no good coal in Montana directly tributary to the Great Northern. Mr. Hill for several years has been beoming the development of Crow's Nest Pass coal fields in Southern Canada. Recently he completed a branch connecting the Great Northern with Crow's Nest coal mines.

At present the Great Northern is hauling 200 cars, or 6,000 tons, daily across the Montana line for use on its mountain divisions. Development work is being rushed and very soon the imports of ccal will reach 10,000 tons

Previous to the removal of the duty the Great Northern was paying the customs department at Gateway 67 cents duty on every ton. The daily saving now exceeds $4,000. When the cut-off can be built connecting the Great Northern with the Northern Pacific and the Burlington in Montana, the latter roads will also use Crow's Nest coal in the Rocky mountains

Evidence In Rebuttal.

Philadelphia, Feb. 3.-The operators Anished the presentation of evidence to the anthracite coal strike commission and the afternoon session was devoted to the testimony in rebuttal on the part of the miners. R. J. Beamish, a newspaper man, was called to refuts the statements that a reign of terror existed in the coal regions during the strike. A dozen men who had been hired in this city to serve as coal and iron policemen during the strike said the disturbances were few and of minor character. Daniel T. McKelvy, a justice of the peace of Hazleton, testified that the striking miners had offered to assist uim in maintaining order.
