Drayman Sharp Maxwell purchased a heavy black draft horse for Franklin one day last week. He is a fine looking, but we doubt if he will prove as satisfactory to the people as the old one, for you never had any difficulty in finding Sharp when you wanted him—you could hear that old horse "blow" all over town.

Frank Wiles, aged 17 years, and living with his mother on Snook Hill, two miles from Tionesta, died early Wednesday morning last of diabetes, having been ill for several months. The mother, one sister and two brothers survive. Funeral services were held on Thursday and the burial took place near Crown, Clarion county, that afternoon.

J. N. Tietsworth, for many years a resident of Tionesta, died at his home in New Kensington, Pa., Jan. 14th last. He was aged about 75 years, and his wife and several grown children survive him. The news of Mr. Tietsworth's death will be received with sadness by many old friends in this community where he was for so many years a prominent and interesting figure.

The Evening News, Franklin, celebrated its 25th birthday last Wednesday by issuing a special edition covering 32 pages of excellent reading matter and embellished it with scores of portraits and illustrations of the cities growth and greatness. This effort of the enterprising publisher was a credit to him and his able staff. May they all live to celebrate the paper's semi-centennial.

The Savings Bank instituted by the W. C. T. U. in the schools here received its first deposit on Monday, amounting to $19.62. Deposits ranged from one cent to $2.00. The management hopes that parents will encourage systematic saving on the part of their children and induce them to deposit rather than spend their money for candies. When an individual deposit amounts to $5.00, interest will be paid at the rate of 4 per cent.

Did you ever notice how some of the real careful people, who, when purchasing goods from our own reliable home merchants, would like a guarantee bond to accompany each purchase, will readily buy goods from traveling agents without question, promptly accepting the word of entire strangers whom they never expect to see again after the sale is made? Oh! consistency thou art a whole jewelry store.—Franklin News.

The people of Rusti, N. Y., are said to be searching for someone who told California Larson, a weak-minded Swede of that village, that he was suspected of being the murderer of a character known as the "Crazy Swede," and jokingly accused Larson of having hidden the body. It is not known whether this was said as a joke or a taunt, but Larson went home and blew out his brains. The joker is not known but search is being made.

D. W. Clark was home from Grandtville, trustee, vs. Tionesta Gas Co. On motion M. L. Range was appointed constable of Harmony township, and J. P. Kelly constable of Green township. Both to fill vacancies. A commission consisting of Attorney A. C. Brown, Dr. J. D. Groves and Frank Dickinson was appointed to inquire into the mental condition of one Carl Strehler of Brookston.

An order was issued instructing the State Board of Charities to ascertain the legal residence of an alien named John McClelland, now confined in Warren asylum as a lunatic. His home is believed to be in Canada. The sale of real estate from C. W. Amsler, guardian, to the Presbyterian church of Marienville is confirmed. W. A. Croasman was chosen guardian of J. C. Emert, a minor child of W. and Jane Emert, deceased, of Barnett, twp. Guy C. Swanson, of Warren, was admitted to practice in the courts of Forest county. The constables were called and their reports presented, after which the court adjourned until tomorrow, Thursday afternoon.

Death of Josiah Neill. Josiah Neill, better known to most of our readers as "Sye" Neill, whose serious illness, of pneumonia, was noted in these columns last week, died at his home in Neilltown on the 17th inst., aged 63 years. Mr. Neill was a prominent figure for many years in Forest county, having spent his whole life in the village where he died. He was highly esteemed by all who knew him, being of a genial disposition, thoroughly honorable in his dealings and a good and charitable neighbor.

William Neill, the paternal grandfather of the deceased, was one of the first settlers in the vicinity of Neilltown, coming to that place early in the last century, probably about 1810. The village was named for him and he raised a family of several children, one of whom, William T. Neill, was the father of the deceased.

The deceased is survived by his widow and three children, two boys and a girl, the oldest of whom is 12 years old, and the youngest 2 years old. He is also survived by one brother, James Neill, of Akron, O., and two sisters, Mrs. R. L. Cochran, of Los Angeles, Cal., and Mrs. Jessie Burchfield, of Pleasantville.

Funeral services were held Friday last at the Neilltown church, the interment being in the church cemetery. The obsequies were largely attended by neighbors and friends from a distance.

"Fewer balloons; wears longer." The secret is out and Tionesta can go on living just as if the riddle had never been asked.

No it can't either. Tionesta is not going to be what it was before. Its people are going to be brighter; its houses a little more prosperous—they are going to have some of their money left to buy other things with.

The answer to the riddle is this: you can paint a building with fewer gallons of Devos Lead and Zinc paint than with mixed paints, and it will wear several times as long as a building painted with lead and oil mixed by hand. What will people do with the rest of their money, fas. D. Davis sells it.

Every newspaper writer realizes sooner or later that the majority of people, and especially politicians, are like the house cat, says the Warren Mail. You can praise them and help them and rub the fur the smooth way till doomsday and there is no kick coming when the petting is done free of charge. But chance to rub the fur the wrong way once! Print something they don't like. Then oh, what a howl! Sharp teeth and ugly claws are shown and efforts are made to demolish the paper and publisher. But some people are different. They realize that a paper is like a hotel bill of fare. They take what they want and what they like and leave the remainder for the people who are different. That's the best way.

This is the best offer yet. By a special arrangement with the publishers of the New York Tribune Farmer, one of the best weekly papers for the farmer published in the United States we are enabled for a limited time to offer it to subscribers for 25 cents a year. The conditions are these. To all new subscribers in advance and 25 cents extra the two papers go for one year. To all subscribers now on our list paying up arrears and one year in advance, plus 25 cents, both papers for $1.25. No more liberal offer was ever made in this section. Remember this offer is limited, and will not be open long, so if you desire to take advantage of it come in or send quickly. Now is the time to subscribe.

Postmaster D. S. Knox has received from the McKinley National Memorial Association a limited supply of the certificates which have been prepared for distribution to contributors to the monument fund as souvenirs of their participation in that great enterprise. The certificate is a beautiful work of art on which is given a reproduction of Mrs. McKinley's favorite likeness of her husband, together with a picture of the McKinley home in Canton and of the White House. The supply in the hands of Postmaster Knox is a portion of the first edition of the certificates and is sent here to enable those who have not as yet contributed to do so. New contributors of one dollar or more can now secure one of these souvenir certificates at the money order window of the local postoffice.

Fell From Derrick And May Die. Edward Redmond, employed on a well located on the Siglins farm near the White church, in Harmony twp, fell from the derrick, a distance of 25 feet, striking on a sill, and was very seriously injured, on Monday of this week. He was conveyed to a neighboring house and physicians summoned who found him in a very precarious condition. His home is in Pleasantville, where he has a wife and one child. At last accounts it was feared he was injured internally and could not recover. He is aged 26 years.

Doings at Court. Court lasted but a couple of hours on Monday afternoon, and the following is a brief summary of what was done:

An opinion was handed down refusing to make a decree in the case of Seth McCarter, trustee, vs. Tionesta Gas Co. On motion M. L. Range was appointed constable of Harmony township, and J. P. Kelly constable of Green township. Both to fill vacancies. A commission consisting of Attorney A. C. Brown, Dr. J. D. It will be seen by the above that our Forest county people are at the top of the heap in the prize winnings. Fred Keller had some fine stock on exhibition, but did not compete for prizes. He has a standing offer from a foreign fancier of $150 for a pair of Partridge Wyandotte pullets, but refuses the offer. Next year's show will beat this one if the boys keep up their improvement as they have in the past year.

Grandville. John Reece, of Parri h, was a visitor to our town over Saturday and Sunday. John Carlson and wife spent Sunday with friends in Jamestown.

Mrs. Cuida Swigart is the happy possessor of an elegant new piano. D. W. Clark spent Sunday at his home in Tionesta.

Frank Walker went to Tionesta yesterday. Frank Hunter took advantage of the raising of the quarantine and left to visit his family at Nebraska on Monday.

C. H. Lawrence spent Monday night at his home in Tionesta. Talk about frigid weather! Maybe we didn't have a hunk of it here Thursday morning. The mercury at this point registered 17° below zero. Gee whiz, but it made things crack.

The river is frozen over again here, the sleighing is excellent, stocking is being rushed at the mill, the smallpox patient is about well, the quarantine has been raised, and all are busy and happy. More next week.

Stewart Run. The Saints are holding a revival meeting on Stewart Run in one of M. L. Fange's houses. All ara invited. Come and hear the Word.

Henry Yarnell's family is on the sick list with severe colds. Mr. McFate is on the sick list. Mrs. D. E. Carson and Mrs. McFate were Tionesta visitors Saturday.

We are having very fine sleighing now and the good people of Stewart Run are making good use of it in the hauling of ties, logs, etc.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Dawson made a visit to Tionesta Friday. Snow drifts are very troublesome at the present writing. Where are our road commissioners? Hope they are not holed up like the ground hog, for we can't afford to put up with these snow drifts six weeks longer. We are aware that some of the candidates were snowed under at the last election.

Some people borrow trouble for the purpose of giving it to others. We have seen a cheerful, good people. Brighter days are coming, when the Sun will make you free. Then you will be free indeed. Mr. and Mrs. Wicout of Tionesta spent the Sabbath with Mr. and Mrs. Cummings.
