STATE. State Treasurer—WM. L. MATHUES, Delaware County. Auditor General—WM. P. SNYDER, Chester County.

Some Philippine girls pretend to think marriages to soldier boys ought to be binding after the boys have come home.

The Hon. Joseph Chamberlain has evidently seen a light, the same light discovered by Blaine and advocated by McKinley, reciprocity.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT has returned to Washington and for the next two weeks events are expected to "step lively" in the Capital of the United States.

THE Omaha Bee announces that Mr. Bryan is a good man when he is "not talking politics." We always suspected he was harmless when he was asleep.

A DEMOCRATIC paper condemns the President's journey and says he should remain in Washington and earn his salary. That editor's idea of an easy time is original.

THE knowledge that President Roosevelt will be nominated in 1904 and the almost certain knowledge that he will be elected will go far to offset the business depression usual in a presidential year.

THE yacht race will be all very pretty and interesting but for actual, practical interest the test of the respective merits of American and Scotch locomotives, which will take place this summer on the Canadian Pacific Railway, is far ahead.

HAVING completed a quiet and peaceful vacation which would have given an ordinary man nervous prostration, the President is now at his desk, refreshed, invigorated and prepared for a little strenuous labor.

"FOUR years more of Grover" is the song of the "trusts" and the importers. But the song of the wage workers, the small and large investors, the savings bank depositors and the farmers is "Protection, Prosperity and Plenty."

CLEVELAND'S boomers are trying to furnish their plans by saying that "a tariff for revenue only would kill the trusts," yet they want to nominate Cleveland with the support of the trusts to get revenge on Roosevelt. "Politics are a queer trade."

THE prosperity of the country is based on the solid rock of a sound economic policy, and it will stand. The American people are not so weary of prosperity as to long for poverty, and it will not be next year or for many years that a free-trade candidate will be elected President of these United States.

MARSHALL FIELD says the only cloud that is on the business horizon is in connection with the strikes and other sorts of labor disturbances. But the strikes are not quite so portentous as they seemed to be a week or two ago. Indications that a settlement will soon be reached in some of the most important of these contests are abundant. These troubles are the worst feature of the situation. In comparison with the them damage by the Western floods is a trivial affair. Happily the talk about a possible renewal of the coal strike has ended. This atrocity of 1902 will be repeated in 1903.

VIVISECTION is the painful experimentation on living animals. They are mutilated and dissected when alive and in full possession of their faculties. They are bruised, burned and their bones broken; nerves are laid bare and connected with an electric battery, from which currents of electricity are passed through these nerves, causing probably the greatest suffering of which sentient beings are capable. Numerous severely painful experiments are often made for trivial purposes. This is done in medical schools and elsewhere, in the alleged "interests of science," but in comparison with the terrible agony to sentient creatures the "scientific results" are as a drop in the bucket.

THE persons who are talking about Tom Johnson as a presidential nomination possibility for 1904 ought to remember that something more than his elections for mayor of Cleveland will be required to give him enough prestige to command the support of the big convention of his party next year. If he should get the nomination for governor and carry his state this year, or if he should carry the legislature and get elected to be Senator to succeed Hanna, he would get a reputation which would make him a big figure in the national assembly next year. But neither Johnson nor any other Democrat can win Ohio in 1903 for either governor or Senator. Ohio will not furnish the Democratic presidential candidate for 1904.

To Run the Campaign.

There is probably some truth in the report that President Roosevelt would like to have Senator Hanna remain at the head of the national committee and to manage the campaign of 1904. The senator is an able and popular man, who has shown his capability as a campaign director by his good work in 1896 and 1900. Probably no man in the country could have managed these campaigns better than did the Ohio statesman. He had the whole situation at his command throughout the entire Lattie in each year. The Republican party had confidence in his ability even in the campaign of 1896, when he was comparatively a new man in politics. The skillful manner in which he managed the preliminary work in getting the nomination of Mr. McKinley showed that he was an adept at the business of winning and holding the support of men. Nobody probably could do better work in this direction in 1904 than could the present head of the committee.

But, of course, the Republicans are not restricted to any one man as a party manager for the coming campaign. Under any sort of leadership in the national committee which can be adopted they have an excellent chance to sweep the country. It is said that Senator Quay is desirous of being placed in control of the canvass. The Pennsylvania statesman has won a reputation in campaign management. He did this work in 1888, and did it very creditably. Gen. Harrison carried the country in that year, and though the majority was not great, it was sufficient for the purpose. The conditions were nowhere near so favorable for the Republicans then as they have been in the recent years, and as they stand a chance to be in 1904. It is also said that Senator Foraker would like to take the job of managing the canvass if Senator Hanna should decline and Senator Quay should be unwilling to undertake it. There is no doubt that Senator Foraker could also put up a very acceptable canvass. The senior senator from Ohio has had considerable experience as a party manager in his own state, and has generally risen to the requirements of the situation.

The conditions will make the Republican canvass easy for the man who will be in charge of it. The Republican party, by its wise legislation, has won the confidence of an overwhelming majority of the people of the country. Theodore Roosevelt, its candidate to be, is a man of great personal popularity throughout the North and West. There is a possibility that he may not win any Southern states beyond those which have been giving their votes to the Republicans in recent canvasses, but this is a matter of no consequence. He will carry in 1904 all the states of the North and West that were won for the McKinley and Roosevelt ticket in 1900. There can hardly be any doubt on this point. There is a strong probability that he will carry some of the four Western states which were held by Bryan in that year. These were Colorado, Idaho, Montana and Nevada. All are on the Republican side already except Nevada, and there is a good chance to get that next year. The outlook for the Republicans on the eve of a great national campaign was never brighter than it is this year. The party's record and the strength of its presidential candidate will make the work of victory easy for the man who manages the campaign of 1904.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The "Tionesta" Again.

People of Tionesta and vicinity are always interested in the town's namesake, the handsome new lake passenger steamer, or just put in commission on the big lakes, and will read the following from a Buffalo paper of recent date concerning the boat with considerable relish: "Eric friends of Captain Charles Christy are anticipating with a good deal of pleasure the arrival in town tomorrow of that much esteemed officer and gentleman on the newest and finest of the Anchor line boats, the Tionesta, to which he has just been assigned. The papers of the different towns where the Tionesta has stopped en route to her home port, note the fact that she has received, at each and every one, the nicest of welcomes, and Eric will certainly not be behindhand in like demonstrations in honor of the splendid boat and her capable and popular captain. In fact, the majority of people incline to think that the Tionesta's command, like Alexander's succession, has fallen upon 'the most worthy' in every way, and there will be crowds of Eric people who will accept the invitation sent ahead from Buffalo by Captain Christy to visit and inspect the boat."

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surface of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. Tionesta, Pa. Dear Sir: It is all very well for you to say that it takes fewer gallons of Devco Lead and Zinc to paint a house than it does of mixed paints; but you want to know why. For the same reason that it takes less good cow's milk to feed a baby than it does skimmed milk.

His Last Hope Realized.

From the Sentinel, Gebo, Mont. In the first opening of Oklahoma to settlers in 1889, the editor of this paper was among the many seekers after fortune who made the big race one fine day in April. During his traveling about and afterwards his camping upon his claim, he encountered much bad water, which, together with the severe heat, gave him a very severe diarrhea which it seemed almost impossible to check, and along in June the case became so bad he expected to die. One day one of his neighbors brought him one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as a last hope. A big dose was given him while he was rolling about on the ground in great agony, and in a few minutes the dose was repeated. The good effect of the medicine was soon noticed and within an hour the patient was taking his first sound sleep within a fortnight. That one little bottle worked a complete cure, and he cannot help but feel grateful. The season for bowel diseases is being. Write for this information. For sale by Dr. Dunn, Tionesta, W. G.
