Medical opinions differ as to whether the look-alike due to typhoid is caused by germs in the powder or on the skin carried into the wound. But it is certain that if there is no typhoid there is no look-alike.

POSTMASTER GENERAL PAYNE says he will dismiss all officials in his department who are proved dishonest. It is the settled conviction of the people that the present administration will hit a crook the moment his guilt is established.

IN a short time trolly cars will run from New York to Jersey City under the Hudson river. Over 6,000 feet of the 7000-foot tunnel is finished. The scheme was halted fifteen years ago by an accident that cost thirty lives. Recent work on it has been prosecuted with entire safety.

A SON was born to ex-President and Mrs. Grover Cleveland at their Buzzard's Bay summer home on the 18th inst. The attendants report that all conditions affecting both mother and son are satisfactory, and Grover, who is in his 67th year, is happy and proud over this new arrival. This makes two boys and three girls to gladden his home.

THE continued decline in the stock market, while general business is good and the country prosperous, naturally arouses much curiosity. It looks as though some of the large financiers had such a stock of "undisposed securities" on hand that they are forced to sell some of it, while others in fear follow suit. But high-grade stocks have been slaughtered for some reason not easily discovered.

THE number of emigrants in the United States during the fiscal year just ended exceeded the combined population of Montana, North Dakota, Wyoming and Idaho in 1900, or the present population of North and South Dakota together. And yet we can assimilate upwards of 800,000 foreigners annually without knowing it save from the immigration statistics. The people now coming to our shores are not all desirable, but we shall no doubt make good citizens of most of them. They will become not only producers but consumers, and let us hope, will also become good protectionists and Republicans as they realize what protection has done for them and their posterity.

COLONEL YOUNG declares in flaring red headlines that "the stand-patters won a decided victory in the State convention." Lafcadio Hearn, of the party of men who went camping. All hands were to do the cooking until some one complained, then the kicker was to be compelled to do it all. This arrangement put the fellows who were in the habit of complaining at the bill of fare at home on their good behavior, and for a few days no word of grumbling was heard. However, one of the cooks one day, in the hope of catching somebody in a trap, made the potatoes so salty that none could eat them. The man, of course, all had their appetites along, and the first fellow who undertook to devour the potatoes forgot the compact and ill-naturedly exclaimed: "Jerusalem! Those potatoes are awful salty!" Then, suddenly recalling the agreement, softly added: "But that is just the way I like 'em."—Webster City (Ia.) Freeman-Tribune.

tion of the department does not in itself logically or inevitably imply splendid service at the cabinet table. But Mr. Root has given both in a conspicuous degree. It is easy to see why he should want to retire. His great work as secretary is substantially completed. He has brought the Philippine conflict to an end and organized the Philippine civil government. He has rounded out the Cuban wardship and seen the free and independent republic of Cuba started on its course. He has carried his policies of the general staff for the army, of the war college and of assimilation of the national malitia. What remains is the perfection of these measures, and the ordinary routine administration, and this has little attraction for an able and creative mind. But the cabinet seat of the office is ever fresh and never ceases to be important. Here Mr. Root has been invaluable, and here he will remain invaluable—so invaluable that his loss from it would be a public misfortune. May it long be postponed.

Saint Swithin.
 The common adage regarding Saint Swithin, as everyone knows, is to the effect that, as it rains or shines on St. Swithin's day, July 15th, there will be wet or dry weather for the forty following days.
 This saint of the early church was born 800 A. D. and after coming into great reputation for holy life and distinguished charity, attained the bishopric of Winchester, and at his death commanded that his bones should be interred under the eaves of the church. The monks, however, more than a hundred years after his death, decided that so great a saint was entitled to sepulchre in the body of the cathedral itself, so they appointed a day to raise his bones and buried them anew within the venerable edifice. While they were engaged in this pious labor, a dreadful rain set in and they were forced to abandon their undertaking, regarding the storm as a protest from Heaven, against their blasphemous design of removing the remains of the saint from the place where at death he had ordered them to be buried. From this circumstance has come the popular superstition about the influence of St. Swithin's day on the weather for the next forty days succeeding. The poet Gay alludes to the superstition and decries it in the following verse:
 "Now, if on Swithin's feast the welkin lowers,
 And every penthouse streams with hasty showers,
 Twice twenty days shall clouds their fleeces drain,
 And wash the pavement with incessant rain."
 Let not such vulgar tales debate thy mind;
 Nor Paul nor Swithin rule the clouds and wind.
 —How often you have occasion to say, "It's too bad!"

Nervous Headache Breeds Insanity.
 Many a person's whole pleasure in life is ruined by the fear of nervous headaches. Any little excitement, no matter what, business or social, brings them on. The feet and hands grow cold, the head is hot, the eyes stiff, the temples throb, and only in the quiet of a darkened room is relief obtained. This condition must be checked or it means mental ruin. To those people Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills come as a blessing. They do not stop, they cure the headaches. They do not blanket, they build up. They put the nervous system in a strong, vigorous, sturdy condition—a condition that gives one restive power and enables them to again enjoy life's pleasures.
 Mrs. N. J. Nellis, of No. 116 Hone Ave., Oil City, Pa., says: "A son of mine, who has been a sufferer from nervous sick headaches for a long time, due probably to errors in diet, got a box of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills and says they completely cured the headaches and stomach trouble—at least there has been no return since taking the medicine. This, I think, stamps the medicine as an excellent one."
 For further information call at J. C. Dunn's drug store, Tionesta, Pa. 50c a box at dealers, or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., are on every package.

From Far-Away Africa.
 Kind Editor and Friends—
 I have not only thought many times in the last few weeks of writing, but began a letter which I failed to finish. But you must know the missionary's life is very busy and that we have besides our work here, so much writing to do that some must necessarily wait.
 Mrs. N. B. Smith wrote me that she had written you a description of a rather interesting event that took place at Fair View M. S. March 25th, so I will not do so.
 The morning following my noble husband and I started by rail for our present field of labor reaching here the evening of the 27th. Our trip from Durban inland to this place was very interesting owing to the fact that we were passing through a portion of the war region. From the time we reached this territory, all along the way breast works and block houses now deserted were seen on either side, while at some of the larger places camps of soldiers are still to be seen. We passed through Ladismith and other towns made famous by the war.
 We were located at present about eight miles from Johannesburg and right in the gold region. The gold mines are in a comparatively narrow and level strip of country about six miles in length, called "The Rand". No trees are to be seen in this region except those that have been planted; this is true of the country for hundreds of miles around also. On the low hills about us breast works and block houses are still to be seen though in many cases now partly demolished. During the war a large soldiers' camp was within a "stone's throw" of the mission property.
 Our work here is among the boys and men who come from all parts of the East, Central, and South Africa to work in the mines. Many come from regions yet unreached by missionaries and also from regions where white people cannot live on account of the deadly climate. When these little and boys are converted and get a little knowledge of the Bible and things of God and learn to read, they in many cases go back to their own people to preach the Gospel. You can see that we have an interesting field of labor and one that has a large future of good ahead and seed sown in this center will bear fruit in a very great part of this darkened continent, darkened not because the sun does not shine but because of the very great ignorance, superstition and sin existing everywhere.
 Each mine has a compound where the natives it employs sleep and get their food which consists of mealy (corn mush) porridge made of corn shipped from America and other countries, and oil! such porridge as it is! coarse and dry and usually a little mouldy. The favorite breakfast dish of many white people in S. Africa, including ourselves is mealy porridge but we want the fresh mealies raised in this country. The above compounds are built in shed style, enclosing an open square entered by a large gate, sometimes several gates on one compound covers from five to ten acres of land. Some have besides the continuous shed enclosing the open space inner divisions increasing their sleeping capacity. The front of these sheds have an earth floor and here the inmates congregate when it is cold and warm themselves around their rude stoves—sheet-iron buckets with large holes in their sides, in which they turn coal and on which they cook any extra food they buy with their small earnings. The whole length of the back half is divided half way between the floor and the roof by another floor and on this they sleep as well as on the lower floor which at the back is made of boards. Most of them sleep in their blankets on these hard surfaces but a few have gotten themselves something a little better.
 We have three compounds and hope soon to have another large compound in our parish. I do not know the number in each, but the manager of one told Mr. Smith the number there was eleven hundred and that they expected about three hundred more. The second must have nearly as many. At the third they are just putting down the shafts of the mine, so there are not yet so many in that one. The fourth which we hope to get has more than any of the above. It has been closed by the manager to missionary work, but we believe it is God's will that the Gospel be preached there also.
 We have school five nights in the week at the chapel for those who wish to come, and meeting on Saturday night. Sunday morning before breakfast we have prayer meeting at the chapel and then, assisted by our native Christians have meeting in each compound and in some sometimes two meetings. At 3 p. m. the men and boys (all who will) come to the chapel to a preaching service.
 God's Spirit is at work in some hearts. Last Sabbath about nine dollars in all were given by two boys to the Lord as restitution money for articles which they had stolen from parties now gone they knew not where. I remarked that they were more righteous than some white professors of religion who, if the wronged party could not be found, would consider the money their own. I fear in many cases where the wronged one may be found, the wrongs are never made right. In the case of one of these boys, he had given a man a silver sixpence for a loaf of bread and the man thinking it to be a gold ten-shilling piece, gave him nine shillings and sixpence in change, and which he kept.
 We are very happy in our work here and expect to see many now in heaven, turning to the light. Besides the meetings mentioned above the compounds are visited almost daily and personal work is done among the people. We find much to be done and would be glad to have more time for the regular mission work and for the study of the language. We are encouraged to hear of friends at home praying for us, hoping they will continue to do so, I am,
 Yours in the Master's Service,
 ROSA HUNTER SMITH.

Very Remarkable Cure of Diarrhoea.
 "About six years ago for the first time in my life I had a sudden and severe attack of diarrhoea," says Mrs. Alice Miller of Morgan Texas. "I got temporary relief, but it came back again and again, and for six years I have suffered more misery and agony than I can tell. It was worse than death. My husband spent hundreds of dollars for physicians' prescriptions and treatment without avail. Finally we moved to Bosque county and our present home, and one day I happened to see an advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with a testimonial of a man who had been cured by it. The case was so similar to my own that I concluded to try the remedy. The result was wonderful. I could hardly realize that I was well again, or believe it could be so after having suffered so long, but that one bottle of medicine, costing but a few cents, cured me."
