CARRIED TO HIS TOMB.

Final Solemn Ceremonies Over Leo XIII's Body.

Weekly Trade Review—Escaped Convicts Caught—Tornado at Paterson—Rochester Anti-Canal Meeting. Two Head-On Collisions—Train Struck an Automobile.

The body of Pope Leo XIII was interred in St. Peter's at Rome Saturday night. The strokes of the hammer which resounded through the immense dome of the cathedral announced to the earnest gathering in the nave that Leo XIII had been laid to rest.

Drs. Laponi and Mazzoni directed the work of the removal of the bier, which was executed by eight sedari, or pope's carriers, attired in their brilliant red brocade costumes. They at first tried to raise the bier, but finding it too heavy they slowly slid it into a low car with noiseless wheels.

Then, to the strains of the "Miserere," which wailed through the lofty church, and preceded by a glittering cross held aloft, the procession, carrying candles and torches, slowly left the chapel and went up the church, passing the bronze statue and the shrine of St. Peter.

In the chapel the music changed to notes of joy and triumph and "In Paradisum" rung out with telling effect. From the outside the five bells of St. Peter's rang their accustomed salute to the coming night, mingling harmoniously with the music of the choir.

In the chapel the bier, bearing the body of the dead pontiff, was received by Cardinal Oreglia. It was placed in the center, backed by an altar with a beautiful image of the Madonna, before which were burning four immense candles in silver staffs.

The monks of the Basilica, aided by the Noble Guard, then laid all that was mortal of Leo XIII in a cypress coffin lined with red satin and bearing on the cover an Inlaid cross.

The major domo put beside the body of the dead pope two silk purses containing coins of silver and a bronze medal struck during Leo's pontificate. A eulogy enclosed in a metal tube was also interred with the body.

When all had been arranged the supreme prayer was said and the last benediction given, all present joining. Half suppressed sobs were heard on all sides.

Pulleys were then attached to the coffin and soon, to the strains of the "Benedictus Dominus Deus Israel" it was hoisted into the stone sarcophagus above the door, where it will remain until the grateful cardinals created by the late pontiff shall erect a suitable tomb in the basilica of St. John later.

Pope's Will Opened. The will of the dead pontiff consists of thirty-six pages, in the handwriting of Leo XIII, and leaves all his property to his successor for the use of the church. To each member of his family he leaves a present to be chosen from the valuable objects in his apartments. Similar presents are bequeathed to his physicians. The total amount of his property is not yet known.

The pope made provision for the distribution of about $20,000 among the poor of Rome, Perugia, where he for many years was archbishop, and Carpignano, where he was born.

The prevailing impression of those who passed before the iron gates of the Chapel of the Sacrament to view the remains was one of intense pity, combined with a certain sense of horror.

The body was tilted up on the catafalque in order that all might see the terribly shrunken face. An ordinary skull in a frame of gold lying in the midst of a mass of red robes could scarcely have been more typical of death.

Except at sunrise, when the crush threatened a panic, all those who wished to had an opportunity of entering St. Peter's.

Stock Market Liquidation. Stock market liquidation at the expense of industrialists affects sentiment and ignores but does not conceal improvement in the corn and cotton crops, a change for the better in industrial conditions at New York and other disturbed centers, and a continued cheerful feeling in Western and Southwestern trade circles.

Cotton is doing very well, and in Texas the cotton prospect is classed as good. Cotton is doing well in the New Orleans district and has made further improvement in the Memphis district. Cotton is fruiting finely in Alabama and Florida, but cool nights have affected growth in the Carolinas.

The principal selling was in the industrial stocks, United States Steel shares falling sharply, and the market temporarily disregards assurances as to the sound financial position of this and other corporations of the same class.

Failures for week ending July 23 number 183 against 178 in the like week of 1902.

Tornado at Paterson. A terrific tornado visited Paterson, N. J., last week. During the blow, which lasted about three minutes, three persons were killed and at least three score injured.

Many houses were blown down, more than a score of buildings were unroofed and havoc was done to trees, fences, signs and awnings.

BATTLE WITH CONVICTS

Thirteen Prisoners Overpowered Officers and Escaped.

Took Warden and Several Officers With Them in Their Flight and Used Them as Shields—Stole a Farmer's Team and Wagon and Made For the Mountains.

Sacramento, Cal., July 28.—A dispatch from Folsom says: Thirteen desperate prisoners confined in the Folsom penitentiary made a successful break for liberty at the breakfast hour.

After a fierce fight in the captain's office, during which Turnkey Cochran was fatally stabbed, Guard Cotter was killed and Officer Palmer was cut in the head, the convicts seized arms and ammunition and, using the warden and other officers as shields, escaped. It is believed they are making for the Bald mountain. State troops ordered out by Governor Pardee have gone to the scene.

The fight took place after the convicts had gone to the office of R. J. Murphy, captain of the guard, and seized Warden Wilkinson, his grandson, Harry Wilkinson, Captain Murphy and several other officers and guards. The convicts were armed with knives and razors and with these they assaulted Warden Wilkinson and his officers.

The warden's clothing was slashed into shreds, but he was not wounded. Turnkey Cochran fought the convicts with a chair, raining blows upon them right and left. Finally he was felled by a knife thrust in the back.

Guard Cotter was dismembered by a cut in the abdomen and he died a few hours later. Palmer was severely cut. The floor of the office was covered with blood.

The officers were outnumbered and soon relieved of their arms. Then, using the officers as shields, the convicts started for the armory on the outskirts of the penitentiary grounds. They passed a Gatling gun on one of the walls, but the guards were afraid to shoot for fear of killing the prison officials.

When the armory was reached officers there attempted to interfere but were quickly overpowered and the convicts took a supply of weapons and ammunition and made a dash for the country.

Convicts marched besides Wilkinson and the officers were told that if any of the pursuers took the life of one of their number that they would retaliate, life for life. At Mormon Bridge, about a mile from the penitentiary, the warden, his grandson and Captain Murphy were released and sent back. Others were marched along with the convicts.

Further on the convicts went to a farmer's house, seized his four horse team and wagon, robbed the house, took the farmer with them as a driver and headed for Bald mountain.

All the convicts were still at large last night. Among the officers carried off by them is General Overseer McDonough. Some fears are felt for his safety as he bears the especial ill-will of the convicts.

Governor Pardee ordered the militia company to the scene later. The several hundred remaining prisoners made no attempt to get away.

Warden Wilkinson after his return to the prison told the story as above. The warden says the guards still in the hands of the convicts include General Overseer McDonough, Guard John Klensendorf, Guy Getter, foreman of the rock quarry; Tony Brown, stage driver, and Guard L. S. Vertres, and two or three others whose names he has not at hand.

A general committee of three representing the labor unions of the city called upon the civil service commission to make inquiry as to whether a certificate of reinstatement would be issued to members of the unions employed by the government in case they should go on strike. The commissioner replied that the inquiry was largely hypothetical and that "the bridge would be crossed when reached."

WORK TO COMMENCE SOON.

Construction of Trolley Lines Centering in Irwin Will Shortly Be Started.

Irwin, Pa., July 27.—Trolley projects to center in Irwin and connect with Pittsburgh lines took quite a boom last week and builders are getting ready to start work on construction.

Last week lines have been run from here out Third street and on through Shafter and Westmoreland City to Manor, this being the new route. John George of Irwin, projector of the Irwin, McKeesport line, states that all the rights of way have been closed and that the money is on hand to construct the road. It will cost about $50,000 and work will be commenced as soon as material can be assembled.

The company that will construct the line from West Newton to Irwin has secured about all of the rights of way necessary, and Saturday a franchise was secured to run through the borough of Adamsburg.

Philadelphia, July 27.—Henry Shatz, a carpenter, 48 years old, of Souderton, Pa., was found beside the Philadelphia and Reading railway tracks at the Westmoreland street crossing, just below Tioga station, Saturday morning, unconscious and badly injured. A patrol wagon was summoned and the driver lashed his horses in an effort to get Shatz to the Samaritan hospital quickly. At Fifteenth and Westmoreland streets a trolley car struck the patrol wagon.

The impact tossed the patrol crew into the street and Walker, the driver, was pitched out on his head and is seriously hurt. George Nee, 42 years old, and Frank Ross, patrolmen, were injured. Shatz was not thrown out by the collision, but he was dead when taken from the wagon.

COLONIZING MANCHURIA.

Russian Administration of New Chwang Stops Exportation of Wheat. Peking, July 28.—The Russian administration of New Chwang has stopped the exportation of wheat to Japan. The export of grain from Chinese ports is illegal, but the Russians heretofore have ignored the law. During the past week the Japanese obtained many ship loads from New Chwang apparently preparing for war contingencies. The prohibitory order was issued by the Russian officials last Thursday. General Kondratovich has been placed in charge of six armored commercial boats and the navigation of the Liao river, which is construed here as another sign of Russia's intent to retain New Chwang and the command of the river. Great numbers of Russian civilians and soldiers' families, it is reported, are being brought to Manchuria. It is believed in pursuance of a comprehensive plan to rapidly colonize the province. At the present rate there will be almost 100,000 Russian civilians in Manchuria, including Port Arthur and Dalny, before the date fixed for the final evacuation next fall.

Sea Bright, N. J., July 28.—Mrs. Monroe Brown, the wife of a prominent lumber dealer of Newark, N. J., was drowned in the surf here. Not long afterward the bathing master at the Sea Bright grounds noticed Mrs. Brown floating on the surface without motion. He rowed out to her and brought her ashore. Physicians worked over her for two hours but their efforts to resuscitate her were unavailing and they finally pronounced her dead. She was about 40 years old.

Vermont Schoolboys Try New Methods on Companion, Who Succumbs to Injuries.

Barton, Vt., July 28.—A hearing that promises to continue several days is in progress before Justice Guild at Barton Landing concerning injuries received by a boy at the hands of his schoolmates a few weeks ago which caused his death. Raymond Waterman, Raymond Adams and Alva Day, aged 9, 10 and 11 years respectively, had read of a college hazing and decided to try it on Ralph Canning, a young companion. They heated stones red hot in a pasture back of the schoolhouse in Brownington and made Canning stand on them and sit on them until he was badly blistered.

Then, according to reports, two boys held him down while the third jumped upon him and nearly rendered him unconscious before releasing him. He was taken sick at once with great pains about the stomach and died two weeks later.

The boys are so young that they probably did not realize the enormity of their acts. The lads are members of prominent families. The hearing will determine their punishment. There are about 40 witnesses on each side.

By a decision of the British imperial privy council the right of appeal against a Canadian judge's decision in the Gaynor-Greene case has been granted to the United States. The body of Leo XIII lay in state in the basilica of St. Peter's, while thousands of persons from the ordinary walks of life paid a last tribute of love and veneration.

SATURDAY.

A significant fact in the ceremonies attending the death of the pope was the presence of Italian troops in St. Peter's to keep order. Several scores of Eastern college men and artisans who went to work in harvest fields, ere in dire straits in the prairie towns of Western Kansas. German delegates at a sitting of the American and Mexican monetary commission passed a resolution to the effect that Germany does not need to buy silver. The battle which ended in the capture of Ciudad Bolivar, Venezuela, by the government troops, lasted 52 hours and resulted in 1,500 casualties on both sides. "Mother" Jones and her army reached New York city. She called on Mayor Low and obtained permits for a parade and a public meeting in Madison square.

MONDAY.

Pope Leo's body was placed in three coffins and interred temporarily in St. Peter's, Rome. The cruiser Medjidia, built for the Turkish government, was launched in Philadelphia, Pa. Violent liquidation in Wall street followed the Taylor and Stow failures, and others are feared. At a banquet of Chicago's Two Million club the name of the organization was changed to the Three Million club, based on a directory estimate of the population. Silk spun by worms cultured in Chicago pronounced as of extra fine quality by government expert. Albert LaBarthe thinks Chicago might become silk-producing center but for scarcity of mulberry trees.

The battle ship Kearsarge made the voyage from Southampton, England, to Bar Harbor, Me., in nine days four hours and 15 minutes. Eighteen or 20 prisoners made a break at Folsom, Cal., and escaped. Guard Cotton was stabbed and fatally injured by one of the prisoners. Mrs. C. T. Thorpe, Miss Annabel Rogers and Samuel Gehbel were drowned in the Thames river at New London, Conn., Sunday night, by capsizing of their boat. The committee appointed to pass upon the designs for a soldiers' and sailors' monument at Brockport, N. Y., has selected the one submitted by Edward L. A. Pausch, the well-known Buffalo sculptor.
