RUSSIA declares her main object in Manchuria is peace. But China seems to think she is after too large a piece.

INFORMATION concerning the whereabouts of the Judge Parker presidential boom is desired by the Democratic king-makers.

THE Wall Street markets recovered sharply as soon as secretary Wilson announced a record breaking lamb crop in the west.

TURKEY has decided that its navy shall be taken seriously. It is building a warship on which the mark will be: "Made in the United States."

FOR a fierce warrior man with a double edged tongue Kaiser Wilhelm has fewer actual combats at arms than any great conqueror of modern times.

It is supposed that the officers and crew of the Kearsarge will all have to go into training to recover from the effects of the Anglo-Saxon hospitality.

AFTER all, the crises in Wall Street appears to have been merely the squeezing out of some over-watered stock. The country at large has felt no inconvenience.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT has taken a necessary, courageous and well-timed stand. He has declared for the "open door to labor" in all Government establishments.

EVEN with the macaroni trust organized, there is little likelihood that the macaroni eaters will find the price so high they will be induced to return to their native country.

SECRETARY CORTLYOU continues to hold the place in the Cabinet closest to the President and his eminent good sense is manifest in that his preference never generates conceit.

THE Kearsarge crossed the Atlantic at the average rate of sixteen miles an hour, and her machinery was in perfect order at the end of the run. Uncle Sam's builders of battleships are masters of their business.

AND now Mr. Bryan announces that the Democratic failures of 1896 and 1900 were due to Mr. Cleveland's unpopularity. But Mr. Cleveland is too much occupied in the nursery to even hear the Commoner's scream.

SAINT LOUIS has adopted a new rule whereby members of her police force are required to have chest measurement equal to their waist measures. That's a cruel rule for a city containing such magnificent breweries.

THE amateurs who are backing away from the Kansas harvest fields were cut out to work in the shade. If farmers had been afraid of hard labor, with plenty of sunshine and perspiration, their business would have perished long ago.

IMPORTS for the year ending last March aggregate one billion dollars. That "robber tariff" wall was real high, but it helped Uncle Sam pay pensions, establish rural routes, improve rivers and erect public buildings, and so forth. Looking at these little things it's a good idea to keep on letting well enough alone.

"AFTER a hard struggle, tariff reform is directly before us. A reduction of tariff charges upon the necessities of life will bring benefits, palpable and substantial, seen and felt by thousands who will be better fed and better clothed and better sheltered."—Grover Cleveland in 1895. And we all remember what happened.

A CURIOUS prophecy is that which looks forward to a continuous city from Boston to Washington before the end of the present century. The trolley cars are at work building up suburbs in all directions and marking out the roads along which the population gathers. Rapid transit brings cities more closely together every year and also swiftly extends the limits of municipalities.

GOVERNOR CUMMINS' new tariff platform is one broad enough for all mankind. On it Democrats, Republicans, Populists and Socialists may meet in glad accord. Governor Cummins is emphatically and distinctly in favor of increasing the duties that are too high and lowering the duties that are too low. Where breathes the man who can point out the fallacy of such clenching logic? The platform is unanswerable. But there is a bare possibility that when the time for specifying came there might be as much discord as there is now concord.

THE conclave of Cardinals at Rome has succeeded in electing a successor to the late Leo XIII, the choice falling on Cardinal Joseph Sarto, patriarch of Venice, yesterday, who was a compromise candidate. The new pontiff decided on the name and will be known as Pius X. He is 68 years of age.

ORGANIZED labor will be eventually benefited by the experience in the New York courts in which it has been shown that walking delegates and former officials of the labor Unions have been engaged for years in a systematic blackmail of employers and robbery of the Unions. In the trial of delegates Parks and Carvel and Treasurer Murphy of the Stonecutters' Union, abundant evidence was offered to prove the existence of a little clique of labor agitators who used their unions for the purpose of "toasting" money from employing contractors and dividing it among themselves. It was shown that a strike was caused by Murphy and five other men, who attempted to bleed contractors for $50,000. The strike was finally settled by the payment of $10,000, which the "select committee" divided among themselves, while the working members of the Union bore the burden of lost wages during the time of idleness and returned to work without having gained any concessions.—Blizzard.

Not His Own Worst Enemy. A man who is "his own worst enemy" is one of those reckless individuals who plunges into folly regardless of his consequences, reduces his wife and children to beggary, bankrupts his friends if he can induce them to become surety for him, frivolously away his own time and other people's money without compunction and without regret. He is perhaps guilty of no crime for which he can be indicted, is willing to pay for drink for others in order to be thought a good fellow, and laughs and tells vulgar stories when he is maudlin. "Poor fellow!" He was his own worst enemy," is the charitable comment of his acquaintances when his weakness and debauchery bring him to an early grave. But he wasn't. He was his family's and friend's worst enemy. He was selfish and unfeelingly indulging in all sorts of dissipation in order to enjoy himself in swinish fashion without caring enough for his friends to spare them the humiliation and deprivation which he deliberately and persistently imposed upon them.—Punxy Spirit.

The Farmer and the Fish. A writer in the Bellefonte Gazette hits pretty near the mark in the following article:

We are in accord with the fish laws of this Commonwealth which relate to the protection of game fish, but when that is carried to the extent that all our waters shall be devoted to the propagation of those species and by it deny to the people the other and equally toothsome species for their use, then we believe that it is carrying the thing too far.

Consider for example the tons of suckers, carp and eels which infest our streams, and which must not be caught for fear of disturbing the gamey tribe. The laws have been made so severe of late that if strictly enforced the farmer whose land is flooded and crops destroyed by the adjacent streams, is subject to arrest and fine if he ventures out with his net to catch a mess of suckers for his family for breakfast. He devotes his time to work during the day and has not the leisure to sit on the bank and watch the bobbing cork as his more fortunate neighbor from town, whose labors are not so pressing, and in whose favor all late laws and opinions of judges seem to have been directed.

There used to be a time when the boys on the farm, after their hard day's toil, could gather a lot of fat pine, split it into strips, build a torch and with it enjoy an evening's real sport at "gigging" a mess of fish for the harvest hands at breakfast. This is now also stopped by a recent decision of an eminent jurist in whose opinion they might accidentally capture a game fish, which is evidently considered too highly flavored for this class of taxpayers. They must not disturb the bass—much less catch one—in order that the gentleman from town (and the writer is one that is counted in that class) may not be interrupted in their royal sport of catching the gamey fish while the farmer is obliged to hang doggedly to his work while the sun shines.

This may be all right because it is law, but we can't see it, and is one of the reasons why the writer of this article refused to act as fish warden for the State, which implied the arrest and fine of others for an offense which he himself might possibly be found guilty of were he placed in the same circumstances.

People Who Can't Sleep.

Many people go to bed—not to sleep, but to think—to tumble and toss—to get up, walk about until tired Nature and a few fitful hours of sleep are obtained just before dawn—a sleep that does not rest—a sleep from which one wakes weary and tired, wholly unfitted to take up the daily routine of household, shop or office duties. That this condition goes on uncorrected for is almost criminal, when the well-known, time-tried and tested powers of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills to give restful natural sleep have been so fully proven in such cases.

Mrs. W. H. Stevens, of 310 East Water St., Warren, Pa., says: "As a medicine for weakness—a languid tired feeling, nervousness and inability to sleep at night I can recommend Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills to anyone. I got a box and they successfully cured me. I am strong and active again—eat and sleep well and no longer have those nervous spells. I am glad to give this evidence of their great worth."

For further information call at J. C. Dunn's drug store, Tionesta, Pa. 50c a box at dealers, or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., are on every package.

Busy, Prosperous Mayburg.

Considerable sickness on the hill. Frank Parker is down with typhoid fever, Drs. Detar, Morrow and Hamilton are in attendance. J. K. Brown has built a very pretty addition to his home on Lookout Point. The new porches and the tasty paint work by G. J. McGill of Tidoute, gives it a very rich and neat appearance. Wm. Desherer did the carpenter work. Didn't think 'twas in you Billy. It's a good job. The school house, Brown's fine residence, the parsonage and the new church (to be built this summer) will make that locality look grand. On Cottage Hill stands the new residence of Monroe McManigle, of McManigle & Brown. It's fine coat of green and red put on by Irvin Long makes that point look good. Then the new road leading to Desherer's passing Horton's, gives a good way of travel out in. Improvements in the home of Desherer, helps the appearance of that locality very much.

James Huling, and John Saylor, of your city, and Wm. Hartman are building a good home for Joe Richards, opposite the Cook Oil Lease office. Joe's election as township treasurer seemed to make him grow, so that now he is about six feet. Don't know how tall he'll be when he gets into his new house, which will be a beauty. Then the small barn back of the house is very nice.

The old Criswell house is being refitted for T. B. Gifford and family. Thomas moved away from Mayburg some years ago but he is welcomed back. The large boarding house kept by Smith Bros. gives general satisfaction, and a good meal at a reasonable figure. The Mayburg Supply Co. is doing a large business of general merchandise. C. J. Johnson the supt. of the store is O. K. What with new buildings and other improvements, good roads, the mill running lively, and the old Cook Oil Lease pouring out the oil, it doesn't seem as if this was the Forest County wilderness, yet it is what was known as such a few years ago, when black bear were killed where now are houses and gardens.

The mill has a good machine shop ably presided over by A. J. Slosser of Warren, Pa., where the locomotives of the Watson Lands Lumber Co., and all the machine work of McManigle and Brown, mill work etc., etc., is done up in first rate style.

This 7000 acres of land, known as the Cook estate, now owned by Mr. T. D. Collins of Nebraska, Pa., has had a wonderful history, which is not closed yet, for the future looks bright. First came Hall & May, who took off the white pine, mostly during the civil war. Timber and manufactured lumber was run to Pittsburg and Louisville, where it was sold for good prices which made everybody comfortable. Then the oil developed by Grandin & Kelly, under the management of Wm. Richards, the constant striking of big wells and their staying qualities, proved this to be one of the richest fields ever struck in Forest County. Now comes the taking off of the hemlock timber and bark by T. D. Collins and the Penn Tanning Co., and after that the continual yield of oil which is promised both from old and new wells, makes the story of the Cook lands read like a fairy tale or something like it. You know the Bible says that "the wilderness and the solitary place shall be glad, and the desert shall rejoice and bloom as the rose." Well it's so. And what else there is beneath the ground we cannot say.

North of Mayburg, along the old Balltown road, is a watering trough, which is not always filled but when it is the horses like to stop and fill up. That water comes from under the hill from a spring that was once famous as a deer lick. It seems that the deer and the horses have the same taste for mineral water. This water, when used in boilers, yields a sediment, which I presume is the mineral lick both by deer and horses, and for aught we know, by other animals. It might be one of those wonderful springs that is often so good in the healing of the ills that flesh is heir to, but it always seems that the deer and horses find it out first.

origin of the Auto. Chaffeur.

It remained for Congressman Smith of the Punxy Spirit to delve into the lore of the ancients and dig therefrom a bit of information that has puzzled and mystified the people every since the introduction of modern automobile, i. e., the derivation of the word chaffeur. And now that every town of any pretention whatsoever possesses one or more of these machines, and of necessity must have one of the other "things" to run it, the explanation, pronunciation, conglomeration, etc., of the term becomes the more intensely interesting, and so Bro. Smith comes to the rescue with the required enlightenment as follows:

The word "chaffeur," pronounced "shoffer," applied to the driver who operates an automobile, or to the mechanic employed to keep the machine in order, had its origin in France, where automobile first became popular. The word chaffeur means a burner or stranger, and was applied to members of the bands of outlaws which infested France during the Reign of Terror, led by "John the Skinner." These outlaws garroted men and women and burned their feet in order to compel them to reveal hidden treasure. To the average American the word "chaffeur," as applied to an expert automobile driver, has a sort of aristocratic sound, and some of our young ladies look upon a chaffeur as ranking only a little below a count. But the original meaning of the word was outlaw, thug and robber.

Catarrh Cannot Be Cured with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years, and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing catarrh. Send for testimonials free. F. J. CHENEY & Co., Props., Toledo, O.
