UNCLE SAM'S greatest period of foreign trade is identified with that triumph of statesmanship, the Dingley tariff.

GODMAN'S idea of tariff reform is exceptional protection for your friends and souphouses for the country in general.

SINCE hearing his remarks anent Ireland it would surprise no one to learn that Edward VII kissed the Blarney stone in the course of his travels.

THE most captious critic cannot blame Egypt for objecting to the so-called "Egyptian dances" at the St. Louis fair. They are a slander, even on Egypt.

By the time the President has reorganized the Government Printing Office on a business basis, the Democratic will be left without even the shadow of an issue.

THE dismissal of a government employee because he had been expelled from a labor union was too much for the President's sense of justice and he promptly caused the man to be reinstated.

Most of the newspapers are devoting considerable space to discussing the available candidates for the Democratic nomination for President. The importance of the matter is greatly overrated.—Blizzard.

THE correspondents who sent their papers stories to the effect that Secretary Root had exonerated Representative Littauer are wishing they hadn't. It begins to look very much as though Mr. Littauer's case would go up to the Attorney General.

AS WAS to have been expected, Postmaster General Payne denies flatly the report that the President instructed him to complete the postal investigation by a stipulated date. He says the President's only wish is that nothing shall interfere with the thoroughness of the search.

IT is typical of the President that he would not even cause the arrest of the curmudgeon who swore at the presidential party last Sunday. Had Mr. Roosevelt been alone and the circumstances propitious the cad would doubtless have received summary justice from the presidential fists, however.

AN apparent fool with two girls in white dresses, rocked a row boat off the shore at Atlantic City until it capsized. The boat righted itself, however, and all three climbed in. Then the supposed idiot rowed ashore and began a harangue with, "Ladies and gentlemen I have chosen this unique method of demonstrating the merits of the Blank non-sinkable, almost non-capsizable boat, etc."

THE National editorial association assembled at Omaha had it's fling at the Salus-Grady-Pennypacker addition to the libel law of Pennsylvania. It was denounced as an infamous enactment intended to murder the liberty of the press. The fact that the law has fallen dead for lack of any prosecutor so mean spirited as to ask for its protection or any lawyer willing to plead for its enforcement does not abate the indignation. Its repeal at the hands of the legislature, if it shall escape earlier death at the hands of the courts, is demanded.

SOME of the Democratic papers, whose editors are supposedly men of character and common decency, persist in associating the name of Congressman J. C. Sibley with some of the government jobs, knowing that not a single direct charge has been made against him, and utterly ignoring the fact that he has publicly announced that he courts investigation. It is mighty small business, and serves but to demonstrate that they are pea-wee partisans, straining for something to condemn in a prominent Republican. The attempt to thus discredit Mr. Sibley can hardly prove otherwise than aborative.—Blizzard.

EVERY appendage of banking institutions that aids in saving small sums stimulates thrift. The Lancaster Intelligencer, commenting on the distribution of the little home savings banks by financial institutions and the relative small figures of the amounts deposited through them says: What the money represents is important; it means much to the depositor because it represents in almost every case more money than that person ever owned before. And it represents the forming of a new habit. It is this last phase, the inculcation of the habit of saving, and of thrift, which forms the strongest recommendation of the home savings bank. Then, it reaches people to whom other means of saving, even the admirable building and loan association may be denied.

PRECEDENT requires that each newly elected Pope select a name by which he shall be known in association with his holy office. In selecting a name, that of some predecessor whose character and career are deemed worthy of emulation is chosen. It may be selected with reference to any predecessor of the name. Pius X may therefore be supposed to cherish the example not necessarily of Pius IX, but of some one of the preceding nine who have assumed the name of Pius. The first Pius was a martyr and is enrolled among the saints; the second was a great scholar; the third was Pope for only three weeks; the fourth was the founder of the Vatican press; the fifth was a man of great piety and energy, and is now canonized; the sixth was deposed by Bonaparte and was deposed; the seventh crowned Bonaparte as Emperor, excommunicated him and made the Concordat with him; the eighth had a brief and insignificant reign; the ninth began as a liberal and ended as a conservative, promulgated the doctrine of infallibility, lost his temporal power and made himself the first "prisoner of the Vatican." Among these is ample range of precedent, both auspicious and ominous. It will be earnestly desired and may well be expected that one of the best of these will be emulated by Pius X.

THE discovery of oil in the Cherokee country, Indian Territory, lends interest to the description of the character of the people who possess the lands now being so extensively sought after by leasers. The Kansas City Journal says: The Cherokees excel all other Indians in literature, agriculture and mechanical pursuits and to vary this fact it is only necessary for one to travel through the Indian Territory and visit that portion occupied by the five tribes. The Cherokee Nation lies north of the Creek and Choctaw Nations with Arkansas and Missouri on the east, Kansas on the north and the Osage Nation on the west, between the 35th and 37th degrees of latitude, being thus situated in the latitude where the summer heat never approaches the torrid zone, while the winters, on an average, are temperate. The climate is calculated to develop not only healthy, but vigorous, active types of woman and manhood and that such is the case one can readily see from the physical appearance of the inhabitants and especially those who have lived there a majority of their years. They are a people having a great love, not only for their own section of the country, but for the United States at large, and are intensely patriotic. They have high appreciation of the advantages of education and expend large sums of money for the support and maintenance of their schools. The majority of them are devoted Christians, belonging to the Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian and Catholic church.

WHAT BECOMES OF PINS? It would really seem reflecting upon the daily disappearance of pins that the earth would be covered with them and that the annual fall, if measured, would amount to several inches. Women who start out with pins playing a useful part in the details of a gown will tell you that they never can find a pin; that they are always buying pins; that they are eternally loaning them. In the dressmaker's room the expenditure for pins is no small item. The average dressmaker uses and loses twelve papers of pins a month, yet the floors of her rooms are not matted with them, and frequently her wall goes up, "what becomes of all the pins?" Where, indeed, do they go? Is there a crust of pins subtly forming under the every day sweep that will puzzle explorers in some far age to come?

A FATHER may disinherit his children, but he can't disinherit the lawyers.

WABASH PLANS.

Road Will Extend From Baltimore to Philadelphia and on to New York City.

Philadelphia, Aug. 10.—The Press says: The Wabash railroad is coming to Philadelphia. This move has been decided upon by Mr. Gould and his associates. It may take some time to reach this city, but the plans for a line from Baltimore to Philadelphia and then to New York have been taken up and practically approved.

A meeting between George Gould, President Ramsey of the Wabash and a number of financiers and business men of Philadelphia was held in New York last week. The situation was gone over and it was demonstrated to Mr. Gould and his interests that the merchants of this city would work hand-in-hand with them in effecting an entrance for a new line.

At the meeting were men prominent in the business affairs of this city. They were all rich and could command a large amount of money. As far as financial assistance was concerned it was said that all the money required in extending the Wabash line from Baltimore to this city could be raised.

The shippers of Philadelphia, especially those who do a Southern business, have for some time been desirous of having another line built to this city. While the accommodations offered by other railroads are good, it is said the business has grown to such large proportions that the present facilities are not adequate and it takes considerably longer for freight to reach its destination than was the case a few years ago.

It may be a couple of years before any definite action is taken, but nevertheless Philadelphia will have the Wabash cars running into the city. Just how an entrance is to be had has not been developed. It is said that the refusal of many miles of land has been secured and when the time is ripe the work of building the extension will be begun.

New York is eventually to be the Eastern terminus of the Wabash system. But until the line to Baltimore is completed there will be no attention paid to extending the line north.

DECLARED INSANE. Former Wellknown Newspaper Man, Who Wrote Love Letters to Miss Helen Gould.

New York, Aug. 9.—After writing letters for some time to Miss Helen Gould, in which he declared his love, George A. Madden was sent to the Long Island state hospital for the insane by Judge Aspinall, in the county court, Brooklyn.

Among the papers found in the possession of Madden, whose hallucination seems to be that he is about to be married to Miss Gould, and that she is deeply in love with him, was an article prepared for publication, giving an account of his and Miss Gould's marriage, in which he says: "As is well known in her circle of acquaintances, Miss Gould has believed that she would some day meet her ideal, she having frequently stated so to me, but no one imagined or suspected that Mr. Madden was the fortunate holder of the key which unlocked the gem of the pure heart of the bride. "The fact is that neither Miss Gould nor Mr. Madden have ever seen each other in their true light until the afternoon preceding the ceremony. The couple will sail for Europe in a day or two."

Pittsburg, Aug. 10.—George A. Madden was formerly one of the best known newspaper men of Pittsburg. For a number of years he was managing editor of the Pittsburg Dispatch, and was also financially interested in the paper. He left Pittsburg about eight years ago for New York, where he acted as the eastern representative of the Dispatch. About five years ago his peculiar actions caused an inquiry to be made as to his sanity, and he was placed temporarily in an asylum. Though his mind had become unbalanced, Mr. Madden has never been considered dangerous. He has many friends here.

BUILDING TIE-UP ENDED. Pittsburgh, Aug. 10.—Committees of the Builders' Exchange league and the Building Trades council agreed to peace terms which will bring to an end the strike and lockout of the building trades of Allegheny county. The agreement reached is that all of the men who went out on a sympathetic strike against A. & S. Wilson's company because that concern declined to sign a wage scale for the hoisting engineers before it was submitted to the Builders' union, return to work on the same conditions that existed before the strike began. All differences will then be settled.

BOASTED OF 21 MURDERS. Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 10.—Will Jones and Will Hudson, negroes, were hanged in the jail yard here last week for highway robbery. Hudson went to the gallows smoking and in good humor. Before leaving his cell he asserted that he had killed 21 men in his lifetime. On the gallows when asked to tell of his murders, he replied that he would tell that to his Master.

AUTO LEAPS INTO RIVER. Herbert Bromley Goes Over a Cliff Thirty Feet High—He May Die.

Eastport, Me., Aug. 11.—An automobile driven by Herbert Bromley, chief engineer of a canning factory here, ran away and jumped over a cliff 30 feet high into a river.

As soon as the vehicle touched the water there was an explosion and Mr. Bromley and his three-year-old son were thrown into the air. Both were unconscious when rescued by some spectators.

The father had both legs and thighs broken, but the boy escaped with only some cuts on his face. It is thought by the hospital engineers that Mr. Bromley's injuries will prove fatal.

CELEBRATES 103D BIRTHDAY. "Uncle Frank" Binion, Tavern-Keeper of Vernon, Ill., Still Active.

Vandalla, Ill., Aug. 11.—Frank Binion, or "Uncle Frank" as he is familiarly known, celebrated his one hundred and third birthday at the village of Vernon in this county.

He was born in Virginia in 1800 and came to Illinois in 1842. His father lived to be 104 and his grandfather died at the age of 110, the latter meeting his death by accident.

With the assistance of his youngest daughter, Miss Nancy, who is now 56 years old, "Uncle Frank" conducts a tavern in Vernon. He raises all the vegetables he uses on his table, milks the cows and attends to all the chores.
