STATE. State Treasurer—WM. L. MATHUES, Delaware County. Auditor General—WM. P. SNYDER, Chester County.

CALIFORNIA complains of a pest of quail. California always did go in for a plethora of good things.

Boom times, unprecedented prosperity, monster crops—and still those undigested surpluses continue to give Mr. Morgan dyspepsia.

WHAT Senator Clay of Georgia thinks about Bryan would melt the types. What the Senator thinks about the "peerless leader" is quite sufficient to blister the entitle.

THE corn crop promises to exceed two billion bushels. Wall Street cannot hurt the prevailing prosperity under such conditions, much as it may hurt New York's pride to admit the fact.

SENATOR HANNA'S delicate health continues and he will be able to take but a little part in the fall campaign. Fortunately his only opponent is Tom Johnson on a "16 to 1" platform.

ENGLISH voters are excited over a proposed return to a protective tariff. Free traders have been telling the people of the United States that the question was closed forever as a British issue.

MAXON Low has made "graft" a good English word, according to the rules which say that "a slang word once used by a cultured writer becomes thereby a word in good and regular standing."

PROPHET DOWIE has a rule which reads, "Do not talk about things you know nothing about." A strict application of the maxim would prevent Dowie's talking theology, and would destroy the gentle art of conversation, generally.

THE ex-convict representative of labor was hissed in the New York city labor parade. Now let union labor purge itself of unconvicted criminals, those who have persecuted the men, their wives and children, who, while not of their union, were trying to earn their bread.

THE Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, secretary of the colonies, and "the man with the monocle," has resigned from the English cabinet. "Joe" is considerable of a dandy in his way, but with all his greatness he couldn't somehow get the one-eyed glass into general favor.

WHY are the transcontinental railroads maintaining an extravagant and expensive lobby in Bogota, charged with defeating the Panama canal treaty? Because the roads are aware that once the isthmian canal is completed they will be compelled, by the competition of water freight carriers, to lower their own freight rates.

A NEW YORK tobaccoist declares he will go to jail rather than "surrender his freedom" to do as he pleases. His freedom in this instance consists of deserting the United States flag which he persists in using for advertising purposes. It is a wise man who can distinguish freedom from license.

LIEUTENANT PEARY claims that the North pole can be discovered for a quarter of the expense incurred in defending the American yacht club. Secretary of the Navy Moody has granted Peary leave of absence in order that he may make the attempt once more. In view of the scientific methods pursued by Peary, it is safe to expect that the scientific world will profit from his attempt, even if he is not successful.

IN 1863 Governor Campbell called at the White House and asked President Cleveland for a federal appointment for one August W. Machen. "There is a position as superintendent of free delivery in the Postoffice Department which pays $2,500 a year," said Mr. Cleveland, "will he take that?" "He will take anything he can get," replied Governor Campbell, and Machen has been for ten years living up to the Governor's recommendation.

THE Franklin News says: The word "heroic" is being badly overworked in these days of "human interest" journalism. If a child screams under a drowning boy and is heard, she is heroic; if a boy slams the door before a cross dog can come and bite him, he is heroic; if a woman awakens her family when the house catches fire, she is heroic in large type. Mean while the heroes, those who do their work well under adverse conditions, endure human meanness without complaint, are silent under slander and tolerant when maligned are not getting any notice. It is good to remember, however, that the heroic type of manhood and womanhood is glad to be let alone by the public and the sensational newspapers in particular.

Mayburg.

Mr. David Sutton and wife were in the burg Wednesday. W. H. Castle, the gentleman who kept the boarding house for seven years for Watson Lumber Co., before he moved to North Clarendon, was visiting here Thursday. Glad to shake, "Dad."

Dr. Deter is still a frequent visitor to our town. While we are always glad to see you, Doctor, we wish the present cause of your visits was removed.

Mr. G. J. Walters and family moved to town last week. Last Sabbath T. D. Collins ran a free excursion to Sheffield to give the creek folks a chance to attend the Methodist conference at Warren. They had a good time. Mr. Collins' donations to the church this year will do much good.

The salvation army are holding forth at Kelletville. The preaching and singing are good and many are forward seeking grace for a better life. The stand taken by Gen. Booth years ago in England, and his efforts to rescue the perishing, is bringing forth fruit in every land and nation. He and his army fill a place that many churches do not attempt to fill, although the call to them to work is just as loud as the call of Gen. Booth. There is no one doubting that the grand and noble sacrifice of the Booth family is in vain. Their stars will be of the brightest, and will endure for ever.

James Brown and Frank Wyncop exchanged residences this week. John Anderson, of Summerville, Pa., has returned to his work at the mill. He has had a hard time of it this summer. For months some one of his family has been sick, but it is all over now. Welcome back to Mayburg, John.

Mrs. Allison and her bright baby boy came up from Nebraska to visit friends here this morning. Mrs. Belle Christie has gone to Kentucky.

J. M. Hastings, of Pittsburg, was here visiting at F. K. Brown's. F. K. went away to-day.

Our people hear with much pleasure of the appointment of Rev. Small for Kelletville. They expect to build a church and parsonage at Kelletville this summer, and the Rev. Small is just the man to do it, and after the church is built to fill it with good congregations and keep it full. The churches at Tionesta and Tylersburg were much improved while he was pastor. The work of soul saving and building of churches and parsonages seems to be his special gift.

When Gen. Sherman said "war is hell," he spoke from his own experience in a civilized country, a war carried on by chivalrous men, and, except in a few instances of error, on the part of the South, it was probably as clean a war as could be carried on. The errors of Libby and Andersonville prisons could not be traced to the true Southern gentleman, but it was desperate means, by desperate means, hoping that the horrors of those places might win a lost cause. It did not; it never will, but if that war was hell, what must it be in Macedonia? All the horrors of Dante's "Inferno" cannot begin to picture the horrors of a war with the unspeakable Turk. The sending of a small fleet to the Turkish coast will have its effect, both there and at home, but to us is the greater importance of "at home." It always seemed to me that America was fulfilling her mission when she intervened in Cuba, but the true American idea is this: That wherever mankind is oppressed, wherever the Christian is slaughtered in cold blood, there is our mission—to stop it. God never would have allowed this great Republic to come into existence only as the one to intervene and help all struggling humanity to a place of liberty and comfort. The old nations cannot do it. Debts, bonds and the financial interests of their people tie them up so that they cannot move on a clean line of thought. As yet, the United States is not hampered in that way. Since slavery was wiped out by the boys in blue, and the Emancipation Proclamation of Abraham Lincoln, there remains only the lynching, as a dark blot upon our escutcheon. When that is done away with we can then conscientiously intervene. England stands for sea power, and only that France, although a Republic, is in the thrall of aristocratic and kingly thought. Germany is apathetic. Spain and Austria stand for nothing. Russia stands for her own interests—on her way to Constantinople and Manchuria. So that in all these conflicting interests, Macedonia and Armenia have no chance at all. But the United States stands for real moral power, and the older nations stand back when she speaks. Let her speak now in unmistakable terms. Let her take her true place among the nations, as the moral power of the world, and while the American people, once and for all time settle this matter, the concert of Europe will hold its tongue. Edward the VII and Balfour, William of Germany and Von Buelow, the Zar and De Witte, the President of the French Republic and his cabinet, all know that they are powerless to declare against the Sultan.

The United States alone has a free land, and as the American nation and the American people were willing to make the sacrifice for Cuba, I am satisfied that they are now willing to make another sacrifice for another people. Our nation awoke and was uncontrollable when Cuba and her horrors reached their mind. Awake again, America, and fulfill thy true mission. As the instrument of God's wrath, take your place again upon the pages of history, to the full intent and purpose of the God that gave you freedom. The cost of life and treasure may be to some appear appalling, but you must remember that the United States was never so prosperous as she has been since her war with Spain. Lafayette did not hesitate on account of life and treasure, why should we?
